TEL-EL-KEBIR, Sept. 14.—Hundreds of fugitives are giving themselves up, including generals and other officers. The enemy's losses are considerably heavier than was expected. The British casualties are about 150, including 30 killed, among whom are eight officers. The fighting may now be looked upon as a more or less finished. The Egyptian wounded are being tended with all care. The Indian cavalry made great havoc among the enemy, whom they quite demoralized. They are in occupation of Zagazig, and General Drury Lowe is at Belbeis. The Highland Brigade under Gen. Alison marched toward Zagazig and the headquarters will follow to-morrow. The British have now possession of the railway to Cairo. The second cavalry brigade captured five trains full of stores. As far as fighting is concerned yesterday's successes will probably end the campaign. Arabi's papers were seized here.

OFFERING TO SURRENDER.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—General Wood telegraphs from Alexandria that an officer from Khal-el-Dwar has brought a letter saying that all the military chiefs wish to submit to the Khedive. They have given orders to open the canal dam, and asked him to re-open the telegraph. They state that the Egyptian army has stopped all hostilities.

FORCED MARCHES TO CAIRO.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—General Wolsey telegraphs that the cavalry will push on to Cairo to-day by forced marches along the desert route. He hopes that the cavalry will occupy Belbeis to-day, and that the infantry will arrive there to-morrow. He expects to take possession of Benha to-day, and, if all is well, to advance to Kalyoub, within ten miles of Cairo, if not to Cairo, with the Guards.

DAMIETTA OFFERS TO SURRENDER.

KANSAH, Sept. 14.—Damietta has offered to surrender.

THE SULTAN'S CONGRATULATIONS.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Sultan has telegraphed General Wolsey his congratulations on the splendid victory achieved to him, and requesting him, now that the neck of the rebellion is broken, to stop the march of his army into the interior. General Wolsey referred the Sultan to London for a response to his request.

THE ENEMY'S STORES DESTROYED.

KANSAH, Sept. 14.—All the enemy's magazines have been blown up, and all unavailable stores destroyed.

KHAL-EL-DWAR'S SURRENDER.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 14.—Arabi's officer commanding at Khal-el-Dwar has written to Sheriff Pasha, offering to surrender. The enemy has opened the canal, and water is coming down rapidly. Orders have been issued to close the dyke at Maki into Lake Maroutia.

ARABI A PRISONER.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—An Alexandria despatch, dated 5.30 p. m., says Arabi and Toulba Pasha arrived at Cairo last night, and are both virtually prisoners.

PLEDGES OF LOYALTY FROM CAIRO.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 14.—Butros Bey, Raouf Pasha, and Ali Pasha Roobi arrived to-day, and presented to the Khedive, on the part of the inhabitants of Cairo, and address pledging their loyalty and submission. They were delegated to present the address at a meeting yesterday attended by several high functionaries, notables, and ulema, including the Sheikh-al-Edwi, hitherto a staunch partisan of Arabi. Butros Bey told the Khedive that the rebel forces at Tel-el-Kebir at the time of the attack consisted of 30,000 regulars, 7,000 Bedouins, and 3,000 volunteers.

CASUALTIES AT TEL-EL-KEBIR.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The War Office has issued Gen. Wolsey's official report of the casualties at the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, as follows: Killed 9 officers, and 45 men; wounded 32 officers and 820 men. The enemy's loss is estimated at 1,500 killed and wounded.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A deputation of notables from Cairo welcomed General Wolsey at Benha Junction.

THE CONVENTION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—Earl Granville has instructed Eral Dufferin to sign the military convention.

ARABI STONED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 14.—The first news of the battle that reached Cairo reported a great Egyptian victory, and when subsequently it was announced that Arabi was on the way to Cairo, it was rumored that he bore with him Admiral Seymour's head. The people of Cairo had never heard of General Wolsey, and imagined Admiral Seymour commanded the British. When Arabi arrived alone the populace stoned him. Everything was quiet when the delegates left. The railway hence to Cairo is intact. The Khedive gave a grand banquet to-night in honour of General Wood and Admiral Dowell.

KHAL-EL-DWAR OCCUPIED.

The British took possession of the earthworks at Khal-el-Dwar this afternoon.

Killed by Lightning.

FERRIS, Ont., Sept. 14.—Thomas Aicheson, aged 45, and a young man named Martin were killed yesterday by lightning in Garafraxa. There were four men building a pea stack by a stable, when the storm came up and struck the stack, killing two men and stunning the other two very badly. The stack and stable were burned, and the men who were stunned had barely time after recovering themselves to save the remains of the other men from being burned with the stack and stable.

Cole and Conway, wounded another man and released the prisoner and took charge of the train, running it through London. At Lanous station Taylor and his brothers Bob and Andy got off, forcibly took horses, and left for the mountains. John Taylor was wounded in the arm. There is intense excitement here. Thirty armed men left on a special train for Kingston and another posse will leave this evening. A posse has already left Kingston and another London. Cole has only been Sheriff two weeks, and was a most popular man in the city. He leaves a large family. Conway was a prominent local politician.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1882.

THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

The convention of the Liberal Conservatives of Ontario opened in Toronto on Wednesday, was a grand success in every respect. It will be utterly futile for our opponents to attempt to belittle it. In the spacious Shaftesbury Hall every seat on the floor and in the galleries was filled, and their was not even an inch of standing room left vacant, while many hundreds had to be turned away. And this was no idle, miscellaneous crowd of eight score, but the flower of the different constituencies. The chosen representatives from each section were there, prepared to take counsel with their leaders for the good government of their own province, and the establishment of a capable, trustworthy and economical administration for the men who are at present so completely abusing their position.

The addresses were listened to with the closest attention, only interrupted at frequent intervals by bursts of irrepressible applause. The speeches of Sir John Macdonald, Mr. Meredith and Mr. Morris were very forcible in their exposure of the shortcomings of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues and their exposition of the policy which Mr. Meredith and his followers are pledged to carry out.

The proceedings on the second day of the Convention were as interesting, as important and as successful as those of the first day. Again the vast hall was crowded with the chosen delegates from the Ontario constituencies assembled not only to hear their leaders, but themselves to take part in the work of organization. The first business was the reception of reports from the different constituencies, and these cannot fail to be of the utmost practical use in the approaching contest. This feature in the proceedings would alone completely negative the absurd misrepresentation that the meeting was one of idlers and not of workers.

Then a series of resolutions were discussed by leading men of the party and they were adopted with unanimity. Taken together, our readers will find that they present a most forcible exposure of the shortcomings of the Mowat administration, and a satisfactory exposition of the policy advocated by the Conservative opposition of this province.

Our able Finance Minister, Sir L. Tilley, was then presented to the audience, who gave him a most enthusiastic reception, which showed how thoroughly the National Policy which he has so ably reduced to a system, is endorsed and approved by the people of Ontario. In an eloquent but most practical manner he showed what that policy had done for the country. He concluded by saying that he had been scouted in New Brunswick as being a resident and elector of Ontario, and now he supposed he would be censured for taking part in the proceedings because he came from New Brunswick. The Hon. John O'Donoghue met with a warm reception, and was cheered lustily when he showed, that like the able chairman Mr. Edward Garner, though an old Reformer, he had been compelled to leave their ranks on account of their want of liberality and opposition to progress, and to join the ranks of the great Liberal Conservative party because he found that they were the true liberals and the advocates of enlightened progress.

Other addresses were delivered and with cheers for the Queen and the Conservative leaders the vast assemblage dispersed, having done work the effect of which will be seen at the general election for this province.

A Sham Temperance Advocate.

Mr. A. S. Hardy is publishing his Lynden speech in instalments. The second instalment has appeared, in which he extols Mr. Crooks' liquor licence measure. He says the "Hotel business is good, and the landlords prosper in proportion to the number of the Crooks Act." How will the temperance people like this? Mr. Mowat told them that the object of the act was to decrease the number of liquor licences issued and to make a consequent reduction in the amount of liquor consumed. But Mr. Hardy has let the cat out of the bag, and contends that this model temperance system is really intended to promote the business of the publican, and to make him prosperous nineteen times out of twenty.—Guelp Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Our readers will be glad to learn that the contract for the works on the Trent Navigation has been awarded to the lowest tenderers. This will satisfy the public, but of course it will not prevent some of the more useful of the Reform journalists from still maintaining that this great improvement is only an "election dodge."

In an article on "The Relation of Provincial and Dominion Governments," the Globe says:—"Eternal vigilance is said to be the price of liberty, and the tendency to centralization requires to be met by a jealous and watchful maintenance of local autonomy."

This, though not so intended by the Globe, exactly fits the case of Mr. Mowat, who is systematically aiming at centralization and the destruction of our local municipal autonomy.

The local Reform journal styles the Province of Quebec "our bitterest enemy." Nothing could well be more wished than these attempts of so-called "Reformers" to stir up interprovincial strife, to set race against race, denomination against denomination and language against language, and thus to disintegrate our great Confederation. Is this the language that should be applied to a loyal province? Fancy, if you can, an English journal, referring to Scotland, Ireland or Canada as "our bitterest enemy."

The Examiner, with its usual impetuosity of having its mendaciousness exposed, accuses us of being abusive because we censured it for grossly misrepresenting Mr. Mowat. It claims the right to put its own interpretation upon his language. We willingly concede this right, but we do object strongly to its assuming the right to forge words for Mr. Mowat which he did not utter, and then to assail him for them. We have already published the Quebec Premier's remarks in reference to the Ontario Boundary, in which he objected to Ontario obtaining more territory than was given her by the "British North America Act." We also object to his receiving more than the law gives her, and we equally object to her receiving less than her right by an agreement between Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Mowat. We want our rights, our whole rights, and nothing but our rights. As to the national honor, that is in no way implicated by Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Mowat usurping the powers of the Imperial or Dominion Parliament, or of the law courts.

THE STORY OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

In the address presented to the Hon. Oliver Mowat at the opening of the Toronto Exhibition we read:

"The inability of manufacturers and others to supply the demands made upon them to fill orders that would brook no delay has caused several blanks in the space taken for exhibition."

And what has been one of the chief causes in bringing about the present unprecedentedly prosperous state of affairs? The much abused National Policy. At the last general election Mr. Mowat and his colleagues deserted their office and went on the stump against the Government that introduced that policy, and, if we remember rightly, they joined in the denunciation of the manufacturers as robbers and plunderers of the people. At any rate, they were approving liars to the insults systematically offered as first platforms to the men who had favored their capital in manufacturing establishments, and who, had it not been for the policy of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, would not to-day be in a position to report the satisfactory state of affairs represented in the address presented to the Hon. Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario. The firm represented at the Toronto exhibition know that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues are among their most pronounced opponents in the matter of their retaining that protection which is absolutely essential to enable them to successfully compete at home with the foreign exporter. They know that if Mowat & Co. had a voice in the matter, the old condition of things would be repeated; the American manufacturer would be free to overrun the country with his productions, while Canadian workshops would be closed, Canadian workmen would be under the necessity of leaving the country, and millions of money now circulated in Canada, in the numerous natural channels through which money passes, would find its way to the United States, where it would help to contribute to individual and national wealth. But the people of Canada are to be congratulated upon the fact that Mowat & Co. do not control the destinies of Canada, and that the party to which they belong are no longer in power in the Dominion. Mowat & Co. did their little best during the last general election campaign to upset the National policy Government and to secure the restoration to power of men who are the sworn enemies of the policy which has produced the satisfactory results reported to Mr. Mowat at the opening of the Toronto Exhibition; but their efforts were futile, neither their "tribunary of Ontario" have nor their implacable hostility to the National Policy proving effective in the desired direction. Mr. Mowat must have felt the awkwardness of the situation for himself personally on Tuesday last for while on every hand he heard of the growing prosperity of the manufacturers of the Province, he felt conscious that he had been an active opponent of a policy which in a large degree had been instrumental in the bringing about of that prosperity.—Ottawa Citizen.

The Land of Goshen.

The seat of war in Egypt is in the Bible land of Goshen. The best scholars believe that the route of the sweet water canal, upon which the British advance now rests, is the same pursued by the Israelites in their Exodus from Egypt. This view is also held by M. DeLessepe. The route leads to the bitter lakes, which are believed to have been connected with the Red Sea in early times. It is quite probable that the Israelites might have crossed a lagoon at the head of the Red Sea. When Pharaoh attempted to pass over with chariots he met with disaster. The fortress of Tel-el-Kehir is believed to stand upon the site of the ancient city of Pithom. The term Tel-el-Kehir means the great mound, being the elevated site of a ruined city. The city of Pithom was one of the greatest granaries of the Egyptians, built by the Hebrews.

Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy invariably acts as a gentle laxative, operating without nausea or griping.

HIDDEN DEATHS.

Death of Mr. Frank Shanly, C. E.—Sketch of his career.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Frank Shanly, C. E., produced a profound feeling of melancholy throughout the entire community. Mr. Shanly was in Toronto on Tuesday apparently in ordinary good health and spirits. He left on the night-warehouse Grand Trunk train for Montreal to meet a son who was to return with him to the city; and while en route, approaching Brockville, he expired suddenly. The cause of his death is supposed to be an affection of the heart, from which he has of late years been suffering. It is but a few weeks since Mr. Shanly buried a promising son, and the grief attendant on this bereavement is presumed to have precipitated the fatal culmination of the disease of which he had been a victim for a considerable time past.

Mr. Shanly, who comes of a distinguished Irish family, was a native of Mount Hamilton, on the border of counties Limerick and Sligo. He was one of the three sons who came with their father, Colonel Shanly, to Canada, and settled in Middlesex county, Ont. At an early age he manifested a disposition for engineering, and by the time he had reached his majority he was considered to be one of the most clever and successful civil engineers in this country. In conjunction with the brother Walter, another engineer of note, Mr. Shanly contracted for and superintended the construction of

and the Canada Southern Air Line, the Toronto, Grey, and Bruce, the Georgian Bay and Wellington, the Lake Simcoe Junction, the Midland, the Lake Shore, Que., and other Canadian railways. During the period of their railway building career, the Messrs. Shanly were known not only on this continent, but across the ocean, as among the most experienced and successful contractors of the time. About ten years ago, owing to luckless speculations, the firm of which Mr. Shanly was a partner abandoned railway contracting, the subject of able notice having been particularly unfortunate in his contracts. In 1875 Mr. Shanly accepted the position of City Engineer of Toronto, which he held creditably to himself and most satisfactorily to the city until July of 1880, when he resigned to take the position of Chief Engineer of the Intercolonial railway. One of the duties imposed upon him was that of adjusting back claims accruing under the Mackenzie regime, and which amounted to some millions of dollars. In this occupation he was signally successful, and was on the point of bringing his labors in this direction to a satisfactory close when death cut short his career.

In 1873 he contested Central Toronto in the Liberal-Conservative interest, but was defeated by a small majority by the Hon. Robert W. Bates.

In business Mr. Shanly was, while rather abrupt and arbitrary in address, the very soul of honor and fidelity to all the trusts reposed in him. He cultivated his domestic life, no one who had business relations with him but adored the sterling qualities which characterized him, and respected him both as a man and a competent engineer.—Mail.

CAST IRON CASSETS.

How the Bodies of the Long and His Companions will be Shipped Home.

On Saturday the eleven caskets in which are to be brought home the bodies of De Long and his dead comrades will be shipped from New York. The caskets are made of cast iron, finished in imitation of rosewood. The bodies, which are thoroughly frozen, as they have been since life departed, will be enveloped in each thick coat felt, all save the head. Then they will be laid in the caskets and covered over with ground cork. Over the head, and reaching under the chin, a silk cloth covered hood will be placed. The hood is open front and back, the edges pressing upon the bottom and top of the shell. The cover having been placed on, screwed down and cemented so that the shell will be thoroughly airtight, the case is to be wrapped with two inch felt and placed upon a bed of ground cork in the bottom of the outside case. The surrounding space will then be filled with ground cork which will be pressed down. The cover of the outer case having been secured, more felt is to be wrapped around this box, and an outer covering of hemp cloth added, and all being held in place by a stout wooden frame or rack. It is said that the bodies being placed in the caskets while frozen, will be turned into adipocere or wax time, and that the features will always present a natural appearance. The upper part of the lid of the caskets are supplied with double plates of heavy glass, capable of sustaining 60 pounds pressure to the square inch. All the caskets are alike save in size. The eleven coffins will be shipped to St. Petersburg by way of Hull. From St. Petersburg they will be transported to the end of the railroad communication at Orenburg, Siberia, whether the bodies will have been brought on sledges.

A New Explosive.

The new blasting material termed "amidogene" is likely to be extensively employed in blasting tunnels. This substitute for blasting powder, says London Free Press, was invented a short time ago by Messrs. Gausperl, Vianco, and Wernb, of Hergewyl, Canton of Unterwalden. Experts of the Federal Polytechnicum have tested it, and are satisfied to have found it entirely free from danger. It appears from their report that this explosive can be ignited only by exposure to an electric spark or the naked flame or by heating up to 180 degrees C. But amidogene, even if ignited, will not exert its explosive effect unless truly inclosed. The manufactory at Hergewyl was burst down two years ago, and although about 2,000 lbs. of finished amidogene were stored in it no accident took place, and even the private residence, which was only twelve feet from the factory, was preserved. Owing to these properties, Swiss railroads have admitted it under certain conditions for transport. The explosive effect of amidogene is stated to be midway between that of ordinary powder and that of dynamite.

Magnitude of Clouds.
We are little apt, in watching the changes of the great range of clouds, to reflect that the height of vapor which composes it is higher and higher than any mountain range on the earth; that the distances between mass and mass are not yards of air traversed in an instant by any flying form, but valleys of changing blue-plains leagues wide; that the elevation of ascending currents which are scarcely traceable, is a boiling energy of swirling vapor rushing into the heaven a thousand feet a minute; and that the towering walls, when the sharp edge almost escapes our notice, in the multitudinous forms around it, in a nodding precipice of storm, three thousand feet from base to summit. It is not until we have actually compared the forms of the sky with the hills of the earth, and seen the soaring Alps overtopped and buried in one surge of the sky, that we begin to perceive and appreciate the colossal scale of the phenomena of the latter. But of this there can be no doubt in the mind of anyone acquainted to trace the forms of clouds among hill ranges, as it is there a demonstrable and evident fact that the space of vapor visibly extended over an ordinarily cloudy sky is not less from the point nearest the observer to the horizon, than twenty leagues; that the size of every mass of separate form, if it be at all largely divided, is expressed in terms of miles; and that every boiling heap of illuminated mist in the nearer sky is an enormous mountain, fifteen or twenty thousand feet in height, six or seven miles across illuminated surface, furnished by a thousand colossal ravines, torn by local tempests into peaks and promontories, changing its features with the majestic velocity of the volcano. —John Ruskin.

A Brave Expedition.

Lieutenant Dunsborough has given an account of Alexy, the hero of the Jeannette expedition, whose name was little known until found pened so often in the end of Commander De Long. During all that march to death in the Lena delta, it will be remembered, it was Alexy who went on ahead to explore the way, it was Alexy who secured for the wanderers their meagre supply of food, it was Alexy who gave his coat to save De Long from freezing, and it was Alexy who, faithful to the end, at last succumbed and laid down to die among the latest survivors. This brave man was an Alaskan Indian, from the Norton Sound. He was finally proportioned, with skill, delicate-looking hands and feet. Among the Jeannette's crew he was a general favorite on account of his polite manners and readiness to help in any work. He learned the English alphabet, became expert at stuffing birds, and also learned to draw. He was a fine dancer, and often amused the crew by illustrations of Indian war-dances. He was very fond of his family, and at times became homesick, fearing his wife and little boy would not have sufficient clothing while he was away. Before sailing he had made arrangements to have his pay all given to his wife. She will not know of his death until next spring, and it is thought that some arrangement will be made by which she will receive his pay up to that time.

The Layering of Shrubs.

Layering is the simplest of all methods of propagating, and one which the amateur who wishes to multiply his shrubs, and is without the facilities afforded by a propagating house, most frequently resorts to. Indeed there are some shrubs that can with difficulty be propagated in any other manner; there are some varieties of the grape that can only be propagated in this manner, and in the usual method. This method is easy, fits those shrubs that form branches on near the ground so as to allow them to be bent down sufficiently to admit of the burying of a portion a few inches below the surface. After the layer is made, care must be taken that the soil does not become dry. A few flat stones placed on the surface will prevent this. Where it is desirable to "layer" a shrub, the branches of which are too high for the purpose, a flower-pot may be put in two, lengthwise, using an old saw; then, if need be, change the drainage hole, and place the pot around the branch, wiring the two halves together. The pot is then filled with good soil, and, if necessary, supported by a stake. The earth must be kept constantly moist. It is well to "ring" or remove a portion of bark from the stem.

The U. S. Pension List.

The United States pension list is a formidable one and a costly one to the country. A summary of the last memorandum compiled by the Commissioner of Pensions says: The actual amount paid for pensions on account of the late war, to March 1st, 1891, is $500,781, 92c. It is estimated that there are now on the pension roll the names of 250,000 pensioners of the late war. This does not include 30,000 (estimated) service pensions on account of the war of 1812. The annual value of the 250,000 late war pensions is $77,500,000, and of the 30,000 war of 1812 pensions, $2,800,000, or an aggregate annual value in all of $80,300,000. Estimating the disbursements for May and June, the total paid for pensions during the current fiscal year will not vary much from $85,000,000. On April 1st, 1891, there were on file 217,162 pending claims which, if allowed, would be entitled to arrears. There are 53,179 pending claims which were filed subsequent to the limitation imposed by the Arrears Act, and when allowed, pension commences from date of filing. If the two classes just referred to should be at once added to the roll ($23,022), it would increase the annual value of pensions $24,500,000, which, added to the present annual value ($60,800,000), would be $85,300,000.

How a Nose Was Made.

Although the making of a new nose for a person deprived of his natural organ of smelling, has been repeatedly undertaken with success, it is a nice and difficult operation; and an attempt just made in Vienna, by Professor Billroth, one of the most distinguished surgeons of Austria to supply a soldier who had been frightfully mutilated in Bosnia, with an artificial nose has attracted much attention. The material for the new organ was taken from the skin of the forehead. The operation is reported to have been entirely successful, and with a supplementary shaping process, is expected to result in a nose that cannot be distinguished from a natural one.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy complexion. THE WAR IN THE EAST.

THE TROOPS RETURN HOMEWARD SOON TO COMMENCE.

Damietta Still Holding Out—Troops Moving Against a Pasha who will not Surrender—Kaf-el-Dwar Occupied—The Arrest of Egyptian Chiefs.

A RUSSIAN VIEW.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 15.—The Gazette de St. Petersburg says:—"To allow England to settle the Egyptian question without consulting the powers is not to be thought of."

A DECREE OF DISSOLUTION.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—The Khedive has signed a decree dissolving the Egyptian army, and declaring that the officers of all ranks who had been guilty of the crime of rebellion shall be prosecuted and punished according to military law.

THE NEW EGYPTIAN FORCE.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—Two thousand Albanians have been recruited to form the nucleus of the fresh police force.

TO BE SENT TO ENGLAND.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—It is believed here that Arabi Pasha will be sent to England.

A GOOD WORD FOR ARABI.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—The New Cairo correspondent says:—"However much Arabi may have impressed peasants for service in the army, he has not meddled with the property of the people. The whole country seems prosperous."

PRaising GENERAL WOLSELEY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The World's London special says:—"General Wolseley will certainly get a peerage if he cares to take it, and a pension for life for only what has really been a walk over the course, thus confirming his claims to be considered the luckiest general alive. The praises now lavished upon him are not voiced only by 'the Wolseley ring,' but by the public at large, and they are exuberant enough to have tried the modesty of the great soldiers of Gettysburg and Vicksburg, Gravelotte and Sedan."

OFFERING TO SURRENDER.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—Kurdish Pasha, commanding Aboukir, has sent a message announcing his readiness to surrender. The commandant at Damietta refuses to surrender. He has five thousand black troops.

KAF-EL-DWAR OCCUPIED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—The native troops having disappeared. General Wood occupied Kaf-el-Dwar and Mahala this afternoon.

A BATCH OF ARRESTS.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—Hassan Pasha Cherif, Arabi's Minister of Pious Foundations, and Kimial Pasha have been arrested. Mahmoud Baroudi has been arrested near Cairo. Several prisoners have been identified as participants in the massacres. Ninet, Arabi's chief European adviser, is not yet arrested.

THE ITALIAN DESERTER.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—Fort Aslan was surrendered this morning. Gen. Wood enquired for the Italian naval Lieut. Pabucci, who was supposed to have espoused Arabi's cause, and after some delay Pabucci was brought forward, wearing the uniform of an Egyptian officer. He was immediately arrested. Several civilians, evidently belonging to the upper classes, were found in the fort. They were apparently merchants, but were set to work on the railway.

ARABI'S SURRENDER.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 17.—The surrender of Aboukir has been fixed for to-day. The report of the surrender of Damietta is unconfirmed.

RAILROAD COMMUNICATION WITH CAIRO.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 17.—The railroad to Cairo has been repaired, but remains under military control. The first train for Cairo leaves on Tuesday with Government officials.

DISMANTLING THE PRISONERS.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 17.—The rebel positions at Kaf-el-Dwar consisted of three successive campes, the foremost two only being abandoned. In the town itself 6,000 fellahs, two regiments of cavalry, and several horse batteries have been disarmed. The work of disarming the prisoners is now over, and only a few companies of English troops remain to guard them. These were at Fort Aslan 180 saddles and carriage horses looted during the bombardment of Alexandria.

TURKEY AND THE CRISIS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 17.—Lord Dufferin today informed the Porte that the military operations of the British had ceased in Egypt, and that England was about to withdraw a portion of her troops. He left it to the Sultan to decide whether or not it was now necessary to sign the Anglo-Turkish Military Convention.

SIGNS OF KAF-EL-DWAR.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 16.—During the siege of Kaf-el-Dwar, 85 of the enemy were wounded, five of whom died.

EGYPTIAN COMMANDER IN CHAINS.

CAIRO, Sept. 17.—News from the interior is favorable. It is believed all the towns will tender their allegiance to the Khedive. The English commander at the Citadel, finding that many prisoners were being tortured, put the Egyptian commander in chains.

THE HOMEWARD MOVEMENT.

CAIRO, Sept. 17.—The household cavalry will be the first to leave Egypt. The homeward movement will begin shortly after the military review, which will be held as soon as the Khedive arrives. General Wolseley will not hold an interview with Arabi unless the latter requests it. The commandant at Rosetta and Aboukir having offered to surrender to the Khedive, he replied that they must march straight to Kaf-el-Dwar and surrender to the English. This was done to-day.

TWENTY YEARS OLDER.

ISMAILIA, Sept. 18th.—Arabi Pasha is reported as looking twenty years older than in February. He is reported as saying, "God be merciful to all who have perished."

HANGED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—One man implicated in the June massacres has been hanged.

A PASHA WILL HOLDING OUT.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—It is reported that gun boats and troops have been ordered to move against Adabeha Pasha, who is still holding out.

RAILWAY SERVICE RESUMED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—The service on the railroad between Cairo and Alexandria has been resumed. All stations will be occupied by the English.

EXPENSES OF THE INDIAN TROOPS.

CALCUTTA, Sept. 18.—The Indian government announce that the issue of 2,570 rupees will meet the expenses of the Indian contingent at Egypt.

Entombed Alive.

CONSECON, Sept. 16.—A sad accident occurred this morning a few miles from this place, near the valley of Malville, which resulted in the instant death of two men named Smith Veant and Charles Weeks. They were engaged working under a bridge which has been under construction here for some days, and was nearly completed when, there being such a large quantity of dirt on the beams, which, being in a very weak condition, could not bear this heavy load, and consequently broke in the center of the bridge, precipitating about four tons of dirt and the ends of the beam on the men, crushing them down among the stones, mud and water. Weeks was horribly injured, having one leg broken in two places, and otherwise mangled. Veant is not bruised much, but received one blow on the head which would cause his death. They were completely covered with dirt to quite a depth, and there was some trouble to get them extricated from beneath it. Two other men had a very narrow escape of sharing their fate, but escaped with a few bruises. Their remains were conveyed to this place, where they lived. Veant leaves a wife and four small children. Much sympathy is felt for them. Weeks was a single man.

Brutal Murder.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17.—A man named Leveque, formerly of Ottawa, was brought into jail last night from Turtle Mountain for murdering a man named Deslaurier, also from Ottawa. Both were farm hands, and have worked two months on Laravie's farm, Turtle Mountain. Deslaurier was milking a cow on the evening of Saturday, 9th September, when an altercation took place that led to an assault by Leveque. The latter first kicked him under the chin, inflicting a severe gash, and followed it up with three strokes with a stick of wood about five feet long. One blow was over the head, the second the shoulder, and the last on the left side. He survived the attack only a few minutes. A half-breed named Lissotte and a French Canadian named Lacloux, brother of the man who swore that he saw Whelan shoot the late Dr. Arty McEneaney at Ottawa, were present. The latter is supposed to be party to the murder, suspicious being strong against him, and it was felt necessary to incarcerate him with the prisoner. The murderer fled to Dakota on the evening of the murder, but was followed by a constable, who overtook him with a horse after a twenty-mile chase, where he found him secreted in a haystack. He was hanged and brought back to Wapota, in Turtle Mountain, where the magistrates sent him up for trial to the Assizes at Winnipeg.

Personal To Men Only.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50c. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See advt. in another column.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 17.—The Porte has offered to abandon several of the disputed points on the Greek frontier, and an amicable settlement of the difficulties with Greece is probable. Sheikh Usbekidiah has surrendered to the Turkish authorities, and has been exiled to Medina.

AMERICAN.

HANESVILLE, Ky., Sept. 16.—A piratical craft has been captured by the sheriff after a desperate fight. Three men and a woman are prisoners. Several thousand dollars worth of stolen jewellery and other material were found.

A DIVINE DEAD.

CHILI AND PERU.

LIMA, Aug. 24. Bolivia adheres to her alliance with Peru, and there are prospects of a renewal of the war. It is probable that Bolivia will send troops to assist the Peruvians to defend Arequipa, which the Chilians propose to attack. The total cost of the war to Chili is $20,000,000, but she has recovered $24,000,000 from the nitrate and guano, and Peruvian custom houses.

AMERICAN.

A TIMELY WARNING.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The disastrous cyclone affecting the Southern and Atlantic parts early last week was foretold by the signal service several days in advance of its reaching any part of the country. This is regarded as one of the most brilliant achievements of the service. Thousands of dollars worth of property and many lives were saved by the warnings thus given.

ROBBED HIS LANDLADY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—A young man claiming to be a medical student from Hamilton, Ontario, has robbed his landlady, Mrs. Weatherhead, of $5,000 worth of property, and has escaped.

AN OLD SUPERSTITION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Henry Motaron invited twelve friends to accompany him on an excursion to the sound. At dinner, superstition regarding their number, thirteen, was laughed at. While returning to the city, Motaron fell overboard at Little Hell Gate, and was drowned.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

VALPOLE, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The man who was murdered and robbed here on Saturday night was Felix McCarthy. He had been drinking with John Kelson and John Merker, who have been arrested on suspicion. McCarthy's body was found in a ditch. The wounds on it were terrible.

ALLEGED FRAUDS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The World published the result of the investigation of the books and accounts of the Brooklyn bridge. It claims that it shows that the books and accounts are full of errors and are kept in a confused and complicated manner, which in the books of a private concern would excite suspicion and provoke legal enquiry and action. The World alleges that contracts have been let to favored contractors at higher prices than the material would have been furnished for by other responsible parties.

A DOMESTIC QUARREL.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Melville is reported as saying that after Engineer Melville's arrival at home a long standing dispute broke out between her husband and herself, which ended in his abandoning his family. There were many visitors at the house at the time, some of whom overheard Melville's angry words. Mrs. Melville states that she had displaced her husband about money matters. During the Jeannette trip he allowed her $800 per month from his pay. She tried to have the government give her a larger allowance. She claimed that the amount was insufficient for household expenses. She declares that Melville left his family without a dollar in the house or any food.

A STRANGE TALE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Laurent, who is said to be worth $100,000, was found in a house on 7th street starving herself to death. She was deserted by Elliott Smith, a lawyer who had been intimate with her. She alleges that James Elliott, a lawyer and Smith's cousin entered her house through a window, and while she was too weak to prevent it, took away the deed of a house worth $30,000 made to her by Smith. Elliott has been arrested.

THE VICE-REGAL TOUR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Before the war ship Comus sailed for Victoria with the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise, the captain received an anonymous note stating that the steamer would be blown up by a torpedo as soon as the Vice-Royal party were on board. The captain much frightened, applied to Captain Realline, of the Cutter Rush, who, aided by marines, thoroughly inspected the Comus, but he found nothing suspicious. However, the Rush accompanied the Comus some distance and saw the Vice-Royal party all.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1882.

OUR TOWN VANISHING.

Nor ten days ago we had to beg our Town Council to take warning from the fire that had destroyed Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald's carriage factory and the adjoining buildings. Now, unfortunately, another destructive conflagration has swept away Mr. Geo. Hall's biscuit and candy factory, with the rest of a fine block of buildings, and we feel that our duty calls upon us to speak still more plainly. We believe, and do not hesitate to say that our Town Council is morally responsible for this disaster, which springs from their gross neglect of their duty, and which may be repeated till our whole town is consumed piecemeal unless they wake from their culpable lethargy. We do not wish to make our censure too sweeping; no doubt there are some members of the Council who do not approve of this neglect. If so, their only excuse for not endeavoring to remedy it, is that they feel that they are outweighed by the reckless imprudence and dense stupidity of the majority of the Council and of the few selfish anonymous grumblers, of whose criticisms they seem so greatly afraid.

It was lamentable to see the progress of the destroying element, and to know that beneath our feet there were lying, useless, the pipes of the waterworks. But for the foolishness of the Council in neglecting to avail themselves of the enterprise of the gentlemen who have undertaken this work—but for their stupid inaction, by which they have thwarted the project, like sulky children, saying neither whether they would avail themselves of the opportunity offered them or not, thus causing delay and doubt in the construction, there would have been more than one hydrant available, the incipient fire would have been drowned out, and the town would have been spared a heavy loss.

The Council as a body cannot plead as an excuse that it is opposed to waterworks—for if they are too ignorant to appreciate the value of the improvements of a progressive age, they are bound by the very fact of their position to take some means, however antiquated, of protecting us against fire. That there is no efficient system for the purpose is a disgrace to them.

The situation would be absurd if it were not so serious in its consequences. We have the pipes of the waterworks, but they are buried beneath our feet, with no hydrants; we have a steam fire engine and hose, but they cannot keep up a stream to equal a garden watering machine; we have four hand engines, the property of the town, each of which could throw a better stream than we saw on Saturday evening, but they are safe under lock and key—somewhere, certainly not all at the fire. So, as if we were some rural hamlet, recourse must needs be had to a volunteer bucket brigade, and property was destroyed to an amount that would provide for safeguards against fire for a long time.

The Legislature at its last session gave the council power to make arrangements for water and hydrants with such companies as we have here. If, however, after it has been determined that the town should not have public waterworks because they would entail a loss upon us, it is now preferred that the town should burn down rather than that any money should be put in the pockets of our enterprising water company, let this pitiful resolve be plainly avowed. Then the Council will perhaps condescend to provide us with some sort of apparatus that will at all events place us on a level with some of our smaller villages. In conclusion we may submit that it would be well not to wait till our town is destroyed block by block.

LAW BREAKERS.

MR. MOWAT, the Attorney-General of Ontario, the chief officer of the law for this Province, is still breaking the law, and his colleagues willingly share in his responsibility. He is not only breaking the plain letter of the law, but he is also offending against our constitution, which requires that every constituency should be represented in our Provincial Legislature. In spite of this he has for more than three months left eight seats vacant, an eleventh part of the Province unrepresented. The statute says that these vacancies shall be filled "forthwith," but Mr. Mowat, is an autocrat above the law, and in his terror at the idea of meeting the people, he declines to have the writ issued. The only excuse made for him, that he would not inconvenience the electors, is clearly disingenuous. He might have had these elections at the beginning of July, when there would have been no very great inconvenience, or he might have had them at any time up to the end of September, and it will be remembered that the 17th of this month was a day deliberately chosen by the Reformers for a general election. Such an excuse is an insult to the intelligence of the electorate. Mr. Mowat is persistently breaking the statute, because he has no regard for either law or justice in comparison with the interests of his party and himself. So until he plucks up courage to face the people, an eleventh part of Ontario must go unrepresented. What a fine champion of provincial rights! What a law-abiding Attorney-General!

MORE EDUCATIONAL CROOKS.

We learn from pupils of our Collegiate Institute that Mr. Crooks, the Minister of Education, has perpetrated another high handed act of injustice.

He has issued a decree in true autocratic style, ordering that no instruction shall be given in "Marmion" in our High Schools for the Intermediate and University Matriculation Examinations for 1883, as another work is to take its place.

"Marmion" had been placed on the University curriculum for the examination mentioned above, and the pupils had provided themselves with the work as annotated by Mr. Miller, of St. Thomas, and published at $1 by Messrs. Gage & Co., of Toronto. The consequence is that all the time that has been expended by the pupils in studying this work, and the money of their parents have been wasted.

Now we do not express any opinion that this poem was a good choice for the intended purpose, but if the selection was objectionable Mr. Crooks should have discovered it long before now, and not have caused such unnecessary inconvenience by his maladministration and by his dictatorial manner of acting.

It may be a very trifling matter to a high and mighty autocrat like Mr. Crooks, who has the knack of muddling everything with which he meddles, and who is constantly meddling, that the money of the parents and the time of the teachers and pupils should be wasted, but we do not think the public will agree with him. The sooner such an incapable is displaced the better.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Globe and its smaller imitators are amusing themselves by calling the delegates to the recent Conservative convention "conspirators." This is very silly, and we do not see what they can hope to gain by uttering such childish nonsense. Conspirators are not usually the chosen representatives of a majority of the population. It is not the habit of conspirators to meet by thousands in broad daylight in a hall in a crowded city. In all the cases of conspiracy mentioned in history we never heard of the conspirators announcing the place and time of their meetings, or publishing full reports of their proceedings. Of course if it pleases "Reform" journalists, they can call those who do not agree with them conspirators, or sneaks, or unscrupulous even, if it suits their fancy, but such folly only shows either that they do not understand the meaning of the words they use, or that they employ abusive terms indiscriminately, simply to express their dislike.

In addressing the recent convention at Toronto, Mr. Meredith referring to the assertion that he was a mere puppet of Sir John Macdonald, declared in the presence of the Premier of the Dominion that neither by word, suggestion or insinuation had Sir John ever hinted to him what course he should adopt in the Legislative Assembly. Mr. Meredith is well known to be a man of his word, but this will not prevent this false charge from being repeated by some of his unscrupulous opponents.

THE LAST SHOT.

Suicide at Toronto—Sad Termination of an Old Soldier's Life.

After having served his country faithfully and well for twenty-two years, escaped the carnage at Alma and Inkerman, and charged with the forlorn hope which carried the Russian guns on the Redan, Patrick Ryan died by his own hand at the New Garrison on Friday. It appears that for some weeks past the unfortunate man had been drinking heavily, and on more than one occasion threatened to commit suicide. It is only a few days since he walked into the lake with this object, but as he did not carry it out, it was generally believed that he was only doing it to alarm his friends. On Friday morning he arose at the usual hour, seemingly more like himself than for days past. He spoke kindly to his wife, and said he was going down town, but was persuaded to postpone his trip for a time. About eleven o'clock he started off, followed by his wife, who entreated him to return, but as he refused, she accompanied him down town, where they had dinner together. His wife got a bottle of medicine for him afterwards, and both started for home. Mrs. Ryan, however, left him in Bathurst street to visit a friend, while her husband went home to the New Garrison by way of the Old Fort. On reaching home he removed his coat and vest, and placed the bottle of medicine on a table, and from thence went to the store-room of the Ontario Rifle Association. This he entered through one of the windows, and took a rifle out to a closet in the rear. He then loaded the rifle, removed his braces and tied them to the trigger, and after having removed the boot from one of his feet, placed the rifle against his stomach, and fired it with his foot. Strange to say, no one seems to have heard the report. The first to know of the tragedy was Mrs. Perry, wife of Beauden Perry of the Governor-General's Body Guards, who saw the unfortunate man crawling on his hands and knees past the corner of the canteen building. Smoke was issuing from his breast, and Mrs. Perry ran to see what was the matter, at the same time calling to an expressman who was in the fort to come to her assistance. They assisted him to the grass in front of the canteen, and Mrs. Perry extinguished the fire in his shirt bosom. Then, for the first time, did she see that he was bleeding. The neighbours were soon around the poor fellow, and did everything they could think of to alleviate his terrible sufferings. Dr. Sprague and a clergyman were sent for and were soon in attendance, but the man was past all human aid.—Mail.

MR. Wm. RANSOM, of South Norwick, says: For sixteen years I suffered from Bilemness, never had any medicine do me any permanent good until recommended by one of our druggists, (J. Wesley Fisk & Co., Ottawa,) to try Dr. Cassell's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, which have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I would, with the utmost confidence, recommend them to all suffering from Bilemness, &c. Sold by J. D. Tully, at 25 cents a bottle.

WRECK OF H. M. S. PHOENIX.

A Heavy Gale Prevailing in the Gulf—The Vessel Struck by Heavy Seas to Pieces.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 15.—The steamer Beaver, at Pictou from the Magdalen Islands, reports that when off East Point, P.E.I., on Tuesday morning she saw H.M.S. Phoenix ashore on the ledge, and sent a boat to offer assistance. An officer said no assistance could be rendered as the vessel was lost, and they were getting the materials ashore. A heavy storm has prevailed in the gulf for the past 48 hours, and the vessel is doubtless a total wreck by this time.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 15.—The only news received here regarding H.M.S. Phoenix is that she is ashore at East Point, P.E.I., that she is bulged and is full of water, and that the crew, all of whom were saved, are quartered in the neighbouring lobster factory. It is supposed she will be a total wreck.

Wonderful Manifestation.

A sensation in connection with certain appearances in the Roman Catholic Church has been created in Athol which almost rivals that which took place some three years ago, consequent upon the apparitions at the Church of Knock. It appears that between dusk and eight o'clock on Sunday, after the religious services for the day had concluded, several persons, principally females, remained in the edifice, and while engaged at their devotions a number of them state that they were the observers of the following wonder:—A bright shining light, almost dazzling in its effect, shone on the roof, immediately above the statue of the Blessed Virgin, which occupies a position on the right hand side of the altar. Through this gleam of light there ascended a shower of stars which surrounded the Virgin's head. The statue then assumed an animated appearance—the eyes rolled from side to side, the lips moved as if in the act of speaking, the arms were raised and the hands clasped, as if in the attitude of blessing the people present. These appearances were observed by different persons at the same time, and who occupied positions distant from each other in the Church. A great many others who were present say that they did not observe the manifestation described. In a brief period, the intelligence of the marvellous scene becoming a living body, spread with remarkable rapidity, and crowds of people quickly made their way to the Franciscan Chapel. In about a quarter of an hour from the spreading of the news, the church and its approaches were thronged with excited people of both sexes. Yesterday the figure was again visible, and the building was densely packed during the entire day. Many of the people state that, yesterday, they observed the same manifestations described as having taken place on Sunday evening. In the Franciscan Church on Sunday evening, Monday night and Tuesday, the chapel was densely crowded. Hundreds of deaf, dumb and lame individuals have taken up their quarters near the place, in expectation of being made whole. It is stated that a monk connected with the convent saw the appearances already described on the 15th August, but considered it judicious to keep the matter a secret until Sunday night.

Murder Will Out.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—A couple of ruffians today turned up here who have a history. They are Charles Rendell and Robert Heedling, alias Robert Lead, both Swedes from Stockholm. They were arrested in Chicago some time since, charged with the murder of a young girl in Stockholm in September, 1875. Nothing was proved against them and they were discharged, but they were no sooner out of gaol on one charge than they were wanted for a number of burglaries and other crimes. They escaped, however, and were not heard of by the peace authorities until this morning. They had put up at 52 Bonaventure street, when, during the night Heedling disappeared, carrying off Rendell's money, revolver, and jewellery. Now Rendell acknowledges that his companion killed the girl in Stockholm, and has furnished the police with a description of him.

An elegant range of Scotch Tweed Suits, suitable for Fall wear, just opened out at Habilitation Hall.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS never fail to cure Costiveness and regulate the Bowels.

If mothers and nurses would cease giving opiates in the guise of Paregoric, and Cordials, and for children teething and subject to bowel complaints, give instead Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the lives of many infants might be saved that are sacrificed to deadly drugs.

V. EDWARDS, of Bradford, writes:—Burdock Blood Bitters is an excellent preparation, gives entire satisfaction and sales increasing every day, it sells now on its merits—Burdock Blood Bitters cures Scrofula Liver complaint, Dyspepsia and Kidney complaints, in their worst form.

FROM THE OLD COUNTRY

ENGLAND.

An extraordinary deal of salmon—the largest in the world, within living memory—was got on the Tyne on Aug. 24th.

The earnings by convicts in England during the last financial year amounted to £18,111, and the profit on the sale of the goods to £2,292.

The prize bull-dog Lord Nelson, who had won every cup for which he ever competed was £325.

Mrs. Scott-Simmons has abandoned the stage, and will henceforth confine her work to dramatic readings. Her recent theatrical engagement in London was a dismal failure.

TOM RAY, the pole-leaper, has again rendered himself famous by a wonderful leap, having at Bedford a few days ago cleared eleven feet four inches, an inch better than record.

The number of tactical Members of Parliament is increasing. There now number thirty-two—twenty-five English, six Irish, and one Scotch representative. The latter is Mr. P. M'Lagan, the Member for Linlithgow.

The grand boat of the London and North-Western Railway is that during three years and a half but one passenger was killed, and that one was only an old lady. The company carries from fifty to sixty million passengers a year.

An Odessa gentleman named Savitch has been robbed in London of bonds to the amount of £15,000 by a Russian interpreter, who, having been engaged by him in that capacity, invited him to his lodgings, and, after nearly strangling him, placed a bag containing the bonds and money.

After the Assizes at the County of Wexford received some additional letters to his name, and a Parliamentary grant of £125,000. He is now a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath, so that nothing remains to be awarded to him in the way of additional honor save a peerage.

PRINCE GEORGE of Wales was more popular than his brother in the "Bachelors." He is a better, more muscular, and with more "go" in him; and his genial fondness for physical recreation was seen by his play in a recent cricket match at Cowes, when a team from the ship to which he is attached gained an easy victory over an eleven from the Royal yacht "Osborne."

IRELAND.

AMONGST the list of wills recently published is that of the late Miss Conyngham, the value of the personal estate amounting to over £118,000.

Several additional police huts have arrived at Castleland for service at Crina, where Hickey was shot, and other places around Castleland, to accommodate an extra number of policemen during the winter.

The telephone is being largely utilized in Newry. The Beesbrook Spinning Co. are considering the propriety of extending a wire from the works at Beesbrook to the office at Belfast, a distance of about forty miles.

The monumental cross proposed to be erected in Glasnevin Cemetery, Dublin, by the residents of the parishes, as a memorial of the late Mr. Thomas Henry Burke, will likely be made from material from Galway, his native county.

The life of Lord Spencer at the Vice-regal Lodge, Dublin, forms almost a parallel to the Emperor of Russia. All visitors are closely watched by armed constables, from the moment they enter the gates of the park. Mounted policemen patrol the roads of the park, and the Emperor of Russia, and the British soldiers guard the approaches. When Lord Spencer goes to Dublin Castle he always chooses a different path from that followed on the previous visit.

General Harney's Dignity.

The following story is told of General Harney when he was in command at Camp Verde, Tex. He was an intensely dignified officer, and if there was one thing he detested more than another, it was undignified dress. One evening, just as he was about to hold dress parade, he perceived that he had forgotten his handkerchief, and as the weather was very hot, he said to his orderly, "Go to my quarters, quick, and bring me my handkerchief." The orderly touched his cap and started for the quarters, several hundred yards distant. After he had proceeded a short distance, remembering there was no time to lose, he broke into a trot. "See that second running after I have been after him! If there is anything I hate, it is to see a soldier running instead of marching properly. Here, my man," continued Harney to another soldier, "go after that man and tell him I say to walk."

The second soldier started after the first, but as the first one kept on running, the second one saw his only chance to deliver the message was to hurry up, so he, too, broke into a trot. "To say that Harney was to use a mild expression, 'Here, sergeant, go after that man and tell him if he don't stop running I'll hang him up by the thumbs.' The sergeant started off in a brisk walk, but as his predecessor had a good start he, too, began to run as hard as he could. 'If all three of the secondaries are running like jack rabbits,' ejaculated Harney. 'I'll show 'em.' And tucking his sword under his arm he started in pursuit as fast as he could run; but suddenly remembering his dignity he came to a halt, and walked stately and slowly back to the place where the dress parade was to come off.

The Savage Apaches.

The corps of notorious Apache chiefs seems to be inexhaustible. When Victoria, after scourging the southwestern frontier for two years, was at length killed in Mexico by the troops of that country, and his band nearly annihilated, it was thought that an equally successful plunderer of ranches and murderer of stray settlers could hardly be found; yet within a few months Nana proved himself to be as great an adept at burning and pillaging as his deceased predecessor. When Nana went the way of Victoria falling in turn a victim to Mexican soldiery, he seemed to have left no worthy successor; yet soon his mantle fell upon Loco, who showed himself to be an expert brigand. Loco in due time perished in Mexico by the fatal skill of the regular troops there; nevertheless, the line of raiding chieftains is not exhausted, for now Jah appears on the scene with a band about two hundred strong, who are said to have killed three prospectors, and are devoting themselves to raiding with great impartiality on both sides of the boundary. His depredations have been chiefly thus far, in Sonora and thus there is ground for supposing that his career may be short when the Mexican troops get at him.

AMONG the most prevalent fatal and sudden attacks of disease, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, etc., that often prove fatal in a few hours. There is one reliable remedy Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, should be at hand, for use in emergency.

As honest medicine is the noblest work of man, and we can assure our readers that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only reliable, but is almost infallible to cure Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Colic, of the Stomach and bowels, and the various summer complaints, whose attacks are often sudden and fatal.

Fruit in California.

California has become the great canning State. Of salmon and fruit the product thus prepared reached eleven and a half millions of cans. Nearly the whole State is singularly adapted to fruit-raising, and at the beginning of the present year 6,000,000 fruit trees were within its borders. From the southern to the northern border, the semitropical orange, almond, fig and lemon, flourish by the side of what we consider our standard fruits. Grapes of the finest varieties, and those suitable to raisin-making, are grown in increasing quantities. Berries are easily raised, and last a long time. The strawberry season is from March to January, and commonly the whole year round.

SULPHURINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURE FOR SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulphurine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if in some cases, such as Ordinary scurf, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, various as if by magic; whilst old, scaling skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulphurine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulphurine" Lotions is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHURINE LOTION, A FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all skin disorders. Nothing like Sulphurine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in its class so great comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHURINE LOTION.—The first idea of late Dr. Harter, and every year it is used more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with skin diseases, should apply Sulphurine as calmly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHURINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAIN CURE

KENDALL'S SPAIN CURE,
The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 24th, 1880.
Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STOCKPORT, MAN., March 10th, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splines, curbs, callosities, swellings, and lamenesses and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which will show the various kinds of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success as our knowledge, for years as well as man.

Price 5p. bottle, or six bottles for $1. All drug stores have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Stockport, Falls, Vt.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL

Sunday School Picnic.

The annual picnic in connection with St. John's Church Sunday School, will be held at Hastings, on Saturday, as was announced previously. Arrangements have been made with the Grand Junction Division of the Midland Railway, to convey adults there and back for 40 cents and children for 15 cents. Any ladies of the congregation wishing to contribute can leave baskets with Mr. Beck.

Sad News.

On Saturday the friends of John McDonald, who reside on Queen street, received the sad news that he had on the night of Thursday met with a serious accident in a hotel in Grand Rapids, Michigan. He came to that city on Thursday night, and was lodging in the hotel. During the night he arose and walked out of a door some thirty feet high and fell to the ground seriously injuring his limbs and otherwise severely hurting him. It is thought that the accident is due to somnambulism, that he arose in his sleep and walked through the door.

Runaway Accident.

This morning a son of Mr. Louis Laplante was driving a horse belonging to Mr. Letellier, baker, which was attached to a wagon on which there was no box. He was driving on Charlotte street, and after crossing the railway track the horse began to run, and the boy, who was about nine years old, was unable to control it. When in front of Mr. Fitzgerald's livery stable the little fellow attempted to jump off the wagon, and he fell. His head struck on the sidewalk, and when he was picked up he was unconscious. Medical aid was summoned and Dr. King soon arrived, and found a severe scalp wound on the upper part of the boy's forehead, but his skull was not injured. He recovered consciousness and was taken home, and it is thought that he will recover.

The Return from Camp.

The 57th Battalion Peterborough Rangers returned from the camp at Cobourg on Saturday afternoon. There was a large number of people at the station when the train arrived, at about half-past three o'clock, and as the train drew up loud cheers were given. No. 1, 2 and 3 Companies alighted and Companies No. 4, 5 and 6 went on their way home on the regular Grand Junction train, and the Peterborough and Ashburnham volunteers gave them three hearty parting cheers. The three companies then formed in column four deep and, with the band leading, marched up Charlotte and George streets to the Drill Shed. The streets were lined with people, and the marching of the volunteers and the playing of the band were greatly admired. As the companies turned the corner at Murray street a salute was fired from the battery gun by members of the Durham Field Battery. On arriving at the Drill Shed cheers were given for the officers, the band, General Wolsey and Major Grover, and No. 3 Company then marched to their headquarters in Ashburnham and the band to their hall.

Camp Notes.

While at camp, two members of our band boasted that they could outweigh three other members. This challenge was taken up, and they all five accordingly betook themselves to an adjacent factory where a pair of scales were got and the two "Jumbos" weighed. Their united weight was 411½ pounds. The other three men then were weighed when, strange to say, they weighed exactly the same to an ounce.

The slide trombone, which was ordered some time ago for the band, and which is to be played by Mr. John Brydon, has, through some unforeseen cause evidently gone astray on its journey here, as it should have reached here two or three weeks ago. The other new instruments are expected daily.

The journey from Cobourg to Peterborough was a weary one indeed. The men left the scene of operations about ten o'clock on Saturday morning, and did not reach home until nearly four o'clock in the afternoon. A delay of over two hours was caused at Port Hope on account of a drawhead of one of the cars getting broken.

It is rumored that the next Brigade camp will be held in Peterborough. A better place could not easily be selected.

The majority of the men were paid off on Saturday night, and those who were not will get their salary this evening at the drill shed.

ANOTHER BLOCK BURNED

A DISASTROUS CONFLAGRATION DESTROYS THE HALL BISCUIT FACTORY.

Seriously Injured by a Wall Falling on an Adjacent Dwelling—Insufficient Appliances to Fight a Fire—The Estimated Loss and Insurance.

On Saturday evening at seven o'clock a fire broke out in the biscuit and confectionery factory of Hall Bros., on Water street, which resulted in another destructive conflagration, destroying that fine block which stood on the corner of Water and Hunter streets, and was owned by Mr. George Dunford.

The fire was first discovered near the south end of the building, and in the upper stories. A few minutes after the alarm sounded, at which time clouds of black smoke were issuing from the windows in the third story of the building, an explosion occurred in the east end of the third story. The cause of the explosion is variously explained, and may have been caused by gas generated from the coal used in the oven or from materials used in the bakery. The top part of the end wall was blown out, and fell with a crash on the small roughcast house owned by Mr. Geo. Brownlee, breaking in the roof. John Brownlee, who had just entered the building, narrowly escaped, and he thinks that he would have been seriously injured had he not been guarded from the falling roof by a bedstead. Mrs. R. N. Roddy, who was in Brownlee's, rushed out of the house when the alarm was given, and was just outside of the door when the explosion occurred, and the falling bricks fell upon her. She was cut severely on the head, and her shoulders and arms were injured, but it is not thought that her life is in danger.

There was a considerable interval before getting a stream of water on the fire. There was a delay at the engine house through losing a strap from the harness in taking the horses to the shed, and after the engine was placed on the bridge at the creek on Hunter street, and had commenced pumping, the hose burst. It was twenty-nine minutes before the water from one branch was brought to bear on the flames, and by that time the fire had gained considerable headway. The stream was thrown on the fire in the front part of the building occupied by Hall Bros., and the flames leaped the brick wall in the rear and caught on the mansard roof of the adjoining building, which was soon in a blaze. The fire in this way leaped the walls, and catching in the mansard roof, spread over the whole block, which was occupied in addition to Messrs. Hall, by Mr. J. L. Brown, who had a groceries and liquor store in the corner of the block, and Mr. A. P. Morgan, whose hotel was on Hunter street. The building was totally consumed and only a small portion of the wall is left standing. Mr. Brownlee's house was also wholly destroyed.

A portion of the machinery in Hall Bros.' bakery was got out, and the stock in the store was also saved, but the machinery was considerably damaged and some of it was burned. Mr. Brown's stock was also carried out, but was damaged in the removal. Efforts were also made to save the furniture in Morgan's hotel, and a large amount of it was rescued from the flames, but it was also damaged a great deal.

Behind the block there were several wooden sheds, into which the fire caught, but it was checked by a gallant fire brigade who drenched the sheds and kept the fire back. The firemen worked hard, and it is not because they did not exert themselves to the utmost that the building was destroyed.

Other persons were more or less injured during the fire, and there were several narrow escapes from the danger attending the falling walls. Mr. Reid was burned about the face and hands, and several others were injured severely by the flames, but we believe none were dangerously hurt, except Mrs. Roddy, before referred to.

THE LOSS AND INSURANCES.

Mr. Dunford's loss on the building is estimated at about $14,000 or $15,000, on which there are two insurances, one for $4,500 and the other for $3,800. Mr. G. W. Hall is insured in the Western for $1,000 and in the Royal for $2,000, and the loss in stock and machinery will probably amount to $2,500 or $3,000. Mr. J. L. Brown is insured in the Western for $1,500, which will cover his loss. Mr. A. P. Morgan has a policy in the London Assurance Corporation for $1,000 and another in the Guardian for $800, but these include the stables, which were not burned. Mr. Brownlee's house was insured, but he had no insurance on his furniture, which was almost all destroyed.

AGAIN CALLED OUT.

The firemen were again called out on Sunday forenoon, the fire having begun to burn along the eastern part of the block, and threatened the stables there. Water was thrown on the fire for some time, and then the firemen directed their attention to tearing down the wall in the east end and part of the wall on Hunter street, which were liable to fall at any time, and were too dangerous to be left standing. This was, perhaps, one of the most dangerous pieces of work which the firemen had to do, as they had to ascend ladders laid against the tottering wall to get the ropes fastened to it to pull it down. After about five hours hard work the walls which it was thought necessary to pull down, were levelled, and the firemen ceased work.

NOTES.

While the fire was burning in Hall's biscuit factory and in Brown's grocery, Mr. Cavanagh's hotel, the Stewart House, was in danger of being ignited also. Water was thrown on it from buckets, and two hand engines were used in throwing streams on the building, by which means the danger was averted.

Several persons were in Hall's when the explosion occurred, and were thrown to the floor of the second story. They were injured more or less, and narrowly escaped with their lives.

The origin of the fire is not definitely known. There was no fire used in the third story of the building, and it is supposed that it originated from the oven. The crown of the oven may have fallen in, or the heat from the top of it may have ignited the wooden joists above. If the fire was started in this way, it would probably be seen first in the third story, as the oven was in the extreme south-east corner, and the flames would ascend to the third story before reaching the front of the building, and it was given an impetus in the upper part by the explosion.

The fire engine was taken to Wm. Hamilton's foundry this morning to get new tubes put in. On Saturday night these defective tubes leaked on the fire, and delayed the engineer in getting up the steam.

THAT SIDEWALK.

To the Editor of the Review:

DEAR SIR,—Some time ago I noticed a local paragraph in your daily paper, drawing the attention of the Street Inspector to the wretchedly bad state of the sidewalk south of the Montreal Bank on Water street. Now, Mr. Editor, since the proper authorities have taken no notice of your timely remarks on this subject, I beg leave to again draw their attention to this disgraceful and much neglected sidewalk. The boards are all loose and some of them are lying promiscuously around the road, while in some places, if a person is about the length of a plank ahead of a second individual, the first thing happens is that the plank will fly up on one end and the unfortunate man or woman behind will either fall flat on the face or otherwise have a narrow escape from serious injury. Such a state of things in a town like Peterborough—and that too, in the centre of it—should not be tolerated. By giving the above space in your valuable paper, you will much oblige.

Yours respectfully,

A VICTIM.

Peterborough, Sept. 18th, 1882.

Council Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Town Council will be held in the Council Chamber this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

A Runaway.

On Saturday evening a team of horses driven by P. Crowley, Jr., and attached to a wagon containing a brother of the driver and Mrs. Crowley, ran away near the Ashburnham school. They ran down to Mark street, and there the wagon was upset into a ditch, and the driver's wrist was sprained. The other persons in the wagon were not injured, but one of the horses was severely cut.

SURE, safe and effectual, that old remedy, Down's Mixture, for the cure of Coughs and Colds.

The safest, best and cheapest medicine in the world is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully.

I. F. SMITH, Druggist, of Dunville, under date of June 1st, writes of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry:—"It sells immensely, in fact has the largest sale during the summer of any patent medicine in stock," and adds that he can heartily recommend it to the public. The above named remedy is nature's grand cure for Cholera, Dysentery and all summer complaints.

LIVER COMPLAINT.—Is rather an indefinite term, as commonly understood it consists of a torpid sluggish state of the liver, a deficiency or superabundance of bile, or an alteration from its proper character. All disturbed action of the liver and biliary organs giving rise to pain in the side, or under the shoulder blade, headache, weariness, dizziness, sick stomach, loss of appetite, bad bowels, &c., are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

TUESDAY, Sept. 19.—John Smith appeared to answer to a charge of having been drunk, preferred against him by Constable Pidgeon, and was fined $1, which he paid.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

Hugh Casey was charged by the same officer with having been drunk and acting in a disorderly manner. He was fined $2 and he paid it.

IMMEDIATE DRIVING.

The adjourned case against W. Trotter, for having driven a horse at an immoderate rate of speed, again came up. Mr. John Burnham appeared for the defendant.

Jas. English and Constable Adams testified that they saw the defendant driving the horse on the streets at a rapid rate of speed. He was fined $2 and $2.50 costs, or in default of payment twenty-one days in goal.

ILLIBERATE A HORSE.

Another charge against W. Trotter for ill-treating a horse, which had been adjourned till to-day, also came up.

The evidence of four witnesses, in addition to that of Constable Pidgeon, was taken, and the defendant was found guilty. He was fined $3 and $4.50 costs, or in default twenty-one days in goal.

AGAIN ADJOURNED.

The case brought against T. W. Robinson for obtaining goods under false pretences from S. F. Allen, was again called.

Mr. SAWERS said that Mr. Jas. Elliott, who was one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, and who had been subpoenaed, was not present, and he asked for an adjournment.

The case was adjourned till Wednesday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE RULE OF THE ROAD.

To the Editor of the Review:

Sir,—I send you the following old stage sprouts to the article which recently appeared in the Review under the above caption:—

The rule of the road is a paradox quite. As you trot or you gallop along; If you go to the left you are sure to be right. If you go to the right, so be wrong.

Peterborough, Sept. 19th, 1892.

Personal.

Mrs. B. Ferguson departed for Chicago to-day on a visit.

The Ashes of the War.

Among the names of those reported to have been drowned in the disaster on Lake Huron, is that of Mr. Wm. Henry, who has relatives in this county.

Recovering.

It was reported last evening that the little son of Mr. L. Laplante, who was hurt in the runaway accident, had died, but the report was happily unfounded. The little fellow is progressing favourably towards recovery.

Extraneous.

The Peterborough Club is in communication with the Young Shamrocks, of Montreal, with reference to the match to be played here. The day of the match is not yet decided, but it will probably be next week.

Trent Navigation.

The Mail's Ottawa correspondent says that Mr. A. F. Macdonald has accepted the contract for the work at Fenelon Falls in connection with the Trent navigation. Mr. Alexander Manning, of Toronto, is associated with him.

Thunder Storms.

A heavy storm of rain accompanied by thunder and lightning passed over the town this morning. Mr. Benj. Green, who lives in the southern part of the town, was in his garden at the time of the storm, with a pitchfork in his hand, and he states that the lightning, perhaps attracted by the fork, flashed around his head and he was stunned for a few moments. He carries a mark on his forehead which he says the lightning caused. Another heavy thunder storm visited here shortly after noon to-day.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

DAMIETTA TO BE ATTACKED SIMULTANEOUSLY BY LAND AND SEA.

Fugitive Arabs Threaten to Continue the War—An Expedition Being Prepared to Suppress Them—A Train of Soldiers Attacked and the Ammanite Detachment.

TO BE ATTACKED BY LAND AND SEA. CAIRO, Sept. 18.—General Wolsley and Admiral Seymour are concerting a plan for a simultaneous attack on Damietta by land and sea.

FUGITIVES GATHERING AND THREATENING. ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—Fugitive troops from the wreck of Arabi's army are assembling in Upper Egypt, and threaten to continue the war. An expedition is being prepared, formed chiefly from the Indian contingent, to suppress them.

ARABI'S RELATIVES. ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—The regiment which left Aboukir to join Abdallah at Damietta was Arabi Pasha's own, and numbered 500 men. When at Kafr-el-Dwar Arabi and his wife lived with his father. The mother, sisters, and brother of Arabi ate and drank only what they prepared, believing the English had spies in his camp who wished to poison him.

A LITTLE MISTAKE. ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—This morning natives around Kafr Zayat furiously attacked a train containing British soldiers and some Egyptian officers, under the impression that Arabi had won a great battle at Cairo, and that the train contained some of the defeated enemy. A volley from the soldiers dispersed the assailants.

THE MOB. ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—The reports of the pillaging of Manawrah arose from a mob smashing the windows of loyal inhabitants who illuminated upon the news of the victory at Tel-el-Kebir.

THE GARRISON OF ABUKIR. ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—The garrison of Aboukir marched out last evening. An entire regiment with arms marched eastward to join Abdallah Pasha at Damietta. The rest of the garrison, 5,000 or 6,000, arrived at Kafr-al-Dwar at noon, and were there dismissed, the men dispersed to their homes and the officers detained.

ARABI'S GAMER. ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 18.—Arabi was in the habit of parading natives through the streets of Cairo with torn and bloody clothing, firing the mob and inciting the populace with the cry, "See how the English treat us. The Khedive intends to celebrate the restoration of order by a series of fete."

THE CONVENTION ABANDONED. CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 18.—It is believed the Anglo-Turkish military convention will be abandoned.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

A TECHNICALITY.

DUBLIN, Sept. 18.—In the case of Patrick Walsh, whose execution for the murder of Lyden has been fixed for Friday, a legal difficulty has arisen, it being alleged that Judge Lawton in passing sentence failed to use the phraseology prescribed by the law.

AUSTRIA'S TROUBLES.

TRIESTE, Sept. 18.—The man Overdank, arrested during the Trieste celebration with bombs in his possession, was found at an inn with a companion. Their room was forced open and they were found filling shells with nitroglycerine. Overdank fired at the gendarmes, but was speedily disarmed. His accomplice escaped through a window. Overdank is a deserter from the Austrian army. The Emperor was in Trieste at the time.

FLOODS IN EUROPE.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Heavy floods have occurred in Lombardy, Tuscany, and the Tyrol. The city of Trent is submerged, and Verona is also inundated. Several bridges have been demolished, but no loss of life is reported. The damage to property is estimated at 2,000,000 dollars.

THE Czar's Coronation.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 18.—The preparations for the coronation of the Czar are being hurriedly completed. The ceremony will take place on October 10th.

RUSSIAN FINANCES.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 18.—The Russian Minister of Finance announces that during the first half of the past year the receipts of the Government increased 2,300,000 roubles. The expenditure increased 2,500,000.

AMERICAN.

"ALCOHOLISM."

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Melville, wife of Chief Engineer Melville, was taken to the State hospital for the insane at Norristown, Pa., this evening by her husband. She could not be persuaded to go until assured her children might go with her. The rum succeeded, but at the institution a heartrending scene occurred upon the children being separated from her. A certificate given by doctors says "temporary insanity, caused by alcoholism." Melville said to-night it was the bravest act he was ever called upon to perform, also he did not believe she could be cured.

A BITTER DEATH.

BAYONA, N. C., Sept. 18.—Two negroes fought at the side of a wall here this morning, fell in, and were drowned.

SWISS CROPS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—It is stated that the U. S. Consul at Buda Pesth reports that wheat is declining in Hungary owing to reports of immense crops in the U. S. Minister Cramer reports an almost total failure of the potato crop in Switzerland, potatoes forming one of the principal articles of diet of the Swiss. Cramer suggests that American exporters arrange to supply the deficit.

Personal: To Mrs. Only.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Loss of Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and better vigor. AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

TO OUR READERS

The telegraph wires have again been put out of order by the storms of this morning and to-day, and we have therefore not received the usual cablegrams and American despatches this afternoon.

THE SHIPWRECK.

Further Particulars of the Loss of the Asia—The Law Net at Bellefleur.

COLLINGWOOD, Sept. 18.—The steamer Asia was inspected in May of this year by the Government Steamboat Inspector, Mr. Risley, her route at that time being from Sarnia to Duluth, and the complement of passengers she was allowed to carry being forty. In July her owners made application to the steamboat inspector's office to have the number of passengers which she was permitted to carry advanced to 150. This application was refused unless the number of life-preservers carried on the vessel was largely increased, and additional boats and other life-saving apparatus provided. The route of the vessel was, however, changed, an additional number of passengers carried, and the law set at defiance. In fact, Mr. Risley states that when the unfortunate vessel foundered she was actually sailing without a license, and violating the laws governing steamboat traffic in this country. The danger from overcrowding steamboats and devising means to prevent it has engaged the attention of the Government for some years. Some steamboat owners in this city claim for their vessels a safe capacity for fifteen hundred passengers, while their life-saving equipment would not provide for a fourth of that number. The propeller City of Winnipeg when burned at her wharf at Duluth, on the 16th July, 1881, was found totally devoid of proper appliances to save the lives of passengers or extinguish the flames, several people losing their lives in vain efforts to reach the dock. The opinion which prevails among steamboat men in this city as to

is that the vessel was top-heavy, and that, like all steamers of her class which are low at the stern, that part of her got engulfed in the waves, which was fast following the ill-fated boat, in her endeavors to reach a harbor. The Inspector says that the Seamen's Agreement Act, which only provides for an eight months' service on any one craft, has the effect of furnishing vessels with untrained crews, who in the event of a catastrophe, lose their presence of mind just as much as the passengers do. It will probably be forever a mystery why the lost steamer should founder through stress of weather, and in a single night's blow, especially when one of the two survivors states that at the time of the disaster her engines were going at full speed, and it must be supposed that her steering apparatus was disabled and that she was left at the mercy of the waves in the trough of the sea.

Among the drowned is Wm. Henry, for some years a partner of Mr. Parkhill, M. P. P. Mr. Parkhill is here at present, anxiously awaiting further intelligence. It is singular that both brothers were drowned in the same lake within four months of each other, the one on the Manitoulin, the other on the Asia.—Mail.

TRADE NOTES.

The Richmond Woolen Co., at Almonte, are now using Nova Scotia coal in their establishment with satisfactory results.

The quality of the blankets manufactured in the Pembroke Woolen Mills may be estimated from the facts that a $10,000 order was lately received from a wholesale house the members of which intended to purchase 2,000 pairs of blankets at 2 cents less than the retail price. The order was refused, as it is the intention of the proprietor to sell direct to lumbermen, at least to give them the first chance.

A PAIR of new engines, to run with 110 pounds of steam, 150 revolutions per minute, 150 horse-power, have been completed at Kilby's works, Hamilton, for the new Escapator Manufacturing Company's cotton mills. These are to be supplemented soon by a larger pair of much greater power. The same firm are also building a pair of 240 horse-power engines for the new Wauchope sawing machine factory and foundry and screw works.—Canadian Manufacturer.

THE worsted yarns for tweed manufacture, now made by McCree & Co. of Guelph, are a new product of the industrial efforts of Canada. This firm recently purchased David Allen's old premises and is siting up part of them for the making of yarn exclusively. Other tweed manufacturers now buy from them, but they claim that some of their product is as good as the imported article. The firm has been able to make yarn of greater evenness than probably any hitherto produced in this country.—Monetary Times.

MARINERS.

CHERRY FACTORY BURNED.—The cheese factory, with dwelling attached, on the seventh concession of Marquette, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday night. J. C. Rogers loses about $2,000 on business, and J. C. Miller also loses about $100 on contents. The factory has been closed about two months; supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

SIR THOMAS JAMISON BOYD, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, has intimated his intention of resigning office next November—a year before his term expires. He has been Lord Provost for five years.

THE safest, best and cheapest medicine in the world is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. Hold in large bottles at 75 cents by J. D. Tully.

WINSTON'S SWEETENED SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, opening the magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. MINE EXPLOSION.

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—An explosion of fire-damp occurred in a mine near Dortmund. Twenty persons were killed or injured. The whole town was startled by the report, and for a time it was feared that a terrible mine disaster had taken place. The jolting of a passing coal train is said to have been the cause of the explosion. Fire cars and a portion of a new breaker were demolished.

SPANISH HOSTILITY.

MADRID, Sept. 19.—A member of the Madrid Government says that Spain was solicited by Austria, Germany, and Italy to join the European concert. When the conference meets to discuss the English proposals for the settlement of the neutrality of the Suez canal and the conditional self-government under the suzerainty of the Porte, these powers with Turkey and Russia desire to find a Latin and Mediterranean nation to counterbalance the evident French sympathy with British policy. The Madrid Government will be, in the conference, decidedly adverse to any solution that might increase British preponderance in the Mediterranean.

Public opinion in Spain is unanimous against the British power, which the Spaniards consider dangerous for their policy in Morocco. As long as England holds Gibraltar she will find them ready to unite with the Eastern powers against her influence in Europe and the colonies. Never before has public opinion shown so great and bitter hostility to any European nation. Besides, the court and the Government think the opportunity excellent for Spain to resume her place among the great powers.

FLOODS IN ITALY.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Terrible inundations have occurred in north Italy. Many towns are flooded and large tracts of country are without other means of communication than boats. The towns of Trent, Vellach and Bruneck are partly destroyed. The damage is enormous.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS.

GLASGOW, Sept. 19.—The Allan's steamship Waldenian, from Boston, which arrived at Glasgow on Sunday, landed her live stock shipment in good order and condition, with the exception of one ox, which died on the passage.

A PORTUGUESE CABLE.

LISBON, Sept. 19.—A contract has been signed for laying a cable between Lisbon and the United States, touching at the Azores.

THE GREEK FRONTIER.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Mr. Gladstone has advised the King of Greece to refrain from pushing the frontier claims to an extremity.

RELEASE OF IRISH SUSPECTS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—Denny, Woodward, Brophy, and Cull, who were arrested at Dublin on suspicion after the murder of the farmer Bailey, were released to-day. McCaffrey, Poole, and Coney, who were arrested after the Beville Fallies murder, have also been released. The remaining suspects, with the exception of those who can be brought to trial, will be speedily discharged.

THE BOMB AFFAIR.

VENICE, Sept. 19.—Three men have been arrested in Vienna on suspicion of being connected with those who threw bombs into the ranks of the Society of Veterans at Trieste. The prisoners belong to a secret society spreading from Rome and Naples to Trieste. The Italian Government is anxious to assist in apprehending persons connected with the plot, and has sent agents to Trieste for the purpose.

A RESPITE.

DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—The Lord-Lieutenant has definitely declined to respite Walsh, who is to be hanged on Friday for murder.

THE CZAR'S CORONATION.

St. PETERSBURG, Sept. 19.—The Czar starts for Moscow to-night, most probably for his coronation. All private telegraphic services and railway traffic in the direction of Moscow will be suspended until his arrival, and 20,000 troops will be stationed along the line as far as Moscow. Absolute secrecy is maintained regarding the actual date of the coronation.

Our Schools and Follies.

The Independent Toronto Telegram says: No doubt there is some grounds for the charge that is frequently laid at the door of the Moral Government, that it has dragged the educational affairs of the Province through the mire of party politics. There is no excuse whatever for mixing up education and party warfare, and even the suspicion that the schools are being converted into a political engine to maintain the Reform party in power, is sure to do the schools an injury without doing the party any good. Mr. Crooks is first and foremost a politician, and naturally keeps the interests of himself and colleagues constantly in view. He cannot well help doing so, as his own position depends upon the Administration of which he is a member being kept in office. The head of the Educational Department should be above the reach of partyism, and should hold his position, not simply during the precarious tenure of a political party in office, but as long as it was clear he was fitted for it. So long as it is otherwise, and the Minister of Education is liable to be turned out of his office by a party vote, we may expect to see these charges of party intrigue brought against him, in order to injure the Government of which he is a member.

A DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Sun's Syracuse despatch says that owing to the demand for lodging during the Democratic State Convention, the hotels and boarding houses have advanced their rates a hundred per cent, and find no difficulty in getting their price. There is a good deal of talk among a few delegates and politicians as to whether or not Tammany should be admitted to the convention. Flowers claims that he will have 150 votes on the first ballot. At midnight it was conceded that no single candidate yet named has the winning lead, and everything depends on the way in which the New York City difficulty is disposed of.

FOLGER OR CORNELL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Times' Saratoga despatch says at midnight the Folger men, who had been in consultation, claimed that they had made sufficient inroads on the Cornell forces to secure Folger's nomination without a doubt. Cornell's own figures give him 236 on the first ballot. His friends do not claim more than 310.

Maybury, one of the proprietors of Maybury, Fellman & Hamilton's Circus, absconded on Saturday with $20,000 of the company's funds, swindling his partners and leaving a large number of performers and employees penniless. Yesterday he was arrested at Montgomery, Alabama.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1882.

NOTHING TO DO.

We are told that we must not expect to obtain at the provincial election the votes of Reformers who are friendly to the N. P. because Mr. Mowat and his colleagues have nothing to do with the N. P. Well, if we take it on this ground, we believe the Reformers who are friendly to the N. P. will prefer not to have men in power who devote their chief energies to opposing the will of the people in a matter with which they have nothing to do, who denounce the National Policy in their speech from the throne, who harangue against it in Parliament, who fulminate against it on the stump, who work against it at Dominion elections, who set their officers in array against it, who clip from public documents anything in its favor, who by act and word and pen, by fair means and foul, steadily oppose the verdict of the people with which they have nothing to do. The Reformers who are friendly to the N. P. are tired of men who while thus thwarting the will of the people in a matter with which they have nothing to do, have not sufficient energy remaining to attend to the duties with which they should have something to do, to hold the elections as the law directs for unrepresented constituencies, to publish their sessional papers for the information of the people, to make up their minds what changes they will make in examination programmes before the pupils or their parents have bought to lay aside the first accepted and then rejected volumes, in short to attend to their own business of administering the affairs of this province instead of attacking the chosen ministers of the people of Canada and their policy, with which they have nothing to do.

The Reformers who are friendly to the N. P. will also remember that the leading journal of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues, has invited capitalists to watch the result of the provincial elections to see if there is not manifest a falling off from that fiscal policy with which these men have nothing to do.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

In its editorial columns of Sept. 19th, the Star has a very indecent attack upon Bishop Seymour, of Springfield, Illinois, who is now on a visit to Toronto, even going so far as to suggest that he is suffering from a diseased brain. But in the very next column, in the account of a lecture on "Women's Work in the Church," given by the Bishop in St. George's school house, the reporter thus describes him:—

"The Bishop is a man of goodly presence, bearing and courteous in manner, and apparently about sixty years of age. In the pulpit he showed himself a scholar, a theologian, and an orator of no average stamp. His voice is full and harmonious, his action graceful and suited to the matter, his style is that of a deep thinker, lucid, methodical and convincing, full of attractiveness, and bristling with scriptural and historical allusions, gems of thought quaintly set in old gold."

What a hospitable way our contemporary has of receiving an eminent visitor to its city, and how honest it is in regard to anyone with whom it differs in opinion.

The London Free Press has the following paragraph in reference to a subject which is now exciting considerable interest in Peterborough:—

"The question is raised, is a city under obligation to protect its citizens from damage by fire? That question is involved in a suit brought against Montreal by Mr. Dion, a sculptor, who lost an eye in consequence of a fire in a house where the law as to fire escapes had not been enforced."

It is a weekly occurrence for us to find that some contemporary has appropriated a portion of our editorial articles, not mere local items, without acknowledgment. In two instances lately we have seen credit given by other papers to the piratical journals for what they have thus "borrowed" from us. We have the satisfaction, however, of knowing that our ideas thus obtain a wider circulation, and at all events we would prefer to have our work thus appropriated rather than to appropriate that of others in this manner.

CENTRALIZATION OF POWER.

The independent Toronto Telegram, which manifests a decided leaning in favor of Mr. Mowat, thus censures his centralizing proclivities and his usurpation of municipal powers:—

"What is really the strongest card in the hands of the Conservatives is the attempt of Mr. Mowat to centralize the power of the municipalities in his own hands, while crying out against the Dominion Government intruding upon the domain of the Provincial Legislature. He has taken away from the municipalities the power of appointing license commissioners, which really means the control of the licensed liquor trade of the Province, and he has taken from the judges the power of appointing Division county clerks and bailiffs. These things will tell against him in the elections, as they indicate a tendency to the centralization of power in the hands of a political faction."

A DAY OF PLEASURE.

The Annual Picnic of the Employees of the Auburn Woollen Company.

Among the many flourishing industries of which our town can boast, perhaps the most important is that of the Auburn Woollen Company, particularly on account of the large number of hands employed. Like nearly all other establishments in Canada, the management, in order to afford the employees some slight recreation on a set day in each year, tender all the employees and their friends a complimentary excursion or picnic. Monday was the day this year and Johnston's fine grove near Hastings the place selected, and certainly we must compliment all concerned on the judicious choice made.

The party, about as happy and contented as let us ever left the town "on pleasure bent," numbered between four and five hundred when the village of Ashburnham was left behind about 7 o'clock a.m.

The run down was made in good time, engineer J. H. Henry, one of the best men in the employ of the Company, having charge of the throttle, while Conductor Morris manipulated the punch, and rapidly disgorged the tickets on board.

Nothing occurred worthy of mention until Hastings was reached, shortly after 8 o'clock, where all alighted and at once sought the grove, some taking advantage of the "breeze" provided while many preferred to walk up, thereby obtaining a good view of the picturesque embryo city, which is so rapidly being built up after the late disastrous fire—a warning to Peterborough—and we are glad to see that the new erections are nearly all of a solid character, brick in nearly every case taking the place of the flimsy wooden fire traps formerly so plentiful. A short walk brings one to the grove, the property of Mr. Richard Johnston, situated in one of the most charming places imaginable and even as it is now, furnishing plenty of room and shade for at least two thousand people.

This is the first season that it has been visited by outside excursionists, and if Mr. Johnston carries out his plan of underbrushing and clearing up more space, we will undertake to say that before another year passes, Johnston's grove will be the chosen place for picnics, not only from Peterborough, but from all the surrounding places as well.

At the ground everything was found prepared for our visit and in an exceedingly short space of time groups of people—and baskets were to be seen in every direction, and the important business of preparing dinner was in full blast. In the meantime music was heard and a spacious platform, which was never unoccupied all day, was soon filled with the young and for that matter by many old persons of both sexes. Swings and croquet had charms for some, while others preferred boating or the hundred and one other things that pic-nickers delight in.

Dinner having been discussed in a manner agreeable to all, the games commenced, and for an hour or two the large open space in the centre of the ground was surrounded by a large crowd all apparently greatly interested in what was going on. The following is a full list of the various events and the prize-winners in each:—

HALF MILE RACE.—1st Geo. Britton, $2.00; 2nd Thos. McMillan, $1.00.
MILE RACE.—1st Harry Dunn, $1.00; 2nd Thos. McMillan, $1.00.
200 YARDS RACE.—1st Thos. McMillan, $1.00.

ROBBING LONG JUMP.—1st Harry Dunn, $1.00; 2nd Thos. McMillan, $1.00.

LEVIN'S GUIN RACE.—1st Ella Burnett, $1.00; 2nd Johnna Donagan, 75c; 3rd Kate Lavielle, 50c.

GIRLS' RACE.—1st Nellie Cronan, $1.00; 2nd Bella Shearer, 75c; 3rd Maggie Welch, 50c.

MARRIED MEN'S RACE.—1st Wm. Fleming, $2.00; 2nd John R. Smith, $1.00.

BOY'S RACE.—1st Peter Shearer, $1.00; 2nd John Dunn, 50c; 3rd Charles Burke, 25c.

YOUNG MEN'S RACE.—1st Patrick Shearer, $2.00; 2nd Wm. McDowell, $1.00.

PROFESSIONAL'S RACE.—1st M. Bird, $3.00; 2nd — McAuliffe, $2.00.

After the games came a football match which afforded plenty of amusement to the onlookers. If not to those engaged in the game, with the thermometer among the diners. The game being over, both sides having covered themselves with glory and bruises, as if by mutual consent, the shady spots were sought and an hour or so spent in social converse, after which came tea and then the warning cry "we start for home" made all hasten to prepare for the return trip. All being safely on board the train a start was made and Peterborough was reached "on time," and the Auburn picnic of 1882 was over and the crowd felt about one hundred per cent. better and more cheerful than on the preceding day.

Taken on the whole the picnic was one of the most successful of the season, and one that will be remembered for some time by all who had the pleasure of participating. One thing worth noticing was the presence of a number of Unemployment people, who in many ways did much to enhance the enjoyment of the pleasure seekers. We may mention Messrs. Chas. Smith, T. Dine, Jas. White, H. Gibb and last but not by any means least R. W. Turner, manager of the Great Mills and his amiable partner.

As may be expected the courteous superintendent of the Auburn Company, Mr. James Kennedy, went into the affair in a whole-souled manner, and to his efforts as well as that of the following committee Messrs. Chas. Dunn, W. Somerville, J. Smith, Geo. Way, Wm. Fleming and D. McIntosh, not forgetting by any means Mr. Beach Way, the great success of the gathering is to be ascribed. A more orderly crowd never left Peterborough, and not the slightest thing occurred during the day to disturb the harmony that existed on all sides.

Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

TRICKERY ADVOCATED.

The Ottawa Free Press makes a strong appeal to Mr. Mowat to trust to trickery, not to the will of the people, at the general election for the province. It says:—

"The coming conflict in Ontario is thus of a most momentous character, but if Mr. Mowat uses the power now in his hands he will completely frustrate the physical tactics of his enemies. In the coming session he can rearrange the electorate, either by a redistribution of seats or by cumulative voting. The Tories, he may be sure, will resort to any means, however base or desperate, to defeat him. His duty to his province and his party is therefore plain, and he will deserve to be beaten if he does not adopt these measures by which he will leave them the least possible margin for the perpetration of the great wrong contemplated by Sir John Macdonald."

MACFARLANE WILSON.

The Cradle of the Tartar Wagon.
Sir R. Temple read a most striking paper before the British Association on the cradle of the tartar world, the gigantic Asiatic plateau, usually 4,000 feet high, which stretches from the Himalaya to the Altai and the mountain border of China, covers more than two millions of square miles—two Indies—and is walled off from civilization by mountains 10,000 feet high. Though partly desert—as in that strange dried sea, the desert of Gobi—much more is still fertile, while there is reason to believe it contains some of the richest mineral districts in the world. No doubt there is no little reason to Europe, yet probably from hence come many of the things which are passing up to the barbarians of the north. While in the world's history its claim so increased in numbers and in kind of civilization that in the thirteenth century, Genghis Khan and his successors ruled armies of 1,000,000 men. It was the Yellow Sea of the East. In Tartary, in China, and in the great empire of Delhi was a descendant of Genghis. —London Spectator.

Lady Macdonald's Death.
While the Premier of Canada occupies a very exalted position, the wife of the Premier occupies a position not less important. In the social life of the capital. It is difficult to understand how any lady could fill her high place with more taste, grace, and courtesy than Lady Macdonald brings to the discharge of her social duties. That these duties are frequently, and not without some sacrifice, to be performed by a woman who has been in the same circle that to Lady Macdonald is a large measure, are due to the social position which may be enjoyed in the capital, particularly at that time of the year. An admirable judge of human nature, with a finely cultivated intellect, accustomed to move in the highest circles, considered and kind to the last degree, Lady Macdonald has proved an able coadjutor of the great leader of the Liberal-Conservative party of Canada, having in her sphere proved quite as successful as Sir John has been in the region of politics. —St. John Sun.

A Fatal Suicide.
Only for the fact that the following incident is recorded as being true by an official of Gaderich township, a gentleman whose veracity is unimpeachable, we could hardly have given credence to it. He relates that there were two cats in his house that were inseparable companions; they were never thoroughly happy except in each other's company; they ate together, slept together, took their walks together, and did their nocturnal prowling in company. They were apparently as devoted to one another as bride and bridegroom during the honeymoon. A short time ago two kittens were brought to the house from the neighborhood. The little girl, and the gentleman, thinking there were too many cats about the house, and that one of the companions. Its mate, on finding out the loss it had sustained, went out to the railway track, a short distance from the house, deliberately laid its body across the rail, and in that position was found by a passing train covering its body in two. This is one of the most remarkable cases of suicide ever heard of. —Huron Record.

A Famous Big Game Shot.
Mr. Albert G. R. Theobald of the forest department has succeeded in shooting the famous roan elephant of the Poonah hills in the Kallagah Taluk. Mr. Theobald was twice charged by the beast, which was a huge tusker measuring eleven feet, in height, and which kept the hill villagers in terror for a long time. The elephant was a few years old, driven with twenty-four others into the Kallagah Keddah, Allahabod, but the roan elephant refused to capture him, and, being such a large tusker, no pains were spared to secure him. Though it was all vain. Out of the twenty-four elephants captured with him, he killed no less than twenty. He finally broke through the hedge that kept him in the Kallagah Keddah, and he was seen to be killed three, two women and a man, and many others had very narrow escapes for his furious headlong charges. Besides human beings he has killed many cattle and destroyed great quantities of standing crops, causing immense loss to the people. —Pall Mall Gazette.

Good for Brandon and Region.
One of Brandon's reporters, who knows whereof he speaks, and who is at present on a business trip through the North-west, writing from Brandon to Mr. Irving, superintendent of Brandon's at Toronto, says:—"This place (Brandon) has grown wonderfully, and there are over 200 buildings under contract at present. The town claims a population of about 3,000. The drive across the prairie revealed a splendid country, and the crop of grain to be marketed here this year is immense. The whole country seems to be going ahead rapidly, and the change since my first trip up this way is marvellous. About 350 miles from here a new place called Regina has sprung into existence, and already it contains about 25 new business firms. "Notwithstanding what a portion of the press are saying about Regina, a large number of people are rushing there. Three crowded cars went through to-day, and nearly every day it is the same." —Mad.

He Got the Wrong Trunk.
A somewhat amusing though annoying incident occurred at the Kincardine station on Tuesday of last week. A young lady leaving for Detroit asked the baggage man to check her trunk. Beside the lady's trunk, and somewhat similar in appearance, was one belonging to a commercial traveller, and this the obliging baggage man checked for the lady. When the commercial man came to open his trunk, some hours later, he was astonished beyond measure at the choice collection of dresses and other ladies' garments, the like of which he had never seen before, but after convincing himself that he was quite sober, he concluded there was a mistake. Meanwhile the lady had gone on to Detroit, and doubtless received a similar surprise. The error was afterwards remedied. —Pall Mall Gazette.

The Biggest Halitosis on Record.
In a paper by Prof. Schwedoff on "The Origin of Halitosis," read before the British Association on Monday, Aug. 28, evidence was produced—we are not told exactly what of a halitosis—"as large as an elephant," which took three days to melt. Oddly enough, the professor advocated the theory that halitosis are not formed in the atmosphere, but are of extra-terrestrial origin—yes, indeed, meteors of cosmic origin. Sir W. Thompson treated this hypothesis as a heavy joke, pointing out that a halitosis coming from extra-terrestrial regions with anything like meteoric velocity would perform enough work to develop, in its conflict with the atmosphere, heat enough to melt it many times over. —London Spectator.

SULPHUR LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURE FOR SKIN DISEASES.—These are scarcely any eruptions but will yield to "Sulphur" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it comes back. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulphur" will successfully attack them. It destroys the acrimony which causes these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulphur" Lotions is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHUR LOTION.—A FINE REMEDY FOR SKIN DISEASES.—This is the most potent remedy for all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulphur has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its healthy action on the human skin.

SULPHUR LOTION.—The first idea of Sulphur was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Martin, and every year it is used adds more and more favorably to its utility in treating eruptions. Anyone, however, who is afflicted with Skin Diseases, should apply Sulphur as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent. It is a disinfectant of the skin, a purifying tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.
The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ FIRST BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER, Providing Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 29th, 1880.
Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is as good as new, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

BROCKTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,
CHAR. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, callosities, corns, calluses, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints of limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unequalled success to our knowledge, for honest as well as men.

THE UNREPRESENTED CONSTITUENTS.

At length it seems that the Attorney-General of Ontario has made up his mind to comply with the law which he has been sitting at defiance. We are informed on what seems to be good authority that the writs are to be issued for the eight vacant constituencies, that the nominations are fixed for Oct. 11th, and the polling for Oct. 18th. It thus appears that Mr. Mowat has been content to leave an eleventh part of Ontario unrepresented for a third part of a year, in spite of the statute which says that the vacancies shall be filled "forthwith," and of the spirit of our constitution, which requires that the constituencies shall always be represented whether the Legislature is in session or not. This is no marked instance of Mr. Mowat's contumacious tendencies. The law says one thing, but Mr. Mowat thinks another, and it is Mr. Mowat's will, not the law, that must prevail. The only excuse offered is the manifestly insufficient one that there has been no convenient season during these four months. The elections might have been held at the beginning of July and there would have been no special inconvenience then. They might have been held in September also without particular inconvenience. We are told indeed that hay and elections, and the harvest and seed and the fair are all valid excuses for the delay. If so the moving of the harvest, the drawing of firewood for the winter, &c., &c. are equally valid excuses. If, as we are also told, the 18th of October is the first opportunity, perhaps the crushing defeat that Mr. Mackenzie experienced in 1878, warning to him having fixed the date for the election more than a month before "the first opportunity." Why not own the truth, that Mr. Mowat put off the unwelcome duty of facing the electors as long as he well could, and that such being his will he did not care one jot for the law.

PUNISHMENT ATTACKS.

Our contemporary the Examiner is really very amusing some times with its absurd substitutes for the arguments which it lacks. A short time ago Mr. Blain wrote a letter which our contemporary did not like, and straightway it denies his manhood, though as far as we are aware, without any foundation for the imputation. It does not agree with Sir John Macdonald in regard to politics, so we are told that he is a chief priest, though we never yet heard that he was ever consecrated to high office in the church, nor if he was do we see why it should be considered a disgrace instead of an honour to him. Mr. Meredith, the able and honoured leader of the Ontario Conservative Opposition, is another political opponent, so in one paragraph we are informed that he is composed of milk-and-water and in another of brim—a truly wonderful and appalling union. Mr. McCreagh, the Premier of Quebec, is also unable to see with the same eyes as our contemporary, so he, though noted for his courteousness and civility of manner, is dubbed a "bully." He is also turned a "blackmailer," but this we fancy must be the result of confusion of identity, for it is not Mr. McCreagh but Mr. Meredith and the Quebec rascals who are clamouring for an increased subsidy from the Dominion treasury.

All this vague and inapposite abuse is really extremely childish, and is very similar to the style of "argument" used by an angry school-boy.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We are asked to give an instance of any municipality protesting against Mr. Mowat's interference and his policy of centralization. We need not go further than the County Council of Peterborough which protested in a very practical manner. Mr. Mowat had the impertinence to order them to give some of their printing and to pay the money for it as he directed. The Council set Mr. Mowat and his dictation at defiance, they took their printing where they liked, and paid their money where they liked, as they had a perfect right to do.

The Examiner gives us a very hard riddle to solve; perhaps some of our readers may help us, but we confess that we cannot make head or tail of it. Our contemporary says:—

"Our local cotem. may be comforted by the reflection that in these eight constituencies there were no members to propose candidates, and the gall and wormwood of Mr. Mowat's making appointments was minimised."

Why members should propose candidates or candidates propose members we cannot understand, nor can we see the precise benefit of having no members or candidates to propose each other. Why Mr. Mowat's gall and wormwood should be minimised, and what the be-maker of his gall and wormwood in making appointments, and how vainly in the representation of the electors have any effect upon Mr. Mowat's appointments or upon his gall and wormwood we are equally at a loss to perceive. We give it up.

The Globe comes to the rescue of Mr. Crooks in relation to his putting the high school pupils to the expense of purchasing books and then withdrawing them from the examination programme, after they had been used for a length of time. The Globe treats us to a long dissertation upon "Marmion," but it omits to explain why the Minister of Education did not attend to his business and discover the objectionable nature of the work before it had been so extensively purchased and studied, instead of interfering in Dominion affairs.

The Ontario correspondent of the Toronto Globe writing on Sept. 19th, says:—

"A comparison two to-day entered an offer of $250 a day and an engagement for one year, with the proviso, to go to British Columbia."

Fancy such an offer being refused under the reign of Mr. Mackenzie.

The war lasted nine weeks.—Ottawa Free Press.

COLONIZATION COMPANIES.

Nearly 100 Northwest colonization companies were formed last winter and this spring, all of them with brilliant prospects. But before the second payment had become due, the shareholders in 50 of these concerns had realized the fact that far-away lands look greener than they often turn out to be. The second payments fell due on September 1, and of the 200 companies, only seventeen were able to meet them, as follows:—

- Dominion Land Colonization Co.
- P. Farrell and others.
- Dundas, Smith and others.
- Montreal and Western Co.
- Dundas Land Investment Co.
- Shill River Co.
- Scottish Ontario and Manitoba Co.
- William Sharpley and others.
- P. V. Yell.
- Prince Albert Colonization Co.
- York, Farmer & Co.
- Franklin & McArthur Co.
- Temperance Colonization Society.
- Farmer, W. W. Land Co.
- Alexander Smith and Timothy May.
- E. J. A. Baker.

Among the other unfortunate, the From Colonization company came to grief. What course the government will pursue with regard to the defaulters remains to be seen. The indentures of agreement provided that in case of default, the contract with the department shall be cancelled and the reserves revert to the public domain. The prompt enforcement of that provision would be in keeping with the spirit of the law. The shareholders in the various solvent companies will yet discover that they are embarrassed with white elephants, for settlers will not deal with colonization companies while land is to be obtained from the government and syndicates.—Windsor Star.

CHANGES IN SCHOOL BOOKS.

The following letter appears in the Globe:—

Sir,—Will you please call attention to a matter of wide interest? To-day the head master of our High School has received a card from the Education Department informing him "that pending the consideration of another work for 'Marmion' at the matriculation examination of the University in 1883, no instructions should be given in 'Marmion'."

Now, Sir, this may be all well as far as the University is concerned, but it is too much to ask the parents of High School pupils to submit to such a change. Already all the pupils have paid one dollar for the book, and they are now told that the money has been spent to no purpose and that another dollar will be required for a text book in English Literature. A similar wrong to the public is the ordering of Fleming's Analysis to be discontinued and a new book substituted, for no reason that those who have both books can conceive. If it be not to get an edition of Mason sold at exorbitant prices. It is time for the public to look into this matter and find why changes in text books are so frequent and why the price is so disproportionately high. If the Government wish to exempt to the people they will succeed by continuing to make changes in every little matter connected with the schools.

JOHN LAING,
Chairman Board of Education,
Dundas, Ont., Sept. 15, 1882.

PERSONAL TO THE EDITOR.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich. writes Dr. Dyer's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Impotence, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Two Little Girls Drowned.
Windsor, Sept. 19.—Two little daughters of T. McKenna, a carpenter residing here, were drowned this afternoon in the creek, at Windsor's mill. They were driving a horse and buggy to Petrolia, accompanied by a boy, who foolishly drove the horse into a deep place in the creek, intending to give him a drink. The horse went in headlong, dragging the buggy, in which were seated the children, down into deep water, where they were both drowned. The boy escaped by jumping out.

A Young Woman Burns to Death at Woodstock on Monday.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 18.—The people of Woodstock are very much excited over a remarkable accident that occurred there Sunday evening, the victim of which was Miss Sarah Elstone, the daughter of a respectable and well known family of the town. The woman was religiously disposed, and attended Sunday school in the afternoon. Her family attended the C. M. Church at night, leaving her at home alone. When the women was about half over a lad named Hopkins rushed into the church, went to the pew occupied by Mr. Elstone, and the whole family retired hurriedly. Nothing more was thought of the occurrence until this morning. Then the news spread like wildfire. Mr. Hopkins, who lived near the church, and only a few rods from the scene of the burning, saw fire and smoke near the house of one which his neighbor had just gathered. He thought Mr. Elstone's corn had taken fire and at once ran over, when he found the girl standing over a fire which had kindled, holding both her arms up, her clothing all burnt off her back. He at once dragged her from the flames and put her on the ground. He then ran to the house and took her to the back of a small stream and laying her on the grass. He then sent his son on foot to the house to get the family of the occurrence and also to call a physician. When they arrived at the house they found the girl burnt from her feet to her head. She was lying on the ground, her face and neck were blackened, and her arms were burnt. She was taken to the hospital and died on Monday morning. The whole affair was deliberate and premeditated, as it was found when the body was taken to the hospital, and had made up her mind to sacrifice herself.

PRESBYTERY OF PETERBOROUGH.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met in Port Hope on Tuesday, the 18th Sept. There were twelve ministers and six elders present, the Rev. Mr. Ross, of Bethesda, was chosen Moderator for the next six months. Upon motion of Mr. Smith it was resolved to require reasons for absence from ordinary meetings of the Presbytery. Mr. Bennett gave notice of motion on the subject of the increase of ministers salaries within the bounds.

Arrangements were made for the induction of Mr. Carmichael into the pastoral charge of Newwood on the 12th October. The Rev. Mr. Ross was appointed to preside. Mr. Torrance to preach. Mr. Andrews to address the minister and Mr. Cameron the people.

Mr. Bennett reported having moderated in a call from Wessau and Dummer to the Rev. Peter Fleming. The call was most enthusiastic. There was a guarantee of salary of $500 with manse and eight acres of Glebe. A supplement of $100 per annum is asked for from the Home Mission Committee in Toronto. Mr. Fleming has not yet signified his acceptance of the call.

A call from Baltimore and Coldsprings was put into the hands of Mr. C. H. Cooke, who was present in the afternoon. The call was accepted at 11 o'clock. Mr. Cooke and his wife were appointed to take place in Coldsprings on Tuesday, the 3rd of October, at 8 o'clock p.m. Mr. Cooke was appointed to preside, Mr. McLeod to preach, Mr. Clouston to address the minister and Mr. Douglas the people. Trial discourses, preparatory to ordination were appointed to be given in at a solemn assembly on Friday, the 2nd of October, at 11 o'clock a.m. on the day of ordination.

Mr. Cameron reported having moderated in a call from Garden Hill and Knoxville to Mr. W. H. Jamieson, candidate minister of the Methodist Church. The call was quite unanimous. The signed petition in favor of the call was presented. The congregation have also arranged to give the minister of the preaching place on the Sabbath. The call was put into Mr. Jamieson's hands, who at once signified his acceptance of it. Induction services were appointed to be held in the church at Garden Hill on Tuesday, October 10th, at 2 p.m. Mr. Cameron to preside, Mr. Cooke to preach, Mr. Bennett to address the congregation, and Mr. Torrance the minister.

The resignation of Mr. Windell, laid on the table at a former meeting, was accepted. Mr. Bell was appointed to preach at Oak, Wright and Ballydoon on Sabbath, 25th inst., and to dedicate the pulpit vacant.

Very interesting reports were given in by the delegates who had visited the different mission fields under the care of the Presbytery, since last meeting. In several instances it was found that the people in these mission fields had done even more than was expected of them in sustaining ordination among themselves.

The next ordinary meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in St. Andrew's Church, Peterboro, on the third Tuesday in January, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

WM. BENNETT, Pres. Clerk.

How to Cool an Apartment.

A simple way of cooling the air of a room is described in the New Orleans Picayune of a recent date. The cooling-room of the Picayune is situated in the upper story of its publication house, just under the roof, and in summer is extremely hot. This season an inspiration came to have come to one of the oppressed occupants, and in accordance with it a vertical wooden box was constructed in the corner of the room, with openings at the floor and ceiling, and furnished with a pipe for supplying water at the top, and a pan and drain at the bottom for receiving the flow and carrying it safely away. The supply pipe was bent over the upper end of the shaft, and fitted with a reel like that of a watering pot, so as to deliver a shower of spray instead of a solid stream. On connecting it with the service pipe, the movement of the water was found to cause an active circulation of the air in that part of the room, which was drawn in at the upper opening of the shaft and issued again, cool and fresh, at the floor level. The most surprising thing about the experiment seems to have been the effect of the water in cooling the air to a degree much below its own temperature. With Mississippi water, which when drawn from the service pipe indicated a temperature of 84°, the air of the room, in which the thermometer at the beginning of the trial stood at 86°, was cooled in passing through the length of the shaft to 76°, or about 20° below the temperature at which it entered, and 10° below that of the water which was used to cool it. Of course the absorption of heat by the evaporation of a portion of the water accounts for its refrigerating effect, but the result seems to have been so easily and inexpensively attained that the experiment would be well worth repeating in other cases.

The most wonderful curative remedies of the present day, are those that come from Germany or at least originate there. The most recent preparation placed upon the market in this country is the German Remedy, which has never been known to fail in curing single cases of impotency, spermatorrhoea, weakness and all diseases resulting from cold, excess, nervous debility, inability, mental anxiety, languor, lamitude, depression of spirits and functional derangement of the nervous system.

This electric light has found a novel employment in the hands of some ingenious Frenchmen, who have lately, by permission of their Government, been experimenting with it as a lure for fish. The lamp was contained in an eight-foot globe, and was lowered at night into the sea, with the result that thousands of fish of all sizes were attracted to its brilliant light. Boats furnished with nets gradually closed in upon the living mass, and made a great haul of fish.

Struck by Lightning.

ARTHUR, Ont. Sept. 19.—George McLeod, a farmer living near Kenilworth, was struck by lightning this afternoon while taking shelter from the storm at the end of Michael O'Donnell's barn, which, together with its contents, the proceeds of 200 acres, were totally destroyed. There was a small insurance on the buildings, but none on the contents. McLeod, though dreadfully burned, will likely recover.

Relative of General Wolosley.

The following letter has been published regarding relatives of Sir Garnet Wolosley who formerly resided in this county:—

"I thought it might be of interest to many of your readers at the present juncture when Sir Garnet Wolosley is in the ascendant, and he is receiving the deserved plaudits of all who take that interest, which Canadians particularly feel in the triumph of British arms, under his generalship, to know that the gallant, plucky and lucky general had connections living in this part of the country. His uncle, the Rev. Mr. Wolosley, lived for many years in that part of the township of Douro now included in the village of Lakeside, and died and was buried there. As a clergyman of the Church of England he held the services of the church in his own house, ministering in moral things judiciously without fee or reward. Another and perhaps better known relative of Sir Garnet's was for many years a resident of Peterborough. I mean the late Mrs. O'Brien, the people's first cousin and an old college man. Yours, etc., H. H. STANLEY."

Peterborough, Sept. 20th, 1882.

Personal.

The Hummer International of Sept. 19th says:—

"We regret to learn that a son of Mr. A. H. Macdonnell, city engineer, is at present very low with cerebral spinal fever."

Mr. Joe Santer has received the appointment of general inspector of the Citizens' Insurance Company, of Montreal, and will depart on the first of next month to enter upon the duties of the position. In Mr. Santer's departure Peterborough will lose a worthy citizen, but the company is to be congratulated on having secured his services, and we would congratulate Mr. Santer on his appointment to this responsible position.

THE MIDLAND CIVIC EXCURSION.

A Trip to the Georgian Bay Terminals of the Midland Railway—A Pleasant Outing.

The annual civic excursion on the Midland Railway on Wednesday, from Peterborough, Port Hope, and intermediate stations to Midland, was a success, inasmuch as it was well patronized and the trip was made without any accident.

The party from Peterborough left the station at ten minutes after seven o'clock in four coaches and made a quick run to Millbrook. There, after a few minutes waiting, the train from Port Hope arrived with six coaches filled with passengers, and soon the whole train was under way to Midland City. It must be looked upon as one of the marvels of the railroads of Canada that a trip could be made from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay and return in one day, through the very heart of the province, and that, too, for the very low fare of one dollar.

After leaving Millbrook, and as passengers were taken on at Richmond, Franklin and Otonabee, there was scarcely sufficient seating accommodation for the large party, but at Lindsay six coaches were added to the train, which was then supplied with the deficiency. The train now consisted of eight coaches, six excursion cars and the van, all of which were occupied, and the number of passengers aboard before Midland was reached was about 1,200. The country as far as Lindsay was pretty well known to most of the excursionists, but after that town was passed they began to take more notice of the country through which they were passing. Between Beaverton and Orillia there is considerable rough land, although there also are many fine looking farms, and north of Orillia the country grows rough and less cultivated lands are seen. Nearing the Georgian Bay the large saw mills which were passed were evidence of the chief industry of this part—that of lumbering. Gilpin was had of "the forest primeval," and the variety of the scenery prevented the rather long ride from becoming tedious.

A number of the excursionists got off at Orillia, where, by the way, a new and very neat station house is in course of erection and nearly completed, but they were only a few compared to the large number who went on to the destination of the excursion, Midland City, which was reached at about fifteen minutes to two o'clock. As soon as the train stopped a great rush was made for the four grand centres of attraction—the four hotels, and for the next hour they were besieged by the hungry excursionists. The hotel-keepers, however, had fortified themselves against this attack by making extensive preparations, and although these fortifications were rapidly demolished by the united and determined assault which was made upon them, the hotel-keepers held the field when the visitors retired, having supplied their wants.

The wants of the inner man having been attended to, the excursionists proceeded to "do" Midland City. No doubt those who baptised this place had an eye to the future when they added the appellation of "city," and it is likely that their view of the future was a correct one, and that the village will eventually, and before many years, become a full-fledged city, as it will likely be on the through route from the west to the east by the waters on which it is situated and the Midland Railway. Quite a number of small dwellings, by the way, of the appearance, give evidence of having been recently erected, and others are being built. On the end of the main street, near the railroad, there is a very fine building going up, which is to be occupied by the Midland Banking Co. and two stores. Two other brick buildings, for dealers in merchandise, are to be erected on the main street, for one of which the foundation has been laid and the brick work commenced, and for the other the excavation is now going on. The sight which appeared to attract the most attention was the giant elevator, and a large number of the excursionists ascended the long winding stairs through a labyrinth of timbers, bolts and machinery to the top of the tower, where a magnificent view was had of the village and the country around, and of the bay. The new mills came in for some attention. One of the latest, and far from being the least important additions to the business of Midland is a newspaper and printing office, from which issues the Free Press. The office looks very neat, everything being new and bright, and it is furnished with two good presses and a good supply of type of various kinds. This is a boon which should be appreciated in Midland and vicinity, and when we visit that city again we will not expect to see a written notice announcing a "farm for sale, containing 100 acres, fifty in cleared and the remainder in hardwood bush," as we did this time. The advertiser can now have his notices printed in city style.

It did not take very long to see all the sights of Midland, even though it is a smart, thriving and growing village, and as five o'clock drew near the cars at the station began to fill up rapidly. At five o'clock the train left the station, and after a short halt at the street crossing, the party was again on the way, homeward bound. At Beaverton four cars were mixed off the train, having become uncoupled, and one of the engines which drew the train returned for them. This caused a delay of an hour, and further on a short delay was caused by a similar accident. With these slight exceptions nothing happened to mar the fullest enjoyment of the trip, as preparations had been made with care to accommodate the excursionists on the train and in Midland, and the railway officials were very attentive, obliging and courteous. Millbrook was reached at half-past one, and the party from Peterborough reached home at two o'clock, having attended one of the most successful excursions of the season.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

PORTS GHIMELAH AND ROSETTA SURRENDERED TO THE BRITISH.

A Russian Army Said to be on the Way to Egypt—A Massacre of Christians Threatened—Disturbances at Cairo.

STILL STUBBORN.

CAIRO, Sept. 21.—The garrison of Damietta refused to surrender.

A PORT SURRENDERED.

PORT SAID, Sept. 21.—Fort Ghimeliah has surrendered. Of the garrison only eight men remained. The force went last night.

THE FLEETING IN SOFT.

CAIRO, Sept. 20.—Conversations with representative men of all shades show that the feeling of the country is as follows:—First, the fanatical and effeminate El-Azhar sectarians are sulky and defiant, except in presence of the British soldiers, who seldom penetrate into the purely Arabic quarters. Yesterday the sectarians spread a report that 50,000 Russians were on their way to Egypt to drive out the English. These sectarians need an iron hand. Examples should be made of a few of the ultra nationalists, who are hand-in-glove with the sectarians. Second, the moderate nationalists only fear that the English will go away too soon, leaving them at the mercy of the thieving communistic city rabble instigated by the sectarians. Third, the ignorant, good-natured masses, whose political aspirations are limited to nominal taxation, are delighted that all is finished. Europeans are coming into the villages to buy cotton.

DISTURBANCES AT DAMIETTA.

CAIRO, Sept. 20.—There has been an outbreak at Damietta in which three Copts were murdered. A British regiment has gone there.

ARABIC ARRESTS.

CAIRO, Sept. 20.—Arabs assert that all the acts were done at the instigation of the Khedive and the Sultan, and that he was unable to restrain the army from fighting. Important documents have been found in his War Office.

COMMENDING THE TROOPS.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—General Wolosley's order commending the conduct of the troops in the recent campaign will be read at the head of every British regiment on three successive parades.

DISORDERLY AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, Sept. 20.—In consequence of disorders in the Arab quarter Gen. Wolosley threatened that in the event of their renewal he would open fire from the citadel. There is not much credence given to the despatch.

THE KENNEDY UMBRELLA.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 20.—The garrison of Rosetta surrendered to-day. Numerous reports of outrages and disturbances in the interior have been received. The Khedive is uneasy about his reception by the people in Cairo, and has postponed going there until Monday. Two ironclads have been sent to summon Port Ghimeliah to surrender. If the demand should not be acceded to the fort will be bombarded.

A MASSACRE THREATENED.

CAIRO, Sept. 21.—Two reported leaders of the Alliance League have severely resolved to massacre and rob the richest Christians, including the English consul, and two tribes have marched to Bontari, resolved to protect their Co-religionists there by preventing the massacre. The consul has asked for the garrison to be reinforced.

A SENSATIONAL RUMOR.

CAIRO, Sept. 21.—There is a report that 50,000 Russians are on the way to Egypt to drive out the English.

A CASE OF DISTRESS.

Mrs. McClellan, the widow of an immigrant who arrived here this summer and died some weeks ago, is living in a house near Denne's Mill on the bank of the river with her four young children, who are dangerously ill. Though the Mayor and the charity committee have rendered her assistance, she still requires those good offices which those of her own sex can best extend to her. We are sure that this information will be sufficient to procure it for her.

Our Town Clock.

We learn that about three weeks ago the town clock was put forward five minutes to make it accord with the railway time, which certainly was for the convenience of the public. Since then no alteration has been made, so perhaps the apparent discrepancy may be due to the imperfection of private time pieces. We believe our town clock is fairly accurate, but the recent storms may have affected it somewhat as the hands are exposed, and it will be remembered they were lengthened to suit the enlarged face of the clock, so that justice is hardly done to its maker, and we do not think that any blame can be attached to the caretaker.

Symposium.

On Wednesday evening Mr. Joseph W. Flavelle and Miss Clara Ellsworth, eldest daughter of the late Rev. O. H. Ellsworth, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. W. Jeffrey, of Cobourg, at the residence of the bride's mother, Ashburnham. Mr. Flavelle is one of the many young men engaged in business in Peterborough, and is one who is highly esteemed both in business and social circles. He was for a long time a teacher in the George street Methodist Sunday School and is now the superintendent of this school. On Tuesday evening the members of the bride's class, in the same Sunday School, presented her with a handsome silver cake basket and an address expressing their esteem and good wishes for her. The marriage ceremony was attended by a large number of friends of the contracting parties, and the wedding presents were numerous and handsome. We join in extending congratulations to the happy couple and in wishing them a long and happy life.

WILL YOU EXCHANGE

a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness for a bottle of ZOPERA? It is actually unwise to neglect a case of Dyspepsia or Biliousness. ZOPERA (from Brazil) cures Dyspepsia and Biliousness. A single dose relieves; a sample bottle convinces; a 75 cent bottle cures.

It acts directly upon the Stomach, Liver, and Kidneys. Cleansing, Correcting, Regulating. ZOPERA gives energy and vim to the Brain, Nerve, and Muscle, simply by working wonders upon the Digestion, and giving activity to the Liver.

Out this out, take it to any dealer in medicines, and get at least one 75 cent bottle of ZOPERA, and tell your neighbor how it acts. It is warranted to cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

THE CHUCKS ACT.

It must needs be a bad cause that requires to be bolstered up by deliberate misstatement, and this is what the friends of the Mowat administration are doing with regard to the discussion as to the Crooks Act. They are, one and all, arguing that the Conservatives wish to abrogate the Crooks Act and to return to the previous condition of affairs. These they infer that the supporters of Mr. Meredith are the enemies of temperance, and wish to establish a saturnalia of whisky selling.

Now this is a wilful and unjustifiable perversion of the truth. The delegates of the Conservative party throughout the Province of Ontario at the recent convention at Toronto formulated the views of the party in this respect, and we have neither seen nor heard a protest from any journalist, any statesman, or indeed any member of the party against the ground thus taken. And the position assumed is as clearly expressed as possible. The resolution in regard to liquor licenses states in so many words that there is no desire of "interfering with the laws regulating (the liquor traffic and limiting the number of licenses that may be issued." Why then should our opponents persist in the falsehood that the Conservatives are endeavoring to return to the old state of affairs before the Crooks Act and to increase the number of licensed houses? It is plain that this falsification is practiced with the view of withdrawing attention from the real aim of the Conservative party. What they really advocate, as this resolution shows, is that the power of issuing licenses, under the law, should be to the restored municipalities. They object not to the provision of the Act in regard to the traffic, but to the means adopted for enforcing them. They protest against this centralizing policy, which, in this respect, as in others, usurps the power of the municipalities to control their local affairs, and places it in the hands of Mr. Mowat's nominees. They object to the appointment of officials, whose first duty, instead of enforcing the law, is to do political service to their patron, and to prostitute their power as public officers to the interests of a party. They also claim that the fees derived from licenses should go into the treasuries of the municipalities where the fund arises, and not in great part into the treasury of the Province, where it is accounted for in such a loose manner.

Of course there may be a difference of opinion on these points, and no one can object to fair argument in regard to them. But it is only a confession of a scarcity of fair arguments against these propositions, when their opponents that prefer to indulge in the false statements the Conservatives want to repeal the present law in favour of the old system, and to increase the number of licensed houses. The Conservatives ask for no such thing.

PETERBOROUGH has now attained to one of the "notes of a city." It is elevated into a See, is a cathedral town, and has a Bishop of its own. We hope that the day is not far distant, when its continued advance will cause it to rank among the cities in every respect, civil as well as ecclesiastical.

THE VICTORIAN TOUR.

A Grand Reception Given the Marquis and Princess at Victoria, B. C.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 20.—The royal party landed at 11 o'clock this morning, and were received by the Lieut.-Governor and members of the Government. An address of welcome was presented by the Lieut.-Governor. The party were afterwards escorted to the city by a numerous body of citizens in carriages and on horseback, the militia, marines, firemen, civic bodies and benevolent societies. St. Andrew's Societies headed the procession as senior organizations. On the arrival at the city gates Mayor Shakespeare, M.P., presented the freedom of the city to the Vice-Royal visitors. At the Chinese arch an immense construction costing $5,000, profusely and richly decorated in the form of a pagoda fifty feet high, a Celestial band played a welcoming march. At the grand stand on the principal street the Mayor read the civic address, the procession then proceeded to Government House, where the distinguished guests were left to seek repose after the fatigue of the journey. Along the line of march the windows, balconies and roofs were filled with people, and the cheers were frequent. The Princess Louise was the recipient of many handsome bouquets. The reception was in every respect enthusiastic, loyal and flattering to the feelings of the visitors. The weather was pleasant. It is said the Marquis and Princess' stay will be short, that they leave here on October 1st.

A NEW COMET.

One of the Most Extraordinary of the Times—Predictions Concerning It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The comet observed near the sun to-day exhibited a short tail, with a bright head of considerable extent. With the telescope the nucleus showed a confused mass of bright light, indicating a large comet with plenty of gaseous material. The tail, which on both sides were bright arcs of light, presenting a bird with outstretched wings.

A despatch has been received from the Paris observatory, stating that "Thalson's comet was observed at Nice about noon, September 18, three degrees west of the sun. The nucleus gave a continuous spectrum, very brilliant, and very much extended towards the violet. The tail and nucleus give the sodium lines extremely brilliant, very sharply divided, and characteristic. They seemed displaced towards the red." These observations are of extraordinary interest, indicating that this is the second comet that has shown the sodium spectrum. The first was discovered this year by Professor Wells at Dudley observatory. The reported displacement of the two sodium lines toward the red end of the spectrum indicates that the comet is now moving toward the earth with planetary velocity. Such an observation has never before been made in the case of a comet. From the position given the above despatch the comet is moving westward from the sun at about five degrees daily. It is almost certain that the comet has now passed perihelion, and if the comet is identical with the one recently discovered in South America, it will follow that it has appeared very near the sun, probably as close as 141 thousand miles of 1880, which had the smallest perihelion distance on record.

Several days must elapse before the particulars of the orbit can be calculated. The comet to-day at 2 o'clock was nine degrees west of the sun, and it will probably increase the distance by sunrise on the 20th to twelve or thirteen degrees. It will therefore rise somewhat before the sun, but owing to the fact that it is further south than the sun, it will not be readily seen before sun rise. In a few days, however, with its present rate and direction, it should become a brilliant object in the morning sky. On the whole this may be regarded as one of the most extraordinary comets of modern times.

LAKESIDE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NAVIGATION STOPPED.

The three steamers plying on the water between Lakeside and Burlington are at present forced to lay up, owing to the negligence of the Mowat Government, causing a heavy loss to the owners and much inconvenience to the public. Some months ago the owners of the Lakeside dam, which regulates the water north of that point, gave the Ontario government temporary control of their works with the understanding that as soon as the water was low enough to make a survey and ascertain the cost the government would purchase the dam and assume the control. The same has now nearly passed and nothing has been done, except to spend money on temporary works, which has been a mere waste, as they have not been completed and have not been controlled by the department. They have also, as we understand, threatened to take forcible possession of this private property without the consent of the owners, as in the Caldwell-McLaren case. We learn that the owners of the dam have been compelled to lower the water in consequence of an order of the Court of Chancery, which forced them to move their large mills at great expense and loss of time. The owners therefore justly object to the government raising the dam without their being compensated for the expenditure which might have been prevented had the Ontario government assumed the dam two or three years ago in compliance with the memorial of the county, and the request of deputations from the municipality of Lakeside. We think that the Dominion government have no right entered upon the opening of the Trent Valley navigation should assume these works and take upon themselves the protection of the public interests, which are now so grievously neglected.

HARTINGS.

THE GRAIN TRADE.—The Star says that the first car load of grain from here was shipped by Mr. John Collins last week. But very little grain is coming in and prices are therefore nominal.

FIRE PROTECTION.—We are pleased to find that our city fathers have at last "worked up" to the necessity of procuring something in the way of fire appliances. A notice is published for a meeting of the ratepayers in the town hall on Monday, and which we trust will be attended by every one having the welfare of the village at heart.

FAREWELL SUPPER.—A number of Mr. John Stewart's friends entertained him on the eve of his departure at a supper in the Coughlin House. An address was presented and a most enjoyable time was spent. Mr. Stewart has accepted a situation in Belleville, where we have no doubt he will earn for himself friends as warm as those he left behind.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.—Since our last issue building operations have progressed rapidly. The brick work of the Coughlin House is completed, as is also the post office. The Foundry brick is well up and ready for use and it is expected the whole will be finished before the close of another week. Mr. McNeil, too, has his shop erected and will be occupying it in a few days.

CANTONERS.

INCREASED ATTRACTION.—The Herald says that Mr. Daniel Collins, Jr., of Belleville, has had an increase of the trial which he so recently was called upon to bear, by the loss of a third daughter a few days ago. This one was the eldest child of the family. He has only one remaining—the youngest.

THE ABSENT WIND.—On Thursday last the most severe wind storm that has visited this section in many months, frolicked about with great fury, and during its progress the roof of the Methodist Church saw in course of erection was blown down. Operations on the building were at a standstill for a couple of weeks, but before coming work carpenters put the rafters into position and left them bare, ready for the roof. When the storm arose, however, they proved to be insufficiently stayed to stand against so much wind. Shortly after twelve o'clock, when the workmen who were engaged upon the work were absent, a few of the rafters were carried away, and soon afterwards another was forced to go, which, striking against the next one to it, caused it to tumble, and so they went in succession, nearly all falling into the body of the building. When the last gave way, it carried with it several feet of the gable end of the edifice, scattering the bricks on the ground outside and the basement inside. Some of the rafters were broken in the fall. The plate of the west wall, which was exposed to the storm, was also raised out of its place; some of the joists of the gallery were broken, and other damage was done both to the brickwork and the woodwork. The loss may not exceed $500, but this will be felt even less than the delay which must necessarily follow in the construction of the church.

A New French Canal.

The principal topic for discussion at the French Geographical Congress, now in session at Bordeaux, is the proposed construction of the ship canal from Bordeaux to Toulouse and Narbonne, by which a waterway would be gained from the Bay of Biscay to the Mediterranean, thus securing a great saving of distance as compared with the Gibraltar route. The length as far as Toulouse is about 270 miles, and the highest point 500 feet above the sea level. The supporters of the project contend that vineyards may be established with advantage all along the waterway.—London Free Press.

All the People of the Dominion of Canada are Concerned.

Here are some more of the many hundreds of the leading people in the Dominion of Canada who have been cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung disease by Dr. Souville's Spirometer and instrument, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the seat of disease. Read and judge for yourself.

Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma and catarrh by using the Spirometer. John P. Whelan, Manager of Post and True Witness, Montreal. Mr. O. Hill, Montreal, catarrh and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville, of the Indian Department, Ottawa, catarrh of many years, now cured; Mr. Geo. Agar, Ottawa, catarrh and lung disease; cured. Mrs. Smith, London, wife of Medical Detective, cured of catarrh. George Maguire, Toronto, 482 Adelaide street West; daughter cured of asthma. George Willis, Exeter, Ont., Catarrh and Bronchitis. J. D. Armstrong, 186 Yonge street, Toronto, catarrh and catarrhal deafness. Thomas Teller, 12 Marlboro street, Toronto, asthma; cured. Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Bancroft, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Ferrault, who suffered from asthma and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

I have no hesitation in saying Dr. Souville's Spirometer will cure catarrh and bronchitis, John C. Fleming, Editor of Post and True Witness, Montreal.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be expressed to any address. Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto. Dr. M. Souville and a competent body of English and French physicians always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free at the office.

Mr. Wm. Ransom, of South Norwich, says: For sixteen years I suffered from Biliousness, never had any medicine do me any permanent good until recommended by our druggists, (J. Wesley Fish & Co., Ottawa), to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, which have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I would, with the utmost confidence, recommend them to all suffering from Biliousness, &c. Sold by J. D. Tully, at 50 cents a bottle.

AMONG the most prevalent fatal and sudden attacks of disease, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, &c., that often prove fatal in a few hours. That ever reliable Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, should be at hand, for use in emergency.

Mall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally. It acts directly upon the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

After Twenty-seven Years.
Twenty-seven years ago a little girl ten years old, named Elizabeth Alexander, living with her parents in Hampshire County, Tenn., was sent to a neighbor's house to borrow meal. She found the family of the neighbor absent from home, and started to return, when she was met by a man named Rance Peppers riding a horse. Peppers told the child to get up behind him and go to the next house and get the meal. The girl allowed herself to be placed behind Peppers and, instead of taking her to the next house, he rode through the woods out of the settlement, and kept travelling until they reached Burnsville, in Dunklin County, Mo. Peppers died some time afterward and gave the girl to Nelson Mills, who brought her to the lower end of New Madrid county about twenty-five years ago. She was raised by Mills, and when she grew up married a man named Conrad, a farmer in that neighborhood. She is now the mother of three children. Last year a man named Mitchell came to Portageville from Tennessee, got acquainted with Mrs. Conrad, and happening to mention Hampshire County, she asked him if he knew Bob Alexander, and then told him the story of her being kidnapped by Peppers. Mitchell became interested in the story, and wrote the facts back to Tennessee. It was ascertained that the Alexander had moved from that county, so one knew where. About a month ago letters came to Mrs. Conrad from Graceland, Ky., from her brother, Peter, and nephew, stating that they had heard of her, and as a test of her identity, asked her what her mother's maiden name was. (Her brother signed his W. A. Alexander.) Mrs. Conrad wrote to her brother, addressing him as William Alexander, stating her mother's name was Peppers. On Sunday Mr. W. A. Alexander and Mrs. Conrad, the brother and sister, and young Alexander, a nephew, arrived at Portageville from Wingo Station, Graceland, Ky., and were soon in the arms of their long-lost relative. This is a very romantic story, but it is absolutely true. — New Madrid, Mo., Record.

A Year's Wages.
Lombardy, as described by Mr. Beaulier, of the British Embassy at Rome, can hardly be considered a paradise for the tiller of the soil. One great drawback is the density of the population. In the districts of Milan and Cremona there are 163 inhabitants to the square kilometre, while in Como, which is a mountainous province, the proportion is 67. What this means will be understood when it is stated that the figures for England and France are 30 and 40 respectively. This enormous pressure upon the land acts injuriously in various ways. Wages, it need hardly be said, are kept down. Even in the richest districts the condition of the field labourer represents a deplorably low standard of physical comfort. "A peasant family in the neighborhood of Milan finds it difficult," says Mr. Beaulier, "to earn more than a year's wages. But there are other evils which powerfully affect the industrial condition of the province. The subdivision of land is carried to excess. For example, a father leaves six hectares of property to his three sons in equal parts, consisting of meadow, arable, and chestnut plantation; but each must take a third of each separate kind of land, so that the farm has to be subdivided into nine shares. The result is that each man possesses half a day in going from one division of his land to the other, sometimes no small distance. "High" or very profitable farming is scarcely to be looked for under such a system. To these and many other disadvantages might be added the numerous taxation to which the country is subject. In some parts of Lombardy the taxes amount to as much as 40 or 45 per cent, not of the valuation merely, but of the net returns, and it is stated that these burdens are increasing year by year. With such a crushing weight of taxation, what chance can there be for owner or cultivator?"

Not a Gipsy.
It is pleasant to hear it pretty nearly settled that John Bunyan was not a gipsy, as has been supposed by some who made too much of the fact that he was a tinker. His ancestors were living a hundred years before his birth. An old tradition at Elston makes him to have been born at a place in Eastford of the parish still called Bunyan's End. A fragment of a Court Roll of 1342 mentions the place as "Bonyon's End" and mentions "Thomas Bonyon" as living there. He is described as a labourer and his wife as a brewer of beer and a "baker of human bread." She is mentioned as having been fined six or eight times in six years for not giving the right weight of bread. The wife of John Bunyan's father and grandfather have been found, from which we learn that his father was the first tinker of the family, a "brave" while his grandfather, "Thomas Bonyon" describes himself as a "petite shapeman." The family lived in the same cottage and cultivated the same land, certainly from 1542 to 1641, or probably much earlier, which is utterly fatal to the theory of gipsy blood.

A Fire Bug Captured.
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 20.—The Ontario police have been hard at work for some time hunting down the fire bug who fired Robert Mitchell's barn at Stamford on the night of the 15th inst., and succeeded in cornering him at Albion, N. Y., where he was arrested to-day. Chief MacDonald went there this evening and brought the prisoner back, the latter returning voluntarily without the expense of extradition. He is lodged in the town lock-up. He made a full confession of his guilt, giving his name as Robert Brown, employed by Mitchell five years ago. He returned here on the 15th inst. His move was revenge. He will have a hearing before the Police Magistrate here to-morrow morning.

How to Get Rid of the Bug.
A lady who resides less than fifty miles from Campbellford, gave us a receipt for exterminating the common bed bug which she would like our readers to try. It is simply this. Dissolve one pound of alum and one-half pound of saltpetre in three quarts of water. With this solution wash the bedstead and those places frequented by the bug, with a brush, and let it dry. A white coating will afterwards appear, but this may be removed with a damp cloth. The above is said to be an excellent remedy, and was used by a lady who had many years' experience with the vermin, and who never knew it to fail. — Campbellford Herald.

An attempt is being made in Montreal to compel druggists to take out liquor licenses for the sale of medicated wines, and for this purpose suits have been entered against two members of the Pharmaceutical Association. It is expected that another fight over a constitutional question will thus arise.

FRODOUS TUNING-UP.—Yesterday I purchased a box of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy, and, after giving one dose, add my testimonial to the many others in its favor, and endorse it as a safe and sure remedy. J. W. Salaman, Bakery, Syracuse Street, London, N. Y.

In fact has the largest sale during the summer of any patent medicine in stock," and adds that he can heartily recommend it to the public. The above named remedy is nature's grand cure for Cholera, Dysentery and all summer complaints.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption that will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these ugly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotions is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—A FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent remedy to all Skin Diseases. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least comparable for its healing action on the Human Skin.
SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Martin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.
SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES FOR CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.
The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.
From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.
St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 26th, 1890.
Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a rhagion was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither was the bottle found.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.
Storvort, Mass., March 16th, 1890.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one. Don't know how long the spavin had taken me. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but it does for all what I have done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.
KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose which a fillet is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best fillet for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.
Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.
Price per bottle, or six bottles for $6. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Keosauqua Falls, Vt.

The Great Boot & Shoe Emporium.

The proprietor of this establishment (late stand of Joseph Keefe), having completed his purchases in eastern and Toronto markets, writes to say that he has secured great bargains, and will be in Peterborough to remain permanently to attend and offer to all who favor him with a call such bargains and quality in boots and shoes as have never been offered in Peterborough. Any ladies of the congregation wishing to contribute can leave baskets with Mr. Beck.

The Weather.

Last night was wet, windy and disagreeable, and to-day the same sort of weather continues. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a.m., to-day, by the great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong wind, gradually shifting towards the westward; cloudy weather with rain areas, followed by partially clearing weather and stationary or slightly higher temperature.

Lacrosse Match.

The arrangements have been completed for a lacrosse match between the Peterborough Club, the Champions of Central Ontario, and the Young Shamrocks, of Montreal, the Intermediate Champions of the World. The match will be played on Monday, the 2nd of October, on the Ashburnham grounds, and the ball will be faced at three o'clock. The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance and will provide music, and there will be seating accommodation on the stands for the ladies. This match will, there can be no doubt, be the most interesting one of the season. The home club have now a wide reputation as good players, and the merits of the Shamrocks is well known. A spirited and well played contest will be the result of their meeting.

The Bible Society.

The Committee of the Bible Society met in the Baptist Church on the afternoon of Thursday, 21st of September, at 4 o'clock. The following members were present:—J. Fife, M.D., President; Mr. J. Stratton, Secretary; the Rev. A. Bell, and Messrs. J. Walton, Joseph Ford, R. Kingan and W.A. Morrow. Mr. Kingan was instructed to procure twelve copies of the Holy Scriptures for the use of prisoners confined in the gaol. Arrangements for holding meetings in different places in the County were made, and persons were appointed to deliver addresses at the various meetings, the particulars of which will be given by means of small bills. Mr. Nees, collector of the Upper Canada Bible Society, who is labouring in Peterborough under instructions from the Society, was present, and explained the nature of the work which he is appointed to do, which is that of selling the Scriptures without notes or comments. The Committee then adjourned to meet on the last Thursday in September.

WM. FAIRWEATHER & CO.

A Survivor of the Asia.

A survivor of the ill-fated steamer Asia arrived in Peterborough on the noon train on Thursday. He has resided in Peterborough and is well known by many here. His name is Henri Gauval, or Harry Gauval, as he is usually called. His statement is that he was on the way to French River, as foreman for Mr. McDougall, and got on board the Asia at Collingwood. Observing that the steamer did not obey her helm, and other suspicious circumstances, he secured a life preserver and determined to make an attempt to save his life. He leaped into the water and made for the shore. A woman and a little girl, who were in the water, clung to him, and after struggling in the waves for two hours they were taken on board a smuggling boat and taken to Collingwood. The lady whom Gauval thus gallantly rescued gave him $50 in gold, and offered him a valuable watch, which, however, he declined. Gauval then came on to Peterborough, and says he did not feel easy until he reached here. He says that the confusion on the boat was something fearful. The captain gave orders to have the hatchways battered down, but no one obeyed the order, and the captain then seized two life buoys, after which he saw nothing of him. The last time he saw the Asia she was tossing about in the waves and two boats were being thrown out.

Styles and old prices of by-gone days. We hold that no firm watches the American Market for Young Men's Goods (especially) closer than we do, and claim the honor of selling the Neobest and Finest

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

GENERAL WOOD TAKES POSSESSION OF FORT DANIELA.

Abdallah Pasha, deserted by the Garrison and Givens himself up—A Report that England is Negotiating for Egypt—Two Murders Hanged.

THE KHEDIVES'S PROCEEDINGS.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 22.—The Khedive's proceedings are mysterious. He must be very sure of his ground to be able to afford to run counter to public opinion in his political appointments. His last is that of Abdurrahman Rouchdi to be President of the Commission to prosecute the instigators of the outrages here in June last. Rouchdi is a scheming Maltese, a renegade to Mohammedanism, who was deep in Arabi's confidence and occupied the position of Finance Minister in the Government formed by the captured rebel just before the rebellion. His impartiality will be put to a sore test when the trials come on.

WHO WILL BE TRIED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 22.—Only the most prominent rebels will be tried and whatever actual ringleaders in murder and incendiarism have been caught rehandled. At present it seems as if all below the rank of colonel would get off untried, as all the rebel officers under that rank who have been confined at Ramleh have been released, leaving fifty to be arraigned. These have been brought to Alexandria, whither also will be sent the other prisoners from Cairo and the interior.

BROTHERS IN MOHAMMEDANISM.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 22.—The Khedive has been showing the people of Alexandria that the war was not against Mohammedanism, but against rebels, and that the Bengali Mohammedan troops were not sent to slay their co-religionists, but to aid the latter in restoring tranquility and prosperity to Egypt. With this end in view he invited the native Musliman officers of the Bengal Lancers to accompany him to-day to the sacred Mosque of Abou Abbas, where they all attended the services together. It was a politic step on his part.

NOT RECEIVED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 22.—The Princes Ibrahim, Hamid, and Kamel, who signed a petition prepared by Arabi last May for the deposition of the Khedive, arrived to-day to pay respects to the viceroy, who declined to receive them. They were ordered to quit the palace directly.

DISTURBANCES AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, Sept. 22.—The Household Cavalry will make a demonstration to-morrow through the Arab quarters, owing to the refusal of the people, who make it unsafe for any European to pass through the bazars after the quarters is quite friendly.

COMPROMISED IN THE REVOLT.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 22.—Some of the princes of the Khedive's family have been seriously compromised by the late revolt. It is generally believed that property valued at £1,000,000 will be confiscated and applied to the indemnification of sufferers by the massacre. The publication of the Moniteur Egyptien has been transferred to Cairo.

ENGLAND BUYING EGYPT.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—A newspaper here asserts that negotiations are progressing between the British and French Governments for the purchase of Egypt, in consideration of an annual payment by the labor of £300,000 sterling.

TWO MEN HANGED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 22.—Two men implicated in the June massacre were hanged to-day.

THE SURRENDER OF DANIELA.

DANIELA, Sept. 22.—General Wood arrived this morning. Abdallah Pasha surrendered at the railway station. Of the original garrison of 7,000, all have deserted except 800 blacks, who plundered the barracks and Government House, and many private residences and exchanges were robbed. They escaped.

DEPORTED.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 22.—It is officially announced that the Grand Sherif of Mecca has been deported and imprisoned at Taife, where Midhat Pasha was a prisoner. Abdallah Pasha has been named as Sherif. He is a brother to the Sherif murdered some time ago, it was then supposed by orders from the Sultan, because he was favourable to the British.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 22.—K. Dwyer Gray has written Lord Mayor Dawson regarding the development of Irish manufactures. He advises the holding of an exhibition in 1893, and the formation of an association to push all Irish manufactures. He also advocates holding an Irish Exhibition in the United States, and suggests that the United States should modify their tariff in favor of Irish productions.

JEWISH PERSECUTIONS.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says: As was feared, the speech of Gen. Dvornik against the Jews has been taken as a signal by the peasants and minor officials in the provinces for a renewal of hostilities against the Israelites. From all sides accounts are received showing a revival of anti-Semitic animosity.

THE CZAR'S CORONATION.

MOSCOW, Sept. 22.—Nothing is known here regarding the preparations for the coronation of the Czar. It is expected that the customary period will elapse for the preparations before the ceremony takes place, also that the usual invitations will be issued when the date is decided. The Emperor and Empress revisited the exhibition to-day. The city was illuminated to-night.

FORGERY.

BERGHEDE, Sept. 22.—The committee of investigation has discovered forgeries of requisition obligations issued during the last war, and the president of the last Skupstina has been arrested on a charge of being implicated.

A DENIAL.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The members of the committee disapproving Mr. Gladstone's Egyptian policy having, with a view of discrediting his views of foreign politics, reiterated the charge that he sympathized with the South during the rebellion in the United States, Mr. Gladstone writes that the statement attributing such sympathy to him is untrue and contrary to authentic facts long ago made public.

AMERICAN.

A BATTLE ROYAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—George Howard and John Kelly, cattle owners, had a dispute about the division of stock near Triadelphia. It was agreed to settle the matter by a battle between six picked men from each party. The men arranged themselves on horseback, 50 feet apart, and at a signal from their employers the fight began. At the first fire four men were killed and the Howard party, excepting their employer, fled. Kelly then proposed that Howard and himself should fight it out. Howard declined, and an equitable exchange of the cattle was made.

PIRATES AT LONG ISLAND.

ROSLYR, L.I., Sept. 22.—Pirates last night boarded the sloop Ellen Tracey, and after a terrible struggle knocked Captain Ketchum down, threw him overboard, pilsoned a boy, stole $110 and escaped. Ketchum swam back to the vessel.

LABOUR AND WAGES.

WHEELING, W. VA., Sept. 22.—The iron manufacturers of the Wheeling district have resolved not to start the mill until labour prices are equalized with Pittsburgh. Heretofore the prices paid have been higher than at Pittsburgh.

SHOT AND KILLED.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 22.—Chas. Matthews, editor of the Herald, was shot and killed in an affray with Col. Fordyce, Vice-President of the St. Louis and Texas Narrow Gauge railroad, and Col. Rugg, one of the proprietors of the Arlington hotel. It is not known whether Fordyce or Rugg fired the fatal shot. The trouble grew out of a newspaper controversy.

A WILD CHASE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Mrs. John Hackett with five small children arrived yesterday from Montreal without friends or money. She seeks her husband, who came here a week ago looking for work. Recently Mrs. Hackett received a letter stating that he had found work and was coming, but she would send for her soon. The woman started without her husband's address at once, expecting easily to find him here. She and her children were found crying in the Grand Central Depot by the police.

DISAPPEARED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Jas. G. Sands & Co., stock and mining brokers, have disappeared, leaving 300 or 400 customers, by whom over $250,000 in cash and stocks had been left in their custody. The missing brokers' firm is composed of James G. Sands and C. R. Callahan. It is said that Sands has gone to California and Callahan to New Jersey. Acquaintances say the firm are embarrassed temporarily and suspended. Among the victims are some society ladies.

LOSS OF THE PHOENIX.

The Vessel Blazed—A Quantity of Material and Three Gens Saved.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 21.—H. M. S. Foam arrived this evening from the scene of the wreck of H. M. S. Phoenix at East Point Prince Edward Island, and reports the wreck in the same position as before telegraphed, bilged and full of water. The crew, who since the ship went ashore had been living in a lobster factory near by, were taken on board the flag ship 'Northampton' two days ago, and will be brought to Halifax by her. Three of the guns on the Phoenix were saved, and three remained on board, but will probably be got out. The weather when the Foam left for Halifax on Tuesday was fine, and even should it become stormy it was thought the ship would stay at some time before going to pieces. The Northampton and Contest remained about the wreck, and the work of saving all the material possible will be continued several days longer. The commander of the Phoenix will be court-martialed after his arrival in England.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

AMERICAN.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Times says that the nomination for Cleveland is likely to prove one of exceptional strength and popularity, from all that is known of the man. He represents not only the better element and higher character of the Democracy of the state, but the patriotism, apart from some of the best qualities of our civic and political life. All admit his merits and strength, and face the fact that he will be a hard man to defeat in such a canvass as is now in this state.

FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Follett, dealer in commercial paper on Wall Street, is embarrassed. He handled millions of dollars worth of the best paper every year. For nearly twenty years he has been a medium between the banks and the other money lenders and a large number of leading business concerns in the city in negotiating loans. His able customers have been in the habit of leaving their paper at his office and drawing money against it according to their necessity. It is stated that he received from some customers a large amount of paper for which he cannot now pay them. It appears that he either sold or hypothecated the paper. The liabilities to the customers is estimated at from $400,000 to a million. The general presumption is that he lost money in speculation. The bankers, who have been large purchasers and suffer from Follett, state that they are simply secured. He was bailed at $12,000. Follett said that his customers were receiving from him good paper in satisfaction of their claims, and the banks would carry along the work, and everything would turn out all right in the end. Follett has been reported worth half a million.

DROPPED DEAD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Sylvester Reel, President of the National Citizens' Bank, dropped dead of heart disease at the bank building yesterday. He was 74 years old.

RAISE IN OIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The petroleum exchange was in a fever of excitement all day yesterday in consequence of the jump in prices which followed the failure of the Cushing Oil Works. There was an advance of five cents in less than two hours.

"PARTY, NOT PRINCIPLE."

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Herald says that the upshot of the business at Syracuse is that the representatives of the Democratic party played to win without desiring to win. Expediency, not principle, controlled their proceedings. Unless Cleveland and his friends take care to deserve the preference of Genl. and Kelly, they will hamper him in this race.

"A GOOD ACT."

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Star says that the Democratic Convention met the best expectations of the Democracy of the state by nominating Cleveland. By this act the Convention swept away for ever the whole record of years of personal and factional contention and placed itself on the great principles of Democracy to meet the living issues of the time. The other names on the ticket will add to it a distinct element of strength.

THE FINANCIAL TROUBLE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Follett is reported as denying that he deposited paper which he did not own, and saying that the light money market has been the cause of his inability to meet the calls upon him.

AN EDITOR KILLED.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 23.—Mathews, an editor, was killed by a collision. He had been concerned in many desperate encounters. His wife is from Buffalo, N. Y.

FLOODS IN ITALY.

ROME, Sept. 23.—It is reported that floods in various districts in Italy have caused great damage to property and large loss of life.

NOMINATION.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 22.—Grover Cleveland, mayor of Buffalo, was to-day nominated for governor by the democratic state convention on the third ballot.

A RAILWAY COLLISION.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 22.—A collision occurred this morning between an empty excursion train and a train with Nathan's circus on the R. W. & O. road near Rose, Waits County. A colored employee of the circus, name unknown, was killed. The cars and engines were badly wrecked. Nobody else was hurt. The fault lies with the Rose operator, who failed to flag the excursion train.

Terrible Injuries.

TRAVENTON, Sept. 22.—A nearly fatal accident occurred at Gilmore's saw-mill this afternoon about three o'clock. Two men named Henry Wellbanks and J. Doran were attending one of the large double-loggers when a board which was being edged became pinched between the saws, and flying back struck Doran on the shoulder, inflicting an ugly gash. At the same time a large splinter struck Wellbanks over one of his eyes, fracturing the skull and passing through near the ear. But very slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Personal: To Men Only!

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convicts me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See advt. in another column.

THE safest, best and cheapest medicine in the world is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Elixer. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully.

As a cure for all diseases of the Lungs Dr. Carson's Elixer has no equal.

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

BOWDOEN.

BIG LOAD.—The Register says that Mr. Outhbertson drew, with one team, the other day, 101 bushels and 41 lbs. of wheat, to the Newmarket mill. Beat it—who can?

CHANGED HANDS.—Mr. Geo. Lipsett has sold his farm to Mr. Spence of Dunsmuir. The amount paid for it was $3,500. Mr. L. purpose taking up his residence in the village.

PORT HOPE.

FIRE.—The Times says that early on Tuesday morning, a barn on a lot in the old cricket field, near the lake, owned by Mr. Geo. McCormack, was discovered to be on fire. There was stored in the building a crop of barley taken from eighteen acres, which, together with the hay was, of course, entirely consumed. The building and contents were insured in the Royal of England, for $900, which the owner says will not recompense him for the loss. The fire was clearly the work of an incendiary.

BONCATON.

SHEEP.—The Independent says that Mr. Theo. Black, the village butcher, bought fifty head of very fine sheep, on Wednesday. They are for export.

MARRIAGE.—The Rev. Mr. Himeley, the Methodist clergyman of the village, has returned from his visit to Mary England. The reverend gentleman is apparently greatly invigorated by the trip, and is thoroughly imbued with the love which every Englishman feels for his native land, he appears to be glad to return to the labour of assisting in keeping this Canada of ours in the way it should go. Mr. Himeley received a hearty welcome from his congregation, and the village generally.

FENELON FALLS.

TRENT NAVIGATION WORKER.—Just after last week's Gazette had been made ready for the press, we received the information that the contract for the work at Fenelon Falls in connection with the Trent navigation had been offered to Mr. A. P. McDonald, whose tender was the lowest, and we now have the pleasure of being able to say that he has accepted the offer. Mr. McDonald is an American contractor of well-known energy and ability, and with him is associated his brother-in-law, Mr. Alexander Manning, of Toronto. It is only reasonable to expect the contract to be well managed and delivered, which will probably be done forthwith, and we expect to have soon to report that the first and—rather, the first contract—has been triumphantly turned in this village.

LENDING.

ACCEPTED.—The Warrier says that Mr. Jas. Adams, of Fenelon Falls, has accepted the challenge of Mr. Wm. Walters, of this town, and wants the race to be rowed on Cameron lake some time next month. He further challenges him to a double canoe race on the same day for $500 a side.

BAD CUT.—On Wednesday of last week a little son of Mr. Jas. Poulton, east ward, fell on a scythe cutting the left hand so severely as to nearly sever the thumb from the hand. Dr. McEwen, however, soon repaired matters and the little sufferer will soon recover.

PAPEL MILL.—The Post says that Mr. Wm. McKay, manager of the paper mill, has returned from an inspection of the machinery now standing in the builder's shop. It has been approved and will at once be taken down and painted. The delivery of the plant at the mill by the first of October has been promised.

COMBING.

ACCIDENT TO A BOY.—The World says that on Thursday morning an eight-year old son of Wm. Benner was playing with a cartridge, when he exploded it. The result was a severe injury to the face and eye, both eyes being closed up, and the face very badly cut. Dr. Waters was called, and dressed the wounds.

A GOOD PURCHASE.—The Sentinel-Star says that Mr. Sam Clarke purchased the Burnham farm, west of the town, containing some two hundred and twenty-three acres more or less, for $14,000 or $67 an acre. The farm is an excellent one, and is just immediately outside the corporation.

HYMNICAL.—Mr. Pyfmon was married on Wednesday evening, the 13th instant, to Miss Martha Barber, youngest daughter of J. R. Barber, Esq., of Cobourg, at St. Peter's church, Rev. Mr. Sennet officiating. A very large company witnessed the interesting ceremony.

A Horse Commits Suicide.

The Franklin, N. Y. Journal is responsible for the following: One morning last week Mr. L. Aldridge, who lives in the place of the river near Mr. Walter Brett's place, Fishkill Landing, saw an old horse belonging to Mr. Saunders come out of the barn and stand a few moments as if looking out upon the river. The animal then returned into the barn, and in a few moments came out again, went deliberately to the river, wading into the water, and in a few moments disappeared under the railroad track into the main river and thence continued to swim out into the stream. A man employed on the pile driver saw the horse, went after him in a small boat, and brought him ashore. But on reaching shallow land, he laid down in the water, floundered about, and apparently made every effort to keep his head under water, as if determined to drown himself; and finally did drown to water not deep enough to cover his body as he lay down, and where he could only drown by making a determined effort to do so. This is a very singular circumstance, and looks like the deliberate suicide of one of the lower order of animals. Whether it was really a premeditated suicide, or whether the horse was afflicted with some disease that caused him to seek the water for relief and instinctively induced him to keep his nostrils under, is a question. We believe there are examples on record where the lower animals have to all appearances, committed suicide.

Protection in the Colonies.

A Commission on Tariffs has been sitting for some time past at Melbourne, and has been taking evidence on the effect which the protective system of the colony of Victoria has had on various industries. The inquiry was directed especially to the trade in implements and machinery. The opinion expressed by the colonial manufacturers generally was strongly in favor of the retention of the duties. Opposed to them were the views of the representatives of foreign firms trading in the colony.—London Globe.

Garibaldi's Disposition.

On one occasion an officer of his took a poor woman's horse from her and gave her a receipt, which, of course, was quite worthless. She came in tears to Garibaldi; she had lost all she had. Garibaldi took the paper, had the officer summoned before him, and in the presence of his whole staff, while the weeping woman stood by, said, "Did you take this horse?" "Yes, General, I was forced to; I had lost mine." "Did you write this paper, which you know is worthless?" "Yes, General." Then, turning to his aide-de-camp, he said, "Restore the horse to this poor woman," and tearing up the paper, with a withering look at the offending officer, he added, "Is this the way that Italians fight for the freedom of their country? Be no more soldier of mine!" and he sent him back to Rome.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and committed to fade away, even if it occurs past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotching, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer year after year, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, A FLUID peculiar in its effect is the most potent and safe to all Skin Diseases. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its healthy action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Beattie, and every year it is used adds more and more favorably to its rapidly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the unsightly, growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER, Freelanding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.
Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks until he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bump be found.
Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.
BROCKTON, Mass., March 10th, 1880.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin has been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off, and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bump to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours,
CHAR. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, calluses, sprains, swellings, and lameness, and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.
Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unequalled success in our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

AMERICAN.

TRACK REPAIRED.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Sept. 25.—The damage to the track of the E. R. R. has been repaired, so that the trains are running regularly.

FLOODS.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Sept. 25.—The damage to property here by the flood is estimated at $75,000. $50,000 damage was done near Hamborne.

THE ANTI-MONOPOLISTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The meeting of the anti-monopolists state committee has been postponed till October 3rd. It is claimed that the object of the postponement is to learn definitely the views of the candidates on the Republican and Democratic state tickets toward the principle of anti-monopolism.

DAMAGED BY A STORM.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 25.—The damage by the storm in this county is estimated at one million, although individual losses are comparatively small. The greatest sufferers will probably be the city and the Pennsylvania railway. Fifteen sewers burst here, and the streets are badly damaged. Many buildings are flooded.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—At Junesan an Indian who was drunk, in attempting to break in to a house, was severely injured. Other Indians are coming in numbers. A fight took place and a number of Indians were badly hurt. The miners drove the Indians off. The natives threatened to murder the whites.

STEAMER SUNK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The steamer Edam was sunk in a collision with the Lehanto. She cost $500,000.

AROUND THE WORLD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—It is stated that Jay Gould is building a large yacht and intends to start in July next on a voyage around the world.

NOT MUCH DAMAGE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The damage by the recent storm in the city was not great.

WITCHCRAFT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Sixth avenue states that large quantities of bones, manufactured in Honolulu and vicinity. Fighting, gambling, and witchcraft are a daily occurrence. A squaw was stabbed to death and several others were tied up to exorcise the evil spirit.

A WILD LEAP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Yesterday an unknown man was seen by a policeman acting strangely on the top of the Belvidere Observatory. Central parkmen policeman ordered him to come down. He was not obeying, the officer started to climb the top of the observatory. The man then jumped to the pavement, forty feet below, and was terribly injured. He died some hours later.

FOLGER IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Secretary Folger arrived yesterday and called on the President.

POLITICAL.

ELIZABETH, Sept. 25.—It is reported that the Republicans will try to induce Wm. K., son of Wm. H. Vanderbilt, to run for Congress against Perry Belmont, whose nomination will probably be renewed by the Democrats.

INFANTICIDE.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Mary Jones has been arrested on a charge of choking an infant grandchild.

SETTLERS TROUBLES.

DEVIL'S CLOVE, Dak., Sept. 25.—There is great excitement and indignation over an order of the War Department for a preliminary survey of a strip of land ten miles wide, west and north, by the side of the lake, for a military reservation. The settlers claim that if the reservation is located there it would compel 6,000 people to leave their land. A syndicate at Cressburg invested $12,000 in improvements, and this as well as a dozen other towns were probably lost by the Government. The settlers claim that there is no excuse for the order, as the present reservation is large enough. If the order is carried out there may be serious trouble.

A JUVENILE'S SUICIDE.

CLAREMONT, N. H., Sept. 25.—Matthew Conley, aged fourteen, committed suicide by shooting himself, because he was reproved by his mother.

A CIRCUS TRAIN UPSET.

LANCASTER, Ky., Sept. 25.—Early yesterday morning, while a train conveying a portion of Bell Bros' show was coming around a curve near Point Look, a car, from some unknown cause, jumped the track and, with fifteen others, rolled down the embankment. The cars were loaded principally of the baggage of the Company, the tableaux wagon, the electric light machine and a cage containing a tiger. Two attaches of the circus and a boy who was stealing a ride were killed. Three men were probably fatally and seven or eight others more or less seriously injured. The cage containing the tiger burst open and the animal escaped, creating a consternation. At daylight the tiger crept back into the prison and was secured. The electric light and tableaux wagons were destroyed. The train was torn up for 100 yards and the cars piled in a confused mass. The engine with three cars was uninjured.

JUVENILES ESCAPED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The rainfall undermined the fence surrounding the house of reception of the New York juvenile asylum and thirty boys yesterday escaped. Several have been recaptured.

BETRAYED BY FRIENDS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—A friend of Foletta says he was embarrassed by over liberality in doing business. He claims that Foletta was betrayed by supposed friends and never speculated as has been alleged.

BURNED IN GAOL.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—Edward Seddons, who was committed to gaol for assaulting a girl, went to sleep in his cell last night leaving a burning lamp, which somehow overturned and exploded, burning the mattress and burning him to a crisp.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See advt in another column.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

PAPERS SEIZED.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 23.—Several bundles of the Irish World, received by express from America, were seized by the Customs authorities at Liverpool, who held the packages a number of days, and then released them.

RAILWAY DISASTER.

AGRAM, Austria, Sept. 23.—As a mixed passenger and baggage train was crossing the River Drave, near Emsch, to-day part of the bridge fell, and the engine and baggage cars were pitched into the river, dragging with them some passenger cars containing a number of Hussars. Fifteen soldiers were drowned and thirty others injured. The coupling chains breaking, the remainder of the train stopped on the bridge. The accident is attributed to the high water. The bridge was of wood, supported on wooden piles. Thirty soldiers were drowned.

TROUBLE SETTLED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 23.—The Sultan has ordered the immediate surrender to Greece of the whole frontier fixed by the international commission. The representatives of the powers who assembled to-day to discuss the question, dissolved the meeting on learning of the settlement of the difficulty.

STEAMER SUNK.

CORR, Sept. 23.—The steamer Lepanto, which arrived at Cork to-day from Hull, reports that on the night of the 21st she collided with and sunk the steamship Edam in a fog. The Edam sailed from New York on the 20th inst. for Amsterdam with a valuable cargo, 21 passengers, and a crew of 54 men. The Lepanto's boats were put out immediately after the collision, as were those of the Edam, and all of the latter's people except the third engineer and his assistant were saved. The Lepanto was badly damaged, but luckily secured a pilot soon after the collision, and reached port safely. The debris of the Edam indicated that she blew up on (underlying). The Lepanto's officers state that the Edam dragged right across her bows from south to north, with her propeller going all the time. The steam whistle was heard a moment before her headlight appeared very close to the Lepanto. The Lepanto's master and second officer were in charge of the vessel at the time.

ANOTHER CONSPIRACY.

ARMAGE, Sept. 23.—Eight men charged with treason and felony, four of whom had recently been released from Kilmahinan, have been arrested. It is understood that the Crown has obtained evidence from an informer, who made extraordinary revelations regarding the existence of a widespread conspiracy.

AMERICAN.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—It is reported that an accident occurred at 9.30 a.m. on the New York Central and Hudson River railway tunnel. A number of people were killed and injured.

EULOGIES ON LORD DUFFERIN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Tribune's London cable says: Lord Dufferin shares the congratulations heaped on Sir Garnet Wolsley by Irishmen. Whether by the stupidity of the Fort, or by careful design, he kept the Turks out of Egypt, and prevented the execution of the commission given the Sultan without offending the Powers. The Times says he is a worthy successor to Lord Stratford de Redcliffe.

Mr. Crooks' Mismanagement.

The independent Toronto Telegram says:—"It is not at all to be wondered at that the Globe, in defending the action of Mr. Crooks in regard to Marmion, employs the weakest arguments it can find. In defending the Local Government it always does this. What could have been weaker, for instance, than to say that the throwing away of the books by the pupils was a comparatively small affair when we consider the injury that might have been done to their morals? The throwing away of the books was not by any means a small affair, as thousands of parents can testify. The book cost a dollar a copy, and there were at least ten thousand copies sold. If there was anything immoral in it, or anything reflecting on Roman Catholicism, it should have been discovered before parents were put to the expense of purchasing the book. There is altogether too many chances of text books, as each change necessitates a fresh expenditure of money."

A Big Sun Dial.

Mr. Jardine, M. P., has recently had erected, in the grounds at Castlemilk, a sun dial of extraordinary dimensions. It consists of a large twenty triangular-sided stone supported on a pedestal thirteen feet high, and is after the style of Queen Mary's dial in Holyrood grounds. There are altogether fifteen dials. Two indicate Greenwich time, two tell the time of night by the moon; the others indicate the rising and setting of the sun, the length of the day, tell when it is noon at the principal places over the globe, the sun's declination, etc. Altogether the structure is a novelty, and has been exciting wonder among the simple folks about Lockerbie.—London World.

PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

AN anonymous correspondent writes to a contemporary on the subject of fire protection and in his letter attacks the Review, the Waterworks Company and the law. His criticism might have more weight if he had sufficient courage to sign his own name, or if he did not show his ignorance of the article he condemns, of the application of the company and of the law on the subject. The Review did not scold the people at all, and censured the Council not because they do not accept the Company's offer but because they afford us no adequate protection against fire. The Company has not asked the Council, as "Ratepayer" makes out, to accept the present waterworks or any unlimited responsibility for them, but only to say whether they want any hydrants and if so how many, an application which was made in March and to which they have not yet had the common courtesy to send any reply. As regards the legal aspect, the law says the Council is elected to give us protection against fire and makes them the judges in the matter. The objection that the statute of this spring does not apply to the present waterworks, because they were not in existence when it was passed, only shows that "Ratepayer" is ignorant of the first principles of legislation, for the clause would apply to works constructed a century hence unless previously repealed. So much for the anonymous writer's knowledge on these three points.

His own suggestions are not of greater value than his criticisms. We have heard years ago that Peterborough would be allowed to have water if it took it from Dickson's dam, and not otherwise, but this condition will hardly commend itself to the ratepayers at large. As to the $17,000 scheme, we have no public guarantee that any private individuals are willing to carry it out, and the town would hardly be willing to waste that sum for inadequate protection, when for a rental not to exceed $50 each it can have as many hydrants throwing a sufficient stream as it likes, one or a dozen or a score, or any other number that it may determine.

As to the sneer at the Review, we need only say that property is not limited to bricks or timber, and that we have valuable property in our office which unfortunately is now exposed to the risk of fire, though we pay our taxes on it for protection which we do not obtain. But if we had not a cent's worth of property besides the pen we write with, it would still be not only our right but our duty as journalists to urge upon the councillors to do their duty in the interest of the whole community.

As to what steps they should take, that is a matter of opinion. We believe that the Council would do well to utilize the waterworks, and we think that the great majority of the unprejudiced ratepayers, who have given the matter reasonable consideration, agree with us. The members of our Council may think differently. It is their duty to protect our property against fire; the law leaves the matter to them to decide, and theirs is the responsibility.

We do not urge them to avail themselves of the present waterworks or of any waterworks, if they think they can devise a better plan. But we do urge them to awake from their present lethargy, to do their duty in giving us some sufficient system of protection against fire, and to do it at once before the whole town is consumed. Already two fine blocks have been destroyed, and who knows when others may follow them. Individual ratepayers have met with heavy losses, and the town as a whole is the poorer.

Some few shortsighted individuals may say they lost nothing by these fires. They may not see the effect of this partial destruction, but they would see the fallacy of their assertion if they imagine the destruction continued and the whole business portion of the town to be burned block by block. Where then would be the residents in suburban dwellings? Would they have lost nothing, and would they be as well off? The partial destruction has the same effect to a partial extent in proportion to the amount of loss.

If the council object to waterworks, and prefer to construct more tanks and to secure sufficient fire engines, let them make up their minds and do it. At present it is evident that we have neither a sufficient supply of water available, nor sufficient means of throwing it upon a burning building. Many villages are better protected against a conflagration than the flourishing town of Peterborough.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Toronto Mail says:—"Bishop Cleary at Peterborough on Thursday laid stress upon the necessity of maintaining our municipal institutions intact. He claimed it was from them that we secured the charter of our liberties, and it was more important they should be preserved than that the question as to whether the Dominion or Provincial Legislature is the greater body should be determined. The suggestion is the more noteworthy as his lordship has not been long in this country, and therefore views questions from a thoroughly impartial standpoint."

The Globe comes to the rescue of Mr. Crooks and maintains that Scott's "Marmion" is unfit to be studied by the youth of Canada. It says: "It is plain that some stanzas and verses will have to be cut out ere it is put into the hands of pupils to be studied critically." The Globe then kindly quotes some of these lines, gives a "suggestive" account of others and specifies the numbers of the stanzas and cantos of still others, so that they may readily be found. Such is the service that our contemporary renders to the cause of morality and purity. What a pity it did not point out the objectionable nature of this work before it had been so largely purchased and studied by the pupils, for the information of Mr. Crooks, who was doubtless too busy attending to Dominion politics to perform his own duties.

The Ottawa Packet, referring to the manner in which the Crooks' Act has been worked by Mr. Mowat's officials, says:—

"Here at least the Act has been used entirely as a party engine. An inspector is paid a big salary out of the people's money, entirely as a reward for party services and to all appearances with the understanding that he shall not imperil party interests by enforcing the law."

THE BETTER TERMS QUESTION.

The Montreal Gazette has the following editorial:—

The Herald asserts that "Quebec's demand for better terms is neither unjust nor unreasonable; our representatives have only to stand firm, and there is little danger of its being refused." Quebec has made no demand for better terms. The twin leaders of the Liberal party, Mr. Marcier, being in opposition and not over scrupulous on questions of principle, has mooted a scheme for obtaining better terms from the Dominion for this Province, and he has been supported in the new departure by the journal which acted as the mouthpiece of the English Liberal party until it became a syndicate organ; but on the part of the Government or of the people there has been no such demand. A very brief discussion of the proposition served to expose not only its inopportune and its dangers, but also the impossibility of putting it into operation without seriously weakening the stability of the Confederation. It was a mistake in the first instance to establish financial relations between the Provinces and the Dominion. It would have been wise to have provided once and for all the measure of assistance to be extended to the Provinces and compelled them to rely wholly upon their own resources for the maintenance of their government; but while it is now too late to adopt that course, we can at least reduce the evil to a minimum by closing the door to the admission of such a claim as Mr. Marcier and the Herald advocate on behalf of Quebec. The very means advocated for enforcing the demand is sufficient to condemn it. It is a demand that the representatives of the Province should band together irrespective of political principles, and force by the influence of their votes compliance on the part of the Dominion Government. Under such an assault the Confederation would assuredly crumble to atoms. Corruption would become the basis of power, and the position of the Government simply intolerable. So immoral, so ignorant, so base, is the proposal to compel better terms by the throat, that we cannot believe Mr. Marcier and his friendly journal would dare to advocate it, were it not for the paucity of the Liberal representation in the House of Commons. It is in keeping with the morality of Mr. Marcier and the Herald to inaugurate the policy of spoliation since, politically, they have nothing to lose and everything to gain if by any chance they can create an impression favorable to their views either among the people or the Conservative members of Parliament. But the electors are not to be caught by sordid appeals of this character. The resources of Quebec are yet far from exhausted; the Government is in no danger of encountering financial difficulties with which they cannot successfully cope. If an adequate revenue cannot be derived from existing sources of income, there are many feasible methods of restoring an equilibrium between revenue and expenditure. It is a long step between our present position and the recourse of a raid upon the Dominion Treasury, and some of these methods will undoubtedly be adopted before the Province is driven to the dangerous course advocated by the Herald.

WEATHER UNDER BONDAGE.

The Winnipeg Times writes as follows in regard to some silly remarks of Reform journals:—

"There is no writhing to speak of up here, but we are groaning under a tremendous pressure of prosperity and our farms are bursting with the marvelous yield of the harvest. The bondage is responsible for these dire misfortunes. When Mr. Mackenzie was in power there was no bondage. A few Dube locomotives were hauling a few disappointed-looking one-sided free trade cars up and down the Pembina branch, while bands of sterling Liberals portered about Selkirk, dreaming of carrying the Pacific railway at some distant future away behind Lake Manitoba. In those days this was the freest land under heaven. It was free from the cowering cares of civilization and business, and roughly speaking, free from population. That the moment Manitoba heard the North was more than a straggling village; to-day it is a city with a population of 25,000 souls and property of the assessed value of $30,000,000. Portage la Prairie and Brandon, now thriving towns, did not exist in those days, the Indian's halcyon days; and Morris, Crystal City, Minnedosa, Gladstone, Pilot Mound, Rapid City and other busy centres had neither a local habitation nor a name. In those days Winnipeg was mainly dependent on the stage and the Hudson's Bay cart for communication with the outside world. Now she is the centre of a railroad system which is throwing out new arms in every direction. Fifty thousand people have entered Manitoba and the Northwest this season, and the signs are that not less than 80,000 will come here next year. In a few days the road between Rat Portage and Lake Superior will be opened for traffic, and by this time next year trains will be running from Prince Arthur's Landing to the Rocky Mountains. This is our bondage, and may we be delivered from a Reform Moses!"

Hersford's Acid Phosphate
Is a scientific preparation of the phosphate, so combined as to be readily taken up and absorbed by the system. Pamphlet sent free. Rumford Chemical Works, Providence, R. I.

GENERAL WOLSELEY'S NATIONALITY.

The following letter, which appeared in the Toronto Telegram, would seem to settle the question of Sir Garnet Wolseley's nationality:—
Sir,—“Englishman” will find the information he seeks on page 1,252 of Burke's Peerage (Ed. 1875), where it is shown that Sir Garnet J. Wolseley is a cadet of the Irish family of Wolseley, of Mount Wolseley, in the county of Carlow, and but remotely connected with Staffordshire. The originally Norman-French (not English) family of Wolseley has been settled in Ireland over two hundred years, (vide same authority.) If “Englishman” requires further proof of the nationality of this great military genius, it may be found in his speech last December (see Times) to the London Irish volunteers, in which he calls himself an Irishman. Sir Garnet's father and mother were both natives of Ireland, as also were ten generations of ancestors.
CELT.

REGINA.

The following article is taken from the Winnipeg Sun, a Reform journal:—"We feel sorry for Regina. It got a bad name. You know the adage, 'Give dog a bad name and hang it.' Could the Latin find anything like a fair equivalent in Chippewa, there would be a sense of relief. The place itself, it would appear, is not so black as it has been painted. Two of the latest travellers therefrom, Mr. Trow, M.P., and Mr. Fuller, assure the Sun that it is neither better nor worse than hundreds of miles of surrounding country—Moose Jaw Creek, possibly, excepted. It would have been easy, no doubt, to have made that the capital. But it was in possession of the land grabbers. They covered the plain as an army of locusts, and left the poor railway company nothing. The railway people have a knack of making their own towns, and of making them in quite other places than those where the enterprising carpet-bagger has hired the able-bodied loafer to go and squat. It is this game of forestalling which kills all the best localities. Still, we believe that Regina—if not in name—for that is too utter for anything—at least in substance will continue. Mr. Fuller told our readers he found there nine stores, returning nine days after, the plain was covered by a canvas city of 102 stores, hotels, and dwellings, three frame buildings and seven lumber yards. He fired a fair shot when, comparing the two places, he suggests that, at any rate, Regina should not be bespattered with mud from Winnipeg. There are more facts than one, Regina will survive. A place with 26 feet of soil can never wear out."

A Goat's Head of Greenbacks.

Egbert G. Vincent of Waterville, Me., who is visiting friends in Brooklyn, after strolling along the bay shore on Saturday afternoon, lay down and fell asleep in an inviting spot shaded by a pear tree, near the Delaplaine House, in Twenty-ninth street. A goat came along, and sniffing about, discovered the edge of a roll of greenbacks, amounting to $175, protruding from a vest pocket. He selected a bit of one bill, and finding it a delicacy compared with a circus poster, deftly introduced his tongue into the vest pocket and pulled out the whole amount, scattering the greenbacks on the grass. He chewed up $100 in the time a man takes for a Coney Island plate of soft shell crabs, and the money seemed to satisfy his hunger in the same ratio. Still he was more leisurely in devouring the remainder, for, having lunched off $25 more, he stood gazing steadily across the waters of Gowanus Bay to the hazy hills of Staten Island a long time before he licked up an additional $35 as desert. When Mr. Vincent awoke he was just in time to rescue the remaining $15. The goat uttered a mocking blast, fixed a fish eye on the stranger from Malise, and then gambled off down the slope. Mr. Vincent searched in vain for the rest of his money, and then reported his loss at the Delaplaine House.

An honest medicine is the noblest work of man, and we can assure our readers that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only reliable, but is almost infallible to cure Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Canker of the Stomach and bowels, and the various summer complaints, whose attacks are often sudden and fatal.

V. EDWARDS, of Bradford, writes:—"Burdock Blood Bitters is an excellent preparation, gives entire satisfaction and sales increasing every day, it sells now on its merits—Burdock Blood Bitters cures Scrofula Liver complaint, Dyspepsia and Kidney complaints, in their worst form."
MR. WM. HANSON, of South Norwiche, says: "For sixteen years I suffered from Biliousness, never had any medicine do me any permanent good until recommended by our druggists, (J. Wesley Fish & Co., Ottawa,) to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, which have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I would, with the utmost confidence, recommend them to all suffering from Biliousness, &c. Sold by J. D. Tully, at 50 cents a bottle."

The Secretary of the Peterborough Club challenged the Trinity College School Club, Port Hope, but received an answer that the headmaster would not allow them to play.

Snow.
There was a snow storm this afternoon. It was light—very light—hardly deserving the name of storm, yet there was snow, and being the first of the season, and early in the season, is worthy of being noted.

Personal.
Messrs J. B. Ormond, Fred. T. Winch, W. Craft, J. A. King, J. Green, W. J. Lamour and several others are in town, having come from Winnipeg on the recent excursion.

Mr. Gale, of the Bowmanville West Durham News, paid us a visit this morning.

A Large Audience.
The auditorium in the Council Chamber was filled last evening by a large number of ratepayers, who had been drawn out by the anticipated discussion on the fire question. They frequently manifested their approval of remarks made by the speakers by applause.

To Catcher's Success.
We note that Mr. Johnston, representing Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, the celebrated catfish specialists of Toronto, is at the Calves House. As this is known to be the most successful catfish remedy in the market, we advise sufferers to call on Mr. Johnston early, as he only remains till Wednesday evening.

The Weather.
The weather continues bright and fine. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh northerly to easterly winds, fine weather, and not much change in temperature.

Grand Millinery Opening at Turnbull & Gray's, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

At the Provincial.

The Kingston Whig says:—"Pure hold a prominent place in the Palace. Geo. Mills & Co. show goods of the richest character, surpassed from the roof of the palace are numerous robes, which set off his exhibit admirably. His stock is valued at $3,000. He has two fine cases filled with all manner of furs, including two handsome seal minks, two Persian lamb coats for ladies, and a gentleman's coat of the same material. He has the only set of silver for fur on the grounds. The robes consist of muslin, on, yak, bear, buffalo, Japanese wolf and Hudson Bay Wolf. He exhibits a combined muff and mackinaw for women, which is something unique. He has some Canadian products in beaver and mink. Squirrel tail bows, five yards long are to be seen. The exhibit of Mills & Co. is certainly an evidence of enterprise. They are not inclined to be behind the age in the fur line."

"Adjacent is the display of Mills Bros., of Kingston and Peterboro. Their enterprise is also apparent. Their goods are tastefully arranged and consist of white yak, Japanese wolf, black bear, Hudson Bay wolf, a variety of robes. A lady's silk circular, trimmed with Siberian squirrel and silver lynx, worth $125, and a squirrel bullseye circular of brocaded silk are very attractive. Several South Sea and Persian lamb jackets are on exhibition. Fur coats for both ladies and gentlemen are seen to advantage. Raw furs ready for manufacturing, two sets South Sea seal, three Persian lamb coats, two Canada mink, one set of green and one of tiger, and an assortment of felt, silk and fur coats complete the lengthy list."

Our display of Trimmed Millinery is worth the inspection of every lady. Turnbull & Gray.

THE KHEDIVI AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, Sept. 25.—The Khedive and Egyptian Ministers were received at the depot this afternoon by the Duke of Connaught and General Wolsey. A detachment of Grenadiers was drawn up on the platform, and the Household Cavalry lined the approaches to the depot. The Royal Artillery fired a salute, the band of the Grenadiers playing the Egyptian anthem. The Khedive, Duke of Connaught, Gen. Wolsey, and Sir E. Malet entered the same carriage and were driven to Ghazirah Palace. The streets through which they passed were densely crowded and lined by almost all the English and Indian troops now here. The natives gathered along the route, numbering many thousands, gave the Khedive a very friendly welcome. All the Ulemas, as well as the Sheikh of El Arhar Mosque and the Kadi, were at the depot. It is estimated that 150,000 people witnessed the Khedive's entry into the city.

ARABI'S OPINION.

CAIRO, Sept. 25.—Arabi says the best thing the English could do for Egypt would be to send all the notables and other leading men connected with the rebellion out of the country. If they do not, vengeance will surely be wreaked upon them after their departure. Seeing the manner in which the British treat the prisoners and wounded, Arabi says they are a great people, and he is heartily sorry he fought them. He never thought the English would send a large army to assist the Khedive, and so he was led into the war. He denies having any communication with the Sultan during the war. Among Arabi's papers are offers of service from French, German and Russian officers, which were all declined.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.

JUDGED by the amount of money taken at the gates, the Provincial exhibition held last week at Kingston proved a greater failure than even its worst enemies had predicted. During the whole of Thursday and the greater part of Friday the rain literally poured, while the intense heat of the beginning of the week was followed on Wednesday by heavy thunder showers, rendering the weather during the whole of the exhibition so unpropitious as to make a visit to the grounds anything but a pleasure, and hence the smallness of the gate receipts. Apart from this and the discomfort caused to some of the exhibitors by the inability of the buildings to protect their exhibits from the weather, the exhibition was a greater success than even its friends anticipated. The exhibit of stock in quantity, quality and variety was never surpassed, if equalled, at any previous exhibition, and we understand that the number of animals which changed hands was also unprecedentedly large—some breeders actually disposing of every animal which they had on the ground. It was also a gratifying subject of remark, to those capable of judging, that the attendance was evidently largely composed of those who had not seen a provincial exhibition for years, if ever before. In these two facts we have evidence of the wisdom and justice of the perambulating system, which far outweighs the single consideration of the gate receipts as a test of the success or non-success of such exhibitions. Of course, viewed from a city standpoint, the gate receipts are the best possible test of success because they are the best possible indication of the number of people which have thereby been drawn to the city in which it is held, and of the amount of money which has as a consequence been expended among its hotel keepers, cab-drivers, merchants and business men generally, but this is not the object for which the Provincial grant is made. Its object is to promote the agricultural interests of the Province, and we venture to think, for the reasons already stated, that, notwithstanding the smallness of the gate receipts at Kingston the present year's exhibition will exercise a most beneficial influence upon the agriculture of that section of Ontario, and fully justify the financial loss which has been incurred this year.

The reader will notice that we have limited our observations chiefly to the stock department of the exhibition, and we have done so purposely. For some years past there has been growing upon us the conviction that, under the advanced circumstances of the country, the sooner the Provincial exhibition is limited to the products of the farm and the implements and machinery connected therewith, the better will it be for all concerned. If, as we believe is the case, the true object to be aimed at is the education of the farmer in all that pertains to his business, then the drawing of enormous promiscuous crowds to these exhibitions, is a disadvantage not an advantage. Were these exhibitions of a more limited character, and instead of aiming at embracing everything, aimed at excelling in a particular department, more good, we are convinced, would be accomplished, and the time and money of both farmer and manufacturer economized, the comfort of visitors promoted and the extortionate charges of some hotel keepers, cab-drivers, &c., minimized.

In fact we incline to the opinion that the Provincial Association should aim at making their annual gatherings the "farmers' gathering" of the year. It is for the promotion of agriculture that the government grant is given, and to this object alone should it be devoted. That our farmers and their friends should cultivate a taste for the fine arts and study the progress of our manufactures is quite true, but there is a time and place for everything and everything should have its time and place, inasmuch as only one thing can, as a rule be done at a time effectively and advantageously. That such combined exhibitions have done a good work in the past we fully concede, but our circumstances have changed—they like everything else have grown, and there is no more reason why they should continue to include every department, than that the store of to-day, should as in days of yore, continue to sell dry-goods, groceries, hardware and patent medicines over the same counter. Our exhibits of either the farm or factory have now attained such dimensions that either of them can profitably engage all the attention which most visitors can devote to a single exhibition, and the attempt to crowd more together than can be profitably seen at once only defeats the best object for which such exhibitions are held.

Moreover such a curtailment of the ground now attempted to be covered by the Provincial would enable it to be held in districts from which it must remain excluded so long as crystal palaces &c., are deemed a necessity, to the great disadvantage of the very people most requiring to be brought under its stimulating influence.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ottawa Free Press with that the penchant for belittling the Canadian Bench which seems so common among "Reformers," accuses Judge Cameron of being biased by political prejudices in holding that Mr. Mowat's High Court of Justice has no jurisdiction in election cases. The fact that some of the cases under consideration were protests against Reformers, and that the whole number of protests is almost equally divided between the two parties, might have saved him from such an absurd attack, even if there was no feeling of decency in the writer to do so. Justice Cameron's decision is subject to revision by the full Court, which we hope will see its way to admit the protests and let the investigations proceed. If not we will only have another instance of Mr. Mowat muddling the law till even able lawyers cannot understand it. Several cases, it seems, have been entered in the old Election Court, which it is contended in the right one.

The Hon. J. C. Aikens has been appointed Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba, to succeed Lieut.-Governor Cameron next month. Mr. Sobulitz has been called to the Canadian Senate for Manitoba.

Conservative Chances.

It is doubtless the fact, although friends of Mr. Mowat do not care to admit it, that the tide of public opinion is running in favour of the Opposition. At least this is the conclusion arrived at by impartial observers of the political situation in this Province—those who are neither predisposed towards nor prejudiced against the Administration. The centralizing tendencies of the Government have aroused a feeling of hostility in the breasts of the municipalities, and while it is undeniable that the change in the liquor law has given us a better state of affairs than formerly prevailed, when each municipality controlled its liquor traffic in its own way, the result has been to lay the Government open to the allegation of grabbing patronage for distribution among its own supporters. Mr. Mowat's strongest claim for support in his fight against the Conservatives is that he is standing out against the encroachments of the Dominion Government on the domain of the Provincial Legislatures. But the strength of this claim is weakened by the fact that his own Government is making encroachments upon the domain of the municipalities. The engineer leaves himself open to be hoisted with his own petard. Everything so far as the Conservatives are concerned depends upon their putting strong men in the field. The absence of strong men is their great drawback, and unless they can show the province that they have good men ready at hand to take the places of those at present holding the portfolios, they cannot expect to get the votes. Sir John's plan has always been to find out the weak spots in his policy or programme, and go to work to strengthen them. The weak spot in the Conservative programme, as regards Ontario, is the lack of strong men, and unless it is strengthened victory need not be looked for. It matters not how strongly the tide of public opinion may be running in the direction of the Conservatives if they do not take advantage of it.—Toronto Telegram.

MILLS BROS.

In the course of two weeks will have for the Fall Trade, the Largest and Best Assorted Stock of Hats, etc., ever shown in the town of Peterborough.

KEEP

No Old Stock whatever, every hat a perfect model of beauty, clean and fresh from the factory, and prices which

NO

Retail House in the Dominion can compete. A passing glance at our show window will at once attest the truth of this assertion, and convince the most skeptical of the desirability of purchasing new and fashionable goods in preference to the

OLD

Styles and old prices of by-gone days. We hold that no firm watches the American Market for Young Men's Goods (especially) closer than we do, and claim the honor of selling the Nobbiest and Finest

STOCK

Of Hats in Canada. Young men will find it to their interest to examine carefully our styles and prices for fall before purchasing elsewhere. We have the right goods at the right prices.

THE General Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada continued the debate upon the Methodist Union on Saturday. An amendment setting forth that "while this General Conference is not aware of any general desire among the members of the Methodist Church of Canada for lay representation in the Annual Conference, yet agree in order to promote union to concede the principle, provided no change is made in regard to the examinations of ministerial character or the position of the stationing committee" was adopted.

To Ragmen and Others!

PAPER CUTTINGS AND SCRAP,

A LARGE QUANTITY AT THE Review Book-Bindery, Peterboro'

1882.

From the London Times.

Great England put her arm out, and stretch'd Her stately limbs to slumber in the sun. The nations, seeing then how long she slept, Commenc'd to stir, and in whispers said: "Go! She is old and tired; let us slay her." The crown from off her brows, she will not know! And Goneril and Regan, over seas, Mocking her, cried: "Her time is past. Her blood is sluggish, and her rusted sword from her scabbard she will draw no more!" And so, Thus gilding, flung with cruel hands the seeds Of discord and of hate amidst her sons. But from the East there came a blast too loud; As from the West there came a blast too much; And she, awaking, smelt her bed, and saw Around her all her faithless friends, and all Her sisters and her children joining her, And crying, "She is old! and melting out Her limbs among themselves, and parceling Her honor. Then, with a lightning flash From the blue skies, her glance of scorn fell on them, And they crouch'd, like wolves that are overmastered. England stretch'd out her hand, and touch'd the world.—"Hail! I am mistress still!" Omba.

Poisoning an Infant.

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—Julio Boivert, who was charged with poisoning the child of Mr. Noel, proprietor of which here previously been given, was found guilty at the sessions to-day of administering poisoning with intent to commit murder. It is a very strange case, being apparently without any motive for the crime. The verdict has been based principally upon the medical evidence for the prosecution, which was very strong.

T. & O. RAILWAY BRIDGE.

The communication with reference to the railway bridge across the Otonabee river was taken up.

Councillor MENZIES did not wish to grant the company permission to erect the bridge, for the steamboat men might come on the Council for damages.

Councillor DENNE thought that a sufficient guarantee should be given that the bridge would be removed when the company were requested to do so.

The MAYOR—They say they will give a guarantee to that effect.

Councillor DENNE—I would like to see the guarantee.

Councillor Poussette said that this was a matter for the Government to deal with, as the Council could not grant the permission. He moved that the communication be received.

Councillors CAHILL and RUTHERFORD thought it should go to the Street and Bridge Committee to report.

Councillor Poussette did not desire to throw cold water on the railway, but a matter interfering with navigation was too serious for the Council to take action in.

The motion referring the communication to the Street and Bridge Committee was carried.

SMITH STREET CROSSING.

Mr. SANDERSON, Reeve of Smith, was heard with reference to the railway crossing near the quarries. He said that it would be very dangerous going down the banks near Mrs. Dickson's. Petitions had been presented to the County Council, asking to have an overhead bridge put there. He had seen the plans for the overhead bridge, and he thought it would be a very good one. He did not know that the bridge would interfere with private rights, but he preferred an overhead bridge to a level crossing.

The MAYOR said that the Committee had better meet Mr. Sanderson some day in the engineer's office and come to some conclusion.

Councillor CAHILL said the Council should decide on this matter, as it was a private one. As the Company would have to maintain the bridge, and the Council only the approach, he thought the overhead bridge would be the better way.

Councillor RICHARDSON had visited the place and had come to the conclusion that if the overhead bridge was not built there certainly would be accidents.

Councillor KELLY said the approaches would be long and high embankments, which would cost a great deal for maintenance.

Councillor Poussette said it was a question whether the Council or Company would have to build the approaches. The Street and Bridge Committee should investigate the matter.

Councillor CAHILL asked if the County Council would join in indemnifying the railway company.

Mr. SANDERSON said that he had not thought it was necessary.

On motion of Councillor MENZIES, seconded by Councillor DENNE, the matter was again referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

THE BROWN FIER.

A report from Mr. Thos. Rutherford, Chief Engineer of the fire brigade, was read, in regard to the delays in getting water at the recent fire. The report was signed, in addition to the Chief, by twenty-three firemen. As to the question of what caused the delay, the report said:—

"That question is so easily answered that hundreds of ratepayers can answer it as well as myself, and the answer is simply, we had no water until it was too late to do anything more than we did do. In the case of the fire on Charlotte street it was fully twenty-five minutes before we had water, and at the last it was fully thirty-three or thirty-four minutes, and then, gentlemen, owing either to the inability of the engine or the inability of the engineer we had nothing for nearly one hour that was worthy to be called a stream. In connection with this part of the trouble I will add that on Sunday afternoon I examined the engine and found that the steam boiler was leaking, but in such a position that it did not do any great amount of damage to the fire. But you have Mr. Hamilton's report both in writing and given verbally to your committee at the meeting this evening, as to the state of the engine and the reason why she did not do her duty. At either of the recent fires, as to my opinion and the opinion of the Assistant Chief, we have not had at any time a stream fully up to the capacity of the engine. I feel safe in making this assertion, because I am backed up in it by that of the practical men who have been working on the engine on Monday and Friday of this week. In connection, gentlemen, with the fact that you find the engine in such a position that it is not doing its duty, I feel safe in saying that if we cannot get water in a shorter time and in a greater quantity they will be compelled to give up altogether, as they do not desire to be used by the citizens when they are endeavoring to do their duty to the best of their ability, and I may say that I have found them ready and willing to do their duty at all times."

The report concluded by again stating that the delays were caused either by the incompetency of the engineer or the incapacity of the engine.

Councillor PATTERSON moved, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the report be referred to the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

Councillor McNAUGHTON said that the firemen said they would not work with Mr. English. (No, no.) He said it was complained that the engine was not kept clean, and the Chairman of the Fire Committee should look after that. On Saturday night only 30 or 35 pounds of steam was put on, and on Sunday it was raised as high as 60 pounds.

Mr. T. Rutherford, Chief Engineer, was heard. He said that the ground of the delay was covered in his report, and it was either the inability of the engine or the incapacity of the men in Hamilton's foundry said that the engine was as good as when she entered Peterborough for practical work. They should have a stream in seven or ten minutes, but on Saturday it was an hour before they had a stream of any account. It was hard that the brigade should be blamed when they were not to blame.

There was a heated word with the Bilby engine, and for which the first cost was the largest expense. The engine should carry from 50 to 60 pounds of steam, but they usually had only 30 pounds. On Saturday night the engine had on from 15 to 35 pounds of steam, and on Sunday it was as high as 60 pounds.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the experiences of the two Saturdays were serious matters. Mr. Hamilton and his foreman told him that the engine would carry over sixty pounds of steam. The fact was that through the incompetency and stubbornness of the engineer $20,000 worth of property had been destroyed. The occurrence on Saturday night was a disgrace to the town. At one time if there had been twenty-five pounds of steam the building could have been saved. It would be better to have no fire engine, and then the people would not be depending on it. Was the Council prepared to put on an engineer, competent to run the engine? He understood that the engineer should hold a proper certificate, which the present engineer did not hold. The engine at present was fully able to do her duty.

Councillor RICHARDSON said that it seemed to him that the engine was never done getting fixed. It was costing money to keep it going, and was constantly used. When it was wanted to do anything it always had to be taken to get fixed. There was something wrong with the engine or engineer.

It was moved, seconded and carried that Mr. Jas. English, the engineer, be heard.

A messenger was sent to the fire hall for him, and in the meantime other business was gone on with.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Councillor CAHILL read the following report of the Street and Bridge Committee:—
To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough.

2. Sidewalk on Argyle street from George to Water street, $40.00.

13. Clark street, west from McDonnell street, to be graded, $40.00.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
THOMAS CAHILL,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE WATERWORKS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD read the report of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, which was as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—The Fire, Water and Gas Committee have had before them the question of protection from fire, and having fully considered the matter, beg to report.

We recommend that there be submitted to the duly qualified ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough for their approval or otherwise the following:—

1. Shall sixty hydrants be taken to cover the town and to be paid for by general taxation?

2. Shall the works of the Peterborough Water Company be purchased by the Town?

3. Shall the system of local taxation be adopted?

It is understood that this report is not to interfere with the present proceedings regarding the construction of the works of the Peterborough Water Company or laying down hydrants as may from time to time be asked for.

Your committee would recommend that proper coverings be obtained for the hose at street crossings.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
A. RUTHERFORD,
Chairman.

The report was on motion received.

WHERE LIES THE BLAME?

Mr. JAS. ENGLISH, having arrived, was heard by the Council. He said that the suction hose, when put into the creek on Saturday night, had been placed on a gravel bank, and he had to get down under the bridge up to his waist in water to clear it. This delayed him, and when he returned to the engine the fire was not burning right. Then a fireman came down to him and told him to turn off the water as they were going to put on the Siamese. He waited for orders to turn the water on again, but got none, and finally did it on his own responsibility. The coal, too, was not clean.

Cross-examined by Councillor McNAUGHTON.—He had on as high as fifty or sixty pounds of steam on Saturday night. He cleaned the engine as often as it was required.

To Councillor MENZIES.—He was not afraid to get up steam in the engine. It depended on how many nozzles were on how fast he could get up steam. On Saturday night the coal was not good and the leaks in the fire hindered him. He cleaned out the engine immediately after the fire at Fitzgerald's.

Councillor DOUGLAS said he saw one of the fuses at the foundry, and the set on it was as thick as the fuse itself.

Councillor PATTERSON said that every Council member knew the engine was not capable of doing the work that it should do, and the matter should be thoroughly investigated to see where the blame was.

The matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

THE WATERWORKS AGAIN.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved the adoption of the report of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee. He moved the resolution with pleasure. He reviewed the history of the waterworks situation, although the Council had been criticized, they had done everything they could under the circumstances. An efficient system of waterworks was almost completed, but it would be of no benefit unless the Council took action. He thought the best thing the Council could do would be to purchase the waterworks.

The Mayor in regard to the waterworks had tied the hands of the Council. The town was in a good financial position, and it would be a good thing to purchase both the gas works and waterworks.

Councillor MENZIES had supported the By-law because, he thought it was equitable. He was prepared to support the terms of that By-law now. He was willing to pay for fire protection for his stores, but he did not require it for his home, and did not wish to pay for having it there. He did not favor a general tax for waterworks.

Councillor DENNE complimented the Waterworks Company on their enterprise. He would like, however, to see the waterworks tested before they did anything about it.

Councillor McNAUGHTON felt certain that the questions in the report would not be carried by the ratepayers. The ratepayers on George street could not lead the whole town by the nose. The only way to have waterworks was for the Council to pay for them by a local tax.

He criticized the way in which the trench digging had been done, in consequence of which they had the trouble now with the drain near Mr. Dolan's.

Councillor RICHARDSON did not think the Waterworks Company were to blame for the heavy shed which had done more damage to the town. He made up his mind while looking at the fire on Saturday night, that if the present system of waterworks had been completed, the fire would not have amounted to a row of pine. If the town did not take any hydrants, how was the waterworks to be tested? The company had spared no expense in getting the best system.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought it was the duty of the Company to test the works. It was time enough for the town to order hydrants when they had proved the efficiency of the works.

Councillor DENNE said the Council was not to blame for the delay. The pipes were not laid yet.

Councillor KELLY said that the Council had granted the Waterworks Company all they had asked. All the ratepayers had to do to get hydrants was to send in petitions. He thought it useless to submit these questions to a vote. It was evident that the people did not want hydrants or they would petition for them.

Councillor Poussette said it seemed almost useless to submit these questions to a vote at present, as the Company could only put in thirty hydrants this year. The Council was elected to look after the interests of the ratepayers, and stood in the same relation to them as a guardian. The ratepayers were not alive to their interests in regard to fire protection. Until they were satisfied that the Company would give efficient protection, it was premature to take action. He was satisfied that they would do so, still the works should be tested. If the people and the waterworks could do, they would support them for the whole town.

Councillor CAHILL was in favor of purchasing the works as soon as they were tested, and they would regret it forever if they did not do it. He suggested that the Committee consult with the Waterworks directors and some of the principal property holders as to where the hydrants should be placed.

Councillor DENNE also favored purchasing the waterworks.

Councillor PATTERSON said that if the report was adopted the works would be tested before the vote would be taken.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the Committee had brought in the report because they thought it was their duty to do something towards protecting the town. Councillor MENZIES had, he said, supported every recommendation of the report of the Committee, and now he opposed it all. If the Council ordered fifty hydrants they would not be bound to take them unless they were efficient.

Councillor McNAUGHTON denied Councillor Rutherford's charge.

Mr. JAMES STEVENSON was, on motion, heard by the Council. In reply to a remark made by Councillor Richardson he said that he had told the Company that he would take two hydrants. When he saw the fire on Saturday night he felt for the Council, who did not realize their responsibility. One single effort would have extinguished the fire. Mr. Hamilton had informed him that there was no trouble about the engine, as it was competent to do good work. The Waterworks Company had signified their willingness to put in fifteen hydrants on George street, but the property holders should be consulted as to where they should be placed. He much preferred a local tax to a general tax.

The MAYOR said the Council was willing to carry out the arrangements for a local tax, but the people had not signed the petitions. Mr. STEVENSON said the petition for the hydrants on George Street could be signed in twenty minutes. They did not want too many hydrants. The Council should purchase the works as soon as they found they were efficient.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the Company had long ago asked the Council to say where they wished the hydrants placed, but the Council did not take action.

The matter then dropped, the report having only been received. There was an understanding that the Committee should meet, and consult with some of the principal ratepayers and the directors of the water company as to placing fifteen hydrants on George Street by a local tax.

THE MARKET HOUSE.

Councillor Poussette moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That the Town Trust Commissioners be requested to make such alterations and improvements in the market house as the Market Committee think necessary.—Carried.

THE GAS LAMPS.

Councillor CAHILL said that many of the gas lamps were obscured by the shade trees, and he would like to call the attention of the Committee to it.

Councillor McNAUGHTON said that many were complaining of the poor light. He continued to speak, but was called to order by the Mayor. Councillor Poussette asked whose duty it was to clean the lamps? Also, when the lamps ordered some time ago would be put in?

Mr. STEVENSON said that the Company had to clean the lamps, and he had called the attention of the manager to it. Six of the lamps ordered had been put up. Some lamps had been broken and replaced by the Company at their own expense.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the Company had not always placed the lamps in the position directed by the Committee, and he referred to a particular instance.

Mr. STEVENSON said the lamp would be moved if it was wished.

The Council then adjourned for one week.

You are cordially invited to inspect our Millinery and Mantles on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Turnbull & Gray.

FIRE MATTERS.

To the Editor of the Review:

SIR,—As I have been told that the Fire Committee are to discuss the cause of the delay at the last fire to-night, I would suggest that the following questions be taken into consideration.

1. Was any delay caused by bad coal?
2. Was any delay caused by leaking fuses or tubes?
3. Was any delay caused by bungling in uncoupling hose, and if so, who was to blame?
4. Whose duty was it to notify the engineer to start after he had been ordered to stop?
5. Was the fire rightly managed by the officers?
6. Was the line of hose laid too long and was there not too much friction for such a length as was required?
7. Did any hose burst at the slight pressure?
8. Did the hose leak at any of the couplings?
9. Is it fair to hang a man before he is found guilty?
10. If the tubes and fuses are as good as ever, why was it necessary for Mr. Hamilton to send to Simcoe Falls for a new set?
11. Does Mr. Hamilton and his men thoroughly understand "rotary" engines or is their forte "piston" engines?
12. Were the fuses cleaned out after the twelve hours' pumping on Saturday and Sunday or was the engine sent to the foundry just as she returned from the fire?
13. Would it not be advisable to have the engine examined by an expert from the factory every five years, as was recommended when she was purchased?
14. Should it be the duty of the engineer to leave his engine to catch the suction hose?

I remain yours, etc.,
OLD "BRITANNIA."

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

THE PORTE DEMANDS THE WITHDRAWAL OF THE ENGLISH TROOPS.

The Review of the British Troops—General Wolseley 12—10,000 Men Required to Garrison Egypt—Germany Favors England's Position.

REJOICINGS AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, Sept. 26.—There was a grand reception held in Ghezireh Palace to-day by the Khedive, at which several thousand representatives of the different villages were present. The Khedive refused to receive many implicated Pashas and Beys who come to profess loyalty, and warned the Ulema and other high personages that they would be severely punished if they relapsed into disloyalty. The principal British officers were present, except Gen. Wolseley, who is suffering from cold and diarrhoea. It is thought that nearly 5,000 persons paid homage to the Khedive during the day.

MILITARY ARRANGEMENTS.

CAIRO, Sept. 26.—The review of the British troops is fixed for Saturday next. Great preparations are being made for the event. It is expected that this demonstration of strength will create a great impression upon the natives who, knowing that the rebellion is utterly crushed, are daily becoming more obsequious to the English. Sir Edward Malet, British Consul General, thinks that an army of 10,000 men will be required in Egypt as a permanent garrison, and clothing for that number is being landed at Alexandria. It is expected that the Guards and marines will leave here on Friday.

THE KHEDEIV'S MINISTERS.

CAIRO, Sept. 26.—The Khedive's Ministers will hold their first meeting to-morrow to discuss the appointment of a court-martial for the trial of the rebels.

LOUIS DUFFERIN'S SUCCESS.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The success which has attended the efforts of Earl Dufferin throughout the negotiations with the Porte, and the apparent ease with which he has outwitted these masters of intrigue and diplomacy, have immensely increased his popularity in England. Hence the rumor which rapidly spread in London to-day, that Her Majesty has created the noble earl a marquis in recognition of his services at Constantinople, readily found credence.

MATTERS AT ALEXANDRIA.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 26.—The British ironclad Minotaur will go to Aboukir to-morrow to re-embark the marines there. She will proceed thence to Malta and join the channel fleet. Arrests of men suspected of having been implicated in the June massacre continue.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT CROUD.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 26.—Cherif and Riaz Pashas strongly insist upon the necessity of capital punishment for the prime offenders in the late revolt, and as their influence is powerful the prospects do not look particularly bright for Arabi.

RAILWAY COLLISION.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 26.—A collision occurred on the railway between Nefatse and Mahsarah to-day. Ten natives were killed.

REORGANIZING THE ARMY.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 26.—Baker Pasha, who has been entrusted with the reorganization of the Egyptian army, intends proposing to the Khedive that he employ the English officers at present serving with the Turkish gendarmes.

A TURKISH DEMAND.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26.—The Porte has addressed a note to Earl Dufferin demanding to know what steps are contemplated by his Government regarding the withdrawal of the British troops from Egypt, as they are no longer required in that country.

A PRO-ENGLISH GERMAN POLICY.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—It is certain that the action of Germany will be very favorable to England in the settlement of the Egyptian question.

TURCO-GREEK TROUBLES SETTLED.

ATHENS, Sept. 26.—The report of a settlement of the Turco-Greek frontier question by the surrender to Greece of the whole frontier fixed by the International Commission, is officially confirmed.

ENGLAND'S INTENTIONS.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Prof. Fawcett, Postmaster General, said:—"England has no selfish object. Her chief concern is to secure to the Egyptians the best government and the greatest amount of liberty possible."

TUNISIAN MARAUDERS.

TUNIS, Sept. 26.—Marauders attacked a party of sixty horsemen belonging to a French topographical expedition, near Kairouan. The French commander was killed and seven men disabled. Thirty of the brigands were killed and fifty wounded.

SMALLPOX AT CAPE TOWN.

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 26.—Smallpox is raging here. There have been two thousand cases thus far, mostly natives. Six hundred proved fatal. The disease has reached the military. Cape Town has been declared infected, and all vessels sailing thence for other ports in the colony will be quarantined. The greatest excitement prevails in the South African diamond fields. Illegal measures have been taken to exclude persons arriving there who are suspected of having the infection. The streets of Cape Town have a deserted appearance and business is suffering greatly.

AMERICAN.

CRUELTY TO SAILORS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Thirteen inexperienced sailors, shipped at Harve on the American ship Undaunted, yesterday complained to the Immigration Commissioner that they were terribly abused on the voyage by the officers and regular seamen. One of their comrades through terror of his persecutors fell into a hatchway and was killed. Two others were strung up by the wrists and beaten till nearly dead. The men allege they were insufficiently fed, and cheated out of their wages.

THE MEXICAN CONSTITUTION.

MEXICO, Sept. 26.—Congress has adopted a constitutional amendment declaring that in the event of the death or removal of a President his successor shall be the Senator who presides over the Senate during the month preceding the vacancy. When the Senate is not in session the President of the Permanent Committee, who is alternately a senator and a deputy, is to succeed. In the case of a permanent vacancy the elections are to be held immediately. Hitherto the Chief Justice has been ex officio Vice-President.

THE LOTTERY LAW.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The grand jury found an indictment for violation of the lottery law against seventy persons yesterday. The grand jury will to-day take up some new cases.

CANADIAN SERIOUSLY BURNED.

DETROIT, Sept. 26.—Miss Lizzie Hamilton, housekeeper for Dr. Gardner, was yesterday cleaning a stove with polish containing a large portion of naphtha, when by some means the naphtha was knocked over. The flames of the naphtha immediately communicated with an oil stove near by and took fire, enveloping Miss Hamilton in a sheet of flames. Fortunately Dr. Gardner was in the house and caught her as she was rushing from one room to another, and throwing her on the floor succeeded in putting out the fire with the aid of some rugs, but not until most of her clothing had been burned off. She was frightfully burned about her person, and it is feared will not survive her injuries.

A WARNING.

E. Stone Wiggins, L.L.D., Astronomer, of Ottawa, writes a letter to the Belleville Ontario regarding the storm which wrecked the Asia. He concludes with the following prophecy of a storm which is to come in March next:—

"A great storm will strike this planet on the 9th of March next. It will first be felt in the Northern Pacific, and will cross the meridian of Ottawa at noon (5 o'clock p. m. London time) of Sunday, March 11th, 1883. No vessel smaller than a Canardier will be able to live in this tempest. India, the south of Europe, England, and especially the north American continent, will be the theatre of its ravages. As all the low lands on the Atlantic will be submerged, I advise shipbuilders to place their prospective vessels high upon the stocks, and farmers having loose valuables, as hay, cattle, &c., to remove them to a place of safety. I beg further most respectfully to appeal to the Honorable Minister of Marine that he will peremptorily order up the storm drums on all the Canadian coast not later than the 20th of February, and thus permit no vessel to leave harbor. If this is not done hundreds of lives will be lost and millions' worth of property destroyed."

False Emigration Returns.

Can nothing be done to prevent the United States from publishing the false and fraudulent reports of the number of emigrants from Canada to the United States? These reports have been proved time and again to be grossly falsified, and yet the Bureau of Statistics, a Government department, continues to publish similar ones. They have been forced to acknowledge that they are incorrect, inasmuch as they have no means of distinguishing between emigrants who merely pass through Canada and those who start from Canada, and there is every reason to believe that those who pass through the United States on their way to our own North-West territories, as well as those who cross the line on a visit to either country, are included in these returns. It was shown when the matter was up for discussion in Parliament that it was simply impossible to get the number of emigrants who were said to have entered at Port Huron to have crossed at that point. Notwithstanding the fact that all this was made very clear and that the attention of the Bureau of Statistics of the United States was called to it at the time, returns almost if not quite as bad continue to be published. About three months ago one was published, and find it now going the rounds of the British press. It is difficult to estimate the influence which such returns must have when published in such papers as the London Economist. The United States authorities have made it painfully evident that no regard for truth or fair play will suffice to prevent them from pursuing a dishonest policy which promises immediate profits. Why is it that we have not taken any steps to correct the false impressions which such returns make, and which must be very damaging to us in Europe? Why does not the Canadian Government publish complete returns of both of emigration and immigration? When the matter was discussed in the House at Ottawa it was then decided to take the means for procuring these returns. Has this been done, and if it has, why are not these returns published at least as often and as prominently as those of the United States.—Montreal Witness.

A Legend of Lake Saratoga.

There is an Indian superstition attached to Lake Saratoga, which probably has its source in its remarkable loneliness and tranquility. The Mohawks believed that its stillness was sacred to the Great Spirit, and that, if human voice uttered a sound upon its waters, the canoe of the offender would instantly sink. A story is told of an English woman, in the early days of the first settlers, who had occasion to cross this lake with a party of Indians, who, before embarking, warned her most impressively of the spell. It was a silent, breathless day, and the canoe shot over the surface of the lake like an arrow. About half a mile from the shore, near the centre of the lake, the woman, wishing to convince the Indians of the erroneousness of their superstition, uttered a loud cry. The countenance of the Indians all instantly to the deepest gloom. After a minute's pause, however, they redoubled their exertions, and, in frowning silence, drove the light bark swiftly over the waters. They reached the shore in safety and drew up the canoe, when the woman rallied the chief on his credulity. "The Great Spirit is merciful," answered the scornful Mohawk; "he knows that a white woman cannot hold her tongue!"—Saratogian.

THE LIQUOR LICENSES.

There appears in the Toronto Globe a letter attacking the Conservatives in regard to the Crooks Act, and having appended the signature "A Temperance Conservative." Now we very much doubt the fact of the writer being a Conservative, and believe that the letter, with Myles O'Megan's attack upon leading Roman Catholics, was written in the office of the Globe, which is not above such little falsifications. If the writer had really been a Conservative and took efficient interest in such matters to write about them, he could not fail to have heard of the recent great convention at Toronto, nor to have seen the resolutions that were there passed and that have been so widely circulated through the press. The following is the resolution that was passed by the Toronto convention on this subject:—

"Resolved, That the present system of issuing tavern and shop licenses through Government officials having been instituted and systematically used for the purpose of rendering those engaged in the liquor traffic subservient to the Administration of the day, it is the opinion of this convention that, without interfering with the laws regulating the liquor traffic and limiting the number of licenses that may be issued, the power of issuing licenses and the fees derived therefrom should be restored to the municipal authorities."

Nothing could be plainer than this. The Conservative party, through their chiefs and their chosen delegates, declare that they desire no change in the laws regulating the liquor traffic, and wish no alteration of the limit to the number of licenses. What they do ask is that the officials to put the law in force may be appointed by the local municipal authorities, and not by the Mowat administration, who appoint partisans and electioneering agents; also that the fees for licenses may go into the municipal treasury, and not be sent to Toronto to foster Mr. Mowat's extravagant expenditure.

It is then sheer dishonesty of the Globe in its editorials and of its sham "Conservative" correspondents, to pretend that Mr. Meredith and his supporters advocate a repeal of the Crooks Act, a return to the old system, an increase of the number of licenses or the promotion of intemperance. They expressly and solemnly disclaim any such intentions. They ask for a restoration of the power usurped from the municipalities of appointing officers to carry out the Act and see that it is properly enforced. They know that this change would promote temperance and sobriety by securing a better observance of the law, and especially by rooting out the illicit grogeries, which Mr. Mowat's inspectors, occupied as they are in electioneering for their patron and prostituting their official influences for the advancement of their party ends, are too busy to exterminate or even check.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

The Mail of Tuesday has the following paragraph:—
"General Wolsey and Admiral Seymour are to be created barons; not peers as at first intimated."

In the name of common sense, if Sir Garnet Wolsey and Sir Beauchamp Seymour are made barons, what is to prevent them from being peers like their brother barons? Even if, as distinguished Irishmen, they obtained Irish baronies, they would still be peers, though not necessarily peers of Parliament. Perhaps it is Barons of the Exchequer that they are to become. Our contemporary does sometimes get terribly "mixed."

Mr. Mowat's chief organ is giving us a fancy "Record of Mr. Mowat's administration." Among other things it says:—

"During the last ten years there have been sold of the public lands 774,035 acres, or an average of over 77,000 acres per annum. During the same time there have been issued 3,830 timber licenses, covering 15,619 square miles, and an annual average of some 3,506 saw-log and square timber returns have been received and checked."

Assuming these figures to be correct it is evident that the Mowat administration, besides encroaching upon the cash surplus of Ontario, has alienated a large amount of our land and timber forming a portion of our capital, and has applied the proceeds to meet its extravagant expenditure. That is under the Mowat rule we have been using our capital for our current expenses. As individuals we all know what would be the result if we acted thus, and it the same with communities.

The Globe, speaking of Mr. Sandfield MacDonald's projected aid to railways, says:—"His successors stripped his scheme of its objectionable features." Perhaps the Globe will deign to inform its readers what objectionable features were thus stripped from the scheme.

A "Reformed Episcopalian," writing to the Toronto World, censures some of our leading men for smooching to drink the toast of the Pope before that of the Queen at the recent dinner to the Bishop of Peterborough. The chairman in proposing the toast explained that as it was a private party and of an ecclesiastical character they would vary the usual order and drink first to the health of the head of their church, but he was sure the reception of the next toast, that of the Queen, would show that this was from no want of loyalty. After this explanation it must have been a discourteous guest and a bigoted Christian who would object to the toast. But probably this critic was not invited and vexation at the omission has occasioned his ill-temper, bad grammar, want of "self-respect," and disregard of truth.

OUR COPPER MINES.

We are happy to be able to state that from advice recently received it appears that copper mining on the North Shore is rapidly developing into a permanent and successful branch of industry. Four veins carry native copper, and some of them rich, have been lately discovered on the property of the Ontario Mineral Lands Company, near Mammine. These veins are from three to eight feet in width, and have been traced for a mile and a half. They are about two hundred yards apart, and traverse belts of amygdaloid and conglomerate with a strike north and south and a dip to the east. Both the belts of amygdaloid and conglomerate which strike north-west and south-east, with a dip towards the lake, have yielded very good stamp rock, and a shaft has been sunk forty feet with a fair show of copper at the bottom. Five miles distant, at Cape Mammine, they have just erected a hoisting engine and an air compressor, and are now proceeding to put up a stamp mill, for which they will have plenty of material. The fact of these, and other extensive developments, being made on the property of the Lake Superior Native Copper Company (limited), as well as on Michipicou Island, justifies us in looking forward to a bright future for our copper mining, only now in its infancy. The same natural agencies which were the cause of such extensive deposits of copper on the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, seem to have been at work among the traps, and conglomerates on the Canadian shore, and it is highly probable that systematic and intelligent exploration of our "copper bearing rocks" will yield results no less interesting and remunerative than the wonderful developments made in the Michigan copper mines during the last two or three decades.—Thunder Bay Sentinel.

THE FASTING CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

(To the Editor of the Witness.)

Sir, In your issue of yesterday there is, under the heading "Dr. Wood on Rheumatism," a selection from Knowledge referring to an article written by me for the Canada Medical Record some years ago. Unfortunately Knowledge, like many scientific and other periodicals, has made me say that in the reported cases of rheumatism treated by me and under my observation no medicines were given. This statement, so widely published throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain, has done much not only to bring into contempt what I have long considered a valuable remedy in the treatment of a dangerous and wide spread disease, but it has also in numerous instances that I know of caused patients to diagnose and treat their own maladies.

What I did say was this: there are mild forms of the acute disease that fasting alone is quite able to remove, and where such necessary remedies as opiates to relieve pain, etc., may be dispensed with. It will be remembered that the article in question was written for a medical journal; that it was not intended to be, as it has been, boiled down to 30 or 40 lines and copied into newspapers all over the continent. I regret exceedingly that such has been the case, and I would advise anyone who feels disposed to put himself on starvation diet to first consult his family physician who will decide for him (1) whether he has rheumatism at all, (2) whether he is a suitable case for such treatment, and (3) what additional medication, if any, is called for.

THE VICE-REGAL TOUR.

The Princess's case of a Little Girl Wins the Hearts of the People.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 25.—The week has been one of public enjoyment and enthusiasm over the arrival of the Royal guests. Tomorrow a drawing-room will be held in the Assembly Chamber, and a garden party on Tuesday. Yesterday the Governor-General and Princess visited the waterworks. While there a little girl, the child of a farmer, fell and broke an arm. The Princess as soon as the accident came to her knowledge took the child in her arms and carried her to the house, remaining with and alleviating her distress till the surgeon whom the Governor-General sent for arrived from town. This kindly action upon the part of the Princess completely won the hearts of the large crowd of all classes who were present, and the cheers in her honour were hearty in the extreme. Tomorrow the Royal party will visit the manufacturing establishments in town.

Employee vs. Employer.

The Montreal Witness of the 23rd says:—This morning Judge Rivest gave judgment in the case of Louis Beaudry vs. the Montreal Rolling Mills Company; Messrs. Adam & Duhamel appeared for the plaintiff and Messrs. Church & Co. for the defendants. This action was for arrears of wages, which Beaudry alleged to be due him, but the Company pleaded that the rules of their establishment were that men intending to leave should give due notice beforehand, and that as the plaintiff had not given notice, he was not entitled to his wages. The Hon. Judge said that it should be understood that employees could not deal lightly with their employers and leave whenever they liked. If the rules of the establishment were not kept, employees could not get any arrears of wages by means of the Courts. Much money had been lost by men leaving their work without giving notice, and employers and manufacturers must be protected. The action was dismissed, but without costs.

If you experience bad taste in the mouth, sallowness or yellow color of skin, feel stupid and drowsy, appetite unsteady, frequent headache or dizziness, you are "bilious," and nothing will arouse your liver to action and strengthen up your system equal to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Another step toward the entire and final completion of the Cologne cathedral has just been taken. The iron scaffolding for use in putting on the roof is in place, and the men are about to begin the work of laying the leaden plates. Great care will be brought to bear upon this work, as the plates are expected to last for many years.

I. F. SMITH, Druggist, of Dunville, under date of June 1st, writes of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Raspberry:—"It sells immensely in fact has the largest sale during the summer of any of the medicines in stock," and adds that he can heartily recommend it to the public. The above named remedy is nature's grand cure for Cholera, Dysentery and all summer complaints.

Mr. Wm. Hanson, of South Norwick, says: "For sixteen years I suffered from Biliousness, never had any medicine do me any permanent good until recommended by our druggists, (J. Wasky, Fish & Co., Otterville,) to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, which have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I would, with the utmost confidence, recommend them to all suffering from Biliousness, &c. Sold by J. D. Tully, at 50 cents a bottle."

SIMCOH STREET.

J. W. FLAVELLE.

A LONG FART.

A Young Woman Claims to Have Taken no Food for Three Months.

People in North St. Louis, Mo., are discussing a remarkable case, which, if the details are true, outvalues Dr. Tanner in point of fasting. Philippine Trangel lives with her brother at No. 129 Franklin street. She claims, and her friends substantiate her statement, that on Monday, Sept. 4, three months had elapsed since she had taken solid food. During all that time she has taken nothing but liquids, and she has not been able to retain these in her stomach at all.

She is a tall, thin person, with black hair, sunken eyes and extremely hollow complexion. She is rather this, but not so emaciated as would be expected. She said she was 25 years old. On being interviewed, she said that during the past three months she had not eaten a morsel of solid food but had taken for it. Sometimes she drank a good deal of water, and occasionally three or four cups of coffee at a time. At first she could not keep anything in her stomach, but after a few days she began to eat, but it was not long before she was again unable to keep anything in her stomach, and she has not been able to eat since.

Dr. C. H. Bower, one of the physicians who has attended the case, said that it was a most remarkable case, and that he had never heard of such a case before. He said the young woman had been under his charge forty days in all. He had not been able to make a satisfactory diagnosis of the case, but he thought the probable cause of the trouble was a rupture of the pyloric or food pipe of the stomach. He considered that she must die unless she gradually grew weaker. He did not think anything could be done for her.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

RETURNED.—Mrs. James Stewart has returned from her trip to the old in good health and spirits, having enjoyed herself immensely.

LOW WATER.—The water in the river from here to Lakeside has been unexpectingly low for the last few weeks, so that the steamer Cruiser has not been able to leave her wharf either to carry passengers or freight. Now this state of affairs is really too bad, who ever is to blame for it. It is a great loss to the proprietors of the Cruiser, as they have contracted to tow all Mr. Geo. Chalmers' stone work, piled on the shore of Clear Lake, to Lakeside; they have still 400 cords to bring down; in fact it is a loss to all concerned. What are they doing at Lakeside dam, and is Mr. Thos. Belcher aware that the water at Buckhorn is shut down tight. Old deer hunters inform your correspondent that the water in Buckhorn and Pigeon Lakes has not been so high for some years at this season of the year. We wish the authorities would give their attention to this matter.

BACK AGAIN.—Mr. Jas. E. Kearney of the Lakeside House, has just returned from running in West Michigan, Michigan, U. S. James looks well, and evidently has attended regularly to the inner man as he looks jolly and robust.

SHIMMIL MILLS.—The new machine capable of turning out 20,000 shingles per day, is running in tip top order under the expert management of W. J. Kearney and Brothers. William will now be able to keep up with the orders that have all along been pouring in from the States and all quarters. Kearney's motto is onward, all work will go play.

GRIST MILL.—Mr. Donald McLean, our energetic and obliging miller, has added to his mill a first class roller, from the Messrs. M. J. O. Gray, the manufacturers, Toronto, after the much wanted addition to the grist mill, the farmers will get more flour to their grinds and of a better quality. Mr. McLean engaged the services of Mr. W. Bates, a first class millwright from Peterborough, to place the roller in its proper position, and has also given the mill a thorough overhauling from top to bottom. So the farming community can now rest assured of getting better work done in future than was ever turned out before—Mr. McLean is bound not to be best in his line of business.

SHANTY.—Mr. Geo. Chalmers commenced last Monday with Shanty No. 1 in the Township of Metcalfe, where he laboured last year, having sent in a grant of land to the Township of Metcalfe, in a form that will not interfere with the Stationing and Transfer Committee or other Church Council was conceded and affirmed in order to promote union with the other Methodist bodies.

Germans for Winter.

A correspondent of the Marion Rural Home, writing on this subject, says: "All most plants, to have them do well in winter, must have special treatment during the summer months. Not all the varieties are good winter bloomers, but some kinds are to be specially recommended for that purpose. Plants lifted from the garden which have grown to a considerable size will disappoint you by taking a long time to recover from the effects of lifting, if they do at all. It is better to take young plants in summer. Then we have bloomers in November and all during the winter, until time to turn them out into the garden in spring for summer blooming. You want young, healthy plants to begin with, which set in pots of a small size, say two or three inches, shift occasionally but always use the next size, never making larger shifts. This course may make a little trouble for drying out, where there is no green-house for the small plants, but a shallow box to set them into with moss or sand packed around them and kept damp will prevent all this trouble. The object of the foregoing treatment is to obtain sturdy plants and to prevent premature blooming. Good winter-blooming geraniums can only be obtained in this way. Make the last shift in August for the largest-sized plants, the others in the months following. Scarlet requires larger pots than the other colors. Pink, salmon, and white thrive in a somewhat contracted space. Pinch out all flower-buds, until the plants are taken in for winter. Of all the geraniums, the blue and have some of the scented-leaved ones. They are everybody's pet, the thirty-growers, and sever bothered with insects of any description. The common rose, large rose, silver-leaved, and white pet are my choice. I have often been asked why geraniums do not bloom in winter. In nine cases out of ten, I find the trouble is a want of stimulants. A geranium will grow on earth and water alone, but will not bloom well. Deep soils is splendid for all house-plants. Soak the pots once a week in soap-suds; the drier the suds are the better. Drain and rise off with clear water and note the result."

Grand Millinery Opening at Turnbull & Gray's, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Millinery Opening.

Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co's millinery rooms were thrown open to-day for the Fall business. Their show rooms have been supplied with a complete assortment of French and English patterns bonnets and hats, and the latest styles in millinery, mantles, &c., for the season. Ladies are invited to inspect their goods, and we have no doubt that a view of their display will amply repay a visit to their show rooms.

Interesting Service.

A somewhat novel and interesting service was held at one of the railroad camps on Sunday, by members of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association. At the camp there are a number of Frenchmen, and the speaker addressed them, and his words were repeated to the assembly in French by an interpreter. The men could not join in singing the words of the hymns, but they hummed over the tunes in concert with the others. The service was an impressive one.

The Market.

There was about an average attendance on the market this morning, although the north side of the building was avoided, the sellers all taking positions where they would receive the benefit of the warm sun. There was very little change in the prices. Butter was selling at 25cts. for roll, and 22cts. for crock; eggs, 18cts.; potatoes, 90cts. per bag, apples, 50 to 60cts.; chickens 50cts. per pair. The grain market was almost unchanged. The price of wheat was a shade higher, $1.02 cts. being paid for a load of spring.

The Prophet Jeremiah.

The Rev. Joseph Wild, D. D., of Toronto, will lecture on the "Prophet Jeremiah's Visit to Ireland" in Bradburn's Opera House on the evening of Tuesday, the 3rd of October. Dr. Wild had an able reputation in the United States as a wide preacher and lecturer before he removed to Toronto, and the press of Ontario speak in very high terms of him. The Toronto Telegram says that, on ordinary occasions, the Bond street church is not large enough to hold all who flock to hear Dr. Wild, and that he holds the undivided attention of the large audience for an hour, and could do so much longer if he wished. Tickets, 25 cts.; reserved seats, 35 cts., can be secured at Menzies' bookstore.

Egyptian Mystery.

We understand that a Chapter of the A. & A. Egyptian Rite of Memphis, is to be established here, in Peterborough, on Thursday evening, the 28th September, and that the membership will be restricted to the most prominent and advanced masons in the District. Several members of distinction from a distance propose joining the Chapter which will be constituted by M. Ill. Bro. Dr. Ramsay 95° Grand Master, R. Ill. Bro. Lawrence, H. Henderson 95° Provincial Grand Master of Central Ontario, and E. Ill. Bro. J. Parker Thomas, Grand Orator. The First M. W. of the new Chapter will be Bro. C. D. Macdonald, P. D. D. G. M., Past Grand Z. of the Grand Chapter, Past Grand Sub. Prior of England and Wales, &c.

Our display of Trimmed Millinery is worth the inspection of every lady. Turnbull & Gray.

POLICE COURT.

SMALL AMOUNT OF BUSINESS.

TUESDAY, Sept. 26.—There was very little business before the Court this morning. A servant girl yesterday laid a complaint against her mistress for non-payment of wages, but the wages and costs were paid this morning and the charge withdrawn.

Bantamshire Pic-nic.

A pic-nic will be held in Henshaw's Grove on Thursday, October 5th. This pic-nic is under the auspices of the young men of Endiamore. The tickets will be 25 cents, everyone bringing his own basket, as there will be no table set. There will be dancing platforms and the choicest music.

You are cordially invited to inspect our Millinery and Mantles on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Turnbull & Gray.

The Hydrants.

Some of the hydrants for the waterworks have arrived, and are being put in position. One has been placed in front of Mr. McKee's drug store. It stands above the sidewalk, and is painted green and otherwise ornamented, so that the hydrant will prove ornamental to the streets as well as useful.

The Weather.

Last night there was a bright moon, but the weather was chilly. To-day is bright and warmer. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh easterly winds, fair weather and stationary or slightly higher temperature.

A Fine Organ.

The new organ for St. John's Church is now in position. It is situated in the chancel, on the West side, and presents a beautiful appearance. Prof. Ewing, of London, Eng., the organist, met his new choir last night at the church, in order to practice. This gentleman is a thorough musician, and is a great master of the organ. He speaks in glowing terms of the vocal abilities of the ladies and gentlemen comprising his choir, and we anticipate that St. John's church will at no distant day have one of the best choirs in this section of the country.

Lacrosse Trophies.

A number of lacrosse trophies are exhibited in Mr. H. LeBrun's window, and a beautiful display they make. The junior championship flag, which is now held by the Young Shamrocks of Montreal, and which will be played for by the Peterborough Club on Monday next, is among them. It is, indeed, a handsome flag, beautifully painted and trimmed with gold, and the staff itself is a valuable ornament. Two large silver bars cross the staff, on which the flag is suspended, and between them is a large silver maple leaf. Above this there are two silver lacrosse sticks crossed, and it is surmounted by a silver ball. The Glenelg Cup and the Central Ontario championship medal are also in the window, together with photographs of the Shamrock and Peterborough teams. The home club hope to retain this flag in Peterborough with the other trophies, by winning the championship on Monday, and the prospects are that they will put a strong team in the field. Lally, the famous Shamrock player, who has made the longest throw on record, will give an exhibition of his throwing on Monday on the field. Those who wish to witness a splendid game of lacrosse, in which some of the best Canadian players will take part, should not fail to see this match played on Monday, and the fact that the club has incurred considerable expense this season in bringing to the town the best clubs in the Dominion is an additional reason why there should be a large attendance to encourage them.

Beer Hunt at Lakeside.

On Saturday evening a deer hunt occurred at Lakeside that afforded considerable amusement to all but one who participated. A certain young man from Peterborough, who has only recently returned from the domains of Uncle Sam, rejoicing in the name of "Yankee Jack," was in the village, a guest at one of the hotels. Spying a number of fine bounds in the yard, he proposed a mock deer hunt, such as he used to take part in when "young and innocent on the farm." His suggestion was taken up by "Dick" Purser, better known to many as "Dick Dead-eye." An ox's leg was procured and roasted, and the aforesaid "Yankee Jack," after trying a string around the "seent," started away from the hotel trailing the leg after him. Away he went, among the lumber piles, pursuing a very devious path until he reached the swamp, and here his movements were more labored, but he managed to make good progress withal. The time agreed upon having expired, the bounds were set free, and at once catching the scent, they set off in full cry, eliciting terror into the hearts of all the innocent villagers, who supposed that a deer had passed through their quiet village. After a time the baying of the hounds ceased and all was still. "Yankee Jack" not returning in the course of an hour, a search party was formed, and after another hour's search, our hero was discovered up a tree, holding the odoriferous leg in one hand while he held his nose with the other, and the faithful dogs with wide open mouths kept watch below, and if "Jack" had not been rescued after the dogs had been chained up by "Dead-eye" and others, the probabilities are that he would still be surveying the swamp from his lofty perch. However, all's well that ends well, and we will undertake to wager a small amount that next time a mock hunt takes place in Lakeside, that the individual's name who carries the "seent" will not be "Yankee Jack."

The Recent Fire.
The Fire Committee held a meeting last evening, to investigate the cause of the delay in getting water at the recent fire. Members of the fire brigade, the engineer and others were examined, and the Committee will hold another meeting before the next meeting of the Council to prepare a report on the question.

POST HOP.
ARM BROKEN.—The Guide says that a student attending Trinity College School, named Cain, had his right arm broken on Saturday, while playing football on the school grounds. The same arm was broken in the same way in March last.

Personal to Men Only!
The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

LIVER COMPLAINT.—Is rather an indefinite term, as commonly understood it consists of a torpid sluggish state of the liver, a deficiency or a superabundance of bile, or an alteration from its proper character. All disturbed action of the liver and biliary organs giving rise to pain in the side, or under the shoulder blade, headache, weariness, dizziness, sick stomach, loss of appetite, bad bowels, &c., are promptly cured by Burdock Blood Bitters.

Among the most prevalent fatal and sudden attacks of diseases, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, &c., that often prove fatal in a few hours. That ever reliable remedy Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, should be at hand, for use in emergency.

A BOWANZ MINE of health is to be found in Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," to the merits of which as a remedy for female weakness and kindred affections thousands testify.

Thousands are being cured of Catarrh every year with Hall's Catarrh Cure, that the doctors had given up and said could not be cured. 75 cents a bottle.—For sale at John McKee, druggist.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL

Railway Notes.

Eight car loads of steel rails arrived on Wednesday for the Missing Link.

The Mail says that good work is being done along the line of the Ontario and Quebec railway, and there are indications that the road will be in operation at an early date.

Another Sale of House and Lot.

The brick dwelling house and lot on the corner of Stewart and Simcoe Streets, belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Donovan, will be sold by auction to-morrow, the 28th instant, together with all the household furniture contained therein. The sale will take place at one o'clock p. m.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending September 23rd, 1882, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $8,585.36; freight, $17,766.88; total, $26,352.24, as compared with $24,723.84 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $1,628.40; and the aggregate traffic to date is $744,800.81, being an increase of $166,588.56 over 1881.

The Washout.

The damage done to the drain at the corner of George and Hunter streets by the heavy shower last week caused considerable trouble to have it repaired. The Street Inspector has had men working at it over a week. The brick work was completed on Wednesday afternoon, and the work of filling in the excavation was continued after dark. A few loads of earth had to be drawn to fill the hole.

Harvest Festival.

The annual harvest festival services will be held in St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, on Friday, the 29th September. Tea will be served in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, at about 5 o'clock p. m. on the same day, at which there will no doubt be a pleasant time. At 8 o'clock the sermon will be preached by the Rev. John Farncomb, and the church will be decorated and music specially prepared for the occasion.

Fall Exhibitions.

The dates of the following fall fairs and exhibitions have been announced:—

Name.	Place.	Date.
West Riding	Peterborough	Oct. 3rd & 4th
East Riding	Norwood	Oct. 10th & 11th
Ennisboro & Co.	Lakefield	Sept. 28th & 29th
South Victoria	Lindsay	Sept. 29th & 30th
Ottawa	Keene	Oct. 10th
Burlington	Apsey	Oct. 11th
Carleton Place	Millbrook	Oct. 12th & 13th
S. Monaghan	Bathurst	Oct. 14th & 15th

The Weather.

The fall exhibitions this week have been favored with "Queen's weather," which is continued to-day, but there may be a change, as local rains are predicted. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fresh to strong easterly winds, clear to cloudy weather and stationary or slightly higher temperature.

The County Ploughing Match.

Messrs. F. Birdell, John Breakenridge and D. Forsyth, of the East Riding Society, and Messrs. Willan, Bennett and Scott, of the West Riding Society, have been appointed by their respective societies members of the committee for the management of the County ploughing match and with Mr. Stewart, Deputy Reeve of Otumbe, will constitute the directors. They will meet for organization and the making of the necessary arrangements in Peterborough on the show ground on Wednesday next.

Business.

On Wednesday five large packing cases and two boxes, standing in front of Mr. Dolan's store, attracted our attention. They were addressed to Collin's Inlet, via Collingwood, and were filled with goods for the Midland and North Shore Lumber Company, of which Mr. D. Ulyott, of Peterborough, is president. Mr. Stenson, also, has an order from this company for one hundred pairs of knee-boots for use in the shanties, besides a number of sheepskins and moccasins. This is a strong evidence of the enterprise of the business men of Peterborough, as showing that goods can be supplied here of such a quality and at such prices as will repay the company for the transportation of them over such a distance. Peterborough's trade with the north-western districts is just beginning, and will soon reach large proportions.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The show at Cobourg—Peterborough Exhibitors and Prize Winners.

The eighth central exhibition held at Cobourg this week was highly favoured in the matter of weather, and judging by the number of people present on the ground on Wednesday can hardly fail to prove a financial success. Otherwise, however, we regret to say, the exhibition was not so great a success as could have been desired. The number of animals and articles, except in horses and ladies work, &c., on exhibition was much below an average, and with the exception of horses was nothing more than one would expect to find at the ordinary county shows usually held at Cobourg. Although the number of competitors from this county was small, those who did compete succeeded in carrying off the following prizes:—

Miss MILLA, (Ashburnham), first prize for croquet work in cotton, cone work, fancy mits in wool and worked camp chair; and second prize for basket pears, fall pears, embroidery with net and muslin, lace work, cotton stockings and toilet set in cotton.

Mrs. S. McKIBBIN, (Smith), first prize for darning in net, embroidery in muslin, do. in cotton, do. in net and muslin, and second prize for croquet work in wool and Roman embroidery, and had recommended for prize, table cover, slipper case and slippers.

Miss F. DAVIDSON, (Smith), first prize for tating and second for creton work.

Mrs. W. RUTHERFORD, (South Monaghan), first prize for six pannels, distinct varieties on plates, and six asters, distinct varieties on plates, and second prize for plover Drummondii, six sinias and 26 cut flower annuals.

T. M. WILLAN, (South Monaghan), first prize for Earl Kent pears, and factory cheese.

Wm. BLEKARN, (Ottawa), first prize for Northern Spy apples and second prize for crab apples and citron melons.

Wm. RUTHERFORD, (South Monaghan), first prize for maple sugar and second for maple syrup.

STEPHEN PAYNE, (Peterborough), first prize for white onions from seed, and blood turnip roots and second for yellow seed and collection of onions.

GEMMELL & McKEN, (Peterborough), first prize for full cloth, checked or striped flannel, all wool, and blankets.

J. WHITE & Co., (Peterborough), first prize for plough for seed and second prize for reaper, sulky horse rake and plough for general purposes.

LIVE STOCK.—There were only two exhibits of animals from this county on the ground, viz., the single carriage horses of Messrs. Galvin and Bell, of Smith, but no award had been made at the time of writing.

West Riding Exhibition.

The annual exhibition of the West Riding Agricultural Society will open at the agricultural grounds, Peterborough, on Tuesday next. This fact should be borne in mind.

Trent Valley Canal.

A correspondent of the Belleville Intelligencer writing from Chisholm's Rapids, says:—

"The canal and locks that had their origin as early as the year 1837, are now being thoroughly overhauled to meet the demands for opening of the Trent Valley navigation, which will extend from the Bay of Quinte to Midland Bay, on Lake Huron. The completion of the works at Chisholm's Rapids is under the control of Mr. Theo. Croly, of Peterborough, the old veteran, well noted as an able and efficient man, a contractor of public works for many years. As far as Government works are concerned his superior knowledge and experience have always given satisfaction at headquarters."

The latest invention in Shoulder Braces, just received at "Habilitation Hall."

T. C. S. FOOTBALL CLUB.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I see in your issue of Tuesday evening that the secretary of our Football Club received an answer to our challenge, from the Trinity College school club, to play on our ground. Was refused on the ground that the Head Master would not allow the boys to come to Peterborough. Upon enquiring the reason for his not allowing them, I was informed that some person or persons had informed the Head Master that the boys did not behave themselves as gentlemen on their last visit to Peterborough. Being an old Trinity School boy and a member of the P. F. ball team, I feel jealous for the honor of both clubs, and can't allow such base insinuations to go unchallenged. On their last visit to Peterborough (as well as on several previous ones), the boys have had dinner at my own house, and I was present with them from the time they came on the field until they left on the train, and I, with other gentlemen who were at the dinner, can assure the Head Master that the conduct of the boys throughout was only such as was becoming to school boys and gentlemen.

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

AN EXPLOSION IN AN AMMUNITION TRAIN AT CAIRO

Believed to have been incendiary—17,000 British Troops to Remain in Egypt—The Country Returning to its Normal Condition—Incendiaries Arrested at Cairo.

WOLLEY'S INTENTIONS.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—General Wolley will not leave there until the urgent questions awaiting solution respecting court-martial, the withdrawal of the British troops, and the organization of the Egyptian army are settled.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—A train from Benta had arrived with the 60th rifles, when an ammunition wagon in the train exploded, killing a doctor who was in the train with the invalids, and some men, number unknown. The train was ignited, and the fire spread to the railroad depot which was quickly burned. The flames next reached the commissary depot, and thence extended to some British magazines which exploded. It was found impossible to prevent the reserve ammunition from being destroyed.

EFFECT OF THE EXPLOSION.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—Later news shows that the train with the 60th rifles arrived just as another was starting for Alexandria with trucks containing ammunition. The shells on one of the trucks exploded, scattering the shells all over the station and demolishing the end carriage of the Benta train, in which were a number of invalids. It is feared some soldiers and natives are buried among the debris. The engines are going forward, but the fire has spread so rapidly that it is hopeless to expect that anything of consequence will be saved. A truck with 800 rounds of ammunition has not yet exploded, rendering approach perilous. The whole of the commissary stores, the greater part of the forage, all hospital necessities, and large quantities of clothing have been destroyed. The loss is estimated at one hundred thousand pounds.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—Explosions of shells continue at intervals of less than half a minute, and the railway depot is now burning. A train caught fire, it is believed, by spontaneous combustion, owing to the exceptional heat.

RETURN OF THE INDIAN TROOPS.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—The Indian troops will return to India immediately.

THE CHANNEL SQUADRON.
ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 28.—The British channel squadron, which reinforced Admiral Seymour previous to the bombardment of Alexandria, has sailed for Malta. It is believed the squadron will now resume its station in the English Channel.

COST OF THE WAR.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—It has now been definitely ascertained that the expenses and losses through the war were less than was expected, the provincial treasures being fairly filled.

ORDER TO HAVE A WORD.
LONDON, Sept. 28.—Greece proposes to send a delegate to sit in the commission at Alexandria to determine the indemnity to be paid to foreign residents for their losses by the bombardment and pillage at Alexandria. Austria and Italy consent to admit Greece to the deliberation, and England and Germany are disposed to agree.

TO REMAIN IN EGYPT.
LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Times says it has been decided to retain for the present 12,000 men in Egypt to carry on and consolidate the work for which the suppression of Arabi does little more than clear the way.

DISPLAY OF FORCE UNNECESSARY.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—The authorities consider the country generally so rapidly returning to its normal condition that further display of force in the provinces is unnecessary.

THE EXPLOSION IN THE TRAIN.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—The explosion at the railway station yesterday continued during brief intervals for over three hours. By the energetic efforts of the military, although they were hampered by lack of pumping gear, the fire was prevented from spreading and was finally gotten under control. The passenger station was saved, but all the freight sheds, containing ten days provisions for the army and 200 trucks of ammunition, was destroyed. It is reported that five men were killed and twenty wounded. The railway officials express the belief that the fire was incendiary. They noticed that two trucks on two separate lines blazed up simultaneously. Some attribute it to an accidental blow on a percussion shell.

INCENDIARIES ARRESTED.
CAIRO, Sept. 28.—The troops patrolled the streets last night. During the fire at the railway station yesterday two men with torches were seized while endeavoring to fire the adjacent quarter of the town.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

THE DANUBE COMMISSION.
BUDAPEST, Sept. 28.—The Russian officials at Kilia, near the mouth of the Danube, are taking soundings, notwithstanding the strange of the international commission. The Russian Government has arranged that Russians shall perform police duty instead of the employees of the commission. In consequence of these infractions, a meeting of the commission has been postponed.

DILLON'S RETIREMENT.
LONDON, Sept. 28.—It is understood that Messrs. David and Dillon have explicitly denied that any difference exists between the latter and Mr. Parnell. Mr. Dillon resigns solely because of ill health, and there are hopes in the party that he may be able to resume his duties after a year's absence.

A COUNSEL DEAD.
DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—Mr. Gerald Fitzgibbon, who was prominent among the counsel for the defence in the State trials in 1845, is dead.

COMPLIMENT TO THE JEWS.
ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—Gen. Todleben, speaking at Wilna, publicly expressed his belief in the Jewish people and their contributions to the Jewish members of that municipality, and hoped that their advice would be taken as readily as that of the Christians.

CONSTRUCTING TORPEDOES.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 28.—The construction of 200 Berdan torpedoes has been ordered to be hastened, and all other work at the arsenal is to give place to this work.

AGRARIAN MURDER.
DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—James Hickey was murdered near Templemore, county Tipperary. The brother of a family lately evicted are arrested on suspicion.

AMERICAN.
CHOLERA IN MEXICO.
MEXICO, Sept. 28.—Cholera or cholera morbus is raging in the State of Chiapas. Twenty-eight deaths have occurred in Uxila, with a population of 50,000, in one day. A similar disease, less violent, appears in that region every year caused by the cutting of dye-wood.

DAKOTA LANDS.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Secretary of the Interior has decided to reopen for settlement a large tract of agricultural land of ten million acres in Northern Dakota, which was withdrawn from settlement several years ago by Secretary Schurz.

UP IN A BALLOON.
MILFORD, Mass., Sept. 28.—A balloon escaped this morning with Prof. Allen in the basket. Preparations for a journey had not been completed, and the valves were not in working order. When last seen the balloon was passing east of Douglas, going southwest.

MINNESOTA POLITICS.
ST. PAUL, Sept. 28.—The Republican State Committee has decided not to call a convention, but in view of the apparently unanimous desire of the party, has nominated James Giffallen as Chief Justice. This is the only State office voted for this fall.

GREELY'S ARCTIC STATION.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The chief signal officer says there is no ground for fear that Greely's party at the Lady Franklin station will not be sufficiently provisioned. He thinks that Greely's men have been down to the point reached by the Neptune before this, and got their mails from the coaches. He says there are large quantities of food available to Greely, having been left by a previous expedition. He thinks there is no doubt the ice will be open next year. If not, a relief party will be sent up from the farthest point the relief party will be able to reach by steamer.

MALE DUELLISTS.
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28.—This morning Melissa Power and Addie Johnson, young women, fought with knives about a young man, Melissa secured and Addie lies in a critical condition.

DESPERATE GAOI DELIVERY.
OIL CITY, Pa., Sept. 28.—Five bandits, who two months ago robbed the express office at Greenville, Pa., and were afterwards captured at Oil City after a desperate street fight and confined to the Mercer Gaol to await their trial next week, escaped to-day. The desperadoes seized Marshal Hughes while he was guarding the inner court of the gaol, bound him head and foot and gagged and confined him in a cell, after which, with the aid of their revolvers, they forced fifteen prisoners into their cells. Then as the turnkey entered with the gaol physician, they seized him both and locked them up. Securing the keys, they opened the doors and passed out to the sheriff's quarters, captured the sheriff's wife and the cook and locked them up so as to prevent an alarm being given, after which they made their escape. They are very desperate characters, and are supposed to be among the best cracksmen in the country. A reward of $500 is offered for their apprehension.

THE VICE-REGENT TOUR.
VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 28.—On Wednesday the Agricultural Show was opened by His Excellency and the Princess. Three thousand persons were present. To-morrow the party go to New Westminster, where a popular reception awaits them. The Princess returns to Victoria on Saturday to await the arrival of the Marquis who visits the interior of the Province. The Princess's health is much improved. Yesterday, in reply to an address of the Agricultural Association, the Marquis advised the people to accept any labour which offers to secure the speedy construction of the railway to the Pacific. He added that he had just received a telegram from the President of the Canada Pacific Railway announcing the final adoption of the Kicking Horse Pass, and the intention to complete the Canada Pacific by 1st January, 1897.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1882.

NO PARALLEL.

We are told that Mr. Mowat's lawlessness in leaving an eleventh part of Ontario unrepresented for a third of the year in the Provincial Legislature finds a parallel in the fact that Sir John Macdonald has not yet declared for which seat he will sit in the House of Commons, Lennox or Carleton. These two constituencies did Sir John Macdonald and themselves the honor of electing him as their representative, and we are sure that the people of both of them feel that they are not unrepresented, and that their interests are as safe under his guardianship as under that of any other member they could choose. Neither law nor custom requires him to make an immediate choice, which will be declared in due time. Mr. Mowat, on the other hand, deliberately broke the law and violated the constitution by leaving eight constituencies without any representatives charged with the care of their local interests, simply because he could not make up his mind to face the people till driven to do so.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Irish Canadian, in reference to Mr. Crook's latest blunder, puts the case in a nutshell. It says:—

"Those who arrange the high school programmes would do well to qualify themselves for their task before putting parents to the expense of purchasing books which are worse than useless for the purpose in view. It is desirable that our school books should be moral, but parents have a right to demand that those at the head of affairs should inspect these books before compelling the waste of thousands of dollars in their purchase."

THE Independent Toronto Telegram, discussing the grounds for assailing the Mowat administration, says:—

"As strong a ground as any is the policy of centralization which the Ontario Government has followed, thus diminishing the powers of the municipalities, while raising an outcry against the Dominion Government for doing the same thing as regards the provinces."

Mr. Mowat will find that public opinion is not with him in belittling our municipal institutions and curtailing our rights of local self-government.

In the eight constituencies, to which Mr. Mowat is at last deigning to allow representatives, the Conservatives are preparing zealously and hopefully for this preliminary contest, in spite of the fact that the elected members will only fill their seats for one session before the general election takes place.

Why cannot Mr. Wood, the Treasurer of Ontario, find time to keep his appointments to meet the Treasurer of Quebec in regard to the unsettled accounts between the two provinces? Is all his time engrossed in aiding Mr. Mowat to keep the question of the Ontario boundary from being finally settled by a competent court? Whatever their reasons, Mr. Mowat and his colleagues are preventing Ontario from obtaining either the money or the land to which we are rightfully entitled.

License Inspectors.

Mr. D. B. Chisholm, of Hamilton, one of the most earnest and devoted temperance men in Canada, is reported to have said the following language in reference to the licensing system under the Crooks Act in a speech delivered on Sunday, the 17th inst. in Hamilton:

"It was the greatest fraud ever perpetrated upon a country. He said that the whole licensing system was bad, but the Crooks Act was worse than any other license system; it was a fraud of the worst class. In its workings it was a political machine. The Inspector of Licenses, Mr. Mackenzie, was appointed, not because of his fitness for the office, but because of his politics. He was totally unfit for the position, being too big and too high to attend to the duties of the office, while drunkards ran riot throughout the city."

Some ardent political advocates, who think more of their party than they do of their temperance principles, have been trying to weaken the force of the truthful statement made by Mr. Chisholm, by elaborate explanations, etc. They may explain till doomsday. The correctness of the statement cannot be controverted, as every man in this city and county can testify. Witness the blackmaling of some of the applicants here, and the disappointment as a Commissioner of the blackmaller's brother, after the facts were known, and the whole thing a public scandal. What did the Mowat Government care for that provided the services of unscrupulous political partisans would be secured to do the work of the party? Let us hope that the time is fast approaching when this power will be taken from such men as now misgovern Ontario, and given into the hands of the municipalities, where it legitimately belongs.—Bellefleur Intelligencer.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

VALUABLE MEDICINE.

Dr. W. H. Horsford, Toledo, O., says: "I have perceived the 'acid' in a large variety of diseases, and have been amply satisfied that it is a valuable addition to our list of medicinal agents."

RAILWAY RATES.

The Globe finds fault with the C. P. R. rates because, though they are lower than the winter tariff of the Grand Trunk, the tariff of the latter is inordinately high. This looks very like a desire on the part of the Globe to find fault merely for the sake of fault finding. Not one hundredth part of the uproar that has been raised regarding the C. P. R. rates has been provoked in many years by the Grand Trunk tariff. Even men who have paid the winter rates of the Ontario road for years without any idea of extortion entering their heads, when they come to the Northwest join the hue and cry against the Canadian Pacific Railway. There ought to be some pretence at all events of justice in criticising the rates of the C. P. R., and there can be none when people complain of lower rates than they have in other places paid without grumbling. The rates of the Manitoba road are such that they can afford to pay 25 per cent. and it is believed divert large sums as well from the revenue account to pay for construction. These rates may be too high, but the question arises: What is to be considered a fair return to a railway company for the money which its shareholders have invested? A tradesman is not satisfied with less than twenty-five per cent. and yet he grumbles at a railway company making five per cent. There is not a railway company on the continent whose rates are not grumbled at by some one or other, and yet the average dividend on the railway system of the continent is not one per cent. People have become so accustomed to railway companies cutting each other's throats for the benefit of the public at the expense of the shareholders that the public has come to regard it as one of the prerogatives of the railway to carry goods at less than cost. Railways have a right to having profits as well as tradesmen. Dealers in dry goods may condemn the rates charged by railway companies, but it is another very different thing to justify a lip-ready condemnation. The announcement that the Syndicate will protect the farmlands by reducing the proportionate cost of hauling, shows that the Syndicate appreciate the danger of overcharging and evince a desire to do all that they can to secure to the settler a full measure of the result of this industry. Perhaps the best way to allay the feeling of discontent is for the Government and the Syndicate to consent to the appointment of a commission on rates composed of practical and independent men.—Winnipeg Sun.

THE SCOTCH SMOKE.

Sir Walter Scott died in 1832—just half a century ago. His writings have been read by hundreds of thousands of readers, and he has always been looked upon as a man clean in mind and pure in thought. It remained for the head of the Education Department of Ontario to discover, fifty years after the novelist's death, that his tendencies were vicious and his writings immoral. Public opinion of Sir Walter will therefore have to be revised and henceforth he will take his place side by side with the other bad men who have written bad books and corrupted the morals of the people. He is a sort of Scotch Faust, and so doubt much of the licentiousness of the age is owing to the demoralizing effect of his novels. It is well that the discovery has been made, as men and women have been reading the productions of this wicked man's pen for seventy years, and other men and women would have gone on reading them for seventy years to come were it not for the providential discovery that has been made. Byron was bad, of course, and everybody knows it; but everybody was not aware of the true character of the Scotch Zola. It may be said that classical literature is full of worse things than Sir Walter Scott ever wrote; but that makes no difference in the world, as two blacks do not make a white. The next step to be taken to preserve the morals of our people from the contaminating influence of Scott's productions would seem to be to prevent the importation of his works through the custom house. Stern measures must be taken at once, else the foundations of public and private virtue will go to pieces. The present is a highly moral age, and while Scott's writings may have been enough for our grandfathers' grandchildren. One of the finest monuments piled in the world is the monument erected to the memory of Sir Walter Scott in Edinburgh. That it will be torn down by an indignant and devoted people when they discover Scott's true character and learn that the educational authorities of Ontario have put the ban upon his writings, may be taken for granted, as the descendants and followers of Calvin and Knox cannot afford to be less moral than the colonists of Canada. As for the novelists of Abbotford, he ought to have been ashamed of himself, and no doubt he is doing penance now for the blow he has struck at the morality of his readers by writing "Marmion." No person can henceforth have any respect for him. It is probably just as well that he is dead, else he might be mobbed and torn to pieces by an indignant people, headed by the educational authorities of the Province of Ontario.—Toronto Telegram.

CAMPELLORE.

CHANGED HIS POSITION.—The Herald says that Mr. W. H. McKel, of this village, who has acted in the capacity of overseer of bridges and culverts, on the Midland Railway, has resigned that position for the foremanship on the Murray Canal.

BUILDING.—The ruins in the new Methodist Church building have been removed, and the rafters have been replaced and the roof sheathed. The roof of the tank has also been put on, and the carpenters and afterwards the plasterers, glaziers, painters, upholsterers, cleaners, scrubbers and sweepers of both buildings will hasten on and finish up their work.

ARMING FROM THE ARMY.—The ruins of Mr. Williams' planing mill had scarcely become cold when he set to work and procured new material for a new building. Already he has the frame work up and the building inclosed. In a few days the inside work will be far enough advanced to admit of some machinery and tools. Mr. Williams is a persevering, and seems able to contend with any difficulty, whether it comes from men or other influences.

Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

Just opened out, Mens and Youths' Football Jerseys, at "Habilliment Hall."

Transformation of Oats into Rye.

Mr. A. Nix, who resides on lot 2 in the 2nd concession of Seymour, laid upon our table, on Tuesday, a sample of rye which he claims grew from the roots of oats. Two seasons ago, Mr. Nix broke up a piece of sod ground and sowed it with White Spanish Oats, intending to use the growth thereof for cattle feed. After the oats had grown to a considerable height, he cut them down. They grew again and he cut them down a second time. While he was cutting them the third time he remembered having read in the Canadian Farmer, many years ago, of a man who had sown the same kind of oats and had treated them the same as he had, and as a result he was successful in finding a crop of rye. Mr. Nix tried the experiment this year. The oats stubble put forth shoots last spring and grew up as before, until finally there developed a crop of rye. The rye was cut and threshed, and the sample of rye which he laid upon our table, being 6 feet 9 inches high. The question may be seen at this office or at Mr. Nix's farm.—Campbellford Herald.

BILIOUSNESS.—A furred tongue, bad taste in the mouth, nausea vomiting, variable appetite, alternate diarrhoea and constipation, fatigues, weariness, yellow cast of eyes and countenance, indicates serious biliary trouble. Jaundice is a dangerous disease, it is an overflow of bad bile in the circulation, any of these symptoms should be remedied without delay, and Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy upon which you may surely rely.

DAVEY & CLARK, Druggists, Renfrew, writes on June 3rd: "We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purpose for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bile complaints incident to Summer and Fall.

A SINGLE BOX of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy will kill a thousand worms, and is as pleasant to take as the most delicious candy. It does not create nausea, and can be given without a particle of apprehension of doing injury.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Police Court.
The was another blank at the Police Court this morning. The cells have been empty for some time.

Supplying the Shanties.

The lumbermen procure a great deal of their supplies in Peterborough. McCulloch & Co. have received an order for fifty pairs of knee boots for use by the shanty men, belonging to a firm in Hamilton.

The Weather.
The weather continues clear and sunny. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh easterly to southerly winds, fair to cloudy weather, possibly a few local showers, and stationary or slightly higher temperature.

An Uproar.
On Thursday evening, as Mr. Michael Mahoney was driving up George street with a load of hay, one of the front wheels came off at the corner of Simcoe street, and let the axle fall to the ground, upsetting the load of hay and bringing the driver hurriedly to the ground. A chain was procured and fastened to the binder, and the hay drawn back by the horses to its place. The wheel was then replaced and Mr. Mahoney proceeded on his way.

Correction.
Owing to a blunder of the compositor an error appeared in the prize list of the Central Exhibition in last evening's issue, by which Mr. P. Hamilton's and Messrs. J. Whyte & Co.'s exhibits were confounded. They are now given correctly, as follows:—
"J. Whyte & Co., (Peterborough), first prize for plough for general purposes.
"Peter Hamilton, (Peterborough), first prize for plough for sod and second prize for reaper, sulky horse rake and plough for general purposes."

The Flames Again.
The proverbial third fire came on Thursday evening, though, happily, it was less destructive than the two previous ones. At a few minutes after nine o'clock the stable of Mr. Robert Walton, on Brock street, was seen to be in flames, and the alarm was at once given. The firemen turned out promptly, and in about fifteen minutes after the fire was discovered, and in less time after the alarm bell sounded, the water was thrown on the flames from one branch and soon another branch was added. But the stable, built of wood and was highly inflammable, and although the fire was checked by the firemen when they arrived from spreading among the wooden buildings connected with the stable, it had burned Mr. Walton's stable, and three other stables in the rear of it. One of the other stables belonged to Mr. Wm. Toole. There was not much in the building, but there was no insurance on it. The other was owned by Mr. S. F. Allen, and was occupied by the Rev. J. W. Butcher, but there was not much in it besides a quantity of straw. Mrs. Ellen Rodgers occupied the third one, which was owned by Mr. John Delaney, and she had removed some of her furniture into it while the house was being repaired, and it was all destroyed. She had no insurance on it, and will feel her loss keenly. Mr. Walton, who is away from home, was the heaviest loser. In his stable he had stored a new top phaeton and a covered buggy, besides sleighs and a large quantity of articles which he had stored there since he retired from business, and a quantity of hay, harness, etc. The building was insured, but on the contents there was no insurance, and the loss will be heavy. The origin of the fire is not known. It was first seen burning in the left at the end of Mr. Walton's stable, and either started there or between that stable and the one occupied by Mrs. Rodgers.

The Fire Alarm.
The bell rope of the fire alarm broke on Thursday night after a few strokes had been given. The damaged rope was repaired to-day.

Lacrosse Meeting.
A meeting of the committee of the Lacrosse Club will be held this evening, to choose the team and complete the details of the arrangements for the game with the Young Shamrockians on Monday.

That Way.
The celebrated lecturer, Rev. Dr. Vincent, will deliver his lecture on the above subject in the George Street Methodist Church, next month. Further particulars will be given next week.

The Race.
The Port Hope papers publish the score made at the East Durham Rifle Association match last week, in which the names of (of Peterborough marksmen appear. In the all comers match they made the following score:—Lieut. Sanderson, 21 (the highest); M. Barrie, 18; R. H. Smith, 16. Association match:—Lieut. Sanderson, 26 (highest); R. H. Smith, 26. Military match—Lieut. Sanderson, 46 (highest); M. Barrie, 25; D. Gladman, 12.

Railway Notes.
The Lindsay Worker says that the trains on the Whitty division of the Midland railway have been changed somewhat as to time and headquarters. The programme now is very sparsely the old plan, and considerably more convenient for those in the north country, giving them a much longer time in Lindsay than formerly.

The Globe says that Messrs. Hugh Ryan, Perth, and Hugh D. Lamden, of the Quebec and Ontario Railway, were in Kingston on Monday conferring with the Kingston and Pembroke Railway Company in regard to crossings and connections. The work of the Ontario and Quebec Railway is pushing along rapidly. Hundreds of men are employed upon the line near Sharnbott Lake.

The Mander Contradicted.
We give the following from the Port Hope Times in regard to the disgraceful slander on the volunteers which appeared in the News:—
"We are authorized by Mr. James O'Neill to state that the assertion made by the News last week, that he had thrashed one of the volunteers at the station here on the morning of the 10th inst., for insulting his wife on the platform at the G. T. R., is absolutely false. He neither had any altercation with a member of the volunteer force nor any one else; nor did he strike one of them or any person. Mrs. O'Neill was with him at the station on the morning in question, but was not insulted by any one. Mr. O'Neill further states the volunteers behaved themselves decently and properly, as far as he could see, at the station here. This is but a sample of how much reliance can be placed on the utterances of our contemporary when an object can be served by scattering abroad false statements; the object in this instance being, first, the belittling of the volunteer force, and second, to cast a slur on the Government. Surely the cause that requires the fabrication of such bare-faced falsehoods is a very poor one."

The latest invention in Shoulder Braces, just received at "Habillment Hall."

Rite of Memphis.
The A. & A. Egyptian Rite of Memphis, a Masonic body that has been growing very rapidly in Canada, and which numbers among its members a large proportion of the most prominent Masons the world over—the late Gen. Garibaldi having been at the time of his death the Grand Hierophant or Supreme Grand Master of the Rite—which is perhaps the most extensively diffused of all the Masonic rites, was introduced into Peterborough by the formation last night of Benish Rose Croix Chapter, No. 10, which was constituted by M. H. Bro. Robert Ramsey 96° Grand Master, assisted by B. H. Bro. Lawrence H. Henderson 95° Provincial Grand Master, Eastern Ontario, B. H. Bro. E. H. D. Hall, Provincial Grand Master, Central Ontario, and B. H. Bro. J. Parker Thomas 95° Grand Orator. The following officers were, after the constitution of the Chapter, duly installed by the Grand Officers:—
V. H. Bro. Charles D. Macdonald, 96°.....M. W.
V. H. Bro. R. P. Boucher, 96°.....S. W.

POST NOTE.
THE ASSEMBLY.—The News says that the assessors have just concluded their labors in connection with assessment for the taxes of 1883. The population has been found to be 5,440, being 73 less than last year. The assessed value of all facts up to $1,490,235, being $22,185 in excess of last year, and is principally in personal property and income. There were 1,499 assessments, an excess of twenty over last year.

IN MEMORIAM.—A meeting of citizens was held on Thursday, in the Mechanics' Institute, to take into consideration the advisability of erecting a public monument to the memory of the late Henry Ross. Mr. G. B. Fisher was appointed chairman of the meeting, pro tem, and Mr. Preston was appointed Secretary. The proposition to take steps to erect the monument was adopted most heartily. It was resolved that the project should be non-sectarian and non-political. After discussing as to the best means to adopt to attain the desired success, a general committee was appointed, with power to add to their number, to take such proceedings as deemed most desirable for the purpose of securing public subscriptions towards the erection of a monument to the memory of the deceased.

The Wild Strawberry plant possesses rare virtues as a cleansing, cooling, astringent, antiseptic, and healing medicine, and when combined with other valuable vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it is an unfailing remedy in all Bowel complaints.

For a serviceable set of Winter Underclothing, try "Habillment Hall."

All the People of the Dominion of Canada are Concerned.

Here are some more of the many hundreds of the leading people in the Dominion of Canada who have been cured of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung Disease by Dr. Souville's Spirometer and Instrument, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the seat of disease. Read and judge for yourself.

Several of my family and friends have been cured of bronchitis, asthma and catarrh by using the Spirometer. John P. Whelan, Manager of Post and True Witness, Montreal. Mr. C. Mill, Montreal, catarrh and bronchitis. Mr. DeBoucherville, of the Indian Department, Ottawa, catarrh of many years, now cured; Mr. Geo. Ager, Ottawa, catarrh and lung disease, cured by the Spirometer. Thomas Telfer, 19 Marinda street, Toronto, asthma; aged, Mr. Benj. A. Drake, St. Urbain street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Perreault, who suffered from asthma and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured.

Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease.

I have no hesitation in saying Dr. Souville's Spirometer will cure catarrh and bronchitis, John C. Fleming, Editor of Post and True Witness, Montreal.

The above is sufficient to convince the public of the merits of the Spirometer. The instrument will be presented to any address. Call or write, enclosing stamps for reply, to the International Throat and Lung Institute 75 Yonge street, Toronto, Dr. M. Souville and a competent body of English and French physicians always in attendance. Every information given. Physicians and sufferers can try the Spirometer free at the office.

The firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes on June 1st, saying: "There is not such preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction." Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood Liver and Kidneys.

Mr. Wm. Ransom, of South Norwalk, says: "For sixteen years I suffered from Biliousness, never had any medicine do me any permanent good until recommended by our druggist, (J. Wesley Fish & Co., Ottawa, Ill.) to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, which have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I would, with the utmost confidence, recommend them to all suffering from Biliousness, &c. Sold by J. D. Tully, at 50 cents a bottle."

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

THE TRIALS BY COURT MARTIAL OF THE REBELS COMMENCED.

Three incendiaries arrested at Cairo—An investigation ordered into the cause of the explosion—The Khedive will not change the sentences.

AN INVESTIGATION ORDERED.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Government have telegraphed to Cairo ordering an investigation to be made into the cause of the explosion there yesterday, and that the result of the inquiry be promptly reported.

HOME AGAIN.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 29.—The transport Carthage has arrived at Portsmouth with eleven officers and 101 men wounded at Tel-el-Kebir. Five wounded died on the passage.

UNWILLING TO ACCEPT A PEEAGE.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Admiral Seymour is personally unwilling to accept his elevation to the peerage.

THE COURT-MARTIAL.

CAIRO, Sept. 29.—Among the Egyptian officers named as members of the court-martial for the trial of the rebel leaders are Osman Bey, who was commander of the artillery at Damietta under Abdallah Pasha, and other confederates of Arabi. The English authorities are highly displeased at the selection of these officers for this duty. Arabi has demanded to be defended by the court martial by English counsel.

A STERN EXAMPLE.

CAIRO, Sept. 29.—The Khedive told the Duke of Connaught that if the court martial condemned the rebel leaders to death he would not interfere, knowing the necessity of making a stern example of the instigators of the revolt.

THREE ARRESTS.

CAIRO, Sept. 29.—Shortly after the explosion an Arab was caught throwing a can of petroleum into a burning wagon, another was discovered lighting a fire under the train, and a third was arrested for inciting the natives to massacre.

DEATHS BUT NOT SUBDUED.

CAIRO, Sept. 29.—Many natives go about shouting with delight over the explosion here on Thursday, and crying "this is the peoples' bid for liberty by the people in honor of the Khedive's infidelity."

THE TRIALS COMMENCED.

CAIRO, Sept. 30.—The courts martial commenced to-day.

TRICKS OF THE DETECTIVES.

This case fairly illustrates the ingenuity exercised by American detectives in bringing criminals to justice:—

Justice Willis, who set fire to a house at Putnam, R. I., was caught with difficulty. There was at first only a detective's vague suspicion against him, resting upon no evidence. It would not have been done to arrest him, for he was a man of good standing, and so much of a politician that he expected to go to the next State Legislature. A plot was therefore laid to make him convict himself. A woman was sent to board in the same house with him. She pretended to be a book canvasser. After gaining his confidence, she told him that she really belonged to a gang of thieves, who had a large amount of Government bonds to sell. Willis eagerly proposed to act as agent for the purpose. He went with the woman to Boston, where she introduced him to several men who personated the band of robbers. They affected to doubt his sincerity. Fearing that he was about to miss a profitable bit of business, he tried to win their confidence by telling them of the crimes he had committed. He had stolen from various persons, and once in a bank, while counting money alongside a man who was doing the same, he slyly clasped the other's pile on his own, and it was supposed that a sneak thief had disappeared with the missing notes. This exploit apparently delighted the rogues (it turns out to be a true story), and they led him into a confession of the larceny. A consoling short-hand writer took down all he said, and his arrest followed.

AUSTRIAN AFFAIRS.

VIENNA, Sept. 29.—The Herzegovina insurrection is assuming serious dimensions. Bands of insurgents several thousand strong are engaging the Austrian troops between Borsjevo and Kowina.

THE COMET.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—According to the budget of the Financial Department for 1893 the revenues from indirect taxes for the financial year of 1893 exceeded the estimate by 9,778,000 rubles.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS.

VIENNA, Sept. 29.—Advices from Presburg report the occurrence of anti-Jewish riots at that place. The mob broke the windows of many houses occupied by the Jews. The military finally restored order after making forty arrests. The rioters are confined to barracks. The Ministry have placed the Presburg district under martial law. The rioters in Presburg declare that what they have done is merely a prelude to what is coming. The shops and warehouses of the Jews were forced open and plundered. The rioters offered obstinate resistance to the military, some of them seizing the soldiers' bayonets. Similar excesses were committed in the neighbouring town of Blumenthal, where 30 persons were arrested. Several hundred Jews have fled to Vienna.

CENTRAL AFRICA.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—By the treaty with King Batoka France is expected to gain control of the Congo country. King Leopold, in a letter to De Lamoignon, has recognized this as an accomplished fact. The French papers represent Stanley as having tried to supplant the French and demand the immediate ratification of the treaty. One of the objects of M. M. Stanley's journey to Brussels is to endeavour to secure for the International African Association a portion of the territory of King Batoka which was ceded to France, owing to the energy of the Frenchman Delbrazza, who arrived on the spot just before Stanley. France has not yet ratified the treaty with the King.

TO BE HANGED.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.—The brother of Walsh, who was hanged recently at Galway, has been found guilty as accessory to the murder of Constable Kavanagh at Lifford. The jury recommended mercy on account of the youth of the prisoner. The jury also recommended Walsh to the mercy of the Court because there was no positive evidence that he actually fired the shot which caused Kavanagh's death. The prisoner, very eloquent, and deeply and loudly that the witnesses for the prosecution had given false evidence. The judge sentenced him to be hanged on Oct. 28. His Lordship said he would forward the jury's recommendation to the proper quarter, but he could hold out no hope to the prisoner that it would be acted upon. Walsh again became greatly excited and cried out that justice would yet overtake his false accusations.

LONDON'S LORD MAYOR.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Henry Edmund Knight, Alderman of Cripplegate Ward, has been elected Lord Mayor of London.

The values of exports of domestic and foreign merchandise from the United States during the twelve months ending Aug. 31, 1892, were $732,038,772, and for the twelve months ended Aug. 31, 1891, $694,717,454.

IRON STRIKE ENDED.

WHEELING, Sept. 29.—All the mills signed the scale to-day, and by Monday next all the iron mills in this district will be in full operation.

STEAMSHIP ASHORE.

CAPE HENRY, Va., Sept. 29.—A steamer bound from Philadelphia to Cuba is ashore at No. 8 Life Saving Station.

Tricks of Memory.

The mistakes sometimes caused in writing by the influence of association are not unworthy of philosophic attention. Sir A. Alison's insertion of the name of Sir Peregrine Pickle, instead of that of Sir Peregrine Maitland, is an instance often quoted. Not long since a writer in one of the city journals called Lord Danvers Lord Dundreary, and a few days ago another had as a heading in a news column the "Leigh Hunt Expedition," the "Leigh Hunt Expedition" being obviously intended. The strangest instance of which we have heard of the effect of the recurrence of phrases in some points resembling that on which the mind is supposed to be engaged was that of an Anglican clergyman, who, when on his way to church on a saint's day, heard a sermon inviting a crowd to imprison his collection of curious animals. At the close of each section the keeper of the small menagerie emphasized his remarks by repeating the words, "Alive, alive, all alive, O!" After taking his place at the lectern, the clergyman, with this formula, as out of harmony with his surroundings still ringing in his ears, began to read. The sentence he selected was the first in the prayer-book: "When the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive (Ezek. xviii. 27)." As he came to the last word which chimed in with the showman's address, before he could check himself, he added the refrain, "Alive, alive, all alive!"—of course, to the utter astonishment of his congregation, who thought he had taken leave of his senses. A collection of instances of such tricks of memory, both in writing and speaking, would not be devoid of interest.—Gazette.

TO SAVE A LIFE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Chas. Schmidt, of Bethlehem Centre, Albany County, was found sick in a street yesterday. He took poison because he was swindled in a horse trade. The swindler, hearing of the attempted suicide, refunded the money.

NEW YORK POLITICS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The headquarters of the Democratic State Committee opened yesterday. Cleveland's letter of acceptance is expected on Monday. After its receipt a live work of canvass will be begun. The committee of the anti-Monopolists had a talk with Cleveland at Buffalo and report a letter of acceptance containing strong anti-Monopoly policies. The General remains away, although he promised in the letter of acceptance to come up on the anti-Monopoly question.

A MIXED MARRIAGE.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The other day John Terrow, a surgeon of the army, married Maggie Duncan, a Presbyterian. There was a Presbyterian marriage ceremony, one performed by the Priest and the other by a Presbyterian minister. A sensation was caused by an article in a paper denouncing the groom for submitting to the Presbyterian ceremony. It is stated that the Priest who performed the Catholic ceremony will bring the matter officially before the Archbishop.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 29.—An opinion was rendered by the Illinois Supreme Court yesterday in a case involving the question of the power of the State Legislature to regulate the rate charged by railroads for freight carried to points outside of Illinois, and whether the Act prohibiting unjust discrimination in such rates is not in contravention of the Constitution of the United States. The case was one wherein a sixty-six per cent. larger rate was charged on the haul from Gilman to New York than on the haul from Peoria to New York, though the distance from Peoria is greater by 86 miles. The Court holds that the charge is unjust, excessive, exorbitant, and unlawful, and upholds the authority of the Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners to regulate the freight rate charged from points in Illinois to points outside the state.

A PREMATURE BLAST.

NEWBURN, Sept. 30.—Near Cornwell station on the Middletown branch of the West Shore Railway yesterday, three men were killed and three badly hurt by a premature blast. The men killed were buried under a mass of earth and rocks, weighing probably twenty tons. Two of them were Germans, and had only been in the country eight days. Mr. Alfred J. Johnston, formerly of Peterborough, but now of Stonewall, Manitoba, who he is doing a successful business as a general merchant, is in town on a visit to his friends.

To be Cleaned Out.

An officer of the Public Works Department, Ottawa, was in town to-day and had a conference with Mayor Smith with reference to bringing a drag to clean out the entrance to the harbour at the Little Lake. The drag is expected to be on hand next week.

Council Meeting.

A meeting of the Town Council will be held on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Council Chamber. The first question, and the cause of the delay in getting water on the occasion of the fire at the Dundas block, will be before the council again, as the Fire Committee will report on the question.

The Weather.

Clear, bright and moderately warm, the weather continues to please the majority of the people. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate winds, fair weather and not much change in temperature.

Railway Notes.

The Franklin correspondent of the Oshawa Herald says that the Midland railway authorities have taken precautions as to the bridge there where the late fatality occurred. Two poles have been erected about one hundred yards from the bridge on each side, across which a wire is stretched, and several ropes are suspended from this which can just strike the unwary brakeman on the head, thus giving him warning of his danger. He understands this plan has been adopted with all other bridges of the same character on the line.

The Market.

There was another large market this morning, and there was very little change in the prices of produce, unless in that of eggs, which were not plentiful and were bought up at 30 cts. per doz. and in some cases 21 cts. was asked. Butter, in roll, remained at 25 cts., potatoes 85 cts. to $1.00 per bag, apples 50 to 75 cts. a bag, and chickens 50 cts. a pair. The supply of butter was quite large. The grain market is increasing in activity. Wheat has declined considerably, the ruling price now being 90 cts. Oats remain at 40 to 42 cts. and barley 65 to 73 cts.

Over an Embankment.

On Friday afternoon a team of horses backed a wagon to which they were attached over an embankment south of the Blythe Mills. The driver, in leaving the horses standing alone, gave the lines a wind around the hub of the wheel, and they commenced to back up, which wound the lines around the wheel and pulled them back, and the further they went the harder it pulled, until both wagon and horses fell over the embankment. One horse rolled over on the other, and it was wonderful that they did not receive worse injuries than they were marked with. The wagon was not greatly damaged.

"Nip and Tuck."

The comedy of "Nip and Tuck" will be produced at Bradburn's Opera House on Wednesday evening; when Harry Webber will take the part of "Nicholas Nip." This play has had great success in this and other sections. The Toronto World says of it:—

"The piece is well-known to the theatrical patron of this city, as it has several times been produced here, and improves with each visit. Harry Webber as Nicholas Nip of the firm of Nip and Tuck, was a great success, and kept the audience in a continuous roar of laughter with his numerous witty sayings, funny actions and singing. Tractor Tuck, his partner (Mr. Frank A. Gordon) was well received, his make-up being very good. Eva Webber, as Francis Dushley was a decided success, making a dashing stage wife for the major. Miss Davenport and Nellie Strickland as Sarah Truogold and Blandford respectively played their parts exceedingly well. Last but not least Miss Gertrude Webber as Lucy, attracted the audience in her acting."

FATAL DISASTER.

A Car Flung into the Niagara River—Several Passengers Killed.

PORT ERIC, Ont., Sept. 29.—The first fatal accident on the International Bridge since its opening for traffic on the 3rd of September, 1873, occurred this evening, and it speaks volumes for the care that has hitherto been used when it can be stated that but one accident previous to the present occurred. That was some seven years ago, and the loss was very light. The traffic over the bridge has been enormous, but the greatest care has been taken to prevent occurrences like that which took place this evening. The International Bridge Co., having failed to comply with the terms of their act of Incorporation as regards a footpath across the bridge for the conveyance of foot passengers, &c., have kept a dummy car plying between the adjoining village of Victoria and Black Rock, a portion of the city of Buffalo. The car made frequent trips across the bridge and was well patronised. The last trip was usually made, starting from Black Rock, about 5.30, and the car was laid up for the night on reaching this side of the river. This evening about 5.20 Conductor Haggart got his usual orders to cross the bridge, as nothing was coming over. The car had for passengers Mr. Edwin Hershey, reeve of the township of Dorie, and ex-warden of the county of Walsingham; Mrs. Parmelee, a lady living in Black Rock, and another lady, name unknown. Besides these there were Mr. M. Colclough, superintendent of the bridge; Captain Haggart, overseer of the bridge, who was acting as conductor on the dummy; and engineer Chas. A. Bohn, a resident of Port Erie. The dummy proceeded across the bridge and ran past the danger signal, which was up to show that the draw was open. A few yards farther on the car jumped the abutment, and went down into the Niagara river twenty-five feet below. Mr. Colclough, with great presence of mind, sprang off the car just as it was going over and saved himself. He did not receive any injury. The rest were not so fortunate. Engineer Bohn, whose body has been recovered, must have been instantly killed. Mr. Hershey was also killed, and Mrs. Parmelee received injuries which may prove fatal. The other lady, whose name has not been ascertained, was severely injured. Capt. Haggart was got out alive, and it is thought will recover if he has not received internal injuries which medical men who were immediately summoned have not yet discovered. They are very reticent, however, and do not like to express an opinion before to-morrow. Capt. Haggart is unable to give any details of the affair at present.

All the People of the Dominion of Canada are Concerned.

Drake, St. Urban street, Montreal, for many years suffering from bronchitis and asthma, is now cured.

Also, the no less surprising cure of Mrs. Benoit, 114 Cathedral street, daughter of Mrs. David Farnell, who suffered from asthma, and bronchitis for over eight years, and who is now perfectly cured. Mrs. Adamson, of Belleville, cured of bronchitis, and her sister cured of bronchitis and lung disease. I have no hesitation in saying Dr. Souville's

After Twenty-Four Years.

While Major-General Laard was in Guelph on Saturday inspecting the Wellington field battery, an incident occurred which is worthy of mention, and which vividly brought before the memory of Major-General Laard several incidents in connection with the war against China in 1857-58. This was the introduction by Major MacDonald, to General Laard of Mr. William Birney, gardener of this city, who at the time mentioned belonged to a corps of marine artillery and served in that expedition, and on one occasion under the command of Major-General Laard—then Major, and acting as staff officer for General Van Skraubonne. The occasion related to was shortly after the capture of Canton, when a reconnoitering party of picked from the various regiments, went out to ascertain the enemy's position. They were attacked by a large number of the enemy and compelled to retreat, the small force being divided into two companies—one of twelve men, which acted as a rearguard, among whom were Major Laard, another officer, and Mr. Birnie. The two veterans had a long and pleasant conversation with each other, the chief topic of their talk being a rehearsal of their adventures in China in 1857-58.—Guelph Mercury.

Ten Thousand Acres of Oysters.

The joy caused in gastronomic and epicurean circles by Mr. Olsen's paper on "The North Sea Fisheries" and the great oyster discoveries there will be shared by the whole oyster-eating world. Two hundred miles of oyster beds, thirty to seventy miles wide, that is to say, 10,000 acres of splendid oysters within easy distance of the British coast, is a discovery to which all those of Stanley and Livingstone sink into insignificance. One curious feature about it is that the oyster beds are only to be reached by means of a small boat. The man who invents a new dish, according to some, the man who plants a tree, according to the Mohammedans, deserves well of mankind, but what is the reward of a man who discovers 10,000 acres of oysters? And yet all this is tinged with the melancholy doubt whether oysters will be cheaper in consequence.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Worsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. W. H. Worsford, Toledo, O., says: "I have prescribed the 'acid' in a large variety of diseases, and have been amply satisfied that it is a valuable addition to our list of medicinal agents."

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

REVIEW OF THE BRITISH TROOPS.

CAIRO, Sept. 30.—There was a grand review of the British troops this afternoon. The Khedive and his Ministers and many of the Notables were present, and the streets were crowded with natives. The Indian contingent and the Naval Brigade were warmly applauded. The strength of the force evidently made a great impression upon the Egyptians.

TROUBLE WITH THE PORTE.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—There has been a lively correspondence between the Porte and Earl Dufferin, British ambassador, concerning labourers engaged in Turkey for service in connection with the British expedition to Egypt. The labourers are now returning from Port Said, and it is reported that the Porte has threatened to exile them. Earl Dufferin was obliged first to deliver a note requesting that they be permitted to pass the Dardanelles; subsequently he sent a note complaining that although the steamer on which they embarked was permitted to pass the Dardanelles it was met on its arrival at Constantinople by a boat containing armed police who prevented the labourers landing. At 10 o'clock this morning they were still detained on the Russian steamer which brought them from Egypt. The captain of the port and the police authorities went aboard the steamer to demand their surrender, but the captain and agents of the vessel refused to give them up. The British embassy has demanded a guarantee for the labourers' safety.

COMPROMISE EXPECTED.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Earl Dufferin despatched a second note to the Porte, and a compromise was effected. The labourers landed, and have been placed under guard until to-morrow, when they will be released after identification. Earl Dufferin had determined that if he did not receive guarantees for their safety he would have them proceed to Odessa to-morrow on the vessel that brought them.

PUBLIC OPINION IN ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The Sun's London special says: "The situation in Egypt is most embarrassing. The dissatisfaction of the population is complete, and the Khedive and his adherents and the British are everywhere regarded with distrust and hostility. It is asserted that a note will be addressed in a few days to the powers requesting their opinion as to the best course to pursue. Public opinion in England is divided; the more hot-headed and impetuous wish to see Egypt turned into another India. These people are sure the great powers would not interfere, and they urge Mr. Gladstone to defy all Europe. But Mr. Gladstone is not likely to adopt such a policy."

SECRET NEGOTIATIONS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 31.—It is believed that the British Cabinet has made direct secret negotiations with the power to obtain their assent to the measure proposed by England regarding the financial control, the protection of the Suez canal, and the reorganization of the Egyptian army. It is probable that some complete understanding has been reached, and that the work of the conference, in case it resumes, will be merely to endorse the arrangements already made.

DYNAMITE AT CAIRO.

CAIRO, Sept. 30.—It is rumoured that dynamite was found among the hay stored in the railway sheds here.

FRENCH CO-OPERATION WITH ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A Constantinople cable to the United Press says that the French ambassador to Turkey has been instructed to act in concert with the English ambassador for the settlement of affairs in Egypt.

SHIPPING IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—The Madrid Government in view of the protestations of Great Britain, the United States, and Sweden, is disposed to reduce the maximum of the fines imposed for irregularities on vessels arriving in Spanish ports.

A SECRET SOCIETY.

ARMAH, Oct. 1.—In the examination yesterday of the men arrested on a charge of treason felony an informer deposed that the prisoners were members of a society whose object was the extermination of landlords and bailiffs, and had committed various acts of arson. He said an American named Burns provided funds to carry out its purpose.

DECORATING INDIAN SOLDIERS.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—It has been decided to bring a number of the non-commissioned officers of the Indian regiments from Egypt to England so that the Queen may present them with war medals.

ATHENS, Oct. 1.—The Greek Government has ordered large reinforcements to make an immediate march to Thessaly, as it is expected Turkey will retain her concessions regarding the frontier.

THE ARABIAN REBELLION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 1.—The rebellion of Arabs at Hedjaz is spreading, and Turkish reinforcements are being sent to Jeddah. The Sultan has ordered the construction of a railway from Jeddah to Mecca.

STORM IN IRELAND.

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—A hurricane prevailed in Ireland to-day. At Cork more damage was done on land than has been caused by any storm for twenty years. The American ship Harvey Mills, from Liverpool for New York, lying at Queenstown, was driven ashore, and several yachts were sunk in the harbour. At Newry a large number of houses were greatly damaged, and the town was flooded. At Limerick, twenty feet of the spire of a Catholic church were blown down, causing a panic among the congregation, which, however, was quickly allayed. The county gaol was damaged. The storm was severely felt at Bangor, at Rillnary, and along the whole southern coast of Ireland. It is feared serious shipping casualties have occurred.

DART & CLARK, Druggists, Renfrew, writes on June 3rd. "We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purpose for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bowel complaints incident to Summer and Fall.

THE SETTLEMENT OF THE NORTH WEST.

Our good neighbour, the Free Press, brings this formidable indictment against the Dominion Government:

"The land policy, the railway policy, and the fiscal policy pursued by the present Ministry have each had its share in excluding settlers from Canadian lands. Many who might now be occupying homesteads within our own territory were led to step across the line by their inability to enter for second homesteads in Canada. Many more have been discouraged by finding the land locked up in the hands of individual speculators or speculative companies. The whole policy of the Government in fact tends to encourage land grabbing and to discourage settlement."

In the first place, the land policy of the Dominion Government is much more liberal than that in force in the United States. The settlement duties are much easier and the fees smaller. If any settler has stepped across the line to secure the privilege of second homesteading on public lands, he will be disappointed. Second homesteading is not permitted here, an order to that effect having been issued some time ago. The railway policy of the Government, so far from retarding the settlement of Manitoba and the Northwest, has been the prime means of opening them up. Here settlers have come up in a month this season that entered here in the best year during the whole of the Dominion. If the Free Press means that the rates on the C. P. R. have discouraged settlement, the settler cannot obtain relief in the American Northwest. The rates of the St. P. M. & N., the Northern Pacific, and the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul roads are higher than those shown by comparison of the official tables, than those of the Canadian Pacific. As to land-grabbing, the United States Government has given 250,000,000 acres of land to railroad companies which in turn have sold enormous tracts to other corporations and to private individuals. Nor has the settler much to gain in the matter of low customs duties by leaving from Canada to the United States. It is a more disastrous method of escape than that of jumping from the frying-pan into the fire. Would our neighbor as a staunch Free Trader prefer the America to the Canadian tariff?—Windsor Times.

Marriageable Princes.

It accordance with its annual custom, the Herald, of St. Petersburg, has just published a complete list of the marriageable princes and princesses living at the present moment in Europe. The marriageable age for a prince is taken to be from 24 to 40, and for a princess from 18 to 25. The former, therefore, has sixteen marriageable years, as against a poor decade of the other. On the other hand, the number of eligible princes exceeds that of marriageable princesses. There are only thirty-one of the former and twenty-four of the latter. Most of these princes naturally belong to princely families, Germany. There are, indeed, no less than twenty German princes now on the marriage market. In this list is not included any representative of the royal house of Russia, the oldest son of the crown prince being married already, and the second being only 30 years old. The most eligible bachelor of the number is no doubt King Ludwig, of Bavaria, but no more odorous bachelor and misogynist exists. The rest of the princes are little better than princelings, and in mentioning one of them—Henry XVII, prince of Rome, the chancery from whom we are quoting thinks himself bound to add that though the principality is but small, the prince is uncommonly well off. The rest of Europe has but a supply of princes by the side of Germany. France offers a Bourbon in the person of Prince Albert, born in 1855, and now occupying the humble position of lieutenant in the French navy. Denmark supplies a candidate in the shape of the king's youngest son, Prince Waldemar. The royal house of Italy furnishes that eligible widower Prince Amédée, once king of Spain. Another widower of a less eligible description is Prince Albert, lord and master of tiny Monaco. The Netherlands, Austria, Russia, and Portugal each furnish one or more representatives to the list. Of princesses there is in the first place and above all our own Princess Beatrice, the only remaining daughter of the Queen, now 25 years old. Other princesses are to be found by the water with the necessary qualifications in Spain, Portugal, Holstein, Hesse, and other minor German principalities. Lastly, if any one is bold enough to woo a new Penthysilea, she is perhaps to be found in that despotism of a line of warrior chieftains, the Zozka of Montenegro. Manchester Guardian.

Women and Flowers.

Woman has always been personified by flowers. She is pure and delicate, like the lilies that "tell not, neither do they spie." She blooms fresh and queenly as the rose. She is ever likened to the clinging vine, dependent on man, a high old oak, for opportunity to lift herself into heaven's sunlight and breeze. She is the lovely violet, unobtrusively giving fragrance to her previous ones. She is the hidden bluebell of the woods. She is the autumn, shrinking from unwelcome touch, yet her choicest sweetness flows forth by bruising, and sometimes she shines as brightly and gayly as the tulip of varied hues. The demand is, new avocations for women that the many women who labour for the actual and ideal joys of life may have pleasant and effective ways of earning them. Woman now growing toward the natural stature of womanhood looks into the world already married to find where she should go. She peers into the deep mine, and it seems like the realization of a dream to go down into its darkness. She watches the shipbuilder and the quarryman, and feels that her right is not that which can move the keel or build the temple. She feels the furnace glowing with the molten material of the furnace by which man conquers earth. She walks into the machine shop, where the noisy confusion of a hundred greasy pulleys and belts wheels the grime, the din, the force—make her gather up her skirts and stand against. Nor is she impelled to control the engine that speed over land and water, girding the earth with a living band of travellers. But the field of horticulture is full of attraction for woman. Most of us have cultivated flowers for longer or shorter periods, sometimes achieving brilliant success with specialities. Most of the work has been done by non-professional labourers, attracted by love to this pursuit and possessing the means and leisure to gratify their taste. Therefore, the question is not, Can women plot and produce a garden, vine-yard or orchard? but, Shall she do it as a profession, do for money that which love has hitherto prompted?

It is true that many men are successful growers of plants with ignorant of botany, but the cultivation of the theory combined with practice will be more in tune with the mind and fullness of woman's nature.

Spinach for Autumn or Spring. One of the best spring vegetables is spinach. It is very hardy, and before the snow is gone it gives us an agreeable taste of the coming vegetables. Like the turnip, it requires rich ground to do very well. It is best to sow it broadcast, raking it in when warm, and if possible in a garden, rolling it. It will soon come up and reach some considerable size before frost. When frost comes the spinach had should be covered with straw or some other litter, keeping it down with poles. The plant is hardy enough without this covering, but as the object is early vegetables, the earliness is assisted by this covering. There is at least two weeks of difference in the value of a crop covered and one left to take its chances. The covering need not be deep. It may be laid over so that the earth can be seen here and there through it. If the heat of the sun is shut out, that is all that is wanted, for it is the sun in winter pouring his rays on the plant that makes it so tender. It is so tender so it is as much the shade as the straw that brings the benefit. By sowing the latter part of August or the beginning of September it will produce an autumn crop, but for spring use it should be sown the latter part of September or the first week in October.

SULPHOLINE LOTION—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURE FOR SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commences to fade away, even if it comes back again. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, eruptions, vanish as it by magic; whilst old, enduring skin diseases, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural complexion of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, A FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Martin, and every year it is used more and more favourably by its widely increasing reputation. Any one, however deeply and long-sufferingly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER.

Providing Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he gave worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is now lame, neither can the bunch be found.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

Stoughton, Mass., March 18th, 1880.

B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two horses with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there, I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to get the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and so much to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

Kendall's Spavin Cure is pure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any long growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think give positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for honest as well as man.

Price per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All drug stores have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Newburgh Falls, Vt.

Fire.

The alarm of fire was rung on Sunday forenoon at about nine o'clock. The fire was burning in a house owned and occupied by Wm. McMaster, on Elm street. The firemen turned out promptly, and the engine was stationed on the bridge over the creek on Park Street, but the fire was subdued by water thrown on it from pails and the services of the engine were not required. The fire started in the wall behind the chimney, and burned up the wall and in the roof. The house was insured in the Royal.

The Prophet and the Green Isle.

To-morrow evening the Rev. Dr. Wild, of Bond Street Church, Toronto, will lecture in Bradburn's Opera House on the "Prophet Jeremiah's Visit to Ireland." Dr. Wild is known as one of the most interesting and original speakers in Canada, and an opportunity of hearing him, such as is now offered, should be appreciated. Our Ministry.

We have to thank the Lindsay Post for the following appreciative remarks in relation to our book bindery:—

"People having books or printed matter which they want bound will find on eighth page the advt. of the Review book bindery, Peterborough. For excellence of work, beauty of finish and moderate prices the Review bindery has a provincial reputation. There is a large quantity of periodicals, magazines, illustrated papers and other matter in the hands of Lindsay readers. It can be left at the Post printing office and will be forwarded to the bindery, with instructions as to style of binding, etc. Drop in and see about the prices. Merchants and professional men requiring blank books of any description should correspond with Messrs. Toker & Co., of the Review, as their work discounts city productions in all particulars."

The most original thinker in Canada. Don't fail to hear Dr. Wild's Lecture to-morrow night in Bradburn's Hall. Subject:—"The Prophet Jeremiah's visit to Old Ireland." It will be the best Lecture of the season.

Lacrosse Match.

The lacrosse match between the Peterborough Club and the Young Shamrocks, of Montreal, for the Intermediate Championship of the World, is proceeding as we go to press. There is a large attendance on the grounds and great interest is manifested in the match.

The Weather.

The weather-to-day is cool and cloudy, with probability of a storm which seems very likely. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh northerly to north easterly winds, slightly cooler weather.

The Fair.

The annual exhibition of the West Riding Agricultural Society will open to-morrow. Dairy and farm produce, fruit and vegetables, implements, manufactures, ladies' work, fine arts, &c., will be required to be entered and delivered at the drill shed before one o'clock. This department will be judged in the afternoon, and will be open to the public from 7 to 10 p. m.

The latest invention in Shoulder Braces, just received at "Habillment Hall."

Various Strivings.

On Saturday night, about 9 o'clock, two young men, apparently from the country, drove their horses down George street at a furious rate, making our front street a race course to test the speed of their "fiends." A gentleman and lady crossing at Charlotte and George streets had a narrow escape from being run over, and as it was, they had to run to escape injury. The police should look after these men who make a habit of driving through our principal streets at an immoderate rate of speed.

The most original thinker in Canada. Don't fail to hear Dr. Wild's Lecture to-morrow night in Bradburn's Hall. Subject:—"The Prophet Jeremiah's visit to Old Ireland." It will be the best Lecture of the season.

That Sidewalk.

Complaint is made time and again of the wretched state of the sidewalk on Water street, immediately south of the Bank of Montreal. It is, indeed, in a very deplorable condition, being totally unfit for pedestrians to travel on. On Sunday evening a young lady while on her way to church nearly met with a severe accident. A nail in the sidewalk caught in her boot and ripped the side of it open, narrowly escaping making a nasty flesh wound in her foot. Surely someone ought to look after this sidewalk, as there is not a worse one in town.

Presentation and Address.

On Saturday evening Mr. J. G. Gordon, who has resigned his position of bridge inspector of the Midland Railway, and has accepted a position in the Canada Pacific Railway, was presented by the men who have been under his charge with a handsome rifle and the following address:—

J. G. Gordon, Esq., Bridge Inspector Midland Railway.

Sir.—We (the undersigned) request your acceptance of this small donation as a slight token of the high respect and kindly feeling we have toward you, which your many dealings and friendly intercourse with us (while acting as Bridge Inspector on the Midland Railway) has engendered.

We hope the superior ability you have always manifested in the discharge of your duties may be thoroughly appreciated in whatever position it may be your lot to occupy in the future.

The address, which was presented by Mr. R. Geo. Wood, was signed by the men, nineteen in number. Mr. Gordon replied briefly in suitable terms.

Harvest Festival.

The annual harvest festival and thanksgiving services in connection with St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, were held on Friday, St. Michael's and all Angels' day, the day on which these services are held in this church in each year. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion with grain, and specimens of fruit, flowers and vegetables. The Holy Communion was celebrated in the church in the forenoon at 10 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock in the afternoon tea was served in the Town Hall. The tea was a pronounced success, there being a larger number present than on any similar occasion formerly. At 8 o'clock the services were held in the church, the form of thanksgiving appointed by the church being used. The service began by the singing of a hymn and the usual evening prayer, after which the lesson was read by the Rev. C. H. Marsh, curate. An appropriate and eloquent sermon was preached by the Rev. John Farabee from St. Luke XX, 21. The anthem used was "Thou crownest the year with thy goodness" (Psalm 66). The church was filling to overflowing, and the offertory was much larger than usual. The proceeds of the tea amounted to over $60. The proceeds will be applied to the parsonage fund.

W. H. Crookes, Druggist, of Watford, under date of June 1st, writes that "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cannot be surpassed, where all other remedies fail them to come to the rescue, and I find the sales large and increasing." Wild Strawberry positively cures all Bowel complaints.

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

RIOTING BETWEEN THE COPTS AND MUS- SALMANS OWING TO RELIGION.

The Trial of Arabi Expected to Commence To-day—The Army Reorganization—Banquet to the British Officers.

THE INDIAN OFFICERS.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—It has been decided to bring a number of non-commissioned officers of the Indian regiments from Egypt to England so that the Queen may present them with war medals.

EVAUATING CEDED POINTS.

ATHENS, Oct. 2.—The Porte has promised Greece that it will order the Turkish troops to evacuate all the ceded points on the frontier without delay.

ARABI'S TRIAL.

CAIRO, Oct. 2.—The Khedive has been informed that the British Government will insist on having full information regarding each step looking to the prosecution of Arabi and his co-rebels as the Egyptian Government shall take. The court-martial opened to-day, and it is expected the trial of Arabi will commence to-morrow.

HONOURS TO BRITISH OFFICERS.

CAIRO, Oct. 2.—The Khedive gave a banquet to-night to the British officers here. The Duke of Teck has received the decoration of the Order of the Osmannieh of the first class.

ARMY REORGANIZATION.

CAIRO, Oct. 2.—Baker Pasha has presented to the Khedive a scheme for the reorganization of the Egyptian army, a portion of which shall consist of gendarmes, probably to be recruited from Albanians. The scheme provides for the formation of a municipal police for towns, to be drawn from the most trustworthy native elements.

FANATICS AT WORK.

CAIRO, Oct. 2.—The rioting between Copts and Mussalmans which occurred on the arrival of the Khedive was due to the fanatical religious feeling. The disturbance was quelled by the military authorities, but has broken out afresh, and the dwellings of many Copts in this city and in the interior towns have been looted. The most stringent measures to suppress similar outbreaks have been taken.

ARRIVED AT ALEXANDRIA.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 2.—A number of prisoners including Ninet, Arabi Pasha's European adviser, have arrived at Alexandria from Cairo for trial.

RIOTING.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 3.—While the arrival of the Khedive at Cairo was being celebrated by illuminations at Assiute a thousand Mussalmans attacked the Copts and threatened to kill all the Christians in the town. The riot was quelled. A native watchman at Port Arda was flogged for insulting an Englishman.

Written on a Grain of Rice.

A Chinese teacher in the colony has just presented quite a curiosity to the City Hall Museum. Many of our readers have doubtless seen specimens of printing compressed within very small limits, such for instance as the whole of the Lord's prayer contained within a circle the size of a finger ring. This, however, is not a specimen of minute typography, but of calligraphy; for it consists of a stanza of poetry, composed by the teacher himself, which contains thirty-three distinct and well formed Chinese characters written out in the full style without any contractions, though the most complicated characters are not introduced into this illipituous poem. It seems almost incredible, but it is a fact that the whole of these thirty-three characters are inscribed on one grain of unpolished rice. It is only another instance of the patient toil which a Chinaman will spend over apparently unremunerative work. The grain of paddy is enclosed, under a magnifying glass, in a silver locket. Accompanying it is a wooden box containing a sort of dissection of which the grain of paddy forms a text.—Overland China Mail.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 2.—Archbishop Croke says he is authorized to state that Dillon will not press his resignation just now, but will continue to represent Tipperary in Parliament until his constituency has had ample time to select a successor, in the event of a continuance of Dillon's illness. It is stated that an order to show his record with Parnell, Dillon will attend the conference of the Parnellites on the 18th inst.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED.

ENRISKILL, Oct. 2.—The fire in the castle and military barracks has been extinguished.

EXPLORING EXPEDITION.

HAMMEVAST, Oct. 2.—The steamer Louise returned from the Kara Sea, reports that hard frost and the accumulation of ice prevented its passage. She left the Danish exploring vessels on Sept. 22 bound east of Vaigatz Island. All were well, and they hoped to be free shortly.

THE NIHILISTS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 2.—A large quantity of dynamite has been discovered in railway trucks at Kiev. It is believed the Nihilists shipped it.

SPANISH AFFAIRS.

MADRID, Oct. 2.—The Ministerial journals positively deny the persistent rumour of an impending Ministerial crisis, which it was suggested would lead to a reconstruction of the Cabinet under Marshal Serrano.

AMERICAN.

FALL OF A BRIDGE.

LINTON MILLS, Oct. 2.—A bridge fell yesterday precipitating five men to the ground. All of them were badly injured and one fatally.

FOLGER ACCEPTS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Folger's letter of acceptance of the Republican gubernatorial nomination was issued this evening. He deprecates the frauds of the Convention, and declines to be held responsible for the actions of certain individuals, condemns in unmeasured terms the forgery and trickery of certain delegates, and intimates that if sufficient time were available to permit the assembly of a new representative State Convention, he would not accept the nomination. As to matters of state, not having sought or particularly desired nomination, but it having been tendered him unanimously, he cannot see his way clear to decline it, and hopes to have the support of the united party. He makes the question of free canal, and is a very exhaustive review of his personal desires and feelings.

IMPALED.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 2.—At North Parma Dexter Clapper, aged 14, was impaled upon a blackberry stalk yesterday while picking berries. He pulled the stalk out unaided and walked to a house a few rods distant, where he died.

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

Press Despatches to the Review.

ARRESTS IN IRELAND.

ARMAUGH, Oct. 3.—Ten men were arrested at Cross Maglen for treason and felony.

ANTI-JEWISH AGITATION.

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—The Hungarian Premier says that the whole power of the state will support the municipal councils in their efforts to suppress the anti-Jewish agitation in Pressburg.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—At Salem-on-Kane, a passenger train ran into another passenger train, in account of a misplaced switch. Both engines were demolished and several persons seriously injured.

THE POPE FIRED AT.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Paris Figaro publishes a report of the Pope while walking in a garden being fired at by a soldier, but not hit. The report is discredited at the Italian embassy.

CHOLERA.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 3.—There is a cholera epidemic in Kotka Redja, Bernoe and at Chin Sumatera.

UNITING.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—At Gotha yesterday the leaders of the National Liberals joined the Secessionists in declaring that the liberals should unite more closely in an organization against all other political parties, without prejudice to the minor differences separating the party.

MURDER.

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—A farmer named Hunt was murdered last night near Boyle. Several persons were arrested on suspicion.

AMERICAN.

RAILWAY TICKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The State Supreme Court has decided that Railway Companies must honor their tickets who ever sells them.

NEW YORK POLITICS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Sun says that at the conference of the republican leaders held yesterday, the object being to consider whether the ticket should be withdrawn and a new convention ordered. Hepburn made a long speech. He was told that there was a wide spread disaffection and he feared that the ticket could not be elected. He said he was in favour of withdrawing the ticket and calling a new convention. Compensated that he was perfectly astonished that anybody should advise the withdrawal of such a ticket. There was no difference in the party as far as he knew although some of the New York papers were disaffected.

SOLDIERS RE-UNION.

CALDWELL, O., Oct. 3.—The National Soldiers re-union opened yesterday. Senator Sherman addressed the soldiers.

WANT OF FOOD.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 3.—A bark from the Hudson Bay reports that the natives are suffering for food and dying in great numbers.

THE PRESIDENT.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 3.—The President holds a reception here on Thursday from two till four. He remains quietly at the hotel, except when on the river fishing.

For Football Stockings, Kid, Antelope, Buck and Wool Mitts and Gloves, try "Habillment Hall."

EXPERIMENTS IN TREE PLANTING.

That the Forestry Congress recently held in this city will have the effect of deepening the interest of Canadians in the subjects which came before the scope of its deliberations there is good reason to believe. Not the least interesting of the papers which were read during its sessions were those which treated of experiments in tree-planting made in different parts of the Dominion and the United States. We have received a small pamphlet containing a paper taken from the Montreal Horticultural and Fruit-growers' Association's Report for this year, in which the Hon. H. G. Joly, who, it will be recalled, took a leading part in the late Congress, gives an account of some experiments conducted by himself in the cultivation of the black walnut, the elm and the box elder or ash-leaved maple. He recommends that, whenever practicable, the black walnut should be raised from the nut, which should be sown in rows, four feet apart on every side, this distance allows the trees to grow up without spreading lateral branches which, being fragile, are liable to be torn by the wind and other agencies. Guided by experience, he thinks the fall the best season for sowing, care having been taken to protect the nuts from rancidity through heat. These valuable trees have not as yet been regularly cultivated on an extended scale in Canada, but Mr. Joly gives the substance of some trustworthy and interesting information on the subject from Mr. George Stanton, of Nimcoo, who sowed last fall twenty-five bushels of black walnut nuts in the rich soil of his own land. It has been ascertained that with the soil and climate of Ontario, under good management, this tree will grow annually at least two thirds of an inch in diameter, or twenty inches in thirty years. Under less favourable conditions, such as are found in Quebec, these averages would be reduced to half an inch yearly or twenty inches in forty years. In his report on Forestry for 1877, Prof. Hough, whom we had the pleasure of hearing at the Congress in this city, allows 600 trees of 14 years old, to one acre, the distance apart on every side being eight feet. At this rate, we are told, an acre of good soil, planted in black walnuts, if well attended, might be expected to yield a revenue in from 30 to 40 years, of $20,400—30 cubic feet (at $1 a foot) being allowed for each tree averaging 20 inches in diameter. European writers do not give quite so many trees to the acre as Mr. Hough, but Mr. Joly thinks that two-thirds of his number may be safely conceded. In calculating the lapse of time before a profit could be obtained from such a plantation, he takes it for granted that the trees would not be cut down before they had attained a diameter of, at least, 20 inches. In his carefully compiled statement of the northern limits of the Canadian forest trees, Dr. R. Bell says that the black walnut (Juglans nigra) is confined to the tract lying south of a line drawn from the head of Lake Ontario to near the outlet of Lake Huron, and Mr. Stanton says that Long Point and the adjacent region was once a great black walnut country, and that there is still quite a number of those trees left there. Some of those which he measured had a girth which indicated an age of 35 years.

Mr. Joly's other experiments were with elm raising from the seed. He advises for that purpose the collection of the small seedlings which grow so thickly at the foot of the trees. Of a couple of hundred, no bigger than needles, pulled up in bundles with the attached moss, only half a dozen died after being transplanted. Kept damp and in the shade for some days, at the end of three months they were over six inches high and they still promise to grow in accordance with this rapid start.

Having obtained some seeds of the box elder or ash-leaved maple (Ash-leaved maple) called by the French érable à piquettes, Mr. Joly placed them in a flower pot and they came up with wonderful vigor. Though occurring in the Eastern States, Dr. Bell says that this tree does not seem to have been found native in Quebec or Ontario, but he mentions that young trees raised at Montreal from seeds brought from Manitoba grew rapidly and bore seeds in the 8th year. It abounds in the Red River valley and extends north to the Dog's Head on Lake Winnipeg. Prof. Macoun found it at Tail Creek, discharging into Buffalo Lake. Mr. Joly found mention of it in D. J. Bromme's Sylvia Americana (1832), where it was recommended for fuel. Michaux says that, to obtain its full proportions, it requires a climate some degree milder than that of Philadelphia. The fact that it grows well in Minnesota and our Northwest, contradicts the opinion of both these botanists. Nuttall gives it a much greater northern extension than the latter, pronouncing it abundant about the Saskatchewan and Red Rivers, and reports the manufacture of sugar from its sap by the Crow Indians. This statement is confirmed by the experience of Mr. Joly's western friends, who say it is fit to be tapped for sugar at six years old.

Mr. Joly's paper ends with an appeal to "men of good will" to espouse, by word and act, the cause of forest culture, urging them to begin at once and plant for coming generations. He suggests that in Canada we might with advantage adopt a pleasant custom that prevails in several of the United States, that of having an annual holiday for tree-planting. On "Arbor Day" 1875, in Minnesota more than a million trees were planted.—Montreal Gazette.

Old Testament Revision.
The branch of the American bible revision committee, known as the old testament committee, met last week in New York in private session. The work of revision has progressed to the psalms, which already have been revised 4 times, twice in this country and twice in England. The Song of Solomon will come next, to be followed by Ecclesiastes, which will all but complete the work. It will take about a year yet to accomplish it. Prof. Mead of Virginia, Dr. Hare of Philadelphia, Dr. Packard of the Episcopal theological seminary, Virginia, and Dr. Donant of Brooklyn to-day presented suggestions as to the best way to advance the work. About nine clergymen are now engaged in it.

Personal To Men Only!
The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electric-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

THE TOWN RATE.

THE ratepayers of the town of Peterborough will be gratified to learn that the rate has been struck at the low rate of eleven mills and four tenths, which no doubt will be much lower than that of our sister towns, and is not likely to be much surpassed in economy by any town in Ontario. We certainly cannot blame our Council for undue extravagance. The rate will be the same for the whole population, as it happens that the rate for the Separate Schools is exactly the same as that for the Public Schools, including debentures. The details in our report of the Town Council proceedings will be perused with interest.

COLONIZATION ROADS.

THE Waterloo Chronicle has the following description of a state of things that is not confined to that locality:—

"We are informed that the manner of extending the thousand dollar grant on the Peterborough road, by road from McMurray, differs not from the usual course in such cases. Mr. McMurray is drawing a salary at the rate of so much a day. The longer the job lasts, therefore, the more money goes into his pockets. Instead of keeping a score of men engaged and pushing the work through, he has been dawdling along with only four or five hands besides the foreman and cook. Under this plan a great portion of the appropriation will be wasted in paying a foreman and cook to do comparatively little, and in keeping up the salary of Mr. McMurray. We leave our readers to judge as to whether the system of road expenditure in this district requires to be remodelled or not."

This is the system which Mr. Meredith and his supporters wish to see discontinued. The Conservatives do not wish to have the grants for colonization roads reduced, as has been falsely asserted, but they want more road and less "bosh" for the money.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We are told by the supporters of Mr. Mowat that his officials pay no regard to the politics of applicants for liquor licenses. Yet the Department and the Reform journals are so well acquainted with the politics of every licensee holder, that we have them tabulated to a man as Conservative or Reform. Men of common sense will draw the conclusion that the Department and its officers do take a special interest in the politics of those over whom they rule, and they will also object to the inquisitorial system which makes Government officials pry into the political opinions of any body of men, whose private affairs should be free from any such unwarrantable intrusion.

THE Waterloo Chronicle is a good Reform journal, and this is its opinion:—
"Mowat is not a new poem by a long odds, and it is very queer that anything objectionable in it should have been discovered at the educational headquarters only after the pupils at the High Schools had just laid out a few thousand dollars in buying the books."

THE Independent Toronto Telegram discussing the appointment of the Hon. Mr. Aikin as Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, says:

"Some of the Reform newspapers have been taking exception to the appointment of Mr. Aikin, but their exceptions go for nothing when it is born in mind that they tossed up their caps for Mr. Cauchon when his appointment was made. Mr. Aikin is infinitely superior to Mr. Cauchon."

THE Waterloo Chronicle, considering the general election for Ontario, says the Mowat Government is safe because "there is no gerrymander to fight against." It is certain that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues have no gerrymander to fight against, for it is in their favour, having been practised by Mr. Mowat before the last general election to the extent of interfering with more than 30 constituencies for the sake of securing a party advantage. Their organs are considering the propriety of repeating the operation, if they find that anything is left to be done in that line. Whether the Chronicle is as correct in its prophecy of Mr. Mowat's safety as another question, which time will answer.

THE "Reformed Episcopalian" has again a letter in the Toronto World on the subject of the recent dinner to welcome the Bishop of Peterborough. This time he figures as one of the guests, thus confessedly insulting both his hosts and Her Majesty, for if he considered the proceedings insulting to her, he did insult her by taking part in them without a protest. It is not strange that such a man is too cowardly to disclose his own name while attacking others, or openly to avow his own religious belief (we don't, by-the-by, find any "Reformed Episcopalian" on the Peterborough assessment roll), too bigoted to respect the religious opinions of others, and too ignorant to know the difference between a private entertainment and a public one, even when he has received a private invitation from his hosts, whose hospitality he repays by such despicable conduct.

and Roman Catholic rates are equal); and the total rate would be 11 4 10 mills.

Councillor PATERSON moved, seconded by Councillor MENZIES, the adoption of the report.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said it was usual for the Chairman of the Finance Committee to make some remarks on the estimates.

Councillor PATERSON—I read the figures.

Councillor RUTHERFORD would like to explain how the rate was increased 3-10 of a mill. The expenses this year had increased on the streets, as labour and the price of lumber were higher. But he must congratulate the Council and the town that the increase was so little.

The motion adopting the report was carried.

THE DUNSFORD BLOCK FIRE.

Councillor RUTHERFORD read the report of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, which was as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—The Fire, Water and Gas Committee beg leave to report in regard to the delay and the insufficient quantity of water at the late fire at the corner of Hunter and Water streets. We find on examination of witnesses the following evidence given:

[Here followed the evidence taken by the Committee.]

Your Committee recommend that in future the Chief Engineer, when wishing to communicate with the engineer, should send one of his officers or give distinct signals, when desirous of coupling or uncoupling hose, or in want of more pressure. Also that the Chief Engineer give information to the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee at the first neglect of duty on the part of the engineer or any other person connected with the working of the fire department, and the said Committee through its Chairman shall have the power to at once dismiss such engineer or any other as aforesaid.

We further recommend that Samuel English be appointed assistant engineer at a salary of one hundred dollars per annum. Also that the Clerk be instructed to inform Mr. White of his making better time in getting the fire engine to fires.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

A. RUTHERFORD,

Chairman.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said it was utterly impossible for the engineer to attend to the engine and get up steam. He was assisted by Mr. S. English at the recent fire at Mr. Walton's and the effect was apparent.

Councillor McNAUGHTON asked whose duty it was to look after the hose?

Councillor RUTHERFORD said it was the engineer's duty.

Councillor McNAUGHTON contended that the engine should be cleaned every two weeks, and the Committee should see that the hose was cleaned. He was told that some of the hose was rotten.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that the hose referred to they had had for twenty years. New hose had been got and was in good repair.

Mr. T. RUTHERFORD, Chief Engineer, was heard by the Council. He said that all the serviceable hose they had was well taken care of. Because they had not sufficient hose, when it was hung up to dry it had to be taken down at night and put on the reels and hung up again next day, it took forty-eight hours to dry.

The motion adopting the report was carried.

Councillor McNAUGHTON asked for the year and says, and they were taken as follows:—

YEAS—Councillors Cahill, Kelly, Paterson, Wilson, Rutherford, Menzies and Richardson.

NAYS—Councillor McNaughton.

AN OFFENSIVE SEWER.

Mr. JAR. STEVENSON was, on motion, heard by the Council. He asked the Council to take some action respecting the drain on Hunter street, from which an unhealthy odor arose. The Council was liable to an action. Some effort should be made to remedy it, and he trusted that the matter would not be lost sight of.

The matter was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

Councillor Cahill read the following report of the Street and Bridge Committee:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Streets and Bridges beg leave to report.

1. Your Committee recommends that permission be given to Mr. F. G. Lewis to use the street for the purpose of making a drain from the Bank of Montreal.

2. In reference to the application of the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company, your Committee recommends that in so far as this corporation is concerned, permission be given to said Company to erect a permanent bridge over the Otumabee river at the point designated in their application, provided they give a satisfactory guarantee to this corporation that they will, within a period of not less than two months, erect a swing bridge whenever they may be requested to do so by this corporation, and also that they lay out a drain at the east end of Wolf street for steamboat landing, &c., as good in all respects as the one now on Sherbrooke street, and that a copy of this portion of this report be sent to the Minister of Railways and Canals.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THOMAS CAHILL,

Chairman.

The report was adopted.

A DRAIN.

A communication was read from David Wallace, asking to have a drain made from the boundary near Mr. Jas. Campbell's gate, as reported by the Street and Bridge Committee last year.—Street and Bridge Committee.

HYDRANTS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor RICHARDSON,—That this Council considers it advisable to take from the Water Company four hydrants to protect the property of the town, when the hydrant had been tested to the satisfaction of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that it was intended that one hydrant should be placed at the drill hall, the second at the public school, the third on the market square, and the fourth on the Court House hill. The Council would pay their share of the expense of the last one.

Councillor McNAUGHTON raised the point of order that no notice had been given, and the motion was allowed to stand as a notice.

The Council then adjourned for one week.

OUR CORPORATE PROPERTY.

We must give our hearty approval to Councilor Rutherford's motion to establish hydrants for the protection of the property in which the town of Peterborough, as a corporation, is interested. When we find private individuals securing hydrants at their own cost for the protection of their own private property, it would not be seemly that the municipality of Peterborough should show less prudence and foresight. That such a step will tend to encourage and support the enterprising gentlemen who have brought more efficacious protection from fire within our reach, is an additional reason why it should be adopted, for it is a public spirited project that certainly should be endorsed and favored by our Council as representatives of the whole town, even if prudential considerations did not call for such a step, as, however, they do. Neither would it be fair to leave the property holders, who have not enough at stake to warrant them in securing hydrants individually, to bear among them the whole cost of fire protection, in which the property of the corporation would share. It was not out of place that the rule of order requiring notice for such a motion should be enforced, but we trust that the time given for consideration will only secure the more hearty adoption of this resolution at the next meeting of the Council.

The Brantford papers are objecting strongly to Mr. Mowat's donation from the Provincial Treasury of $7,200 to the Tuscarora Indians. At first sight Mr. Mowat appears inconsistent in this, for these Indians are settled on a reserve under the tutelage of the Dominion Government, not that of the Province, and we all know how greatly Mr. Mowat objects to one of these Governments trenching upon the province of the other. But on second thoughts Mr. Mowat is really consistent after all, for, disregarding the minor objection, he adheres to his leading principle of usurping patronage from all sides and applying the public funds under his charge for party advantage. The motive for the grant seems to be that it enables Mr. Mowat to reward some political supporters with commissionships to be remunerated out of the funds of the people of Ontario.

The independent Toronto Telegram says in regard to Mr. Crooks' last middle:—
"The monetary feature of the changes made in the school books is not unworthy of consideration. It is a serious expense to parents to be continually buying new books, an expense which many of them are really not able to bear, and should not be called upon to meet. In the case of 'Marmion' there is no excuse in the world for putting parents to unnecessary expense, as if there was anything in the book either immoral or offensive the fact should have been discovered before the book was allowed to go into use. These continual changes should be avoided, if only on the ground of the expense they entail upon parents."

The monetary feature is however the last to be considered by Mr. Crooks, or he would have spared a little time from his political proselytizing, and would have given his great mind to his proper duties sufficiently to find out in three years the objectionable tendencies of Sir Walter Scott's writings.

The Globe has at length found out that Mr. Crooks condemned Marmion not because it is immoral, but because it is offensive to Roman Catholics. Why, then, did it falsely inform us that the work was condemned because the High School teachers objected to its immorality? The Globe calls Mr. Crooks' middle "a trifling incident of administrative detail." The parents, who have had thousands of dollars wasted by Mr. Crooks' incapacity, which let him keep for years an objectionable work upon the curriculum, will hardly agree in considering it a "trifling incident."

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Lucky.

A successful Roman Catholic picnic was held at West Bay on the 21st September, and the Fenelon Falls Gazette says that the valuable gold watch drawn for was won by a lucky Peterborough man named Elliott.

Fire at Belleville.

Early on Tuesday morning the pump factory of Mr. Henry Owens in Belleville was destroyed by fire and all the machinery and stock in it was burned. Mr. Owens' loss is estimated at $2,500, on which there is an insurance of $800.

Personal.

Mr. G. Edmonson has returned from the North-west.

Mr. B. S. Palmer, an old Peterborough boy, and formerly an employee of this office, called on us to-day. He speaks in high terms of the progress our town has made since he left here some four years ago.

The Market.

The attendance on the market this morning was not large, and the prices varied very little from those of last week: for butter 25 cts. being asked, eggs 20 cts., potatoes 40 cts. and apples 50 to 60 cts. a bag; chickens 40 to 50 cts. and geese 10 cts. In the grain market there is very little change.

Entertainment Pic-nic.

A picnic will be held under the auspices of the young men of Ennisville in Hennessy's Grove, on Thursday, October 5th. A dancing platform has been erected and the choicest quadrille music will be provided. As it is a fete champetre, or basket picnic each person will bring their provisions. The picnic gives promise of being a success.

The Weather.

The rain predicted for last night did not reach this section. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Light to moderate winds, continued fair weather and stationary or higher temperatures.

Fall Exhibitions.

The dates of the following fall fairs and exhibitions have been announced:—

Name.	Place.	Date.
West Riding.	Peterborough.	Oct. 2nd & 4th
East Riding.	Norwood.	Oct. 10th & 11th
Emily.	Osborne.	Oct. 11th & 12th
South Victoria.	Lindsay.	Sept. 29th & 30th
Ontario.	Keele.	Oct. 10th
Burlington.	Apsey.	Oct. 11th
Cavan.	Millbrook.	Oct. 5th and 6th
S. Monaghan.	Baillet.	Oct. 10th.

Journalistic.

The Irish Canadian has, according to promise, blossomed into a daily paper entitled the Evening Canadian. No. 1 is now before us, and is a very creditable first appearance. Its patriotic and correlative will now have a potent advocate, if one is needed. Its sketch of "Our esteemed contemporaries" is clever and amusing, with a great deal of truth in it. We wish success to this new aspirant for public favor.

Trade With the North-West.

A large shipment of wines and liquors was made to-day by Messrs. Rush & Elliott to Emerson, Manitoba. The order, which was for the Emerson club, and was shipped in care of R. Claxton, Esq., comprised all kind of liquors from lime juice to the best champagne, and included twenty barrels of bottled ale and ten of porter, besides brandies, wines, whiskey, cigars, &c. This firm have made shipments to the north west previously, but this order is much larger than any they have yet had from there.

Grain From the North-West.

Mr. Wm. Dumble has left with us two splendid samples of grain, one of Pringle's Surprise Wheat and the other of white Russian oats, grown on the farm of his nephew, Mr. Wm. Langton, formerly of Peterborough, to whom he has been paying a visit in Dakota. As the country north of the boundary is acknowledged to be even finer and better adapted for the growth of cereals than Dakota, it will be seen what an admirable field our prairie province offers to agriculturists.

Nip and Tuck.

This comedy will be produced at Bradburn's Opera House this evening by Harry Webber and his company. The Toronto Mail says that the play "abounds in sensational and ludicrous situations, and the incidents follow each other so rapidly that the interest never flags," and it pronounces Harry Webber a "first class comedian." He is remembered favourably by those who saw him here in this play before, and there will most probably be a full house this evening.

Personal To Men Only.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and Manhood, and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above, N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

W. H. CROOKER, Druggist, of Watertown, under date of June 1st, writes that "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cannot be surpassed, when all other remedies fail then it comes to the rescue, and I find the sales large and increasing." Wild Strawberry positively cures all Bowel complaints.

BILIOUSNESS.—A furred tongue, bad taste in the mouth, nausea, vomiting, variable appetite, alternate diarrhoea and constipation, faintness, weakness, yellow cast of eyes and countenance, indicates serious biliary trouble. Jaundice is a dangerous disease, it is an overflow of bad bile in the circulation, any of these symptoms should be remedied without delay, and Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy upon which you may safely rely.

THE FALL EXHIBITION.

ANNUAL AUTUMN SHOW OF THE WEST RIDING AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Array of Exhibits in the Drill Shed - The Ladies to the Front - A Falling Off in some Departments - A List of the Prize Winners.

The annual exhibition of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society opened on Tuesday evening. The weather was favourable to the occasion, but the attendance at the Drill Shed was not very large. The Fire Brigade Band was present, and rendered several selections of good music during the evening.

The exhibits of the articles displayed in the shed were not as numerous as they should have been in an exhibition for the West Riding, and there was a slight falling off from last year, yet many of the articles were superior in quality and in several of the departments the exhibit was a large one.

The ladies' work department was the best filled, surpassing even that of last year, and both in the number and in the quality of the articles presented to the view the exhibit was one of superior merit. The display of quilts and coverlets arrayed at the end of the hall on each side of the door was surprising, especially on account of the numbers, and the work on them was good.

In manufactures Messrs. Fitzgerald and Stanger had on exhibition two fine phaetons, three open buggies and a handsome covered buggy, and also a servicable looking farm wagon, the painting on which should be mentioned. There was also shown a collection of articles made of willow, skilfully interwoven, exhibited by Mr. George Armstrong, comprising an arm chair, a small rocking chair, and novel what-not in which the willow rods reached from the floor, where they formed the four feet, to the top and there was a table in the centre and two baskets above, and several other articles all similarly made. The collection deserved the high recommendation it received from the judges.

Domestic manufacturers were well represented, Messrs. Gemmell & McKee and Mr. A. Sowers leading in exhibits of factory blankets and flannels. The home-made work comprised the usual articles, flannels, knitted wools, mats, &c., and made a good display.

In fine arts the display was quite large and the paintings and drawings were good specimens of the work of the artist. One large painting in colours of a lady, life size, attracted a great deal of attention, and a sample of pressed flowers in a glass case was a beautiful piece of work. One of the most novel articles on exhibition, was a high hat-rack of cedar, exhibited by Mr. J. Strickland, of Lakefield, which was formed naturally by the roots of the tree, and had been varnished and finished with taste. It was certainly a unique piece of furniture, and would be very ornamental.

The exhibit of dairy and farm produce was perhaps not as large as might have been expected, especially that of dairy produce, but there were some good samples of the various kinds of grain and seeds, and of factory made cheese. There was one lot of good maple sugar to be viewed, but honey was absent.

The greater part of the space allotted to fruit was monopolized by the apples, of which there was a comprehensive display, and there was also some fine specimens of pears and open air grapes. The department of vegetables was also hardly as full as might have been expected, yet the amethyst pumpkin was there, and some good samples of beets, parsnips, cabbage, squashes, celery, tomatoes, cauliflowers, onions, turnips, mangold wurtzels, potatoes, carrots, cabbages, &c.

There was also on exhibition a fine looking foliage plant and a tall and well developed oleander.

Three different manufactures of sewing machines were on exhibition, the Genuine Singer, those manufactured by Chas. Raymond, and the Wheeler and Wilson. The machines were well arrayed for exhibition and included those of heavy calibre and for fine work, and one agent used a small hand organ as an additional means of attracting attention.

The absence of some articles which are usually shown was noticed. There was no manufacture of leather on exhibition, neither in harness or boots and shoes, and none of our photographers made a display of their work.

The live stock departments are open for inspection to-day, and the stock is being judged this afternoon, but the list was not completed in time for publication to-day, and the balance of the prize list will appear to-morrow.

The following is the list of prize winners:

Those desiring to make money on small and medium investments in grain, provisions and stock speculations, can do so by operating on our plan. From May 1st, 1882, to the present date, our investments of $10,000 and cash profits have been realized and sent to investors amounting to several times the original investment, still leaving the original investment making money or payable on demand. COMPANIONS ARE ODD.

The Ottawa Citizen remarks as follows:—
The following comment appears in the London Advertiser:

"The appointment of Dr. Schultz to the Senate is an outrage on the country. Unable to secure election to serve for a term of five years as a legislator, Sir John arrogantly assumes the right to make him a legislator for life. The qualification for a Senator seems to be that he shall be first rejected by the people."

This is decidedly cool. Does our contemporary not recollect in the history of Canada the case of any defeated Grit candidate for the House of Commons being appointed to the Senate? Perhaps not. What about the late Hon. George Brown?

The Belleville Intelligencer, in reference to the assertion that the present licensing system protects the honest dealer in liquor, says:—
"The 'protection' received by the honest dealer in Belleville and probably also in Trenton in 1880-81 was that he was obliged to pay from $25 to $75 as blackmail to the brother of one of the Commissioners before he could get license."

This is fortunately an almost exceptional charge, but accusations of political coercion by Mr. Mowat's license officials are current in every direction, and will be so as long as these officials are appointed for electioneering purposes rather than to enforce the law.

The Reform organs tell us that the liquor licenses must be distributed fairly because there are more Conservative than Reform license holders. While Mr. Mowat's Paul Pry's were collecting these inquisitorial statistics, they might just as well have gone one step further and told us the politics of the owners of the houses. There is the landlord to be considered as well as the hotel-keeper in this system of gaining political advantage.

ENHANCEMENT.

From our own Correspondent.

WEATHER NOTES.—The month of September has nearly verged on the two extremes. On the 18th the thermometer reached 94° in the shade at two o'clock, and at six o'clock 82°, and taking sun rise and set and two o'clock, the highest point reached, will give us an average of 84°, being the hottest day of the season. According to these three given points the lowest temperature was on the morning of the 30th, being only 34° above zero, or 2° above the freezing point. The average for the month was 55°, rain fell on 10 days to the depth of 3.18 in. with only three different days of heavy thunder storms. There have been white frost on nine mornings, although not to any extent destroying the late vegetation. Take it as a whole it has been a favourable month for the farmer. On looking at my record for 1881 I find September averaged 64° or nearly 10° higher than 1882, while the hottest days were on the 4th, 5th and 6th at 90°, 100°, 101° in the shade at one o'clock p.m. respectively.

Weighing the Earth.

To the ordinary reader the idea of "weighing the earth" must seem like lifting oneself by one's own boot straps. Nevertheless the thing can and has been done. Professor von Jolly, of Munich, has made the latest calculation of the earth's mass, and by a novel process. He fixed a pair of scales in the top of a tower, and hitched to each plate of the instrument a wire which reached through a fine tube to twenty-one metres below. To the lower end of the wire other scale pans were fastened, thus hanging within little more than a metre from the ground. Under one of the pans he placed a ball of lead a metre in diameter, and established the fact that a body at a certain elevation gains in weight as it is made to approach the earth, by weighing substances first in one of the upper balances and then in one of the lower. Moreover these bodies varied in weight in the lower pans according as the mass of lead remained beneath or was removed. The difference of these weights showed the degree of attraction coming from the mass of lead acting alone, and this compared with the attraction exercised by the earth alone, gave a means for ascertaining, according to the law of gravitation, the ratio between the density of the earth and that of the lead. The density of the lead being known the ratio immediately gave the mean density of the earth. M. von Jolly's estimate is 5.67.

Expensive Treasure Found.

A man who finds £12,000 worth of gold hidden away in an old wall is generally regarded as a lucky individual; but the Civil Tribunal of Dijon has just proved that even a find of this magnitude may be anything but a fortunate occurrence to the discoverer. In the month of April last, as I informed you at the time, a joiner, named Jobin, taking down the panelling of an old house about to be demolished belonging to Dr. Chanut, at Dijon, found a sum of 3,000,000 francs in the gold of various dates just previous to the Great Revolution. The coin was packed in rags and wrapped in pieces of the Moniteur published during the Reign of Terror. With the money were also scraps of manuscript, showing it to belong to one who was Mayor of Dijon at that period. His descendants, on hearing of the discovery, brought an action against Dr. Chanut and M. Jobin to recover the treasure, and the court, after duly investigating the claim, gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff. What is even more startling to the finder of the treasure and to the proprietor of the house where it had remained concealed for nearly a century is that they were mulcted in the costs of the trial.—Paris correspondence, London Standard.

Monument to Hon. Geo. Brown.

The committee entrusted with the task of erecting a monument to the memory of the late Hon. George Brown, on Wednesday resolved to place the work in the hands of Mr. Birch, A. R. A., of London, England. The statue is to be of bronze ten feet high, and the cost will be £1,000 sterling. It is supposed that a year will be consumed in the completion of the statue.—Tele.

It is expected that the taking of evidence with reference to the loss of the Asia will be concluded to-morrow with the testimony of Mr. Tinkins.

Mr. McNAMER, it is understood, has instructed counsel to take a civil action for $50,000 damages against the proprietors of the Montreal Evening Post.

A BONANZA MINE of health is to be found in Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," to the merits of which as a remedy for female weakness and kindred affections thousands testify.

It is stated on the authority of a Galway landlord that the bodies of the bailiffs which were taken from Lough Mask have been exhumed and thrown back into the lake.

THE Wild Strawberry plant possesses rare virtues as a cleansing, cooling, astringent, antiseptic, and healing medicine, and when combined with other valuable vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it is an unfailing remedy in all bowel complaints.

The amount of the defalcations by McNeill, the clerk in the Montreal City Treasurer's office, which it has been discovered have been going on for eight years without causing suspicion, is now placed at from twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars.

The prescription of a skillful physician, and composed of vegetable drugs of great remedial power, Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters purify the blood, give tone and vigor to the system, cure Dyspepsia and Indigestion when all other medicines fail. Have you tried it? Sold by J. D. Tully, at 50 cents a bottle.

The well known quotation, "Behold how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity," used by Mr. Warren Kennedy in his address on Methodist union, reported in the Globe, was, by a telegraphic error made to read "drink together."

The firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes us June 1st, saying "There is not another preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction. Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood, Liver and Kidneys."

If you experience bad taste in the mouth, sallowness or yellow color of skin, feel stupid and drowsy, appetite unsteady, frequent headache or dizziness, you are "bilious," and nothing will arouse your liver to action and strengthen up your system equal to Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." By drugging.

BARRON is credited with a new idea. When he finds his show too full he has a very large placard exhibited and borne aloft by two men. It has on it "This way the Egress." The men proceed slowly to the open door and are followed by the crowds, who think "Egress" is some strange new animal. The men proceed through the door. There is no redmition to the show.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, obstinate disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the acrimony which causes these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—A FLUID SPECIFIC IN ITSELF, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been prepared, not those of disordered liver and dyspepsia, grow comparable for its healthy action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Starlin, and every year it is used adds more and more favorably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 26th, 1880.
Dr. R. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found in its effects.
Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

Stoughton, Mass., March 10th, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have recovered two horse spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four or five weeks to get him off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no hunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lamenesses and all enlargements of the joints of limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.
Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for best as well as most.
Price per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. R. J. KENDALL & CO., Ennagh Falls, Vt.

JEREMIAH IN IRELAND.

Dr. Wild's Lecture.—St. Patrick identified with Jeremiah and England with Ireland. Bradburn's Hall was crowded on Tuesday night to hear the Rev. Dr. Wild lecture on "Jeremiah in Ireland," under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Mr. J. F. JEFFERS, auditor of the Midland Railway, appeared on the platform with the lecturer and as president of the Y. M. C. A. briefly introduced him.

Dr. Wild, after a few complimentary words addressed to Peterborough and its people, to the Y. M. C. A. and to their president spoke of the vastness of the habitable world and the great extent of it not yet inhabited, through the population was estimated at 1,400,000,000, to be doubled in a comparatively few years. He believed that the weaker nations would pass away and the strong ones be left, that the progress of civilization would ultimately result in the survival of one ruling nation, and which nation would it be? He believed that it would be the Saxon or British, including as he would show later the United States. The great elements of power were land with its attraction for population, language, religion and race. He argued in eloquent language and with copious illustrations that the Saxons had the advantage in each of these respects. He dwelt particularly on the last point, affirming that the Saxon race could not like others state their origin. Sharon Turner, the first authority took them back to Central Asia, but no further. Their very name, according to Max Muller, another great authority, was composed of two Sanscrit words signifying, "A people without epoch or beginning of days." The Jewish race was a peculiar one. They had an estimated population of 9,000,000, what had not increased in 1800 years, while other nations had so enlarged. Why had they no organized state? They were numerous enough, intelligent, moral, rich enough, yet they had no territory, home, state or king. Why this strange exception? Because the Lord had so decreed. The Jews were never present proof of providence. There had been divisions in Jacob's family, there were legal mothers and naturally two divisions. So Israel and Judah had separated, the ten tribes had seceded from the two. The two Kingdoms had gone on side by side for 254 years with 19 kings of each, but still distinct. Judah had been cured and Israel blessed. The ten tribes were carried captive by the Assyrians into Halah and Habor, the very point where Sharon Turner finds the Saxon. Who could say that they were not identical? The Saxons were divided the twelve lost tribes. Where else could we find them? Israel was God's elect, and they should be a peculiar, a distinct and not a mean people. Books had been written to prove that the Red men were the lost tribes. But to look at a squaw wrapped in her blanket, who would suppose her to be one of God's elect nation? The tribes of Judah and Levi numbered 9,000,000, how much must the ten tribes outnumber them? They would be vastly more numerous than all the Red Indians with the Esquimaux included. They must now by analogy amount to 50 or 80 million people, and where was such a population to be found except in the Saxon race? The Jews were subsequently carried captive to Babylon, but they came back to Palestine. The Israelites never went back, for the Assyrians had filled their place with foreigners, who became the Samaritans, Jews by religion but not by race. In heaven there is one throne, one King. We pray that it may be on earth as in heaven, and so on earth there would be one throne, one king, one high priest, a spiritual and temporal throne, the symbol of that above. David's throne, we are told, is to last for ever. The national throne of David must still be filled by David's seed. What other throne could this be than that of Queen Victoria? Those who did not believe it might choose another if they could. Reuben's birthright as the eldest son was given to the sons of Joseph, and so there were two forms of government in the Saxon or British race. Manasseh being represented by that of the United States. But the sovereignty remained with Judah. Our Saviour was a Jew. Our sovereign is of Jewish race, not of Saxon race. She took her title from James I. of England and VI. of Scotland, who said that he was descended from the Kings of Tara. He would not dispute King James' account of his own family, nor Her Majesty's claim through him. When Nebuchadnezzar took King Zedekiah prisoner and blinded him, he cut off the heads of all the members of the Royal family, except two daughters of Zedekiah, who went to Egypt with the prophet Jeremiah, and the small remnant who escaped there. Henceforth Jeremiah vanishes from sight in Scripture. There is no mention of his death or burial place. Escape by land was cut off by the enemy, so he must have gone by sea. He had two lines to choose from. There were the Phoenicians and the men of Dan, who were seafarers, trading as far as the British Isles. He would naturally go with the men of Dan rather than with foreigners, and now Jeremiah, having vanished from sacred history, crops up in profane. Early Spanish history speaks much of a wonderful visitor, a descendant of Moses, travelling on his way to "Scotia," the first name of Ireland. The early Irish historians, four out of five of them, and he did not speak from hearsay for he had studied the originals, said that the island was settled by two distinct peoples, the Phoenicians and Danites, Dan in Ulster and the Phoenicians in the south. These people did not agree in Palestine, nor had they agreed in Ireland. No legislation would succeed in making them agree unless it followed God's will. The lecturer here gave some humorous illustrations of effects lasting long after their causes, instancing the dog turning on the carpet to make its bed, as its predecessors had among the thorns and twigs, the shudder at passing a graveyard felt by those who had abandoned their forefathers' belief in ghosts, and the barbers' poll surviving from the day when they practised phlebotomy and used red ribbons for ligatures. So with the hostility in Ireland, we must regard the old cause if we would succeed in removing its effect. The old Irish historians speak of a "Divine man," a stranger, a Hebrew, who promised the king of Munster a beautiful young princess for a wife if he would forsake his idols, establish schools for the prophets, and make her offspring heirs to his throne. This beautiful princess was Te Tephi, daughter of king Zedekiah, and the "Divine man" was Jeremiah. The bargain was kept, the idols were forsaken, schools were established in this "Isle of the Saints," and King David's descendant succeeded in a long line to the throne. The capital was rechristened Tara, and a palace was built of Hebrew design. The harp that sounded in the halls was David's harp, different from all others, now the emblem of Ireland, (pointing to the Irish quarter in the royal arms which were displayed.) Anyone looking at our coin and seeing Queen Victoria head would know that a Queen was reigning. The old Irish coins, still to be seen, had a woman in a chariot, drawn by a lion—Te Tephi and the lion of Judah. Taking the coincidence with him to Tara, he graphically described the ruins. At the time of the Union it was stipulated that the ruins of Tara should not be disturbed. Who had procured this? They were clever people, and we had such clever people among us. Tara was destroyed, its saint was overthrown, St. Patrick, the saint to the sainted Patriarch. A fictitious person was put in the place of Jeremiah, to whom centuries before had been attributed all that was now attributed to St. Patrick. For his part, his researches had not enabled him to find out whether there ever was a Saint Patrick. Jacob's pillow of stone and the crown of the son of David were not taken by Nebuchadnezzar, but were carried away by Jeremiah. The Spaniards said their wonderful visitor had a stone and an ark with him. If we went to Westminster Abbey we could see the stone; money could not buy it, for it was worth more than the crown or royal diamonds. The crown of the British empire were crowned on it. Cromwell, who would not go into the Abbey, had it taken out that he might sit on it when installed as protector. This stone connected the three kingdoms, Tara and Jerusalem. The English got it from Scotland. Fergus of Scotland had borrowed it from his brother king in Ireland to be crowned on, and the crown of Scotland was kept it, never giving it back to the trusting young Irishman. (Laughter.) As they had substituted a saint, so they substituted a stone. The Blarney stone, whose touch made lips eloquent, was the substitute for Jacob's pillow, a Patrick was for Jeremiah. The Episcopalians in their grand liturgy, ascribing to position of scripture to be read each day, so that every chapter, with some slight portions omitted, the whole bible was read once a year. But both in the old and new lectionary one chapter and one only was omitted, Ezekiel XVII. Why? Because Te Tephi was so clearly portrayed as the tender young twig taken from the top of a high cedar and planted on a mountain of the land of Israel, where it grew to a goodly cedar, bringing forth boughs and bearing fruit, so that fowl of every wing should dwell in the shadow of its branches. The omission was providential, to call more attention to the passage. Jeremiah's commission (Ch. I. v. 10) was to all the nations and kingdoms (the land of Israel) not only to root out and pull down but to build and to plant. At Tara he built up the throne of David and planted the twig of cedar, Te Tephi. Before he went on his journey Jeremiah visited his mother like a good son, Chap. XV. He was afraid to go to Ireland, but the Lord promised to carry him, and he went. He could not stay in his own country for the Lord forbade him to take a wife or have children there, Chap. XVI, and where better could he go for them than Ireland, so he went there. The ark of the covenant was hid, not destroyed, and was in charge of Jeremiah. There was a degree of confusion in the hiding of the Ark, originally of nine members representing the nine tribes. Royal Arch Masonry came from Tara. This degree would some day have its work completed for the Ark would be discovered at Tara. The lecturer then turned to a representation of the Royal Arms and explained them. The crowned lion travelling east for a supporter in the Lion of Judah travelling from Tara to Scotland and England. The little crowned lion for a crest was Ephraim. The nine lions in all represented the nine tribes. The unicorn moving west and with a broken chain was Benjamin, the tribe of Israel that stayed with Judah to receive our Saviour. Saul and his sons were under God's protection, and so not even the British had been able to beat them. On the other side the 13 stars and 13 arrows were again for the 13th tribe, and so the motto "E pluribus unum" showed that they were one tribe out of many. The arrows being joined showed that the ten tribes would be rejoined, as they would be. The victories in Egypt were hastening the day. At the time of Garfield's death it was said that if the whole world again combined against England the United States would come to the rescue. Pointing to the royal arms he concluded by wishing prosperity to the banner and to the race.

A vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Jas.

ADJOURNMENTS.
WEDNESDAY, Sept. 4.—Mr. Menzies occupied the bench. The case of S. F. Allen against T. W. Robinson was enlarged for two months. A charge against a young man for assaulting the constables was adjourned till Monday, as was also a case against three young men for breaking a plate glass window in Manchester's store.

"ENJOY YOUR LIFE" is good philosophy, but to do so you must have health. If bilious and constipated, or blood is out of order, use Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," which are mild, yet certain in their operation. Of all druggists.

A SINGLE BOX of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy will kill a thousand worms, and is as pleasant to take as the most delicious candy. It does not create nausea, and can be given without a particle of apprehension of doing injury.

DAVE & CLARK, Druggists, Renfrew, writes on June 3rd. "We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purpose for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bowel complaints incident to Summer and Fall.

MR. Wm. RANSOM, of South Norwick, says: For sixteen years I suffered from Biliousness, never had any medicine do me any permanent good until recommended by our druggists, (J. Wesley Fish & Co., Otterville,) to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, which have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I would, with the utmost confidence, recommend them to all suffering from Biliousness, &c. Sold by J. D. Tully, at 50 cents a bottle.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1892.

Charlotte Street Church.

It is proposed to make alterations and improvements in Charlotte Street Methodist Church, which will give additional seating room and otherwise improve the church. Tenders for the work have been invited and will be opened on Saturday next.

Business Change.

The confectionery business of Mr. D. Lemay has been purchased by the Messrs. Long Bros., who intend to continue business in their old establishment and in this new one also. Messrs. Long understand how to cater to the public, and they will be still better able to do so with the two stores, both situated on George street. Mr. Lemay intends leaving Peterborough to reside in New York state.

Another Window Broken.

Another plate glass window was broken on Tuesday evening. It was in Mr. Melville Miller's store, and the cause of the breakage is somewhat mysterious, although thought to be a rifle bullet which might have come from Ashburnham, as the break has such an appearance as a bullet would make, and it was done by a descending missile. The cracks have extended since the damage was first done. The window was not insured.

Investors Halted.

The action of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company in issuing debentures for sums of $100 and upwards will be a boon to investors, especially those having small amounts to utilize. The interest as shown in their advertisement is higher than that offered by the banks, the payments are more regular than those on small mortgages, and the security is undoubted. Not only the paid up capital is liable for all the liabilities of the company, but even if that was all swept away, which is however impossible, for it is invested in first mortgages on real estate, there is the unpaid capital, subscribed by shareholders of substance, amounting to more than $1,000,000, which is equally liable for the company's engagements. It is a most convenient and absolutely safe form of investment.

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

THE SULTAN OF TURKEY BECOMING IMPATIENT AND VEXED.

Honours Awaiting the Army and Navy Commanders—Sir S. Northcote on the War—The Army of Occupation.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS.

CAIRO, Oct. 4.—It seems settled that the brigades of Gena. Wood and Allison will form the army of occupation in Egypt. The remainder of the troops will embark as soon as transports are ready to receive them. The first to return will be the Household Brigade, the first detachments of which started to-day for Alexandria en route for London. The rest will follow on Thursday or Friday. The Duke of Teck returns with the Brigade. The Indian troops are also on the move, and the transports Duke of Argyll and Persian Monarch have gone to Suez to embark a portion of the contingent.

COMPLIMENTING THE ARMY.

CAIRO, Oct. 4.—General Wolsley to-day issued an order complimenting the British troops engaged in the Egyptian campaign on their endurance, courage, gallantry, and good behaviour. The order says the Queen is proud of her soldiers and General Wolsley, in the Queen's name, thanked them for their valour and discipline.

STARTED FOR MECCA.

CAIRO, Oct. 5.—The usual yearly caravan with the sacred carpet for Mecca has started. A vast crowd of people, including the British, was present. All passed off quietly.

A DEMAND FROM THE SULTAN.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Sultan has called the attention of Lord Dufferin to the fact that the note of the Porte, enquiring when the British troops will leave Egypt, remains unanswered. The Sultan declared that if Lord Dufferin did not reply, he would address himself to the Powers.

ARABI'S COMPLICITY.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A correspondent at Cairo says he has good authority for stating that Arabi's direct complicity in the June massacres and pillage of Alexandria will be proved by documents in the possession of the authorities of the nation.

THE SULTAN VEXED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—The Sultan is greatly vexed at the departure of Baker Pasha for Egypt, and has commanded the Khedive to send him back. The vexation has been intensified by the report that Midhat Pasha and other State prisoners escaped from Hadjia, in Arabia during the recent disturbances there.

A CONSERVATIVE VIEW.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Sir Stafford Northcote, in a speech here to-day, said he believed the Egyptian war unnecessary and unjustifiable. Had the Government made a firm stand at the commencement, the war might have been avoided. He prophesied that the Government would meet with immense difficulties in the settlement of the Egyptian question. He feared the Liberals would introduce violent radical measures at home to compensate for the failure abroad.

HONOURS AWAITING THE VICTORS.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The corporation of London has decided to present an address of congratulation to Gen. Wolsley, and the Freedom of the city and a sword of honor to Admiral Seymour. General Wolsley has already received the freedom of the city.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

CABLE.

THE ASSASSIN'S TOOLS.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—The weapons used by the murderers of Lord Cavendish and Mr. Burke were found in the rafters of a stable in the rear of a house belonging to a man recently sentenced to penal servitude for intimidation of Mrs. Kenny, widow of the man murdered in Saville Place. The man was suspected of giving information concerning the murders. It is alleged that Kenny was driver of the car in which the assassins rode on the night of the murder. The weapons found were four knives five inches long, with blades three-quarters of an inch wide. They are quite new, very sharp, and evidently surgical dissecting knives. There were discolours on them which, on chemical analysis, proved to have been made by human blood. It is hoped the murderers will yet be captured. The authorities observe the strictest secrecy.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1882.

ARE WE ISRAELITES?

We have given as fair a summary as possible of Dr. Wild's lecture on "Jeremiah in Ireland," but space would not allow us to do full justice to the lecturer's eloquence. Many of the audience left the hall with the conviction that they were Israelites and Queen Victoria a Jewess, so great was the effect of his oratory and of his dexterous treatment of the question.

As to the subject which gives the title to the lecture, it certainly is not impossible that the prophet Jeremiah escaped by sea from Egypt, that he embarked in a Danite vessel, reached Spain and even Ireland, and was the wonderful visitor to those countries mentioned in their histories and traditions. Such conjectures if extremely improbable are at least harmless, and there is no reason why anyone who pleases should not indulge in them. For our part we have not the slightest inclination to deny that Jeremiah may have visited Ireland, though we see no reason to believe that he did. It is, in our opinion, merely a curious speculation.

But leaving this aside, the two main assumptions of the lecturer are that both our sovereignty and her subjects, that part of them at least who are "Saxon," with the people of the United States of the same race, are alike Hebrews, descended from Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; that Queen Victoria is a Jewess seated on the throne of David and descended from his royal house through a long line of Kings of Judah, Ireland, Scotland and England; that we are Israelites descended from the ten tribes taken into the captivity by the Assyrians and planted in Central Asia, whence our forefather migrated westward as Saxons.

The first of these statements is perhaps not altogether incredible, but it certainly makes great demands upon one's credulity. The genealogy seems very feasible as it is glibly recounted to us. From Jacob to Zedekiah the steps are familiar to us all. Again starting backwards from the present time we are well acquainted with Queen Victoria's descent from the royal son of the luckless Queen of Scots, nor in our incomplete knowledge of early Celtic history are we disposed to throw any doubt on the accuracy of King James' claim to a descent from Tara's monarchs through a long line of Kings on either side of St. George's channel. But between the Irish Kings in Tara and King Zedekiah in Jerusalem there is a gap to be leaped over, a doubtful link in the chain, which is thus weakened as a whole. That a daughter of King Zedekiah left Egypt for Ireland, that she there married the King and became ancestress of the royal line at Tara are statements that certainly are not proved to be true, and however happy the conjecture may be it is a slender foundation upon which to raise such an edifice.

The other assumption is still less warrantable; it is not only wildly improbable, but it is absolutely impossible without the intervention of the most stupendous miracle ever imagined. Between the Israelites placed as captives in central Asia, and the Saxons traced from the same neighbourhood by Sharon Turner there is a gap more difficult to bridge than even that between the Jewish princess in Egypt and the Irish King in Tara. Can it be conceived that, in an interval comparatively short, tribes of swarthy Arab black haired and dark eyed, should be transmuted into tribes of fair Teutons, light haired and blue eyed, or that their Hebrew language with its alliances with the speech of cognate races should be abandoned for a German dialect closely allied to an altogether different type of languages. Such a wonderful proof of the instability of the national character, even if it were possible, would hardly betoken a race fated to absorb and assimilate all others and to attain to universal rule. Their brethren are not so variable. No such change took place in the other two tribes, for the Jews as depicted by the ancient Egyptians are of the identical type that we meet with in London or New York—they are the least changed, the least changeable of nations. To the mind of the anthropologist, the ethnologist or the linguist it is utterly impossible that such a vast and rapid change took place by natural means. Can we imagine that it was by supernatural means, that a miracle so gigantic was wrought without apparent cause or necessity or without leaving any trace in history or tradition of such a miracle?

Then again if the Saxons of the United Kingdom and the United States are Israelites, where is the line to be drawn? As far as a people of such mixed blood can be called a race we are certainly a branch of the great German race. Are the other branches of the same family with their similar language and complexion, bodily and mental characteristics to be ranked also as Hebrews? If so why not the closely allied Scandinavians and even more distant connections? Difficulties multiply as we examine the question.

We fear that we must absolutely renounce the idea that we are Israelites and even have grave doubts of the descent of our Queen from a beautiful princess from the East of the House of David. Providence may have a high destiny in store for us even without such a descent.

THE FALL EXHIBITION.

ANNUAL AUTUMN SHOW OF THE WEST RIDING AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A Large Attendance on the Second Day.—The Live Stock Show—Good Specimens of Horse Flesh.

On Wednesday, the second day of the exhibition, the live stock department was open for inspection, and there was a large attendance of visitors in the afternoon. The weather on this day, as on the previous one, was most auspicious, and the exhibition was highly favoured in this particular. The Fire Brigade Band was on the ground during the afternoon, and the music they provided was good, as is usual, and was greatly admired.

Of farming implements Messrs. J. Whyte & Co. made an exhibit of ploughs, Mr. Peter Hamilton of a combined reaper and mower, a horse rake and plough, and Mr. W. Graham of a horse hoe, ploughs, &c. Mr. H. Owens exhibited a trio of pumps, including a strong force pump.

The exhibit of horses was a good one, there being some fine driving horses, carriage and farm horses, &c. Several one year old stallions were shown, and one thoroughbred stallion over three years, entered by Mr. James Wood. This class was well represented, and had the others been as well filled the fair would have been a very good one.

A fine herd of Durham cattle were exhibited by Mr. Henry Collins, who carried off the most of the prizes for this breed and was the largest exhibitor of cattle. There were several other animals of this breed exhibited, and in Devon Mr. Jos. Walton had the field to himself, and his herd made a good show. In grade cattle there was some fine animals shown.

The sheep pens enclosed some fine animals, including Southdowns, Cotswolds, Leicesters. The exhibit of swine was a small one and was contained in a few pens.

Of poultry the numbers shown was not large, although a good many varieties were represented. The following is the continuation of the prize list:

A CANOE TRIP.

A Trip from Peterborough to Toronto by Canoe.

We find the following in the Petrolia Topic: The following extract is taken from a letter received by us from Mr. Colin Fraser, late of this town, in reference to a trip recently made by him and his brother William, from the town of Peterborough to Toronto, a distance of about 200 miles:—

"Having bought the canoe, we laid in a large supply of eatables, together with the necessary cooking utensils, and at four o'clock Tuesday evening were ready to start. The manifest of the Kate showed the following: the aforesaid eatables and utensils, two paddles, two cushions, sail, mast, lee-boards, trowling-lines, a few books, umbrellas, heavy suit for sleeping in, extra underclothing and lastly our two selves. We paddled through the charming Little Lake and were soon at the lock on the Otonabee River. A barge was just entering the lock so we paddled in along side and were soon in the river below without the trouble of portaging. After dark we passed a fishing party from Peterborough who were camped on shore, seated around their blazing camp fire with pitchy darkness for a background, they formed a very pleasing picture. We tied the canoe to a branch of a tree that overhung the water, lay down in it and fell asleep. We were awakened by the rain before daylight, so we spread our sail over us, using the mast as a ridge-pole, and soon were fast asleep again. On enquiring in the morning we learned that we were thirteen miles from Peterborough and seven or eight from the mouth of the river. As we neared Rice Lake we passed by two or three frog-pens—large uncovered boxes ten or twelve feet square, three or four feet high, floating in the water, fastened to the river bank. We looked into one of these and saw about a thousand frogs, some resting on others three and four feet deep, many of them very large, and all making a dreadful noise. The interior of the frog pen is not a very pleasing spectacle. Frog-catching is developing into an important industry on the Otonabee and Trent rivers. They are shipped to New York or Boston. On entering Rice Lake we had a very good view of the pretty village of Gore's Landing. A fair breeze was blowing so we hoisted our sails, dropped our paddles, lay back and enjoyed the scenery. On our right we passed Harwood and Idyl-Wyld, the celebrated Rice Lake camping and picnic grounds; on the left, the Indian Village of Hiawatha, and Kesee. We entered the Trent late in the afternoon, and at six o'clock were in Hastings, over forty miles from Peterborough, by water. We landed a mile below Hastings, turned our canoe upside down, propped up one end of it about a foot and a half high from the ground and slept until night. Next day we were joined by Messrs. B. W. Waters, C. Waters, and F. Starr, and went down to the falls of Healy's Falls, about fourteen miles below for a couple of days' fishing. We caught eight 'longs and lots of bass, returning Saturday morning. We went to Norwood, where we remained until Monday morning, the guest of Mr. R. W. Waters. On Monday, the 2nd inst., we spent the night under our canoe at Idyl-Wyld, crossed next morning to Harwood just in time to miss the train, then we went to see the Indians gathering wild rice, paddled to Hiawatha, then back to Harwood, where we took the evening train for Cobourg. Soon after dark we were afloat on Lake Ontario, we spent the night on shore about midway between Cobourg and Port Hope. We spent about a week between Cobourg and Toronto, sleeping under our canoe at night, taking a plunge in the lake on rising in the morning, cooking our own meals, the raw material for which we bought at the towns and villages on the way, paddling when not too rough, using our sail when we had anything but a head wind, lying on shore reading when we could use neither our sail nor paddles; getting nearly swamped off the piers at Port Hope, getting drenched with rain off Bowmanville and again off Oshawa; and thoroughly enjoying it all, having the rain. On reaching Toronto we found all our cargo safe and sound excepting the victuals—these somehow had disappeared.

[The canoe which did such good work was manufactured by Mr. Wm. English.—Ed. REVIEW.]

TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette of September 30th says:—

On Tuesday last Mr. A. P. McDonald, who has the contract for the public works in this village, was here for the purpose of making a reconnaissance of the scene of operations and securing a house for his son, who will reside in Fenelon Falls while the locks, &c., are being built. As Mr. McDonald came and went by special conveyance and only remained here about two hours we did not hear of his visit until too late to interview him; but he told one of our villagers with whom he had a brief conversation that he already had a car loading with some of the tools and implements that will be required, that they would probably reach the Falls in three or four days, and that he expected to commence work next week with about seventy men, if he could get that number in this vicinity. The line of the canal and locks is partly on Water street and partly on property owned (we believe) by the North of Scotland Loan Company, and some are of the opinion that the right of way will have to be purchased before the work can be proceeded with. We think, however, that there is no need for delay on that account, as the owners cannot refuse to sell, and as the price, if a disagreement arise, will have to be settled by arbitration, the fact that ground was broken before the right of way was secured could not be taken advantage of to make an unreasonable demand. At any rate, it may be taken for granted that Mr. McDonald knows his position, and as he said that he would commence work next week we of course expect that he will do so.

Naturally enough, our villagers are greatly pleased that their hopes, which are so soon to be realized; as, apart from the benefits expected to result from the locks when completed, a great deal of good will be done by the money which will be put in circulation while they are being built, and already there are rumours of two or three of our vacant stores finding tenants and a large boarding house being started. The works will, it is believed, take at least two, and perhaps three, years for their completion, and as a very large sum will be paid weekly for wages and the recipients will spend the greater part of it in the Falls, every business man in the place has confident hopes that more or less will find its way into his pocket, and, consequently, feels cheerful and happy.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL
MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine"
in a few days, and commences to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, endoring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sul-pholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural complexion. The skin being "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by those Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent remedy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its healthy action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Starlin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation.
Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

TAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT—SOLD BY
CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ

PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Providing Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's

Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and

I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse,

when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the hump be found.

Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

STONINGTON, Mass., March 16th, 1880.

B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure,

one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months.

It took Dr. Kendall's Spavin Cure to get it off, and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

Kendall's Spavin Cure is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callosities, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it on call for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors,

CAMPBELLFORD.

PRESENTATION.—The Herald says that Mr. E. J. Keady, foreman of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, who is a brother of Mr. J. Keady, of the Auburn Woollen Mills, was presented by the weavers on Sept. 22nd with an address and two ten dollar gold pieces, previous to his departure to Chatham. The following eulogies were passed between the two parties:—

To Mr. E. J. Keady.—
Dana Sir,—We the weavers of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, in view of your anticipated departure from among us, desire to express to you our respect for you personally and our appreciation of the kindly interest you have ever manifested toward us in connection with our work.

Will you please accept this gold piece, illustrative as it is of true friendship, as a small token of our kindly feeling and good wishes.
In conclusion, we earnestly pray that the blessing of a benevolent Providence may ever attend your family wherever your lot may be cast.

I can assure you I was most agreeably surprised at receiving your gift as a token of your esteem for me, also expressing your wishes and friendship to Mrs. Keady and myself, which I accept with grateful feelings to you all, and wherever I go, I will treasure and keep in kind remembrance this testimonial. Although perhaps far apart we will always remain united in your farewell address.

BELLEVIEW.

FIRE.—Messrs. Downey & Preston's grain elevator was burned on Tuesday night. Between 5,000 and 6,000 bushels of different kinds of grain were destroyed. The building was owned by the city. Messrs. Downey & Preston had an insurance of $5,000 on the contents and machinery, but it is said that this will not half cover their loss.

A Terrible Struggle.

PARRY SOUND, Oct. 5.—Henry Gould, of Parry Harbour, was drowned yesterday while attempting to kill a large brown bear, assisted by the crew of the tug Superior. It seems the bear was swimming in the Sound just opposite Killbear Point, when the tug gave chase. Gould was on shore, also pursued in a punt, and came alongside the tug and took in with him two of the crew. The three men then gave chase to the bear. Upon their coming to close quarters the bear turned on them and attacked the boat and its occupants. One of the men who joined Gould struck at the bear with an axe and broke it over its head, the head of the axe dropping into the water. After this weapon was destroyed, the two who joined Gould jumped out of the boat and swam to the tug. Gould being left alone in the boat, attempted to shove him off; in this attempt the bear grabbed his arm and disabled it; Gould managed to free himself and made for the bow of the boat. The bear getting into the boat again attacked Gould, who tried to defend himself with a pike-pole. In the struggle the bear struck him on the side with its paw, throwing him into the water. He swam a few strokes and then sank, and although several attempts have been made since to find the body, no trace of it can be found. The water is about one hundred and twenty feet deep where he sank. Mr. Gould leaves a wife and a large family. The bear escaped.

W. H. CROOKER, Druggist, of Watertown, under date of June 1st, writes that "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cannot be surpassed, when all other remedies fail then it comes to the rescue, and I find the same large and increasing." Wild Strawberry positively cures all Bowel complaints.

BILIOUSNESS.—A furred tongue, bad taste in the mouth, nausea vomiting, variable appetite, alternate diarrhoea and constiveness, faintness, weakness, yellow cast of eyes and countenance, indicate serious biliary trouble. Jaundice is a dangerous disease, it is an overflow of bad bile in the circulation, any of these symptoms should be remedied without delay, and Burdock Blood Purifier is the remedy upon which you may surely rely.

HORRIBLE CRUELTY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—John Owen, a seaman, was arrested by the Hoboken police yesterday on the complaint of Capt. John J. Graham, of the ship Phila, charged with assault on Sept. 20th while on a voyage from France to this port. Owen alleges that he was sent aloft to shift the royal braces during the stiff gale of wind. Not performing the work quickly enough the captain ordered him to deck, when he was assaulted by both the mate and captain and badly beaten. Owen ran amidships where he was knocked to his knees with a slung shot and the mate kicked him. He then drew his clasp knife and made three cuts at the mate but did not reach him, and then slashed the captain across the face inflicting a painful but not dangerous wound. He then hid himself in the forecastle, whence the captain and mate followed, and threatened to shoot him if he did not throw down his weapons. He at once complied, when the captain fired. They put him in irons and beat him in a terrible manner. After this he was strung up by the arms so that his toes scarcely reached the deck, and left there for 12 hours. He was next fastened to a ring in the side of the vessel in such a position that he could neither sit erect nor lie down. Here he was kept on short rations for seven days, after which he was put to work as the ship was short-handed and the weather was very heavy. When the vessel reached Sandy Hook he was again ironed and confined.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The Peruvian Minister has received a cablegram from Guayaquil, Ecuador, stating that Calderon, President of Peru, who has been a prisoner of Chili for the past eleven months, and Logan, the new United States Minister to Chili, are in Arequipa, Peru, treating for peace. The city was lately made the seat of Peruvian Government by Vice-President Montero. Minister Elmore says he has been expecting news of this kind in view of the solid union of the Peruvians under the Provisional Government of Calderon, and of the loyal attitude of Berna, and the firm position occupied by the United States during the whole war as the impartial friend of all the belligerents. He always believed that lasting peace could be made only by the Calderon Government under the auspices of the United States.

SAD NEWS FOR DRINKERS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Sun says that the hop market has never before, according to old dealers, been so excited as it is now. The prices are unprecedented. When it was certain that the hop harvests throughout Europe were not up to half the ordinary production, the English brewers and hop dealers six weeks ago bought up a fourth of all the hops in this country. The price ran up in four days from 33 cents per pound to 55 cents, and on Wednesday it reached 83 to 85 cents. Choice lots sold yesterday for 90 cents. In a few days more it is expected that the price will go up to one dollar, and before the next crop is gathered it may reach $1.50. A dealer some time ago unsuccessfully tried to sell some bales nine years old at $12.50 per bale of 250 pounds, but since the boom he has disposed of these readily at $100 per bale. The immediate effect of the advance in hops will be a corresponding advance in wholesale prices of ale and beer. Ale brewers have already resolved to put the price up one dollar a barrel.

TELEGRAPH CONSOLIDATION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Tribune's Chicago despatch says that it is feared that the mutual union and western union Telegraph offices in Chicago will be consolidated on Monday. It is stated that positive orders were received from New York to begin in Chicago first and gradually extend over the boundary until the companies are under one management. In consequence of the consolidation the operators and messengers of both companies are arranging for a strike on Monday.

THE SIGNAL BUREAU.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—It is estimated that $13,000,000 worth of property was saved by the signal bureau's timely warning to vessels of the approach of the disastrous cyclone last month. The saving in this storm alone would pay the expenses of the service for ten years.

THE GREEN-EYED MONSTER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—At the agricultural department yesterday Mrs. J. D. O'Connell, wife of the chief of the stationery, pay and property department of the treasury, assaulted a young widow whom she charged with appropriating her husband's affections. NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The officers of the Mutual Telegraph Company disbelieve the news from Chicago as to the consolidation of any of their offices.

DYNAMITE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—An infernal machine was recently mailed to Justice Field, of the United States Supreme Court. The case, being regarded with suspicion, was placed in water and then opened from the back. No damage was done. A clipping from a newspaper pasted in the case detailed the account of a decision given by Judge Field regarding the title to certain property in San Francisco. It is supposed the machine was a contrivance of the disappointed litigant.

AN OUTLAW SURRENDERED

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 6.—Frank James surrendered to the governor this evening, and will be sent to Kansas City to-morrow. It is thought he surrendered because he was discouraged at having lost his old confederates. When James surrendered he handed the governor his pistols, saying he was the only man for twenty years except himself who had touched them. Many prominent citizens were at the hotel where James is in custody this evening seeking the "honour" of shaking hands with him.

THE LICENSE QUESTION.

INASMUCH as the relative positions of the opponents and supporters of the Mowat Administration with regard to the license question, or rather with regard to the channel through which licenses may be obtained and the distribution of the revenue derived therefrom, will occupy a large share of attention during the next few months, we will be excused if we, even at the risk of some repetition, attempt to place before our readers succinctly but fully the issues involved.

As we understand the matter, the Crooks Act, which contains the license law as it stands, is practically divisible into two parts, namely, first, that which relates to the number of taverns, &c., which may be licensed in a municipality, the hours during which they may be kept open, &c.; and, secondly, that which provides for their issue by boards of Commissioners, and Inspectors appointed by the Government of the day upon the advice of their political friends in each constituency, and the distribution of the revenue derived therefrom. Our readers will have observed that the resolution which was passed at the Toronto convention, and which defines the position of the opponents of the Mowat Government upon this question, is careful to point out that in attacking what we have indicated as the second part of the Crooks Act, they do not in any way propose to interfere with or relax the provisions mentioned as belonging to the first part. Upon this point the resolution of the Convention is as plain as it is possible for the English language to make it, and no other conclusion can be arrived at than that those who endeavour to make it out an attack upon every provision contained in the Crooks Act are, with malice aforethought, endeavouring to mislead the electorate as to the true issue at stake on this question in the approaching contest.

That there may be no doubt as to the political character of the boards now entrusted with the duty of saying who shall and who shall not receive licenses, let us quote from the Act itself. The Act says they shall be issued by a board "composed of three persons, appointed from time to time by the Lieut. Governor in council for each city, county, union of counties or electoral riding or division, as the Lieut. Governor in council may think fit; and to ensure that these Commissioners shall always be under the influence of the appointing power, it is further declared that "each of the Commissioners shall cause to hold office on the thirty-first day of December in each year, but he may be re-appointed." We think it would be difficult to frame a statute which would place these license Commissioners more directly under the control of the Government of the day, be it "Grit" or "Tory," or render them more subject to local political influence than this Act of Mr. Crooks'. It is almost needless to add that it is the same political machine which controls the appointment of Commissioners that controls the appointment of Inspectors. Now this is one of the features of the Crooks Act which is challenged by the opposition. They contend that such legislation, and it is only of a piece with the whole legislation of the present Government, is calculated to place the liquor traffic under the direct control of the dominant political party of the day, and to create an unnecessarily large number of persons who, at every general election in the Province, have a direct personal interest in maintaining in office the powers that be—a policy which only requires to be continued a little longer to place Ontario in as bad a position in this respect as the neighboring States, where "patronage" forms the chief bone of contention, and officials are expected to purchase their offices by liberal contributions of time and money for electioneering purposes. So that even had the Crooks Act been administered, as it has not, in other interests than those of Mr. Mowat's political friends, every well-wisher of the country should desire to see this portion of it expunged from the statute book. About this there will be little open difference of opinion, but many will try to justify its continuance by asserting that our municipal councils, to which the opposition wish to transfer the duties now performed by the Commissioners (nothing more), are not the best possible body to be entrusted with such a duty. We grant that our municipal councils—especially in towns—are not all they should be, yet we have no hesitation in expressing the opinion that they are more likely to perform this duty effectively than any three men appointed at the instance of the representative of the riding, if he be a Government supporter, or if not, then at the instance of the last candidate who sacrificed himself in the interests of the powers that be, or some one else who is equally removed from any direct responsibility to the people. We venture to say that even Mr. Bizard himself will not claim that his license commissioners are more competent to say who shall and who shall not have a license in Ontario or Annapolis than the councils of these municipalities, or that the gentlemen who compose these bodies are more open to the back door influence of the liquor sellers than his Commissioners.

In the one case the appointments are made from a political point of view, and the appointees look upon the rendering of political service as their first duty. In the other case the officials would be more directly subject to local criticism, and would do their best to carry out the purpose of their appointment, the enforcement of the law.

So much for the political aspect of the Crooks Act. We will hereafter consider the financial aspect.

DON'T.

Don't disturb the old and able employee who may perhaps have been years in his position, and who has proved his fidelity to his employer by careful attention to the little details of his business, by producing good quality and sufficient quantity, in order to make place for some younger man, because he happens to be a relative or a friend of some stockholder, and who has had no practical experience and knows nothing comparatively of the position that the old employee has been faithful in attending to.

Don't employ a man because he wears better clothes and can talk college talk, and displace a man who has been brought up at the work-bench, or who has for years been engaged in carding, spinning, weaving, filling, turning, planing, or shaping, because the new fellow can talk better or can write handsomer. The changing of the man who is practical for the one who is not practical may entail serious loss upon you; it may make trouble all through your mill, or shop, and it don't do to allow personal preferences or favoritism to do this kind of business.

Don't employ an engineer, or an expert, who instantly commences to find fault with everything in the engine-room, boiler-house, coalshed, or yard, and tell what he has done and what he can do. Don't let the old engineer go if he is sober, reliable, honest; he has the hang of the school-house; he knows where everything is to be found; he knows all the little kinks; he will work for your interest when the other fellow admires somebody else's grate bars, considers some other engine a great deal better than the old one; who knows perfectly well that a different boiler would do better; in short who would like to grind his axe on your grindstone and have you blister your hands while he bears on long and heavy.

Don't hire the man who knows it all. He knows that such a spindle will spin twenty per cent. more yarn than the one you are using; he knows perfectly well that your sizing is not made right; he is sure that your frames ought to have all the "fixins," and that very many improvements can be made. He is not the man to do it. The man that is capable of doing it will not blow or bluster or swell up like a toad; he will go quietly about it and see how he can do the most with the least disturbance of production; he will make his figures and plans very carefully before he disturbs a single screw, and when he does move he won't go wrong. When a man attempts to tell you that he has produced ninety-four per cent. of the theoretical production of a spinning frame, a mule or a loom, don't hire him and let the old overseer go, until after you know perfectly well from somebody else that he is telling you the truth.

Don't tear down your boilers and put in some patent jim-crack because the other "feller" tells you that so-and-so's patent is invaluable. Look it up first carefully and see whether this man has any record where he came from or not. Wind is a good thing in the right place; gas is also desirable, but it don't want to be sewer gas; good illuminating gas is very desirable if it didn't cost too much; and it is so with a great many of these blown-the-travel-around-the-country making agents and superintendents dissatisfied with their employees, and a good many times the agents do not remember little maxims embodied in the above.

Our best overseers, superintendents, and those connected with the shops, can read this article between the lines and will see the point. As an old cotton buyer remarked to us, while in the south, "It is not the treasurer of experience, judgment and interest that they fear in their cotton transactions; it is the new-fledged treasurer who knows a good deal more the first year than he does the fifteen or nineteen subsequent ones of his connection with the mill." So it is when we say "Don't," and we will apply to other matters as well. There is a natural love of change implanted in the human breast, and when carried to extremes, or when ill-advised, it costs a great deal of money, causes a great deal of discomfort, and it shows on the wrong side of the balance sheet.

These points are brought up almost every day with us in our visits about mills and shops, and the letters we receive, and in observations we have frequent occasion to make where people "don't" think quick enough, or long enough where they don't consider, but move a little before they ought to do, and they only find, after the lapse of some time, that if they had heeded before action they would not have had so much time in which to regret inconsiderate action, and they would not have made so bad a choice. The men who are trained to their position, who are honest with themselves and with their employers, and whose aim is to do their level best with whatever they have to work with, are the men who are worth the most money to every corporation or employer, and if we were to add one more "don't" it would be "don't forget it."—Boston Journal of Commerce.

Repairing a Man's Eye.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—Dr. H. L. Little yesterday performed a delicate operation on a young man one of whose eyes had been injured by sulphuric acid. It consisted in transplanting a piece of membrane from a rabbit's eye into the patient's eye. Dr. Little removed the eyelid from its firm adhesion to the ball and made it ready for the new piece of membrane, which Dr. L. W. Fox, assisted by Dr. Hewson had carefully dissected from the left eye of the unconscious rabbit, and the part was rapidly transferred to the under surface of the man's eyelid and neatly stitched to its place. Another operation will be performed that will, it is thought, restore sight to the injured eye.

SERVICES.

EXCURSION.—The Register says that the excursion to Belleville and Massena Point on Tuesday last, under the auspices of the Norwood Presbyterian Church, proved quite a success. The excursionists were joined by large numbers along the line—from Hastings, Campbellford and other places. The sail up the Bay was delightful—the weather being fine—and the result, financially, far exceeded the anticipations of the most sanguine.

ACCIDENT.—As Mr. S. Patterson was engaged in turning hubs, on Friday last, in Mr. Finlay's hub and spoke factory, a portion of a hub (making 5,000 revolutions per minute) struck him on the head, cutting an ear almost in two, and knocking him down. By a slight use of cold water he was brought to, and, being home, where, under medical treatment he is rapidly recovering. This is the third or fourth accident Mr. Patterson has met with during the past few weeks.

A Bathing Carried Away by a Shark.

A shocking occurrence has taken place here. Mr. A. M. Moss, the local agent of Messrs. Cutler, Palmer & Co., wine merchants, went to the sea near his residence to have a swim about nine in the evening, as he had been in the habit of doing so for some time. His wife stood watching him from the beach. He swam out from the shore and back again twice, and started for a third swim, when, to his wife's intense horror, he was dragged away, presumably by a shark. Her cries attracted the attention of some natives who were near, and who immediately ran up. They could do nothing to help Mr. Moss, who had disappeared, but they prevented Mrs. Moss from rushing into the sea. Later particulars are to the effect that Mr. Moss entered the water about 9.30, and in a few minutes his wife heard him calling out, but could not catch his words. Almost immediately afterward he gave a piercing shriek and disappeared. He was an expert swimmer, and there is little doubt that he was carried off by a shark. His age was about thirty-four. The body has not been recovered.—Madras Paper.

"GO THERE."

For many years one of the chief arguments urged by the defenders of various stimulants in use, from tea to tobacco and whiskey, has been that they tended to preserve the tissues, anything destructive of tissue being considered a dangerous element. To-day the proposition, like many another deeply-grounded belief, is pushed aside by discoveries which set all the old facts in a new light, and it is no longer a question of how best to preserve, but how most thoroughly to destroy tissue.

This is not an expounding of the merits or demerits, the use or the harm of tea or coffee, which, having been one or another been accounted by all the world, may be regarded as meeting an instinctive need, the chief argument against over-use being that tissue is tanned and so rendered unchangeable.

Writing on an August day in a most unpleasantly damp condition, and watching at intervals from the window the crowd of perspiring humanity, one would gladly be leather, at least through dog-days, if the tea tanning process were not unlikely confined to the inside. Let the sufferer take comfort from the thought that this antiseptic stickiness has its compensations, and that a natural vapor-bath produces much the same sanitary results as the artificial one.

The reason tissue is the necessity of health, and exercise active enough, to insure perspiration accomplishes this and more quickly than any other means. If the skin acts freely in this way digestion is improved, headaches vanish, the complexion clears and the whole man and woman is renewed, outwardly and inwardly.

The woman who wakes up "so tired," who drags to breakfast and reclines most of the day on a sofa or chair, because she is "too tired to move," who pines her appetite with tonics and highly-seasoned dishes, and who experiences every horror of indigestion, from cold feet to headache, may be surprised to know that the only thing that can by any possibility rest her, is vigorous exercise. To increase the food supply will increase weakness. Often moderate dieting is the better plan, but exercise must be. The corpulent person groans, "I can't exercise, because it throws me in such a perspiration," while in this very fact lies the secret of reduction of bulk. Walk, my fat friend, and my good friend as well. Walk till perspiration flows freely, and to prevent the cold dampness often experienced if a current of air strikes one suddenly when in such a condition, guard against it by wearing a light flannel. It need be only gauze, but no matter how light, will act just sufficiently as an irritant to prevent any possibility of taking cold. A linen or cotton garment drenched by active exercise, chilled at once, but the light woolen never has this effect.

"No lady ever moves in such a way as to incur the danger of a perspiration—really a very vulgar thing which a lady should hardly mention," said a dignified matron the other day in my hearing to two bloodless and child-like-looking young girls in white.

A good many facts of daily life are "vulgar" to those who have been taught their efficiency, but the necessity of understanding them does not lessen on that account. The grimy workman in his flannel shirt, a most unpleasant neighbor, from whom they shrink, was really cleaner than the dainty girl, for his skin had done active duty, and a white and change of clothing would remove at once the unpleasant results which in their case lodged in every pore, clogging the action and making every spring and wheel of the mysterious machinery move with difficulty.

Spread the body freely. "The more the marble washes, the the statue grows," write the well-known sculptor long ago, and nothing is truer in daily life. For clear brain and clear thought, eat less and exercise more, and both body and brain will do the better work.—Our Continent.

RHEUMATISM.

Common rheumatism is a disease which affects the joints, and hinges of the body, in such a way that the slightest motion of the ailing parts gives pain. A creaking hinge is dry and turns hard. A single drop of oil to moisten it makes a wonderful change, and it instantly moves on itself with the utmost facility. All kinds of rheumatism are an inflammation of the surface of the joints. Inflammation is heat; this heat dries their surfaces; hence the very slightest effort at motion gives piercing pain. In a healthy condition of the parts, nature is constantly throwing out a lubricating oil which keeps the joints in a perfectly smooth and easy working condition. Rheumatism is almost always caused by—indeed, it may be nearer the truth to say, that it is always the result of—a cold dampness. A dry cold, or warm dampness, does not induce rheumatism.

A garment, wetted by perspiration or rain or water in any other form, about a joint, and allowed to dry while the person is in a state of rest, is the most common way of causing rheumatism. A partial wetting of a garment is more apt to induce an attack than if the entire clothing were wetted, because, in the latter case, it would be certainly and speedily exchanged for dry garments. There are two very certain methods of preventing rheumatism. The moment a garment is wetted in whole or in part, change it, or keep in motion sufficient to maintain a very slight perspiration until the clothing is perfectly dried.

The failure to wear woollen flannel next the skin is the most frequent cause of rheumatism for a common muslin, or linen, or silk shirt of a person in a perspiration becomes damp and cold the instant a puff of air strikes it, even in mid-summer. This is not the case where woollen flannel is worn next the skin. The easiest, most certain, and least hurtful way of curing this troublesome affection is, first, to keep the joint affected wound around with several folds of woollen flannel; live entirely on the lightest kind of food, such as coarse breads, ripe fruits berries, boiled turnips, stewed apples and the like. If such things were to the extent of keeping the system freely open, and exercise were taken, so that a slight moisture should be on the surface of the skin all the time; or if in bed the same thing were accomplished by hot teas and plentiful food clothing, a grateful relief and an ultimate cure will very certainly result in a reasonably short time. Without this soft and moist and warm condition of the skin, and an open state of system, the disease will continue to torture for weeks and months and years. Inflammatory rheumatism may, for all practical purposes, be regarded as an aggravated form of the common kind, extended to all the joints of the body, instead of implicating only one or two. For all kinds, time, flannel, and warmth, with a light and cooling diet, are the great remedies.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Tea and Coffee for the Troops in Egypt. The advocates of temperance will rejoice greatly at the intelligence forwarded from Woolwich that Sir Garnet Wolseley has ordered that the troops under his command shall be allowed daily a triple allowance of tea, and that extra supplies of the articles in question have been sent out from the Commissariat stores to Ismailia. It is stated that the extra issue of tea is much relished by our brave soldiers, who find it the most refreshing and most invigorating beverage that they can carry with them on a march. Australian stock-drivers and deer stalkers in the Highlands found out that fact long ago. "Cold tea" in the desert is the sweetest of boons. A second ration of coffee is also ordered daily for every man, so that when he goes on duty at three or four o'clock in the morning, he may have a slight repeat preliminary to the seven or eight o'clock breakfast.—The Illustrated London Times.

SULPHOLINE LOTION—An EXTERNAL MEDICINE OF CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanity as if by magic; while old, curing skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animals which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottle, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Diseases. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Huxley, and every year it is used more and more favourably to the rapidly increasing reputation.
Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with this disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. It is a disinfectant of the skin, and a growing tendency to fade away, and complete oblivion of the eruption.

TAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE,

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.
Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gentles:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse,
when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.
Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

Stouffville, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gentles:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure,
one very large one, don't know how long the spavin
had been there, I have owned the horse eight months.
It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but it does for all what it has done for me. Its sale will be very great.
Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which will give positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for heat as well as man.
Price per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors,

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

A Blank.
There was a blank record at the Police Court this morning.

Thanksgiving.
Thanksgiving services for the harvest and for the success of the British arms in Egypt were held in St. John's Church on Thursday. The services were held in the forenoon and in the evening.

A Drain.
The Town Council having given Mr. Lewis permission to construct a drain from the Bank of Montreal to the river on Simcoe street, as the Council was not disposed to do it, the trench is now being dug and a private drain will preserve the health of that locality.

A Contrast.
The Lindsay Post says: "Peterborough's results at the local tax rate for the year is fixed at the low rate of 11.40 mills and wants to be held up to the general gaze as a paragon of municipal economy. Any town that practices parsimony as closely as Peterborough ought to show a low rate. Think of Peterborough inducing a company to put $200,000 into the local water-works and then condescending to take for fire purposes four hydrants. In Lindsay we have that number of hydrants to protect a ward school house."

A New Firm in an Old Stand.
The business community of Peterborough has recently got an addition in the person of Mr. J. McAleer, who has purchased the stock of the late Mr. J. McAleer, and has added to the stock and opened out a good assortment of boots and shoes, including everything suitable for the fall trade. Mr. McAleer has given a proof of his business insight in selecting Peterborough as the place to commence the trade in, and we have no doubt that a fair share of business of the town will be his.

The Harbour.
The Government drag, which was expected to do the work of cleaning out the channel in the harbour and at the entrance to the Little Lake, arrived on Thursday and is being put into shape to commence operations. The steamer Golden Eye has been engaged for the work, which, it is expected, will last as long as the weather is favorable, but it is thought that by the time the frost compels them to desist the work will be accomplished. Mr. J. Standen, Inspector of Local Public Works, is superintending the job, and the work will be commenced on Saturday, or on Monday at the latest.

Successful Students.
The Peterborough boys have again come to the fore at the matriculation examinations of Queen's University, Kingston, carrying off the Grant, Rankine and Mowat scholarships. Mr. Orr Bennett has taken the "Rankine" $55 for English, also 1st in Latin and 3rd in Mathematics. Mr. John Miller has taken the "Grant" $80 for English Composition, also 4th in French and 4th in German. Mr. Max Hamilton carries off the "Mowat" $50 for oral Arithmetic, also 4th in English and 5th in Latin. Mr. Gordon Smith has taken 7th position in English and 12th in Mathematics. This runs up the total number of scholarships won since last October by Peterborough students to six. Mr. J. J. Wright took second place in the supplemental examinations in history (Greek, Roman, French and English).

Rifle Matches.
The annual rifle matches of the County of Peterborough Rifle Association will take place on the Association range, Peterborough, on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 10th and 11th, the matches to commence at 9 o'clock a.m. each day. There will be five matches, the "Maiden match" open only to members of the Association who have never won a prize at any rifle competition, the "Volunteer match," open only to volunteers in uniform who have performed at the last annual drill of their corps, the "Association match," open only to members of the Peterborough Rifle Association, the "All Comers' match," and the "Company match," open to five members in uniform of any corps in the county, subject to the same requirements as the Volunteer match. Prizes to the value of $350 will be given, besides the New York gold medal, valued at $50, the Challenge Cup and the 57th Battalion Cup, and a gold and silver medal to be awarded to the members of No. 1 Company who make the highest score in the Volunteer match. With such a prize list as is offered, and with the gentlemen who have charge of the arrangements, the matches will go doubt be a success.

Town Council.
The Town Council will meet on Monday evening, as per adjournment. The object of the short adjournment was that the necessary by-law might be passed levying the rate of taxation, but other business may also come up for consideration and disposal.

The Weather.
The weather to-day is beautiful—bright and warm. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a.m. to-day, by the great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh easterly to southerly winds, fair weather, with some local rains and higher temperature.

Personal.
The Lindsay Warden says that Mr. Wm. Croft, son of Mr. W. Croft, Peterborough, formerly with Ray & Co., but lately of Winnipeg, has returned to town, and has accepted a position tendered him by Messrs. Ray & Co. Mr. Theo. Kelso, of Belleville, formerly President of the Grand Junction Railway, is in town to-day, registered at the Oriental Hotel.

Railway Notes.
The Globe says that the Kingston & Pembroke Company have accepted the offer of the Quebec and Ontario Railway for the use of the former's embankment across Sharbot Lake, a costly work. The Kingston & Pembroke line will be entered at one side of Sharbot Lake and crossed at the other. The harmonious relations of the various railway companies were indicated by the fact that the Midland system is crossed six times between Toronto and Ottawa.

The Ennismore Pic-nic.
A large number of people went from Peterborough on Thursday to attend the pic-nic held under the auspices of the young men of Ennismore in Hennessy's Grove, and the people of Ennismore turned out in numbers to enjoy themselves at the same event, so that there was quite an assemblage at the grove. Dancing was the chief amusement, and was highly enjoyed by those who delight in this sport, and by the way, it is said that a gentleman from Peterborough was the best dancer there and took the prize. The pic-nic was a very pleasant affair, and was thoroughly enjoyed, and the managing committee are to be congratulated on the result, as everything passed off quietly, pleasantly and in a most satisfactory manner.

A Kieptomania.
Emily Humby is an English girl and is evidently a confirmed kieptomania. It is not long since she was sent to goal for a month for the theft of a watch. Detective Burrows thought he recognized the prisoner as Annie Morris, for whom he had been on the lookout for some time. It appears she has been victimizing several parties of late. Her method of procedure was to engage as a servant with a family and then suddenly disappear with whatever valuables she could lay her hands on. At the Police Court yesterday she pleaded guilty to the theft of several articles and a number of gold sovereigns from William Mowat, of Yorkville. She is also accused of the theft of a registered letter from one of Mr. Mowat's boarders. The boarder wrote to his father in England telling him of the loss of the money, and that he suspected this girl of the theft. The father knowing Mr. Humby, told him what his daughter had done. The latter said she had received a letter to the effect that his daughter had died at St. James' Hospital, Toronto. It afterwards transpired that the girl had got some one to write the account of her death for the purpose of deceiving her father. She did not deny the charge, and was sentenced to the Mercer reformatory. The girl is very respectable-looking, and only for her mania for appropriating other people's property could make a good living as a domestic.—Mail.

Swallowed by an Aaby.
The Zirknitz Sea in Carlsola is remarkable for the periodical disappearance of the water every summer, subterranean passages serving as the channels of escape. A rapidly-ripening crop of grass and some quick-growing vegetables are gathered during the autumn from the dried bed of the lake by the neighbouring peasants. A letter from Laybush reports a singular accident of which the place was the theatre. A peasant woman and her daughter were being conveyed in a cart across the bed of the lake, which was still covered with water in some places. Suddenly the cart and its occupants were precipitated into the chasm, through which the water was being swallowed down in a great vortex, and which had not been noticed till too late. With great difficulty the woman was rescued, but the child and cart were sucked down into the abyss below.

A Wonderful Clock.
Some time ago a well known native of Bombay offered to give a new clock and chimed to the University of Bombay, and deposited a large sum of money with the authorities to carry out his generous intention. The gift has been manufactured in London and is about to be shipped to Bombay. Doubtless it is such a timepiece as India never saw. The dial, of opal glass, are thirteen feet in diameter; it is fitted with an apparatus enabling it to telegraph its time daily to the observatory and to correct all the other clocks in the city, and connected with it is a chime of sixteen bells which can play, anatomically, sixteen tunes and 150 changes.

DAVE & CLARE, Druggists, Renfrew, writes on June 3rd. "We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purpose for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bowel complaints incident to Summer and Fall.

The prescription of a skillful physician, and composed of vegetable drugs of great remedial power, Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters purify the blood, give tone and vigor to the system, cures Dyspepsia and Indigestion when all other medicines fail. Have you tried it? Sold by J. D. Tully, at 30 cents a bottle.

The firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes on June 1st, saying "There is not another preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction." Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood, Liver and Kidneys.

Ponies that Will Please the Little Ones.
Baron Von Rauh, Leon Springs, Bexar county, has 2,000 acres all under fence, properly subdivided and stocked with beautiful Shetland and spotted ponies. His breeding stock consists of seven stallions and forty-five mares. He is breeding a race of striped and spotted ponies to please the children. He sells the increase to persons all over the world, and the supply is not equal to the demand. These little ponies range over the prairie like sheep or goats, and present a novel appearance—very gentle, every one as docile as a cat, and can be caught anywhere on the range.—Texas Wool Grower.

LONDON.

The Londoner who is returning toward after a feverish search for some more sanitary place than his own home may be at once pleased and chagrined to learn that the city has never been healthier than at the present moment. The death rate during the past two months, when the capital is as conventionally "empty" of well-to-do people as Rome during the dog days, was only 13.45 per 1,000, or, in other words, fewer people died in the English metropolis, in proportion to its population, than in most previous years, and less than in the majority of other towns within the realm. Yet it must be remembered that the death rate of London is swelled by the mortality in the great hospitals, the patients in which are, in many instances, drafted from a distance, and therefore not entitled to be included among those for whose health the city is responsible. The fact, however, is notorious that London is a good place to live in.

A Lost Art Recovered

A correspondent in the west of England writes: "Some interest will be felt in a claim just put forward on behalf of the Marland Pottery Works, situated near Great Torrington, Devonshire. For a long period the art of making what is known as Egyptian black pottery has been lost to the world. This black is of a peculiarly beautiful, brilliant appearance, and can hardly fall in display of art pottery to arrest attention. It is now asserted that the works named have rediscovered the art, and at a bazaar recently held in the county they exhibited a vase ornamented with groups of flowers of a bright blue hue, but with a body made of the brilliant black material. It was much admired, and it is said that the body of the vase is the only example in the world at the present day corresponding to ancient Egyptian black."—St. James Gazette.

SPANISH POLITICS.

MADRID, Oct. 6.—Marshall Serrano is continuing his efforts to form a new dynastic party of the Left, but differences have arisen between the Democrats and the Liberals. The latter desire the constitution of 1876 modified by the introduction of the principles of the constitution of 1890. While the Democrats thus far have refrained from supporting the proposal for the integral re-establishment of the constitution of 1890, they are willing to assist in the formation of a new party. Nevertheless a satisfactory conclusion is expected.

FIRE IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A fire to-day in the buildings extending from 478 Broadway back to 44 Mercer street did damage to the extent of $1,500,000. The building was occupied by Steen & Co., shirt; Jacob Adler & Co., gloves; W. Fisher, cloaks and dress trimmings; Kinney & Hanley, trimmings and gloves, and Deschler, ladies underwear. All the firms carry large and valuable stocks. The police rescued several frightened girls from the third floor.

A FATAL FIRE.

LOWELL, Kan., Oct. 6.—Rosecrance's residence was burned this morning, and his two daughters aged seven and sixteen perished. The oldest got out of the burning building with her mother and rushed back for her sister. She had dragged her to the stairway when the floor fell and both were pitched into the burning mass below. They were burned nearly to ashes.

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6.—The steamship Atlantic brought from Vera Cruz forty-seven sailors from five Norwegian vessels, and four sailors from an American vessel, the Commodore Dupont, all wrecked on the coast of Mexico during the gale of Sept. 9th. THE DIVIDED COMET.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 6.—The separation of the nucleus of Cruel's comet into three parts is not recent, as telegrams from Nashville and Cincinnati indicate that the separation was observed there on the morning of Sept. 30. Between Five and Fifteen.

It is a startling fact, and one that cannot be too much emphasized, that the ten years of life between five and fifteen are the most important, being the formation period of character, on which depends the entire future. The great majority of conversions are under twenty years of age. The recent testimony of a clergyman is that out of 285 hopeful conversions, 138 were under twenty years of age, and only four had passed fifty. Another clergyman testifies that out of 1,000 conversions only twelve were over fifty. And now comes the testimony of Rev. J. W. M. Williams, D. D., who closed a few days since his thirty-first year as pastor of the first Baptist Church, Baltimore. In the course of his anniversary sermon he said: "I find that out of 1,016 persons baptized by me in this city, 552 were between 9 and 20 years; 335 between 20 and 30; and 99 between 30 and 40; 8 between 40 and 50; 2 between 50 and 60. I say between 9 and 20 because I have baptized several on their profession of faith at nine years of age. I have gone over this list so often that I am perfectly familiar with the history of each case; and let me say those who joined the church when children have been the most consistent and useful, and given the pastor and the church the least trouble. Comparatively few of them have been disciplined."

Thrill of French Women.

French women, often stigmatized as the most frivolous of their kind, are in reality the most thrifty—a virtue that frequently degenerates into absolute parsimony. I saw a striking instance of making the best of unregarded trifles the other day when dining with one who certainly has a reputation for prodigality. A cherry pie had been on the table, and the mistress gave strict injunctions that all the stones were to be scraped from the plates and placed in her storeroom. I ventured to ask the reason, and was told that not only cherry, but plum, peach and all manner of stones, whether cooked or raw, were invariably saved, sently dried in the oven and kept in a great jar. "Then," said madame, "in the winter, when the fire burns clear and bright in the evening, I fetch a handful and throw them among the glowing coals. They crack and splutter for a moment, send up a brilliant flame, and the whole room is filled with a delicious odor."

Prehistoric Belles in Idaho.

Col. David McNutt, of Moose Creek, washes off about five acres of ground every year. The gold yields $10 to the ounce. His sum is laid sixteen feet deep in the bed rock, and in excavating this cut a singular formation is found—pieces of wood, in some instances showing the size of a tree, and in others fragments in quite large quantities, well preserved, though not petrified. This wood will burn in a stove or in a blacksmith's forge equal to coal, though it is not coal. This summer he found an iron staple embedded deep in the bed rock, well preserved, which must have been there for ages of time. There is no gold below the bed rock, which shows its growth or accumulation from the wash of debris on top of and subsequent to the bed rock formation.—Idaho Statesman.

The McNeill Embellishment

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—A new feature of the McNeill embellishment case has come to the surface. Mrs. McNeill having taken an action of separation from her spouse, in order to protect her property from a seizure the city of Montreal is making upon McNeill for having embellished $15,000. It is denied by the City Treasurer that there is any foundation for the assertions published that the amount of McNeill's defalcation had reached $90,000.

LIQUOR LICENSE FINANCES.

ONE of the most important features of the present system of granting liquor licenses, is the financial aspect of the question.

Two objections are urged, namely, that the Crooks Act, like the previous bill of Mr. Mowat, appropriates a larger share of this revenue for Provincial purposes than is necessary, and if a due economy is observed therein, and secondly, that its working is unnecessarily costly—more costly than it would be were the work of inspection left in the hands of the local authorities.

First as to the amount appropriated for the use of the Province. Under the act of 1869-70, the first after confederation, the amount payable on each license to the Government was, in cities: Taverns, $20, shops, $12, and saloons $25; in towns: Taverns, $17, shops 12, and saloons $23, and in townships and villages: Taverns $10, and shops, $12. In 1874 Mr. Mowat, as near as may be, increased these duties fifty per cent., which of course increased the provincial revenue derived therefrom, and with which we observe comparisons are now being made by those who are anxious to defend the Mowat Government from the charge of having increased their own share under the Crooks Act. Under the Crooks Act, however, a fixed amount payable to Government has been done away with, and the minimum amount payable for a license with the fines imposed and collected from those who break the law is formed into a license fund for each municipality which, after deducting thereout the Inspector's salary and other expenses, is divided between the Province and the municipality in the proportion of two-thirds to the last and one-third to the first—a course of proceeding which, while it leaves less for the municipality and the Province than Mr. Mowat's previous Act, gives remunerative employment to eighty-six political friends throughout the Province, who can be relied upon to sustain, by all the means at their command, the hand that is feeding them. As compared, however, with the fees chargeable under the Act of 1869, the present Act does appropriate for Provincial purposes a much larger sum than was deemed necessary under the economical government of Mr. Sandfield Macdonald.

That the reader may fully appreciate this aspect of the question, we submit for their consideration the following statement taken so far as the first two columns are concerned, from the last report of the Provincial Secretary, which we have at hand—being the figures for the license year of 1879-80, and the other columns being filled in from these in accordance with the Crooks Act and the law of 1869-9.

STATEMENT of the amount of money collected from Licenses and Fines in the County of Peterborough during the year 1879-80, and the disposition of the same—also statement of the amount which would have accrued to the municipalities and the Province, under the act of 1869-9:

We also find that the average division of these license funds for the whole Province is, as near as may be, fifty per cent. to the municipalities, twenty-five per cent. to the Province, and twenty-five per cent. for expenses. In no instance does the municipality receive as much as sixty per cent., while in the little constituencies of Stormont and Cornwall, both of which combined are only about the size of West Peterborough, owing to the political necessities of the situation, more than fifty per cent. of the whole amount collected is swallowed up in expenses, less than one-half of the statutory license fund only being available for division between these municipalities and the Province.

If these facts, as we believe they are, then we think the opposition would have neglected their duty had they not challenged the wisdom and necessity of those parts of the Crooks Act, which they have done, and told the electors what they propose to do with them in the event of their succeeding to power. That those interested will strive to maintain in power a party who are not only doing their best to introduce into Canada the American system of "to the victors belong the spoils," but who have seized upon every opportunity to increase "spoils and patronage" is only to be expected. We are sanguine, however, that a sufficient number of the electors will be found voting against spoils and patronage, and in favor of a party pledged to strip itself, so far as possible, of patronage to overcome the loaded dice with which the Mowat Government enter the contest.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Toronto World in its "Cathedral Clock" column defends Mr. Crooks, in regard to his Marston blunder, but says:—

"The sale of the naughty volume has been prodigious. There is scarcely a copy left in the whole city, at least so say the voices that circulate round the Clock. It goes without saying also that the shocking pieces have been sought out. The Globe was kind enough to point to them, and lots of people have read with relish every little suggestive reference."

THE independent Montreal Star says:—

"In order to create a reaction against the storm of indignation which Ontario Conservatives are trying to raise against the Mowat administration, the Globe is crying out again about Quebec domination. It even hints that Quebec will demand a silence of Eastern Ontario, the only side upon which the provincial limits could profitably be extended, as soon as the boundary question approaches settlement. The Globe has for many years ceased to believe that its readers have any intelligence whatsoever, but if it really imagines that honest and clear-headed Reformers will swallow such stuff, the great organ is more at variance with the sentiments of the Liberal party than ever."

THE Toronto Telegram says:—

"The Pacific Syndicate is doing what it can to induce the stream of foreign immigration to flow in the direction of the Canadian Northwest. It has had complete printed and spread over Europe in different languages, telling people how to get to Manitoba. By this means the attention of people in distant countries is drawn to Canada as a field for the intending immigrant. There is no doubt about there being a great future in store for the North-west, but it would be absurd to suppose that the people who have gone up there will submit to be tied up in the hands of land and railway monopoly. The indications all go to show that these bonds are slowly giving way."

It is absurd to talk of a land monopoly when anybody can obtain land free who chooses to cultivate it. As to the railway, it is certain that there could have been no such influx of population without the railway, and there would have been no railway if there had been no check upon the diversion of the traffic to the roads of the United States before our own obtained a fair start.

WEIGHTY TESTIMONY.

In the Montreal Star of a late issue we are told that Mr. Anderson, a wealthy manufacturer from Glasgow, just returned from the North-west, was interviewed by a reporter. After expressing his entire confidence in the North-west and his amazement at its rapid development, he was asked concerning the N. P. This part of the interview was reported as follows:—

"Being a manufacturer of Scotch woollens, and having had your market considerably curtailed of late, I suppose, in common with a large proportion of other British manufacturers, you were prejudiced against Canada on account of our tariff?"

"I was, indeed."

"And your prejudices on that score have totally disappeared, as in the other case?"

"Yes. I am free to confess that in England I am a free trader, and I thought of course that free trade was good for Canada. But I have come to a different conclusion, and am now convinced that your N. P. policy is the correct one for Canada. Indeed, it is absolutely necessary for the development of your country. While this is to be the world's granary, you must provide work for the populations of your big cities—especially your women. That can only be done by manufacturers. But no industry could live in a new country against GARDEN THIEVES.

To the Editor of the Review:

SIR.—Our gardens have suffered even more than usually this year from the depredations of pilfering boys. I had noticed for some time that my grapes were disappearing gradually, a few bunches being taken at a time. I have at length discovered some of the thieves, the sons of near neighbors of mine, and out of regard for the feelings of their parents who, in both cases, are very respectable people, have let them off.

This will probably be considered a weakness on my part, but I hereby pledge myself to prosecute the next boy I find on my premises, either for trespass or theft. A common excuse made by boys is that they have "lost their ball."

I was so vexed at having my garden trampled over on the last occasion, that I gathered all my grapes, although the majority of them were unripe. It is much too bad, after all the trouble and expense some of us incur in the cultivation of our gardens, that we should be subject to so much annoyance and loss.

Whatever the boys are taught at school, they are taught neither to keep their "hands from picking and stealing" nor "their tongues from lying," but then the Catholics, like the Bible, is ignored by our admirable (?) school system. I might not have taken the trouble to send you this communication, but that I have just heard of other families whose gardens have been robbed by some of the same boys, and who on this occasion, have displayed the same weakness and for the same cause, as I have myself.

TELEPHONE EXTENSION.—The Times says that the Bell Telephone Co. is making very extensive telephonic connections. We are now joined to Cobourg; we will shortly have connections with Bowmanville, Toronto, Hamilton and Guelph. Operations toward this end are now going on. 200 miles is about the limit to a telephonic circuit.

LIVESTOCK.

ACCIDENT.—The Post says that on Saturday night Mr. J. Free was driving his team up and down Kent-st. in a rather reckless manner. He had been awarded a prize at the show for the horses and felt disposed to give an exhibition of excellent points thereof. On the last trip up the street he landed the horses into a run. Chief Constable Smart, who had several times cautioned Mr. Free, sprung at the head of the team to stop their speed. He missed his grasp and was thrown on the wheels of the buggy and to the ground. Mr. Free was also thrown out and his shoulder badly injured. He was taken into the Jewett house, and his injuries attended to, and later recovered sufficiently to go to his home. Mr. Smart was badly hurt about the knee, and though able to be out is unable to go on duty.

COMMERCE.

LIFE SAVING STATION.—The Sentinel Star says that a meeting of the Council was called last Monday evening to take into consideration the proposition of the government to form and equip a life saving station here. The proposition of the government is an excellent one for the town, and no doubt will be adopted.

ACCIDENT WITH A REVOLVER.—The World says that on Sunday afternoon, a number of boys went out to Smith's woods to hunt squirrels, taking pistols and revolvers. One of them, in firing at a squirrel, missed his aim, but managed to lodge the cartridge in the head of a companion named Fred. Jer. The ball, fortunately, did not penetrate the skull, but passed around it and lodged behind the ear. It was subsequently extracted by Dr. Waken, and the boy is doing well. This should be a warning to parents not to allow young boys to play with firearms.

North-West Coal.

A sample of Scotch coal was tested a few days ago in a C. P. R. locomotive at Winnipeg with satisfactory results. Now the coal was brought to Winnipeg to be tested in an interesting story. Mr. George Pocock, who comes from the coal districts in the west of England, and is familiar with coal mining in all its aspects, came to this country, says the Free Press, last spring in consequence of what he heard in the old land of the fame of the Scotch coal district. Having seen and judged for himself, he is now thoroughly in earnest and enthusiastic in advocating the speedy development of these immense resources. He has united with others in forming a company to be known as the Scotch Coal Mining Company. The members of the firm are Pocock, Freeth, & Pocock. The locality of their proposed operations is situated in township 1, range 6, west of the second principal meridian. The city of the future is to be named "Kensington." Mr. George Pocock brought coal in a wagon, driving a distance of 400 miles to Toronto. He was under the necessity of swimming his horses over six streams on the way, and on each occasion was obliged to unload his coal into boats, and reload it after getting the wagon put together on the opposite side of the stream. Mr. Pocock says that the depth of the seam of coal is from nine to ten feet, the depth below the surface 128 feet, and the extent 30 miles from north to south by 18 miles from east to west. He has had the coal tested for every purpose, such as burning in stoves and grates, in blacksmiths' forges, and lastly, in railway locomotives. The locality is situated about 75 miles from Moosomin Creek. As soon as the railway company extends its branch line to the place, the company propose to commence operations, employing 200 men.

Why the Term "Commencement" is Used.

A correspondent writes as follows to the Albany Times: "I have noticed that several of our readers are in perplexity as to the meaning of the word 'commencement,' as applied to collegiate exercises. I had occasion some years ago to study up the origin of this and other words of like character. In the sense used, the term is an Americanism, or more properly, a New Englandism, originating many years ago among the Yankees in Connecticut, where vocation it was to direct the education of the young. With a shrewd business sense they determined that the then growing practice of distributing premiums might with advantage be adopted at the beginning instead of at the close of the term. All who expected prizes of distinction were thus tempted to continue at school after the close of the summer vacation, the prizes were awarded and bestowed at the 'commencement' of the term following that in which they had been merited, and only given to those who had renewed their scholarship. The scheme became generally adopted, and was in vogue only a few years, when the former custom was renewed, but the exercise retained its name, and this piece of Yankee ingenuity is the real reason for the peculiar term in question."

A New Proof.

A new proof of the globular form of the earth has been produced by two scientists in Geneva, Messrs. Dufour and Farrel. They have called attention to the fact that the images of steamers and the surrounding mountains, when reflected upon the surface of the immense lake, invariably appeared in a diminished size. Hence they conclude that the surface of the lake must be bent in a convex shape, otherwise it could not produce the same results as a Japanese diminishing mirror or a convex lens. Of course this observation is not confined to the Lake of Geneva, but must be true of all great water-surfaces which are sufficiently still and placed to serve as mirrors. A critic has asked why this phenomenon has not been noticed until recently. M.M. Dufour and Farrel reply that it has possibly been noticed by private observers, who have not thought of its interest or importance as a confirmation of the theory that we are living upon a globe. They add, further, that the diminution of the reflected objects is an slight that it would naturally escape the notice of the greater number of observers.—London Morning Post.

SPAIN is thinking of spending six million dollars on the purchase of two ironclads of the inflexible pattern, to be constructed in England.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN are made palid and unattractive by functional irregularities, which Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will infallibly cure. Thousands of testimonials. By druggists.

It was rather a remarkable coincidence that the 99th psalm, appointed by the English church prayer book for the Sunday evening service, containing the following passage: "Thou hast subdued Egypt and destroyed it; Thou hast scattered thine enemies abroad with Thy mighty arm."

Thousands bear witness to the positive curative powers of the Great German Invigorator, the only remedy that has proved itself a specific for general debility, seminal weakness, impotency, etc., and all diseases that arise from self-abuse or over-taxed brain, finally ending in consumption, insanity and a premature grave. Sold by all druggists, or will be sent free on receipt of $1.00 per box, or six boxes for $5.00. Address E. J. Cheney, Toledo, Ohio, sole agent for the United States. Send for circular and testimonials of genuine cures. For sale by John McKee, druggist.

Mr. Wm. RANKIN, of South Norwalk, says: For sixteen years I suffered from Biliousness, never had any medicine do me any permanent good until recommended by your druggist, (J. Wesley Fish & Co., Ottumwa, Ill.) to try Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, which have done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken. I would, with the utmost confidence, recommend them to all suffering from Biliousness, &c. Sold by J. D. Tully, at 50 cents a bottle.

Charged with Bigamy.

John W. Thomas, says the Kingston Whip, is the name of a Pictonian who has been getting into trouble. He has been endeavoring to live and love two women. He was married in 1834 to Rachel Ogden, and removed to Michigan. On the 5th of April last he was again married to Olivia Alsworth, in Trenton, by the Rev. Mr. Young. The prisoner was committed to stand his trial.

Personal.
Mr. Thomas Bradburn has returned home from Manitoba, where he has been on a business visit.

Two Squashes.
In the garden of Mr. David Menden, on Peterson street, may be seen two large squashes which weigh respectively 96 and 80 lbs. Who can beat this?

Fall Exhibitions.
The dates of the following fall fairs and exhibitions have been announced:—

Name.	Place.	Date.
East Biding	Norwood	Oct. 10th & 11th
Emily	Oswestry	Oct. 11th & 12th
Otonabee	Keene	Oct. 12th
Burleigh	Apsey	Oct. 13th
Cavan	Millbrook	Oct. 14th
S. Monaghan	Bellville	Oct. 14th

An Outside Opinion.
The Kingston News, in its account of the opening of the University of Queen's College, has the following remarks:—
"The Peterborough Institute also deserves praise for the way in which its pupils acquitted themselves. Three of them, Messrs. Miller, Bennett, and Hamilton succeeded in obtaining scholarships and pupils from the same school carried off three scholarships last year also."

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.
The traffic of the above railway for the week ending September 30th, 1882, was as follows:—
Passengers and mails, $9,430.38; freight, $22,303.39; total, $31,733.77, as compared with $30,576.14 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $1,157.63; and the aggregate traffic to date is $776,534.50, being an increase of $167,756.18 over 1881.

Creditors Meeting.
A meeting of the creditors of Hall Bros., at which liabilities to the extent of two thirds of the total amount were represented, was held on Friday afternoon. It was unanimously agreed to accept 50 cents on the dollar, half cash and half in thirty days. Every confidence was expressed in Mr. Hall's integrity, and sympathy was expressed at his heavy loss by the fire, with hopes that he would be able to resume his business successfully.

The Market.
The attendance on the market this morning was the largest for some time, all the available space on each side of the sidewalks around the square being occupied by teams, and the walks crowded with buyers. Almost everything in the shape of produce was offered, and one could purchase anything from taffy candy to wheat. Young pigs were offered for sale, and the roasters brought $1.50 each. Dressed pork was offered at $7 a hundred. Potatoes and apples remained at about the same price, as also did chickens, ducks, geese and the produce of the garden. Butter was quite plentiful, but the price was little changed, being offered at 24 to 25 cents a pound. The grain market is active, and the grain is being brought in in large quantities, but the price of wheat is weak, the ruling figure being from 80 to 90 cents. Barley and peas are selling at 70 and oats at 40 cents.

Venator's Predictions.
Mr. H. G. Venor has published in his Bulletin predictions as to the weather we shall have during this month. The second week, he says, will probably enter with severe wind storms and heavy rains east and west, marked storm period about 9th and 10th. End of week fine and calmer weather. Frosts may occur about 12th. The third week, 14th to 21st, will be very stormy, with snow falls in Western and North-western sections, southern Minnesota, and Eastern Dakota. Storms on lakes and at Chicago, Milwaukee. Storms will extend to Cincinnati. General snow falls 17th and 18th. Cold weather in Iowa, severe weather toward Des Moines. A terrible week of storms in all sections. Snow in England. About Oct. 24th there will be generally stormy weather, with snow falls in Ontario and in Maritime Provinces. Cold, miserable, wet and sleety weather or snow in New York. An unusually severe October. Storms in England. The closing days of the month, from the 29th to the 31st, will be accompanied with snow and rain falls in Great Britain and heavy gales. Very severe on east coast of Scotland.

The Weather.
This forenoon was very warm, and the warm weather continued this afternoon, although the sky became more cloudy with signs of a change. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the great Northwestern Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly southerly; fair warm weather, succeeded by local thunder storms.

A Quarry.
A limestone quarry—a thing much needed in this vicinity—has been found on the farm of Mr. John Rabely, west half of lot 31 in the 8th concession of Otonabee. The quarry, so far as explored, appears to be a good one and about twenty acres in extent. The first layer of stone is twelve inches thick, the second eight inches and the third seventeen inches. The quarry will probably be tested in a few days to ascertain the quality and depth of the stone.

Church Dedication.
The new Methodist Church at Millbrook will be dedicated on Wednesday, the 18th of October, and the services will be conducted by the Rev. John Shaw, of Peterborough, Chairman of the District, assisted by the Rev. I. B. Howard, of Newton Hill, and others. Mr. Shaw will preach a sermon at 10.30 a. m., and the Rev. W. J. Maxwell, of Brantford, at 6.30 p. m. On Sunday, the 22nd Oct, sermons will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Sutherland, President of the Conference, the Rev. Wm. Mitchell, of St. John, N.B., and the Rev. J. B. Howard.

St. John's Church.
The work on the alterations and improvements in St. John's Church have so far progressed that it will be ready to be occupied by the end of this month, and the opening services will be held on November 1st. Three services will be held on that day, the Holy Communion at 8 o'clock a. m., Communion and services at 10.30, and services in the evening. The Bishop of Toronto has signified his intention of being present, and other clergymen will take part in the services. Further particulars, however, will hereafter be given.

"Uncle Tom."
That pathetic drama "Uncle Tom's Cabin" never grows old. There are touches of genius and nature about it that, although at the close of a season it may be shorn of its leaves, yet will make it bud again next season, and appear as new and beautiful as ever. It has become a standard play, and when it is announced the only question that is asked is, whether the company is a good one. Mr. Fred. R. Wren's "Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company," which will produce the play on Tuesday night next, is well spoken of by our exchanges, among which we may mention the Toronto Globe.

Melancholy Accident.
This afternoon a child of Mr. Henry Robinson was buried, which met its death by a very sad accident. On Thursday morning a bath was being prepared for the child, which was about seventeen months old, by her mother, who left the child for a few moments to get some cold water, and she fell off or by some means got off the chair on which she was placed and accidentally fell into the hot water and was terribly scalded. Medical attendance was immediately summoned, and every effort was made to alleviate the child's sufferings and save her life, but she died in about twelve hours after the accident occurred.

Railway Notes.
A little excitement was caused at the station this morning by the discovery of an incipient fire in the platform. It had only just started and was quickly extinguished.
The Grand Junction train was an hour late this morning, arriving at 11.35. This, however, will be the regular time hereafter, as a new time table comes into force on Monday. The morning train will leave here at the same hour as usual and arrive at Belleville at 11.35, and coming this way will leave Belleville at 6.45 a. m. and arrive at 11.35. The evening train will leave Peterborough 3 p. m. and arrive at Belleville at 7.45, and coming west will leave Belleville at 2 p. m. and arrive here at 6.30. The Madoc train will leave Belleville at 10.15 a. m. and 5.30 p. m.

Instruction in English.
Our Collegiate Institute is to be congratulated on the success that has attended its tuition in English. At the last matriculation examination at Toronto University one of its pupils stood first in first class honors, and others also took honors in English. At the recent examination at Queen's College, Kingston, its pupils took the first, second, fourth and seventh places in English, taking the great open scholarship of $50 and the Rankine scholarship of $55 for candidates for the Presbyterian ministry. At the Queen's College examination last year pupils of our institute also carried off three scholarship prizes. This is most satisfactory as showing the attention paid at our Institute to English language and literature, that most important branch of education, and the proficiency attained by the pupils. The Institute and especially Mr. Earle, who is at the head of the English department, deserve and will no doubt obtain great credit for this very satisfactory result.

Arrested for Murder.
Mr. THOMAS, Oct. 6.—Information was received to-day from Duart, near Rossau, to the effect that a man named James Curtis was arrested there the other day, charged with a recent murder near the Walland Canal. The telegram authorizing the arrest was received by Constable Curtis, and directed him to take into custody his son James. The feeling of the unhappy father upon receiving this demand can better be imagined than described, and he naturally refused the request. With Spartan courage Mr. Curtis resolved that justice should be carried out, and sorrowfully the telegram was handed over to Constable Pauline, who effected the arrest. Young Curtis denies the charge, although he claims to know the guilty party, and says his knife was used to commit the bloody deed.

CHIEF JUSTICE WOOD.

Sudden Death of the Judge—A Seizure While on the Bench.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 7.—Chief Justice Wood was seized with a paralytic stroke this afternoon shortly after four o'clock while hearing a case on the bench. His Lordship was speaking, and it was noticed his voice was gradually becoming weaker, and finally he fell backward on his chair. A gentleman present rushed to his aid, and medical assistance was called in. He was removed in a carriage to his residence, but it being his third attack very little hope is entertained of his recovery.

WINNIPEG Oct. 8.—Chief Justice Wood died last night at eight o'clock from paralysis, with which he was stricken four hours earlier. He never rallied from its effect, and he never spoke. To-day reference was made to his death in several of the churches, and the "Death March in Steel" was played. Deep regret is generally felt at his unexpected end, for although passing into his sixty-second year, and apparently failing slightly in health, it was generally considered that some years of usefulness were still before him. His remains will be interred on Tuesday at St. John's cemetery.

KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE.

A Lineman's Fatal Shock While Changing the Course of a Current.

Joseph Staman, a lineman employed by the Brush Electric Light Company, was almost instantly killed Wednesday morning while adjusting wires on the new poles just erected by the company in Elizabeth street New York. At the time of the accident Staman was working on a pole, corner of Elizabeth and canal streets. The pole is about 40 feet high, and is one of a number of new poles lately put up in Elizabeth street. Staman with a foreman and two other linemen was engaged in changing the wires from the old to the new poles. In order to do this the wires have to be cut, and a short piece of wire put in, so as to preserve the circuit. This is dangerous work when working on "live" wires—that is, wires in use and carrying electricity—for the reason that if the man doing the work takes hold of the ends of both wires one in each hand, the electric current passes, directly through his body, and the effect is as fatal as though he had been struck by lightning. This is precisely what Staman did, but how he came to do so is not known. He had cut the wire, and was about to put in the new wire, when he slipped and he caught hold of the wires to save himself from falling, or whether he did so carelessly, his assistants cannot tell. The first intimation they had that anything was wrong was, they saw him topple over and fall towards the ground. After falling a short distance his feet caught in some telegraph wires underneath in the air. The men who were working with him went to his assistance, and he was lowered to the ground. He was taken to the Elizabeth street Police Station and an ambulance was sent for, but before it arrived Staman was dead. The skin on the inside of both hands was burned off as though scorched with a red-hot iron.

AMERICAN.

EUROPEAN FEELING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Sun's special dispatch says there is a very much calmer feeling throughout Europe on the whole Egyptian question, and it is probable that upon all the main issues England will not presume too much. As it now looks it is a troublesome and thankless job from beginning to end. If Egypt pays for the war it will come in great part out of the English holders of Egyptian securities. The canal question will be only a very little better in point of control and security, and no matter what settlement is reached, there will remain on all sides little but exasperation of spirit and disappointment.

REWARDS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Sun's special dispatch says that the reward of $10,000 a year, or a lump sum of $250,000 each, were offered to Sir Garnet Wolseley and Sir Beauchamp Seymour. They chose the latter, which indicates that the available rate of interest over here is not bad, and that life insurance, in its practical aspect, is understood by the War Office. Sir Garnet's title was not yet announced, although he is understood to have accepted a peerage, while on the other hand the Admiral has declined one.

MIDLAND, ONT.

A correspondent of the Midland Free Press gives the following items:—

The B. C. L. & T. Co.'s general superintendent expects to move into his new house on the 1st of November.

The Company's large house on the hill is occupied on one side as a boarding house by Mr. Secord, which is being fast filled up with a nice lot of lady and gentlemen boarders. The south side is occupied by Mr. Benson, the manager at Midland.

Messrs. CHURCH & WILSON have a large contract to saw cedar shingles for the Company, and McLeod & Cameron are also busy cutting lumber, ties, and shingles for the same firm.

The B. C. L. & T. Co. have given instructions to their mechanical superintendent, Mr. Thompson, to erect a burner at the new mill, for cremating slabs, and also a gang in the same mill, as well as another circular saw at the old mill. "Onward we march."

And again is not that indefatigable John Dollar to enlarge his mill the coming winter. Carpenters, get your tools sharpened for it is further said that Chew Bros. are contemplating an enlargement and a cedar mill for the B. C. L. & T. Co. is also on the bill of fare.

The B. C. L. & T. Co. are shipping large quantities of ties to American markets, and cedar framing posts to Toronto.

A New Industry for Canada.

A Post reporter this morning, in conversation with a very intelligent and successful farmer, was informed of a new venture about to be started in Canada, namely: the raising of goats. When we say new, we mean to the majority of Canadian farmers. The gentleman from whom we derived this information has visited a large number of farms in the United States and Great Britain where goat raising has been attended with great success. Goats are for many reasons to be preferred to sheep, provided choice breeds are obtained, the facts in their favour are they will live on poor lands where sheep will starve the female yields a large quantity of milk which sells ready at double the price of cow's milk, on account of its nutritive qualities and its value to invalids, the hair of the goat is also valuable and the meat of the young is much esteemed. So much interest has the rearing of these interesting animals created in England that a club has been formed there, called "The Royal Goat Society," being under the patronage of royalty, and among its members are included a large number of the nobility, the object of the Society is to encourage goat breeding and to form branch societies, and also to have annual exhibitions similar to the "Royal Cattle Show."

We believe a Company is to be formed shortly in Canada, with headquarters in Montreal, for the purpose of importing the best breeds of goats and to encourage their breeding in the Dominion. —Montreal Post.

A Case of Conspiracy.

A short time ago a Mrs. Woods, who kept a grocery store at Point St. Charles, was taken sick and was sent to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. She has relatives of the names of Patrick Cannon and Michael Flynn, who live at Kingston, Ont., and a Mrs. Lennan, who lives in this city. Before going to the hospital, Mrs. Woods made arrangements with Cannon and Flynn to manage her business during her stay in the hospital. After Mrs. Woods had been in the hospital a few days, her symptoms became worse and it was thought she would die. On hearing the news, Cannon and Flynn, it is alleged, started a rumor that she was dead, and had the contents of the store and house conveyed to the house of Mrs. Lennan, where they were afterwards sold, and the three parties kept the proceeds. Instead of dying, Mrs. Woods got well and left the hospital, and on proceeding to her former home at Point St. Charles, found it closed and the contents gone. She shortly after heard the whole particulars of how she had been served during her temporary absence, and at once placed the matter in the hands of the police. All the parties have been arrested and admitted to bail, and the trial will come up before the Police Magistrate next week. —Montreal Post.

Tree-Planting in London.

London is making progress in the matter of tree-planting, says the Telegraph. We have "street improvements," as they are termed, which cost enormous sums of money, but this is one against which no such objection lies, for it gives us a splendid return for a small outlay. The Metropolitan Board has done well in decorating the Thames embankment and Northumberland avenue with rows of trees which, with a little tender watchfulness, will grow into fullness of form and beauty by-and-by. Several of the vestries and district boards are following the same track. We know there is a tendency to grumble at the "drip" from the branches in wet weather, and at the falling leaves in autumn. Some of the vestries are particularly sensitive in regard to these matters. It is said that the planting of trees in suburban roads began in 1875, but it is too probable that the number of trees cut down in the suburbs since that date have nearly equalled the number planted. It is at a point rather within the suburbs that improvement of this kind has been most conspicuous, and it is a happy sign when the fashion spreads as far towards the heart of the metropolis as Tooley street. Our forefathers must have been possessed of some good taste in this particular, if it be true—as apparently it is—that there is not a street in London from some part of which a tree may not be seen.

W. H. CROOKER, Druggist, of Waterdown, under date of June 1st, writes that "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cannot be surpassed, when all other remedies fail then it comes to the rescue, and I find the sales large and increasing." Wild Strawberry positively cures all Bowel complaints.

BILIOUSNESS.—A furrowed tongue, bad taste in the mouth, nausea vomiting, variable appetite, alternate diarrhoea and constipation, faintness, weariness, yellow cast of eyes and countenance, indicates serious biliary trouble. Jaundice is a dangerous disease, it is an overflow of bad bile in the circulation, any of these symptoms should be remedied without delay, and BARDOL'S BILIOUS Bitters is the remedy upon which you may surely rely.

A LOSS TO THE COMMUNITY.

SOME of those who are content to leave the town without efficient protection against fire, argued that the recent fire by which the Dundas block was destroyed only caused a loss to those whose property was consumed, and not to the community. Since then events have occurred by which the fallacy of this statement is forcibly shown. Messrs. Hall Bros., owing to their loss by the fire, have been forced to make an assignment and their creditors have had to accept 50 cents in the dollar. As the liabilities in Peterborough, without including those outside the town, exceed $6,000, a loss of $3,000 has to be divided amongst many of our townspeople. Our town treasury will directly suffer the loss of at least six months' taxes to be divided among the whole body of ratepayers. Hall Bros. employed regularly over 20 persons, and considerable more than fifty were dependent for support on wages paid by them. Many of these must either wait for other employment here, or must leave in search of it, in either case suffering much loss themselves which indirectly would be shared by the storekeepers with whom they and their employers dealt. The town as a whole will also lose the benefit of an important trade which may not be re-established here and will unavoidably be curtailed, for already travellers for Belleville and Kingston houses have been here to occupy the ground, taking to their cities the profits of this trade. Inducements, also have been offered Mr. Hall to remove to a sister town. Such losses necessarily extend widely throughout the community, like the ripples from a stone thrown in the water, and we have no hesitation in saying that, apart from the owners of the property, the amount of loss to the people of Peterborough would have paid for efficient fire protection for several years. And yet some selfish and noisy obstructionists say that each man should be left to look after his own protection from fire, and some of our councillors allow themselves to be thus persuaded to shirk the duty which our laws impose upon those who are elected to fill their position.

ANOTHER SHUFFLE.

IN its desperate efforts to defend Mr. Crooks from the charge of having made a gross and costly blunder by prescribing Marmion for study in our High School, and then, after it had been largely purchased and studied, withdrawing it from the list, the Globe has taken the most inconsistent grounds. First it laboured to prove that Sir Walter Scott's poem was immoral and falsely asserted that it had been withdrawn because High School teachers had objected to its immorality. Then being convicted of the falsehood it veered round and maintained that it was withdrawn as offensive to Roman Catholics. It had not a word to say as the real point of the charge that Mr. Crooks was so neglectful of his duties or so ignorant as to direct a work to be studied for examination, and then to withdraw it as unfit for the purpose after waste of money and time had been imposed upon parents, pupils, teachers and booksellers.

Now the Globe tries another shuffle, and in doing so it once more tells a deliberate and barefaced falsehood. It says that "The Minister of Education requested the discontinuance of instruction" in Marmion "pending arrangements for having the stanzas which described those questionable relations and the passages that contained the objectionable allusions, specified as not for examination and therefore not to be critically analyzed." This is simply false as our mendacious contemporary well knows. Mr. Crooks ordered the discontinuance of instruction in Marmion, "pending the substitution of another work" to take the words of his own circular, and not for the reason invented for him by his unscrupulous advocate.

How indefensible is Mr. Crooks' maladministration of his Department, is only shown more forcibly by such inconsistent and dishonest attempt to defend him. He is admittedly utterly unfit for his position.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

WHEN we first heard that the disallowed "Marmion" had been superseded in the High Schools by a work of Payne's, we thought for an instant, "Is it possible that Mr. Crooks has a longed-for study for our youth a work by the Globe's protégé the infidel Tom Payne?" On enquiry however we were happy to find that Mr. Crooks was not so completely under the tutelage of the Globe as this would imply, and that the work in question is an edition of "Burke's Reflection on the French Revolution" annotated by an English scholar and graduate of the name of Payne and not by his infidel somebody. We would not like to do Mr. Crooks an injustice.

We have called attention to the possibility that even when Mr. Mowat's license officials have granted licenses to Conservatives they may have been moved by the fact that the landlord was a Reformer. We find the following confirmation of our surmise in the St. Catharines Journal:

"We know of one prominent Grit who last year was interested in half a dozen liquor-selling establishments, all of which readily obtained licenses, while one of the oldest—indeed the oldest hotel in the city—was deprived of one and consequently remained tenantless all the year. It is needless to say that the owner of the house referred to is a prominent Conservative. Then again, we have known licenses to be reserved in the quota apportioned by our city by-law, for houses owned by Grits, until tenants were secured, although at the same time respectable hotel keepers were, in consequence of inability to secure licenses, driven out of business."

A YAHOO.

THE Ottawa Free Press which has continually disgraced journalism by its personal abuse of men with whom it differs in opinion, now descends to a still lower depth of baseness. Unable to gain a contemporary's censure of the Marmion bungle, it endeavours to make a diversion by uttering a vilely insulting suggestion as to the sister of the editor. It is bad enough that public men, statesmen or writers, should be calumniated and slandered by political opponents, but is it possible that Canadian journalism has come to such a pitch that even innocent women are not safe from undesired contumely, if thereby the most sacred feelings of an opponent can be lacerated by some despicable poltroon?

By such a dastardly offence the writer in the Free Press forfeits all claim to the position of a gentleman, or even to the supposition that he possesses one spark of manly feeling, placing himself on a level with the filthy Yahoo's of Dean Swift's imagination.

THE TIDE OF IMMIGRATION.

THE great tide of immigration which has so long and so steadily flowed from the old world into the new, and which has so largely set in toward the United States, is at last being turned towards Canada in something like a more proportionate degree. The Department of Agriculture has just published statistics of immigration during the nine months of the present year, ending September 30th. It appears from these that the number of arrivals was about one hundred and forty thousand, but it seems that nearly half of these were merely passing through on their way to the United States. The number of those who actually settled in Canada is, however, set down at about 70,000. Although this is for only nine of the present year the number is larger than for any whole year as yet. During the same period for 1881 about 500,000 entered the United States. Last year was, however an unprecedented one, the number of immigrants being larger than for 1880 by about 200,000, while for 1877 the total number of immigrants was but 130,000. If immigration to Canada continues at the same rate during the next three months as it has done during the past three months, the total for the whole year will be about as large as that to the United States for the year 1882. This is the first year in which Canada has been prepared to offer the inducements which have long been offered by the United States to intending immigrants. In the United States railways have been built for a long time right through the heart of new and unsettled lands of great fertility, and glowing reports of these have been down widecast throughout Europe by railway and land companies who were interested in their settlement, and the result, as might be expected, was that immigration flowed along the easy routes prepared for it. The new lands of the United States, too, have not been hitherto so far back into the continent as our own, and this, of course, has held in their favor. Now, however, that Canada has a railway through to the centre of the great fertile belt of the Northwest, and as these lands are practically as near as any equally desirable in the United States, Canada is, as far as these advantages go, in about as favorable a position as the United States for the race for immigration in the future. There can be no doubt that the greater part of that belt which no other district can compete in producing wheat is in Canadian territory. After the first ten or twelve wheat crops, it is found that the profits are not large enough to induce the farmer to stay on even ordinarily good soil in many of the more northerly of the Western States, and he moves off to the fertile belt after selling his land to whoever is willing to cultivate wheat or other crops for similar profits. Thus the centre of the wheat district is rapidly moving towards the North-West, and will undoubtedly some day rest in Canada. Beyond a doubt, therefore, there will be, and that within a few years, a large emigration from the United States to Canada. The immigration to the North-West of Canada has been greater than that for all Canada, as many of the young farmers of Ontario and other Eastern Provinces have taken up farms there during the present year. Their places in Eastern Canada have been taken in many cases by the wealthier classes of emigrants from England and Scotland. Now that the tide has begun to turn, it may be expected to set in in great volume, and every year will see an increase at an almost geometrical rate of progression for a period.—Montreal Witness.

The safest, best and cheapest medicine in the world is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. Sold in large bottles at 50 cents by J. D. Tully.

A SINGLE BOX of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy will kill a thousand worms, and is as pleasant to take as the most delicious candy. It does not create nausea, and can be given without a particle of apprehension of doing injury.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $3.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See advt. in another column.

MORE OF CROOKS.

The Independent Reform Toronto World has the following:

"The late Angus Morrison was solicitor of the university of Toronto, and R. M. Wells, M.P.P., was one of his partners. But some time before his death and subsequent to Mr. Morrison's dissolution of partnership, the senate gave their law business temporarily in charge of Wm. Macdonald, of Macdonald & Patterson. The minister of education sanctioned this act of the senate and informed Mr. Macdonald that he would get the appointment permanently. Mr. Macdonald accordingly made certain changes in his relation to his firm in order to take the position. Suddenly he received a letter from Mr. Crooks telling him that his services were no longer required; that R. M. Wells, M.P.P., had been appointed solicitor. This put the senate on their metal, and on Tuesday night by a vote of 13 to 3 they appointed Mr. Macdonald solicitor and gave Mr. Crooks to understand that they were going to run university matters themselves. If Mr. Crooks wants to fight it out the senate say they are ready for him."

A splendid range of Cardigan Jackets at "Habillment Hall."

The Wild Strawberry plant possesses rare virtue as a cleansing, cooling, astringent, antepic, and healing medicine, and when combined with other valuable vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it is an unfailing remedy in all Bowel complaints.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Town Council.
A meeting of the Town Council will be held this evening in the Council Chamber at 7.30 o'clock.

An Old Resident Gone.
The death of Mr. Jas. Hall this morning removes from among us one of our oldest and foremost residents.

The Town Clock.
Mr. Jas. McClelland, the caretaker, requests us to state that the town clock time will be altered this evening so as to make it correspond with the railway time.

Railway Notes.
Thirty more men from the Lower Province arrived here the latter part of last week, to work on the Missing Link, having been brought by Mr. H. J. Reemer, the contractor.

Obituary.
The Rev. Ashton Fletcher, a superannuated minister of the Canada Methodist Church, died on Sunday, at a ripe age. He has been residing here for the last few years with his son-in-law, Dr. Fife.

Curfew's Annual Meeting.
The Curfew Club holds its annual meeting in the Cheese House parlor this evening at 8 p. m. The business to be transacted will be to receive the annual report, elect officers and ships, arrange the list of members for the annual matches and other important business.

Trent Valley Navigation.
Mr. T. D. Belcher, engineer of the Trent Valley Works, accompanied by Mr. Goodwin, contractor for the canal works at Buckhorn and Burleigh, made a trip over the site of the proposed works last week. It is the intention of the contractor to commence work immediately on his several sections.

An Omission.
In our remarks on the exhibits at the West Riding Agricultural Society's exhibition last week, an omission occurred inadvertently in mentioning the sewing machines which were shown. Mr. J. D. Hendricks, Edinburgh street, exhibited several samples of the White and Domestic machines.

Prompt Payment.
The papers in connection with Mr. Robert Walton's insurance on his stable, which was recently burned, were mailed on Thursday to the head office of the Citizens Company, of Montreal, for which Mr. Geo. A. Cox is agent, and the mail on Saturday brought the money. Prompt.

Bazaar.
From Parish Church Work, the Ashburnham monthly magazine, we learn that it is proposed to hold a bazaar and sale of useful and fancy articles in aid of St. Luke's Parsonage Fund about the 13th or 14th of December. No doubt the congregation, with their usual energy and perseverance, will carry the project to a successful issue. Further particulars will be forthcoming in good time.

At Crispin Society.

The shoemakers of this town, who long ago formed a society under the above heading, which is an appellation given from their patron saint, Crispinus, held their regular meeting on Thursday evening last, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

President.....F. W. Millar.
Vice-President.....A. Dubois.
Secretary.....J. S. Wells.
Treasurer.....Jas. Millar.

Disgraceful Conduct.

On Sunday night about 11.30 o'clock, a time when all respectable people are at home and in their beds, a small army of rowdies congregated on the Market Square and engaged in a hand-to-hand pugilistic encounter. After they had knocked one another "out of time" several times, and used all the blasphemous language they could think of at the moment, they partook themselves to some other quarter of the town where, no doubt, they made night hideous for other peaceable citizens as well as those living in the vicinity of the Market Square. These "night-hawks" that infect our streets should be dealt with in a way that would make them understand that Peterborough is a civilized town, not a lawless and go-as-you-please place for such characters as were "out" last night.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE

QUEEN'S BENCH AND COMMON PLEAS
DIVISIONS—THE FALL ASSIZES

The Opening of the Court—The Grand Jury sworn in—The Address of the Judge to the Grand Jury.

The Autumn session of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice opened this afternoon, His Lordship Justice Oiler presiding.

Besides the local members of the legal profession, the bar was represented by the following gentlemen:—Geo. E. Henderson, Esq., Q. C., Belleville, who conducts the Crown business; Jas. Bathune, Q. C., Hector Cameron, Q. C., G. T. Blackstock, Toronto, and Mr. Muir, of Hamilton.

The following are the names of those who compose the Grand Jury:—

FRANCIS BIRDSALL, Foreman.
G. Boyd, Jos. Barnard,
John Crawford, Duncan Campbell,
John H. Clydale, Wm. Crough,
W. P. Chase, Geo. Cochrane,
W. H. Clouston, Wm. Dumble,
Henry Denne, Jos. Edwards,
C. Farrar, Edward Foley,
Wm. Fife, R. Girvan,
John A. Hartley, W. B. Kelly,
John Laing, B. Matthews,
Hiram Reynolds.

His Lordship said that he had presided at the Court here and had the pleasure of addressing the Grand Jury five months ago. There were then no criminals in the goal, and very much the same state of things prevailed now, as the goal contained no prisoners awaiting trial and there was only one out on bail. This was extremely gratifying, as showing that this was an orderly county, and must be gratifying to the Jury and all who take an interest in the county. The calendar, which had just been placed in his hands, showed that there had been no prisoner sentenced for any serious crime, and there were only four or five in the goal for vagrancy. There was only one case to come before them, a case of larceny, which they would deal with according to the evidence. There was one thing he would point out to them. They should bear in mind that the mere taking of property was not stealing, unless it was taken with the object of depriving the owner of it and appropriating it to the use of the person taking it, and an article might be taken in a joke, or a person might have a claim upon it, although a claim would give him a right to take it. However, they should consider these things and the facts of the case. Their other duties were of the ordinary character. They would examine the goal and Court House, and other county property, and if they saw anything which called for remarks they could call attention to it in their presentment.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Oct. 9.—Samuel Sharpe, Jas. Peterson and Wm. Peterson were charged with breaking a plate glass window in R. W. Muncaster's store on the night of the 24th of August.

The charges against Jas. and Wm. Peterson were withdrawn, and the case against Samuel Sharpe proceeded with.

Mr. O'Meara appeared for the complainant and Mr. D. W. Dumble for the defendant.

JAS. PETERSON testified that he was at the drill of the Field Battery on that evening; came down the street as far as Dolan's hotel with Jos. Methehall and S. Sharpe. Left Sharpe at Dolan's and went home. Did not see or hear the glass break.

EDWARD TIERNY remembered the night. He went down the street at about ten o'clock. Saw Sharpe and others standing near Dolan's store. Came down to O'Meara's corner and heard the glass break. Locked around and saw seven or eight running around the corner on Hunter street.

J. F. JAMISON was coming down the east side of George street and saw six or seven standing near Dolan's. Two came out from the crowd and commenced wrestling. They ran down the street and clinched and swung against the window and broke it, apparently by accident.

CHAS. ROBINSON said he was with Sharpe and he could not have done it, and F. Walton and F. McDowell said they saw Sharpe and Robinson go up past the telegraph office just before the glass was broken. R. W. Muncaster recounted a conversation he had with Sharpe, and the evidence given contradicted what Sharpe told him.

The Magistrate found the defendant not guilty.

ASSAULT.

Constable Adams charged F. Walton with assaulting him. The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $5 or twenty-one days in goal. Another case against him for assaulting Constable Pigeon while in the discharge of his duty was enlarged for a week.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1882.

THE LATE JAMES HALL.

The late James Hall, who died at his family residence in Peterborough on Monday morning last, was one of Peterborough's oldest, and for many years one of her most prominent citizens. Mr. Hall was born in Clackmannanshire, Scotland, in April, 1806, and was, therefore, in the 77th year of his age at the time of his death. He came to Canada with his father, and settled in the township of Lanark, Ontario, in 1820, where he first practiced his profession of Civil Engineer and Provincial Land Surveyor, subsequently going to Nova Scotia, where he remained until 1835, when he returned to this Province and settled in Peterborough. Here he at first engaged in the practice of his profession, but soon abandoned it for other pursuits. Besides being first interested in and then conducting on his own account the tannery now owned by Messrs. Peterson & Son, Mr. Hall for a number of years conducted a large and successful mercantile business. In 1848 he was elected, in the Reform interest, Member of Parliament for the then united counties of Peterborough and Victoria by a majority of 81 over Mr. Langton. At the next general election in 1851 he was, however, defeated for the same constituency by a majority of 70. In 1856, on the resignation of Mr. Langton to accept the Auditor Generalship, the late Mr. W. S. Conger resigned the sherrifalty of the united counties to contest the constituency in the interest of the Government of the day, and Mr. Hall was appointed to the position thus rendered vacant, and which he continued to fill until the separation of the counties in 1863, and then of this county until he resigned in 1872, to be succeeded by his son—the present Sheriff. In 1874 Mr. Hall was again returned to Parliament, being elected for East Peterborough, at the general election of that year, as its representative in the House of Commons. At the next general election (1878) he was not a candidate, owing to increasing age and declining health. Besides holding the positions already referred to, Mr. Hall during his active career in Peterborough held the position of county auditor, was Mayor of Peterborough in 1862 and 1863; was a member of the County Council in 1866, and was for some time an active member and chairman of the School Board. He was also chiefly instrumental in inducing the Bank of Toronto and the Canadian Bank of Commerce to open agencies here; he being the first agent of the former bank. Mr. Hall was also an office bearer, of old standing, in the congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. He was twice married: first in 1830, to Jane, second daughter of Samuel Albro, Esq., of Halifax, by whom he had a large family, all of whom are settled in life, and secondly in 1870 to Miss Ferguson, of Edinburgh, Scotland—who with one daughter by this marriage survives him. Owing to the failing state of Mr. Hall's health during the last twelve months his death was not unexpected, either by his family or the public.

A POLICY WANTED.

The Toronto World, an independent journal with strong "Reform" predilections, in an article on a probable change in the management of the Globe, says of the editor:—

"But—and here is the gist of the whole matter—is nobody to blame but Mr. Brown? Where the offense is, there let the great axe fall; and it seems to us that Mr. Brown has had true Judaea justice meted out to him. True, he does not speak for the Reform party, but it is somewhat difficult to speak for those who, collectively, have nothing to say."

Again it concludes the article by saying:—

"What the Reform party wants most of all just now is not a paper, but a policy."

Yet it is this party without a policy that we are told we should support, with their Ontario allies, Mr. Mowat and his colleagues, who, however, have some fragments of a policy, viz., centralization of power usurped from the local authorities, and the use of the patronage then seized upon, and of the public funds, for their maintenance in office.

"MEASURES, NOT MEN."

The independent Toronto Telegram says:—

"The platform put forward by the Conservatives, upon which they are to stand in their opposition to Mr. Mowat, is an exceedingly good one. It is not only good in itself, but it is well put together, and, no doubt, was carefully supervised by the Chieftain before it saw the light. If the Conservatives were fortunate enough to have good men to carry the platform out they would be all right; but good men they have not."

Without pausing to consider whether we have not now in the Legislative assembly even better men than Mr. Mowat and his colleagues we may observe that it is still a question of who are in the assembly now, but who will be there after the next general election. The choice would not even be limited to those who might have seats; the present Ontario Premier, for instance, had not a seat when called upon to assume the Premiership, Mr. Mowat being not only without a seat, but even being out of practical politics, on the Bench, when invited to lead his party in office.

Many of the electors also will agree with us in considering measures of more importance than men. The measures proposed by the Conservatives are admittedly good, and when the time comes to carry them into effect, good men will not be wanting to undertake the duty.

It seems that the "Reformers" have no wish to obtain an impartial verdict from the electors. In the township of Thurlow the assessment roll has been falsified wholesale by a dishonest assessor. The Belleville Intelligencer concludes a long article on the subject as follows:—

"As a result of the Voters List Court thirty-two Parliamentary and two Municipal Conservative voters whose names were left off were ordered to be placed on the roll, and twenty-five illegal Grit voters were struck off as having been wrongfully placed on the roll by this model Grit assessor. Five other cases were held over for judgment."

In an article on the bye elections for the Ontario Legislature, the Independent Toronto Telegram says:—

"If the Government loses the seats it will have to let Mr. Crooks go before the general elections come on, as it will have all it can do to swim safely through the troubled waters of a general election on its merits without having any sinkers tied to it."

We are glad to find the Belleville Ontario Intelligencer confessing that "during the past four years Manitoba has made wonderful strides in material prosperity, and the population of the country has been largely increased by immigration from the older Provinces of the Dominion." This has been the natural result of the beneficial railway, land, and finance policy of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues. Manitoba made no such "wonderful strides" during the previous four years when the self-confessed "Grits on the wheel" were retarding the progress of the whole country. While in the humour for telling the truth our contemporary might have mentioned the large immigration from Europe and the United States as well as from the older Provinces of the Dominion.

REVIEWS.

CANADIAN METEOROLOGICAL MAGAZINE FOR OCTOBER.—Among the more notable contents of the current number of this Magazine are two finely illustrated articles,—one on Life and Adventure in Peru; the other, by the Rev. C. S. Eby, B.A., on his Alpine Experiences. F. H. Torrington, Esq., Conductor of the Toronto Philharmonic Society, gives an admirable account of the history and development of the Orator. Dr. Carroll records the remarkable personal history of the Rev. James Evans, founder of Methodist Missions in the North-West; and T. E. Pendergast describes the later development of that future granary of the world. The Rev. W. Wyo Smith contributes a very chapter on Canadian Humour; and a Canadian Lady recounts the romantic history of the Crown Regalia of Scotland. An Engraving and Sketch of the Centenary Church, St. John, N.B.—one of the finest in the Dominion—and a condensed account of the late General Conference; a paper on P. B. and her Daughters, together with an unusual amount of fine poems, make up a very interesting number.

FENELON FALLS.

THE TRENT CANAL WORKS.—The Gazette says:—On Wednesday we interviewed Mr. Anderson, the Government engineer, who has been at the McArthur House for some days past with the plans and specification of the locks, &c., about to be built in this village and to form the first instalment of the Trent Valley Canal. The specification is an overpowering document of thirteen foolscap pages of fine type, a copy of which we put into our pocket and shall (perhaps) read when we can find leisure. The plans, which appeared to our unprofessional eye to be very nicely executed, are only intended to show the general mode of construction and the proposed arrangement of structures, which they do so plainly that we wish we were able to give them on a reduced scale in the Gazette. The locks, two in number, will only be separated by gates, and the total length will be about 300 feet. The width, inside the walls, which are to be 8 feet thick, will be 33 feet, and the depth of the water will, of course, vary. The cut, for the upper lock, or the one nearest Cameron lake will be 22 feet, and for the lower lock 30 feet. The canal, from the upper lock to where it touches the river will be about 60 feet wide and 12 feet deep. A swing bridge, for the accommodation of land traffic, will cross the upper lock.

DUMFRIESVILLE.

ANOTHER FIRE. On Saturday morning a fire in Belleville destroyed Harris and Walton's sack and blind factory and Deane's terrace. The machinery in the factory was almost all destroyed. The Intelligencer says that it "was undoubtedly set on fire by one of those children of darkness and enemies of humanity, an incendiary." Messrs. Harris and Walton's loss will be between $5,000 and $6,000, against which they have an insurance of $1,000. Mr. Deane owned the buildings burnt, and his loss will probably amount to $4,000, and he was insured.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Food, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 25 cts. per box, or 6 for $1.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. See ad's in another column.

TRADE NOTES.

A new file manufactory has been established at the Chaudiere, Ottawa.

A new company for the engraving and printing of bank notes will locate its works and offices in Toronto. Part of the machinery has already arrived.

Mr. W. E. WELDER, of the Brantford Stone-ware Works, has received an extensive order from the Hudson Bay Company. The consignment will consist of two carloads of pottery.

Messrs. PATTERSON, FORTHEBROOKHAM, HAUGHT, & Co. have leased a portion of Philip's large saw mill, St. Catharines, in which it is their intention to start a large knitting mill.

A large quantity of machinery is being made at Quebec for the different gold mines of Beauce, which are being vigorously worked. The new worsted factory at Hare Point is now in operation.

The Paper Company of Windsor Mills, P. Q., are making progress with the new mill; it will be a large and imposing building. The manager a short time ago furnished the necessary machinery.

The Watson manufacturing Company, of Ayr, are building a new foundry 136 feet in length and 60 feet in breadth and three stories in height, white brick and double towers, beautifully ornamented with roof fencing, window facings, etc.

Mr. R. C. JOHN DUNN has prepared a set of plans for a large three story brick building, 60x50, with engine house, 40x20, to be erected on the corner of Sheffield and Charlotte streets for Mr. James Robertson, of Montreal, to be used as a saw factory. The tenders for building are about being awarded, and it is hoped to get the building up this autumn.—St. John Sun.

SHIPMENTS of coal from Picton mines for the week ending Sept. 23 amounted to 5,306 tons, making the total for the present season up to that date 121,506 tons. The Halifax Company have 34 coke ovens in operation, consuming daily 110 tons of coal. It is expected that by the end of the year additional ovens will be completed, increasing the consumption of coal to 210 tons daily.

Mr. H. GRIVITH, boiler-maker, &c., of Welland, has, owing to his increasing business, been compelled to put on steam power into his establishment. The power is transmitted from Robertson Bros. machine shop, by a shaft running from that place to the boiler shop. This will give Mr. Griffith better facilities for turning out work and doing it more speedily. He is at the present time engaged in making a boiler for Messrs. Silcox & Andrews, of Collingwood. The boiler is all steel, and of the most improved workmanship that can be put on. Business is reported by the proprietor to be booming, so much so that it was necessary to put in steam.

Messrs. ROBERTSON BROS., machinists, &c., of Welland, are doing a very extensive business at their establishment. They are, in order to have more facilities to meet the demand for their work, compelled to put in new machinery, viz.: An iron planer, lathe, drill press, and other machinery, which they are manufacturing and have now under way. The firm reports business as being unusually good with them this summer so much so that they have been compelled to work day and night. This speaks well of the quality of work done at their establishment, and also for the N. P. They propose making extensive improvements this winter, by enlarging their premises, and fitting up generally, so that they may have more room at their command for their steadily increasing business.—Canadian Manufacturer.

INSUFFICIENT PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FIRE.

Let us suppose that in some large factory or warehouse, and in a part of the building specially selected for the purpose, there are first-class machinery appliances for putting out fire, also that the whole, in good working order, and ready for almost instant use. If, however, the fire should break out in some other part of the building, and the water can be turned on, the danger may be past in a few minutes. But, suppose the fire should break out in the very room where the machinery for fighting the fire is placed, and that in consequence the latter could not be got at and put in operation. In such case all the labour and expense incurred in providing against danger from fire would be worthless at the critical moment. Something just like this has happened before, and it may happen again. It would appear to be necessary precautions, in large establishments at all events, that the fire-extinguishing machinery be duplicated, or divided between different portions of the premises, so that if the fire started in one machinery room that belonging to the other would be available. The possibility of fire breaking out in the very room where the fire-extinguishing machinery is placed, is a contingency that should be specially provided against in manufacturing establishments.

Sometimes costly and really efficient arrangements for fighting fire are found utterly useless at the very nick of time, from the want of some small but indispensable accessories, which have been forgotten. The Dundas Standard says that some time ago a thousand feet of new hose was purchased for the fire brigade there, and was duly delivered in good order and condition. And yet on the night between Saturday and Sunday week, when the destruction of the large cotton mill was imminent, the new hose lay useless and unused, because the couplings would not fit the engine. Want of water, too, is a frequent cause of rendering hose engines and all else useless. In the same town, on the morning of Saturday last, Bowman & Co.'s large planing mill was burned to the ground. "Again," says one account, "a willing and eager crowd was compelled to stand by and see valuable property destroyed, powerless to do anything to save it, on account of a scarcity of water. It is about time that the town fathers hurried up the new waterworks scheme, else they may find themselves in future with a good waterworks system and nothing left to protect from fire." The experience of Hamilton, again, when McInnes' splendid warehouse was burned as well as on other occasions, shows that, even with passably good waterworks, steam fire engines cannot safely be dispensed with. Property owners cannot too easily understand that the way to low insurance rates lies through the adoption of the best precaution against fire. And special care should be taken against such accidents as that of a thousand feet of hose being found useless for want of proper couplings, costing a few dollars; or an engine, costing several thousands, being disabled for want of some little "fixing" that a mechanic would do in an hour or two. The expenditure of thousands avoids not at the critical moment, if some little indispensable article, costing perhaps a dollar, be not in its place and in working order. These are some of the lessons which we may learn from the recent unfortunate experience of the busy little manufacturing town of Dundas. —Canadian Manufacturer.

WOOD FINISH.

Richness of effect may be gained in decorative woodwork by using woods of different tone, such as amaranth and amboyna, by inlaying and veneering. The Hungarian and French walnut afford excellent veneers, especially burled and gnarled. A few useful notes on the subject are given by a recent American authority. In varnishing, the varnishes can be toned down to match the wood, or be made to darken it, by the addition of coloring matters. The patented preparations known as "wood fillers" are prepared in different colors for the purpose of preparing the surface of wood previous to the varnishing. They fill up the pores of the wood, rendering the surface hard and smooth. For polishing mahogany, walnut, etc., the following is recommended: Dissolve beeswax by heat in spirits of turpentine until the mixture becomes viscous; then apply by a clean cloth, and rub thoroughly with a flannel or cloth. A common mode of polishing mahogany is by rubbing it first with linseed oil, and then by a cloth dipped in very fine buckram; a good gloss may be produced by rubbing with linseed oil, and then holding trimmings or shavings of the same material against the work in the lathe. Glass paper, followed by rubbing, also gives a good luster.

There are various means of staining or darkening woods for decorative effect—logwood, lime, brown soap, dyed oil, sulphate of iron, nitrate of silver exposed to sun's rays, carbonate of soda, bichromate and permanganate of potash, and alkaline preparations are used for darkening the wood; the last three are especially recommended. The solution is applied by dissolving one ounce of the alkali in two gills of boiling water, diluted to the required tone. The surface is saturated with a sponge or flannel, and immediately dried with soft rag. The carbonate is used for dark woods. Oil tinged with rose madder may be applied to hard woods like birch, and a red oil is prepared from soaked alkali root in linseed oil. The grain of yellow pine can be brought out by two or three coats of Japan much diluted with turpentine, and afterwards oiled and rubbed. To give mahogany the appearance of age, lime water used before oiling is a good plan. In staining wood, the best and most transparent effect is obtained by repeated light coats of the same. For oak stain, a strong solution of oxalic acid is employed; for mahogany, dilute nitrous acid. A primary coat, or a coat of wood fillers is advantageous. For mahogany stains the following are given:—two ounces of dragon's blood dissolved in one quart of rectified spirits of wine, well shaken; or raw sienna in beer, with burnt sienna to give the required tone; for darker stains boil a half pound of madder and two ounces logwood chips in one gallon of water, and brush the denotation while hot over the wood. When dry, paint with a solution of two ounces of potash in one quart of water. A solution of permanganate of potash forms a rapid and excellent brown stain.—Building News.

Potomaca Pearls.

Persons using the new common automatic copying pencils should be careful about putting them in their mouth, as the substance of which the lead is composed is an active poison. In half the other day a child died from the effects of sucking one of these pencils, and in Guelph the life of another little fellow was only saved by the prompt administration of an antidote.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL

MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; while old, and during skin diseases that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its healthy action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Martin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however despatched and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete abolition of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING VARIOUS SIZES OF PINT, 80Z BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

THE COUNCILLORS DELIBERATE FOR AN HOUR AND A HALF ON MONDAY NIGHT.The By-law to Levy the Taxes Passed—The Finance Committee's Report—The Hy-drants Again—Insurance Matters—From Works—Bill Posting.A meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening, pursuant to adjournment.PRESENT—His Worship the Mayor, Councillors Cahill, McNaughton, Patterson, Kelly, Rutherford, Menzies, Deane, Richardson and Poussette.The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.COMMUNICATION.
From Wm. Milne, stating that the Council had no power to grant the Ontario and Quebec Railway permission to build a permanent bridge over the river, and referring to certain statutes.—Received.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councillor PATTERSON read the report of the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of the following accounts:—T. W. Robinson & Co. $2 00
T. W. Robinson & Co. 70
Petit Canal & Co. 12 75
Peterborough Skating Rink Co. 5 00Councillor CAHILL said that the agreement with the Skating Rink Company was to give $5 a day for the rink to hold the immigrants for two days, and he did not think they would take less than $10.Councillor RUTHERFORD thought it was infamous that they should be charged so much by the Company, and he was surprised at Mr.
McNaughton agreeing to pay so much, when really they should say nothing, considering what the Council had done for the Skating Rink Company.Councillor McNAUGHTON was willing to take the blame. He had a paper signed by six or seven councillors agreeing to take charge of the immigrants. The rink was the only place that could be got, and they could do nothing else for the two days.Councillor MENZIES thought that the charge was too high, but a bargain seemed to have been made and would have to be abided by.Councillor RICHARDSON defended the action of Councillor McNaughton.Councillor McNAUGHTON offered to pay the $10 out of his own pocket.The item was changed to $10 and the report was adopted.

THE TAXES BY-LAW.

Councillor MENZIES moved, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That the By-law levying the rate for the year be read a first time.—Carried.The Council went into Committee on the By-law, Councillor Menzies in the chair.Committee rose and reported the By-law with a slight amendment.—Adopted.The By-law was then read a third time and passed.

THE TOWN PROPERTY AND FIRE.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor RICHARDSON,—That this Council do advise the taking of hydrants to protect the property of the town, as soon as they are taken, the hydrants to be placed in the following places:—One on Murray street, between George and Aylmer streets; one near the public schools on Murray street, east of George street; one on Brock street east of Water street, to cover the Court House property; and one on Water street to cover the Market House and the department.Councillor MENZIES said he did not believe in taking hydrants until they were taken. The Council was insured for the full amount, and if the Trustees wished a hydrant to protect the school, they should pay for it. If a hydrant were placed on the Market Square, it would protect private property as well, and the Council would have to pay for it.Councillor RICHARDSON supported the motion. He thought the town would be foolish not to take hydrants to protect their own property. If the hydrants did not stand the test they would not have to be paid for. A friend of his told him the other day that if he had water in his yard, or a hydrant, he would insure his house for $15 less than it cost now, and the cost of the insurance on the school would be lessened by having a hydrant there to protect it.Councillor POUSETTE said the Council appeared to be hampered by a By-law passed by a previous Council, but there was nothing in the
By-law that would hinder them from protecting the town property from fire. It was all very well to say that they would not pay for it, but the company insured a building for the full amount of its value. However, he thought the motion was premature, and if it were left over until the next meeting, by which time the works wouldbe taken, he believed the motion would be carried without more than one dissenting voice.Councillor McNAUGHTON opposed the motion strongly. He wanted to stick to the terms of the By-law.Councillor RUTHERFORD said he had no object in taking hydrants from the Company, only that he wished to have the public property protected. The hydrant on Murray street would protect the drill shed and the Separate School, both valuable public properties. The public had not moved in the matter of taking hydrants, and if the Council took the first step in providing protection for the town property the people might follow in taking hydrants to protect private property. If the town property were burned, who would be to blame?Councillor KELLY said there was other public property in the town. The churches were as much public property as the schools. A hydrant placed at the Court House should be able to protect the Central school.It was finally agreed that the motion should stand over.

INSURANCE OF THE COURT HOUSE.

The Mayor said that the clerk had just called his attention to the fact that the county had their interest in the Court House insured, and that the Town's interest in it was not insured.Councillor PATTERSON moved, seconded by Councillor POUSETTE,—That the Mayor and the Clerk be authorized to have our interest in the Court House insured as soon as possible.— Carried.

CHARITY.

A communication was read from Mrs. Ann
Drennan asking for assistance.Councillor MENZIES moved, seconded by Councillor DEANE,—That Mrs. Ann Drennan be given $1.50 a week until other orders are given by the Council.—Carried.

IRON WORKS.

Councillor RICHARDSON said he had seen an advertisement in a Toronto paper of a company that wished to secure a location for iron works.
He thought the works might be secured for Peterborough, and he wished to see our town getting ahead.The Mayor said if he had the address he would write about it.Councillor MENZIES moved, seconded by Councillor DEANE,—That the Mayor be instructed to write to Mr. Robb to ascertain on what terms the works could be brought here, to report the result of the correspondence to the Council.—Carried.

BILL POSTING.

Councillor CAHILL gave notice that he would introduce a by-law to impose a license for bill posting and distributing in town, including dodgers.

INQUIRIES AND COMPLAINTS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD wished to know whether any action had been taken by the Street and Bridge Committee regarding the bridge and crossings of the Ontario branch of the Midland Railway.Councillor POUSETTE wished to call attention to an intolerable nuisance, namely the large amount of loose paper lying in the streets.The Mayor said there was a by-law dealing with this matter.Councillor McNAUGHTON complained that merchants left boxes on the sidewalks. The police should attend to it.Councillor KELLY said that the constables should prevent the fast driving that was indulged in on the streets.Mr. G. J. JONES, Chief Constable, said the flying paper was principally advertising dodgers and not paper swept from stores. There were boxes on the sidewalk last Saturday evening, but he believed they were brought in that afternoon, and the By-law said there should be a reasonable time allowed for their removal. No time was fixed, and the question was, what was a reasonable time?A COUNCILLOR—That is left for you to judge.
The Council then adjourned for four weeks.

tising for tenders for fencing and ties.

Draughting.

The Mail says that Mr. McLaughlin, of Peterborough, the Dominion's champion draught player, was in Toronto on Friday and Saturday and paid a visit to the Toronto Draught Club on Friday evening at their rooms in the Mutual Hotel. During his visit he played half a dozen games with Mr. George Fletcher, five of which he won, and the sixth of which was a draw.

A Croquet Challenge.

The local columns of the Port Hope Daily Guide of October 9th contains the following challenge:—Four croquet players of Port Hope heavily challenge any four players in the town of Cobourg, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Lindsay or Peterborough to a friendly game of croquet on the grounds of John Helm, Esq., Port Hope, any day within two weeks from this notice.

please communicate with P. R. Randall, Esq., Mayor.

Trent Valley Navigation.

The Trent Valley Gazette says:—

"Mr. Macdonald, one of the contractors for the locks on this village, arrived with his family last Wednesday, and next day rented the house on Colborne street lately occupied by Dr. Wilson, in which he will reside until the contract is completed. Some of the going horses and carts will be here this week, the engineer will arrive on Monday to lay out the work and operations will commence on the following Tuesday—or Wednesday at least. From fifty to seventy men, if they can be procured, will be put on at once, and a greater number as soon as they are needed.
The Macdonalds desire to have the contract sublet to a little over a year, which would half the time unprofessional guessers have said it would take."

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says:—

Death of a Lumberman.

Mr. Wm. Milne, of the firm of Milne &
Graham, prominent merchants of Lindsay, died on Monday night at the residence of Mr. Robt.
Innes in this town. Mr. Milne has been suffering for some time from, it is believed, ulceration of the stomach. He was a prominent member of the masonic body in Lindsay, and a Past Master of one of the Lodges there. His funeral takes place on Wednesday to the Little Lake Cemetery, and will no doubt be largely attended by friends from Lindsay.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

On Monday a very sad accident occurred at the shanty of Messrs. Ulyott, Sadler & Co., in the township of Ansonville, about ten miles from the village of Apsey. A graney was being built for the shanty, and Mr. Jas. Lynch, the foreman, was working on it while men were engaged in cutting timber around it. One tree fell towards the graney, and before Mr. Lynch, who had a saw in his hand, could escape, it fell upon him, crushing him to the ground. One leg was broken and he was otherwise terribly injured, so that he only survived for an hour after the accident. Mr. Lynch was a resident of Peterborough, and his body was brought home this afternoon. He has been in the employ of Messrs. Ulyott, Sadler & Co. for ten or eleven years, and was well and favourable known in Peterborough.One dose of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters will

THE LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.
The Toronto Globe congratulates the locomotive engineers upon their success in obtaining from the Minister of Railways a reinstatement of those of their number who had been suspended on the Intercolonial Railway.

It appears that certain of the men got into trouble with the Superintendent, through their connection with the Order. But on the return of Sir Charles Tupper from Europe, the matter was placed before him in its right light, and the misunderstanding at once cleared up. The men were reinstated, and the department, who also called on Sir John, left Ottawa entirely pleased with their interview.

Whereupon the Globe tenders its congratulations, which is decidedly cool. When did the workmen of Canada ever have cause to complain of injustice at the hands of a Liberal-Conservative Government?

When the printers employed on the Globe newspaper were imprisoned by its proprietors under an old and obsolete English law, what followed? The Parliament being then fortunately in session, Sir John at once had the law struck from the Statute Book. The law of which the Globe publishers sought to take a cruel and tyrannical advantage, the Liberal-Conservative Chieftain condemned as a blot and a disgrace to Canadian jurisprudence, and it was at once abolished.

And those unfortunate men were liberated. And what was the offense of these men? They belonged to a Trade Union. They met together to consider their own business. And in that they were justified by the action of Sir John Macdonald backed up by the Liberal Conservative party, and censured and imprisoned by the Globe publishers. Again, when the railway men employed on the Grand Trunk went out on strike, for the righting of certain grievances of their own, where was the Grit Government of that day and the Grit leader of this day? Do not the workmen of Canada remember? Mr. Edward Blake came boldly to the front with a bill in Parliament, the purpose of which was to put these obstreperous workmen in prison. It was held that these men had no right to go on strike, and for such conduct they should be liable to arrest and punishment. That bill was carried through Parliament by a Grit majority. And from that out locomotive engineers, brakemen, baggage-men, and others employed on our railways were held under the restraint of a Grit enactment. If the railway men have ever suffered any trade disability, it is the Grits they have to thank for it. When they have any grievance, they find ready listeners and timely interferences on the part of the Liberal-Conservative leaders. The Globe's congratulations come with a good grace, in view of the past history.—London Free Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Observations of the comet were made at the Naval Observatory this morning by Prof. Eastman, Commander Sampson, and Winglock. A CANADIAN ABROAD.
DETROIT, Oct. 10.—Yesterday afternoon a well-to-do farmer living near Deckerville shot and fatally wounded his wife. He fired two shots, the first taking effect in the head and the second in the back. He then went to the field and fired two shots at his son John, a young man about twenty. Davidson came from Canada last spring, and had quarrelled with his wife and son about some property. He fled and has not yet been arrested.

STABBED BY A LUNATIC.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—While Fourteenth street was crowded this afternoon with shoppers, a demented Frenchman ran amuck through the throng and with a pair of sharpened carpenter's compasses stabbed right and left, his victims being women. The wife of the policeman who patrolled the block was one, and when her husband arrested the lunatic he did not know the compasses were dripping with his wife's blood. The lunatic was Ernest Duborgne, a half idiotic painter, whose antics for years have made him conspicuous. His victims were more or less severely injured. The victims were assisted to their homes. The lunatic's clothing was spattered with blood. He said he felt dizzy, and admitted that he had been drinking. He wore two hats, and said he stabbed the women because some man threatened his life. The prisoner, with his father, wandered for years through the city bearing painted signs, demanding justice from the California authorities for some wrong. His father died in February last.

ABSCONDER ARRESTED.
ST. ALBANS, Vt., Oct. 10.—Edinhart, said to be a member of the Greenback Party, and a candidate for the Canadian Parliament, was arrested here to-day in a suit brought by the Bank of St. John's, P. Q., which alleges that he defrauded it of ten thousand dollars by fraudulent practices in connection with warehouse receipts, which he gave as collateral for a loan.

A Big Industry.
A. G. Closs & Co. on Wednesday completed the sale of 300 acres on the lake shore road between High park and the Humber and running back to Bloor street. The purchaser was Mr. Livingston on behalf of the Dominion out and bolt works, who intend to erect extensive bolt, iron and smelting works that will employ 1,000 men and support at least 4,000 people living right on the company's property. On Thursday morning, next day after the purchase, Mr. Livingston had a force of men at work clearing up the work which will be built forthwith. The property has quite a frontage on the river and it is the intention to dredge it so as to accommodate vessels. The price paid for the site was in the neighborhood of $40,000. The Messrs. Closs had a good deal of trouble in securing the property, and Mr. Livingston at one time left for Montreal to look up a site as he despaired of getting the Humber one.—Toronto World.

The Goulbourn Murder Case.
OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—The Goulbourn murder case was continued this morning before Justice Galt, Maria Spearman and her brother being trial for the murder of Robert McCaffrey. The court room was again crowded. Mr. Mcgrove, counsel for Maria Spearman, in a lengthy address submitted that there was no evidence of a murder having been committed, that the shot was accidentally fired during a struggle between the prisoner and Robert McCaffrey. Justice Galt charged directly in favour of both prisoners in his review of the facts. He placed great reliance on the statement of both prisoners, and drew the attention of the jury to the fact that it was admissible as evidence providing they were under the impression that it was true. The jury retired at 12 o'clock noon to deliberate upon their verdict, and three hours later returned a verdict of not guilty. The announcement was met with prolonged applause. The prisoners were at once discharged amid the cheers of the crowd in the court-room, and received the congratulations of their friends.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1882.

A SUSPICIOUS ANNOUNCEMENT.

The leading organ of the Mowat administration in its "answers to correspondents" has the following very suspicious paragraph:—

"T. L. (Valetta).—So far as Government grant and the appointment of teachers are concerned, it is the intention of the Department that the old regulations shall remain in force till the end of 1883. Full particulars may be had by applying to the Secretary Education Department, or, if necessary, the Minister of Education."

The old regulations as to the appointment of teachers are to remain in force till the end of 1883, are they? And what then? Are the new regulations of that date to provide for the appointment of teachers by the Mowat administration, as already they have seized upon the appointments of bailiffs, license commissioners, license inspectors, division court clerks, gaolers, &c. &c? Fancy that most incompetent Minister of Education, the Hon. Mr. Crooks, who cannot make an appointment without bungling so egregiously as to create a turmoil, who cannot frame a regulation or perform an administrative act without making a mischievous muddle of it, fancy his having the power of appointing the teachers of our public schools and collegiate institutes.

Yet absurd as it may be, it would not be surprising. Carrying out his policy of centralization and of invading the province of the local authorities, Mr. Mowat has already seized power for himself and his colleagues of unnecessary interference with our educational system. Already in the place of a professional Superintendent we have a political Minister of the Department of Education, the grant is distributed so as to dictate the amount of salaries, the giving of provisional certificates is taken by the Toronto clique from the better informed local inspectors, and so on. Why then should we be surprised if the power of appointing teachers is taken from our school boards to afford additional patronage to this grasping administration. One of their leading organs has already without rebuke or dissent, advocated the appointment of teachers who will inculcate good "Reform" doctrines and mould the yet plastic minds of our youth in accordance with "Reform" principles.

It is true that even Mr. Mowat would not venture upon this free usurpation of power and patronage on the eve of a general election, but then at the date indicated, at the end of 1883, the general election will be over, and if he has not then received his dismissal, what should hinder Mr. Mowat from seizing upon the appointment of school teachers, and fixing the salaries we shall pay them? Certainly not any scruple as to the propriety of making our educational system subservient to party advantage, for that he has done already, nor as to invading our ancient and much prized rights of local self government, for he is infringing them continually. There is one thing alone that will keep Mr. Mowat and Mr. Crooks from laying their greedy grasp upon our educational institutions, and that is their dismissal from power.

HANDLING GRAIN

Mr. Stevenson's Improvements.—The Way to Retain and Increase Our Trade.

The direct and indirect advantages derived by Peterborough from the trade attracted to it by the enterprise and push of our produce merchants is such as to render every step taken to maintain and increase their business of interest to our readers. Those who know anything of the produce trade know that the facilities possessed for handling produce is no mean element in either attracting or diverting this trade from one place to another. The transactions are now so large that what appears to be but a trivial advantage to a small dealer, is really of sufficient advantage to the large operator to enable him to realize a profit while paying prices which would leave nothing for the smaller one. Then prices being equal, the farmer will at any time prefer to drive several miles further if by so doing the labour of handling heavy bags be reduced to a minimum. Indeed it pays him to do so because it enables the "old man" to market the grain without either taking an able bodied man with him, or over-working himself. Under these circumstances we note with particular pleasure the improvements which Mr. James Stevenson has almost completed in his large store house on Bethune street. During the last few months the roof has been raised so as to give it a full second story, thereby much enlarging its capacity, and he has introduced seven horse power gas engines—the first of the kind introduced into Peterborough, and which possesses the great advantage of being able to be set in motion on a moment's notice without being kept running when not required.

As the elevators will take the grain from hoppers placed beneath the first floor and transfer it wherever required in the building, it will be seen that the laborious work of emptying bags into bins, often above a man's head, has been entirely dispensed with, and the work of taking in reduced to a minimum. By the same means the cost of shipment will be largely reduced, as this part of the work will henceforth be done by machinery instead of by manual labour, while the work of loading will be done much more expeditiously. Altogether our farmers as well as merchants have reason to congratulate themselves upon the addition which Mr. Stevenson has made to Peterborough's facilities for handling grain, and thus aiding in retaining its pre-eminence as the best grain market in this part of Canada.

AN EYEWITNESS AT ZAGAZIG.

A Gallant Dash—Our Indian Troops—A Close Shave—In a Ticklish Position.

The following extracts are from a letter received by a relation from an officer on the staff of the Indian Contingent in Egypt:—

"CAMP ZAGAZIG, Sept. 15, 1882.
"We had a hard time of it on the 13th. We got orders on the afternoon of the 12th to have all our things packed ready to start them off by rail or baggage animals, according as we had them or not, and we ourselves were to await orders. The first orders we got were that we should start at half-past one, but after that a man came down at 1 o'clock to say we should not start till half-past two, and of course we all bivouacked out in the open with our boots and all on. It was quite on the cards that the enemy might be down on us at any time. I was sent three times in the dark to see after a mule battery of artillery, and I very nearly came to grief several times; the ground was very bad, to say nothing of male ropes, and it was pitch dark. Once I lost myself entirely, and had some difficulty in finding my way back to our place."

Well we all went on in the dark on both sides of the freshwater canal towards the enemy's position, which was seven miles off, and where he was very strong, entrenched they say with 160 guns. You will see it all in the papers, and mind you look at the Daily Telegraph, for its correspondent, the Hon. Mr. Wingfield, was with us all the time, and he is sure to tell you all about the first shell. When we had gone on for about an hour and a half the first streak of dawn began to show, and then we heard the big guns booming on our right, followed very soon after by the rattle of musketry. We went on after that at least a quarter of an hour, the General and his staff officers riding along the embankment on the side of the canal with only a company of the Seaforth Highlanders in front of us, when suddenly a shell came right into the middle of us. The General was in front, and a line of staff officers behind him; I came in the third line, and there were about two lines more behind me. Well, you may fancy how close the shell came to me when I tell you it passed over me and went under the horse of the man riding behind me, bursting as it struck the ground. The screech of the shell as it came was ugly, and when the explosion came the horses were all over the place, four men being unhorsed. The most marvellous thing was that no one, and not even a horse was touched by any fragment of the shell. Then the shells began to come thick and fast, but luckily as we advanced most of them went over our heads. Some of them, which burst overhead, the fragments coming whistling about in all directions, were very nasty. Our General was well to the head all the time, and I was with him, except when I was sent scouring away with messages. You will know already that we had a complete success, and took all the enemy's camp equipment, eighty guns and no end of ammunition, &c.

After this we rode with part of a squadron of the 8th Bengal Cavalry to Zagazig, and took possession of the station, capturing three trains just going off, and really though "I say it as I should," it was a very dashing thing. There was but a handful of us, and the town had some 20,000 inhabitants. We were now in a very ticklish position, for of course, after 15 or 16 miles, mostly at a hand gallop, our infantry were nowhere, and when we got hold of the telegraph wires, and worked them through an interpreter, we found that about 6,000 of the enemy were expected every moment to arrive by train. We then sent an officer with some men and broke the rails up for a distance of two miles, and despatched a train to bring up our infantry. About two hours afterwards, which was a time of extreme tension, the 42nd Black Watch came up, and our feelings were somewhat relieved. But if you see in the papers that the 42nd joined in the occupation of Zagazig, you will see that it was not true. We expect to go to Cairo in a day or two.

I was not touched by shot or shell and have been mercifully preserved. There is no doubt we had a hot corner in the battle, although luckily our losses were very small. Certainly the whole thing was very well planned and carried out.

NO TROUBLE TO SWALLOW Dr. Pierce's "Pelllets" (the original "little liver pills") and no pain or griping. Cure sick or bilious headache, sour stomach, and cleanse the system and bowels. 25 Cents a vial.

THE firm of J. & S. McEachen, Douglas, writes us June 1st, saying "There is not another preparation we can recommend with so much confidence as Burdock Blood Bitters, as it invariably gives the best of satisfaction." Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of Blood Livers and Kidneys.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont. they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. A Cat That Takes Its Ride.
It seems to me from the many articles I meet with in scientific journals, as well as in the general press, and from my own observations, too, that the cat family are constantly growing in the general estimation in the high qualities of sagacity and affection. In fact, I believe, they stand better than they did forty years ago—all the oblation of Mrs. Swinburn, the champion cat-hater, to the contrary, notwithstanding. Here is our "Nig," for instance, manifesting a trait altogether new, as it seems to me—in this. He likes to ride as well as a coach dog. He cries almost every day to ride to town in the buggy, and is always ready to go out with the team when we are hawking in hay or grain or husking corn, provided he can ride. If one will hold him in his arms he also delights to ride on horseback. His pleasure is manifested in a remarkable degree whenever he is allowed the luxury of a ride, either in any kind of a vehicle or on horseback, and his cries are altogether pitiful when he is told he cannot go. This singular habit seems to have been a natural one with him, for he never had any special training in that direction. While cats are ordinarily frightened out of their wits by an attempt to give them such a ride; "Nig" is never so happy as when he is thus indulged.—American Naturalist.

COURT OF JUSTICE

A Charge of Unlawful Detainment Against a Doctor—His Case Fully Through.

OTTENBERG vs. SPROULE—Action for malpractice through negligence and unskillful treatment against R. Sproule, M.D., in connection with the setting of a fractured limb, and claiming $2,000 damages.

FREDERICK OTTENBERG, the plaintiff, was sworn and said he was 31 years old; his leg was fractured while jumping on the 14th of May. [The leg was shown in the court, and there was a crook in the left leg a few inches above the ankle.] Was carried home and placed on a sofa; the defendant arrived in about two hours after and pulled the leg and put the splints on; the doctor came during the first week every day to see him; he reset the leg during the first week; the bones when broken overlapped each other; it appeared to be a straight break; the bone was not aligned; the doctor visited him regularly during the first three weeks; after that his visits were not so regular; the last visit was made on Friday, the 7th of July; he had not been there for nearly two weeks before that; he never came after the 7th of July; his sister went for the doctor on the 11th of July, but he was not at home; his father went after him on the 12th of July; when his leg was broken he was brought home and placed on a sofa; it was about eighteen inches wide, and he could not lie with both shoulders on it; a box and a chair were put at the side of it for his shoulder to rest on; it was an uncomfortable bed; he remained on it from the time the leg was broken until the 16th of July; there were beds in the house on which he could have been placed; on the 15th of May a third bed was put up in the room in which he was lying; Mrs. Beck sent down a mattress for this third bed; one day the doctor called, and his mother asked if he could not be moved to the bed; the doctor said it could be done when he came back in the afternoon; he came back, but didn't move him; he was moved off the sofa on the 16th of July; when the doctor first came he did not wash the wound, and did not do it afterwards; the leg looked dirty around the sore, and smelt unpleasantly; worms and maggots were observed on the sore four weeks after the accident; the bedding on which he was lying was dirty, he lay so long on it; the clothes over him were changed every three days; the doctor set the leg with splints when he first came [the splints were produced and he was shown how they were placed on]; he complained of the way the splints were on, but the doctor said there must be pain before it would get well; the splints were taken off and put on again in the first week, and were not off again till the 16th of July; the bandages were not changed from the first until that date; there was cotton batting placed at the ankle and the knee; carbolic lotion was sprinkled on the leg; no other appliance was used but these splints; when Dr. Sproule did not come on the 12th of July, his father tried to get another doctor; Dr. Kincaid came and looked at the leg on the 16th of July; nothing more was done to the leg; his father and mother attended to him while he was ill; one of them was with him all the time; his mother spoke to Dr. Sproule about his leg being crooked; the doctor replied that if it was not as straight as the other he would give her $500; his father and mother put the clean rag on the leg, by direction of the doctor; he did not do anything to injure the leg; a good many times when Dr. Sproule visited him he appeared to be intoxicated; his back was raw from lying in the uncomfortable position; he told the doctor of it; he suffered much pain when the splints were taken off; he could not walk at all without crutches now; the leg was about the same as when he got up; he got up by the advice of Dr. Kincaid.

To Mr. CAMERON—Have lived in Peterborough since March; worked at the carpentering trade here; worked at all kinds of work in Port Hope before he came here; a month before he left Port Hope he cut his leg with a hatchet; it was quite healed up when he broke his leg; Dr. Hamilton attended to the cut, and Dr. Taylor gave him a salve for it; the doctor probed the wound made by the cut; there were two rooms in the house where he was taken when his leg was broken; there were four other children belonging to the family; one bed was moved to another house after he was hurt; no bedstead in the house was broken up for firewood; the third bedstead was got on the Monday after the accident, but there was no mattress on it till the 7th; wouldn't answer that Dr. Sproule was not to see him on the 1st of July; his father went for the doctor on the 12th of July, and had been drinking before he came back; Dr. Kincaid told him to go about on crutches about the middle of August; had been walking about on crutches since that time; a lotion was applied to the wound every day by direction of Dr. Sproule; the doctor said at one time that he ought to be moved; he was then setting his dinner, and the doctor said he would be back again; when the doctor came back he said he was too weak to be moved; his father put a board under his leg to hold up his foot at the end of the sofa; the doctor did not object to the board being there; on the 16th of July he raised the leg and one of the splints fell off, and he took the other off; he was then moved off the sofa into a bed; Dr. Kincaid and King saw the leg after that; Dr. King advised him to go to the hospital; a little while after he was moved on the 16th, he was advised by Col. Haultain to bring an action against Dr. Sproule; Mr. Sproule was then sent for and he brought in Dr. Clarke; when the splints came off on the 16th his father put them on again; moved the leg a little a few days before he was moved to the other bed, and felt no pain; the doctor was sober the first day he came and on the day he reset the bones; saw him intoxicated a good many times.

RE-EXAMINED—Came with the rest of the family from Port Hope; the cut which he got in Port Hope did not prevent him from working at all; Dr. Sproule was often under the influence of liquor when he came to see him; otherwise the broken leg was now shorter than the other; nothing had been done from the time Dr. Sproule last saw the leg to put it out of place; the board put up to keep his foot straight was three inches from the foot, and the space was filled with batting.

M. OTTENBERG, father of the plaintiff, was sworn, and gave evidence corroborating that of the plaintiff.

The mother and sisters of plaintiff also gave corroborative evidence on some points.

ADAM COMSTOCK, sworn—Took a mattress down to the plaintiff's house, at the request of Mrs. Beck, on the 27th of May.

A portion of the examination of the defendant was put in, which stated that the bones of the leg were in their proper position when he ceased attending the plaintiff on the 7th of July.

Mrs. Beck, sworn, said—Had visited young Ottenberg; he was lying on a sofa; the lounge was too narrow; asked Dr. Sproule if he could be moved, and he said he could, but he was too busy that day and would do it on Sunday; that was about the end of May; sent a mattress to the house by Mr. Comstock.

To Mr. CAMERON—There was a bedstead in the corner of the room, but it was not set up.

Dr. CLARKE, sworn, said—Am a surgeon practising in Peterborough; saw the leg of young Ottenberg on the 10th of July; the leg presented very much the same appearance now as it did then; the leg bore evidence of improper treatment by some one.

To Mr. CAMERON—The leg was crooked; it might have been crooked without any negligence on the part of the surgeon attending.

To THE JUDGE—A compound fracture is one in which there is a hole in the skin communicating with the fracture, and a comminuted fracture is one in which the ends of the bones are broken in addition to the simple fracture.

The counsel on each side then addressed the Bench, and the Judge held that as there was no medical evidence to show that there had been improper treatment on the part of the surgeon attending, there was no case to go to the jury.

The plaintiff was therefore non-suited without the defence being called upon for their evidence.

HARD LUMPS IN BREAST.—Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I wrote to you some time ago that I thought I had a cancer. There was a large lump in my breast as large as a walnut, and had been there four months. I commenced taking your "Golden Medical Discovery," "Favorite Prescription" and "Pelllet" in June, and the lump is gone. Yours gratefully Mrs. R. R. Clark, Irvington, Mich.

BILIOUSNESS.—A furred tongue, bad taste in the mouth, nausea vomiting, variable appetite, alternate diarrhoea and constipation, faintness, weakness, yellow cast of eye and countenance, indicates serious biliary trouble. Jaundice is a dangerous disease, it is an overflow of bad bile in the circulation, any of these symptoms should be remedied without delay, and Bloodroot Bitters is the remedy upon which you may surely rely.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURE FOR SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, eczema, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful eruptions, and always produces a clear, healthy condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 1s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—A FLUID peculiar in itself, in the most potent remedy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its healthy action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Martin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES ONE-SIXTH NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1890.
Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a spavin was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

Brookton, Mass., March 10th, 1890.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, and all ailments, and so much to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, cooling mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unequalled success to our knowledge, for honest as well as men.

Prior to your bottle, or six bottles for $5. All drug-gists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Kenosha Falls, Vt.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

POLICE COURT.

INDECENT EXPOSURE.
TUESDAY, Oct. 10.—John Sharp was charged before Mr. T. Manzie, J. P., with having indecently exposed his person. He said he was not sober at the time, and he supposed the charge was true. He was fined $1, to be paid within ten days.

Fall Exhibitions.
The dates of the following fall fairs and exhibitions have been announced:—
Date.
Farm Riding—Norwood—Oct. 10th & 11th.
Zoo—Osmos—Oct. 11th & 12th.
Burlington—Apsley—Oct. 11th.
S. Monaghan—Hallowell—Oct. 12th.

The Weather.
The weather continues cool to-day. The weather probabilities for the following 24 hours as reported from Toronto at 1 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Easterly to north-easterly winds, cloudy to fair cool weather, with local rains.

An Unfounded Charge.
Our readers will see that the suit against Dr. Sprule for damages for unskillful treatment of a broken leg was dismissed from court merely on the evidence of the plaintiff, without even calling upon the witnesses for the defence. Dr. Sprule is to be congratulated on the utter failure of this attempt to do him an injury and to damage his professional reputation.

Lecture.
The celebrated lecturer, the Rev. Dr. Vincent, will lecture on "That Boy" in the George Street Methodist Church on Thursday evening. Dr. Vincent's reputation as a lecturer is world wide, and all that is necessary to secure a large attendance is the announcement that he will be present, and we hope to see the church filled to-morrow evening. On the afternoon of Thursday Dr. Vincent will address the Sunday School teachers and workers of the town in the lecture room of the same church. This he has kindly consented to do by special request, and any person who takes an interest in Sunday school work should not fail to be present, as Dr. Vincent's address will not only be highly interesting but also very instructive. Both in the afternoon and at the lecture in the evening the attendance should be large.

Theatrical.
The managers of the "Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company," have no ground for complaint regarding the attendance at the play on Tuesday night, as Bradburn's Opera House was filled to overflowing. Extra seats were brought in, yet every seat was occupied and many were compelled to stand. In the new arrangement of Uncle Tom's Cabin, as played by this company, the amusing parts are the most prominent throughout and the first three acts are very much of the character of a burlesque. A novel feature of the play was that there were two Topics, and two lawyers, both named Marks. The senior Marks is the most prominent character, and Fred. H. Wren, in this part, was certainly very amusing, and the antics of "Topsy No. 1" (Master Freddie Wren) created roars of laughter, while the height of the fun was reached when the trick donkey appeared and performed on the stage. The performance closed with a tableau representing Eva in Heaven.

A Body of Humourists.
While considering the grave questions that come before our town parliament, the Council often introduce a great deal of humour into their remarks, which is entirely lost to the world. On Monday evening when Councillor Rutherford introduced his resolution regarding protection from fire for the town property, Councillor Menzie said that Councillor Rutherford appeared to be going crazy on this subject and would have to be sent to the lunatic asylum or put into a straight jacket, and Councillor Fennell thought from Councillor Menzie's opposition to the water works that he must have an attack of hydrophobia. Councillor McNaughton, who often says humorous things, at one point addressed Councillor Rutherford after the following manner:—"If I am out of order, call me to order; but if you don't know better, keep your mouth shut." That was a very humorous remark, but if funny things must be said, there should be an attempt to say them in a more becoming manner.

CURLING CLUB.

Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club—A Bright Outlook.
The annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club took place in the Choate House parlour, on Monday evening, and proved to be the most successful gathering in the club's history. The enthusiasm and unanimity of feeling for the club's future success was very marked. After the usual routine of business was disposed of, the bygone battles with the "Blanes" were freely discussed, which tended to arouse that degree of enthusiasm which none but true curlers experience.

The officers elect for the ensuing year are as follows:—
PRESIDENT—T. P. Attrill.
VICE-PRESIDENT—Dr. R. P. Boucher.
PATRON—Judge Dennistoun.
PATRONESSE—Mrs. Dennistoun.
CHAIRMAN—Rev. W. C. Bradshaw.
SECRETARY—W. H. Budden.
REPRESENTATIVE MEMBERS—Alex. Bertram, Toronto, Jas. F. Dennistoun.
MANAGING COMMITTEE—W. G. Ferguson, Adam Hall and Andrew McNeil.
SKIPS—George Brown, Jas. F. Dennistoun, Melville Miller, P. Connal, Dr. R. P. Boucher, Adam Hall, T. P. Attrill, Geo. Dunford.
HONORARY MEMBERS—Geo. A. Cox, Esq., Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P., A. White, Esq., Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Dr. Halliday, Rev. Vincent Clement, D. G. Hutton, Esq., R. A. Morrow, Esq.

A fund was subscribed to defray the expense of foreign matches, and the President and Vice President intimated their intention of presenting a medal to be competed for at the 13 point game, open to all members of the club, the medal to be the property of the victor. The outlook for the coming season is extremely bright, there being still a silver cup and the Caledonian medal to be played for during the coming season. A vote of thanks was tendered the returning officers, which was duly acknowledged, after which the meeting dispersed to meet again when there is ice.

THE RIFLE.

The Annual Matches of the County of Peterborough Rifle Association.
Volunteers in uniform and armed are now frequently visible in our streets for the annual rifle matches of the county of Peterborough Rifle Association commenced on Tuesday on the range of the Association at Peterborough. The wind was very unfavourable to good shooting, as it blew in gusts and straight across the range, thus making it very uncertain for the marksmen. However, some very good scores were made. The following are the scores:—

The Market.
The attendance on the market this morning was not large. Apples were plentiful, and were selling at from 50 to 75 cents per bag. Butter was offered at from 23 to 24 cts. per pound, and eggs were scarce and selling at 21 cts. per dozen. Potatoes were about 80 cts. per bag, and in the price of other articles there was little change. Grain is coming in freely. Wheat is a little higher at 95 to 98 cents; barley, 55 to 75 cents; peas, 68 to 70, and oats 35 to 40.

Personal.
Mr. W. Lech returned home on Tuesday evening from a visit to Germany.
The Broad Arrow gives a list of the staff officers of the Indian division of the Egyptian expeditionary force, among which appear the following names:—Major M. Clement, Bengal Staff Corps, Deputy Judge Advocate General, and Major A. C. Toker, Bengal Staff Corps, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster General.
We regret to learn that Mr. Alexander Macfarlane, of Ashburnham, has died at St. Catharines, where he went for the benefit of his health, having returned from Australia in the spring in a condition which made his friends anxious about him.

A Reliable Witness.
Mr. Whyte, late proprietor of the Mansion House, King street, Toronto, writes as follows about Dr. Casson's Stomach and Bowel Bitters:—"I have used Dr. Casson's Stomach Bitters for nearly two years, and I believe it to be the best medicine in the world. I would not be without it for anything. I have induced scores of people to try it, and when taken according to directions, I have never known it to fail. I call the Bitters, 'The Doctor.' It has certainly been my family doctor ever since I first used it, and will continue to be as long as it acts the same as hitherto. I strongly advise all my friends and the public generally, who suffer from any affections of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Impurities of the Blood, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., to buy a bottle of 'The Doctor,' and I am certain that not one will regret having done so. I do not think there is any medicine in the whole world equal to Dr. Casson's Stomach and Bowel Bitters."

THE WILD STRAWBERRY plant possesses rare virtue as a cleansing, cooling, astringent, antiseptic, and healing medicine, and when combined with other valuable vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it is an unfailing remedy in all Bowel complaints.
DAVEY & CLARK, Druggists, Renfrew, writes on June 3rd. "We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purpose for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bowel complaints incident to Summer and Fall.

LICENCES AND POLITICS.

THE Bellville Ontario challenges the editor of THE REVIEW "to interview any licensed dealer of liquor in his district about the iniquitous system that he says prevails under the Mowat Government." Well, we have interviewed several of our hotel-keepers since the system of political inspectors was adopted, or more accurately they have interviewed us. They had, they informed us, cause to complain, not only of the "iniquitous system," but of pressure put upon them to induce them to vote or work for the patrons of these political inspectors, or at least to abstain from voting or from working against them. We were given this information in confidence and without liberty to publish it, because, as our informants told us, their business would not be worth a month's purchase if it was known that they complained against Mr. Mowat's officials, for they would be more marked men.

For a similar reason they do not complain more loudly against the illicit liquor selling that is allowed to go on unchecked, having increased since the appointment of the political officials. Our readers will remember the severe condemnation of the authorities by the judge in the Hamlin murder case last year for not suppressing the unlicensed groggery in which the alteration first arose. But the officials are too busy attending to their political duties to spare time for the true duties of their office.

One of the great evils of the system is that for the very nature of the case the license holders dare not expose the political pressure to which they are subjected, for such action would be fatal to their interests. Free British subjects are thus exposed without redress to a tyranny that might be expected to prevail in despotic Russia.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
THE Winnipeg Free Press, a most ardent "Reform" journal, sums up the Mamlon discussion neatly. It says:—

"Mr. Crook's unfortunate penchant for lunging in at the bottom of the whole difficulty."

ATTENTION is very properly called by the Montreal Star to the deficiencies in the Pecklam Library in Ottawa, especially as regards Canadian literature. There should be at least one public library in the Dominion in which every work published in Canada, or dealing with this country, can be found.

The independent press, and even some of the Reform journals, agree with the Conservatives in deprecating the connection of our educational system with politics. The Toronto Telegram says:—

"There is hardly an educationalist in the province who does not believe that the schools should be completely dissociated from politics. This is the opinion expressed on all hands, it being admitted by representative teachers that the experiment of carrying on the schools in connection with politics has proved a failure and is injuring the schools."

THE Toronto Evening Canadian says:—

"The Globe endeavors to show that the disputed Boundary Award is legal, in the sense that although no court has ever pronounced upon it, it has passed a competent board of arbitrators. This we deny. To have been competent, those arbitrators should have been vested with final powers, and these powers Mr. Mackenzie refused to bestow upon them. Of what value is a decision that does not decide?"

The Conservatives want to have a decision that does decide, and not, like Mr. Mowat, to keep the question open in order by misrepresentation to make political capital from it.

DUBLIN, Oct. 12.—In the inquiry into the murder of the Huddys near Lough Mask, Kerrigan and his wife testified that the Elder Huddy was stoned with a stone as he was serving a process. He was then kicked and one of the assassins fired four rounds from a revolver into his body, killing him. The younger Huddy's head was then dashed against a heap of stone and he was afterwards shot in the presence of a crowd of villagers. The corpses were placed in sacks and taken to Lough Mask.

ENGLAND'S POLICY.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Leonard Courtney, joint Secretary to the Treasury, at the opening of the library at Torpoint, denied that the Government arrogated to themselves the credit for the victories in Egypt. That country, he said, must eventually become independent of foreign control. The cost of the war should be defrayed by Egypt. There was no doubt that the bondholders would have to forego something. It was not for them that England undertook the war. It would be necessary to consult the powers regarding the re-settlement of the country. Courtney said that the policy of the government was to detach Egypt from the Sultan, to look after the Suez Canal and to allow the Egyptians to stew in their own juices, and in so acting to warn the Khedive that his future position depended upon his management of affairs.

A FAMILY STARVED.
WILMERSHIRE, Pa., Oct. 12.—A family named Whitchamster, comprising the father, mother and three children, came from Germany on the first of May. Immediately afterwards Mrs. Whitchamster was attacked by a disease which crippled her, and soon afterward her husband was prostrated with malaria. A son went to work in the mine, and two months had hardly passed when both the son and an elder daughter were stricken down, with a fatal disease. The family was thus left without means of support. Their condition was not made public till Friday, when the elder daughter died of starvation. The son died on Saturday and yesterday's younger daughter died. The police found the family without even a crust of bread in the house. It is said that the children's lives might have been saved had they been given proper food in time.

A DEFICIT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—At a meeting of the National Association for the relief of the destitute yesterday the conduct of the Secretary, Treasurer of the association, Mrs. L. A. Crandall, who is short $4,500 in her accounts, was discussed, but the condition of affairs during her term of office was not finally ascertained.

Howford's Acid Phosphate.
IN NEARLY EVERY
S. S. Parker, Wallingford, O., says: "While crossing Lake Erie, I gave it to some fellow passengers who were seasick, and it gave immediate relief."

A POLITICAL MACHINE.

From all quarters come in complaints of the partisan action of Mr. Mowat's license officials. The Barrie Northern Advance says:—

"We say most emphatically that politics do most essentially enter into the administration of the License Law in this county. We say further that the license authorities have in the past strained and badly strained the extreme reading of the law to favour a political friend. We say that in one instance this violation of the law was so gross that one member of the Board, a Reformer and an honourable man, resigned his position rather than connive at the inquiry. We say that at Stuyves a license was given to a political friend in defiance of the law, where before a license had been refused to a Conservative in defiance of every principle of right and justice. We say further that in one instance at least, a prominent Reformer was reproached by one of the commissioners because he signed a petition praying that a license might be granted a certain Conservative. We say again that in this Riding the Crooke License Act is nothing more nor less than a political machine, is recognized as such, and used as such."

PORT HOPE.
THE FIRE BUG AGAIN.—The Guide says that at about 12 o'clock on Tuesday night the fire alarm bells were rung, when it was found that an empty house on Harcourt street opposite the residence of Mr. Patrick Curran, and owned by Mr. James Moffat, was on fire. The fire was without doubt the work of an incendiary. The house was empty with the exception of a lot of garden tools and some other articles which had been placed in it for storage. It was worth at least four hundred dollars, and was not insured. It being outside of the water limits, and the fire having great headway before the chemical engine was on hand, nothing could be done to save the building. It was well that the wind was blowing strongly from the south-east at the time, or Mr. Curran's house and barn would have also been destroyed. It is about time that some active measures were taken to catch the villains who are guilty of such acts. This is the third fire that has taken place in Port Hope within the past month by incendiaries.

LAKEFIELD.
THE DAM.—An official of the Dominion Government came here on Wednesday and took possession of the Lakefield dam, placing it in charge of a caretaker. This has caused much content in the village as ensuring for the future proper protection to the public interest.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—An inquest was held here on Saturday on the bodies of E. Gray and E. Ellis, the two men who were killed at the boiler explosion at R. S. Smith's mill about half a mile north of here. The jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to their deaths from the explosion of the boiler caused by the carelessness of the engineer in neglecting to open the check valve connecting said boiler with the safety valve. The scene of the disaster was visited yesterday by large numbers of people from Orillia and elsewhere. It presents a terribly shattered appearance.

A Reliable Witness.
Mr. Whyte, late proprietor of the Mansion Saloon, King Street, Toronto, writes as follows about Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters: "I have used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters for nearly two years, and I believe it to be the best medicine in the world. I would not be without it for anything. I have induced scores of people to try it, and when taken according to directions, I have never known it to fail. I call the Bitters, 'The Doctor.' It has certainly been my family doctor ever since I first used it, and will continue to be as long as it acts the same as hitherto. I strongly advise all my friends and the public generally, who suffer from any affection of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Impurities of the blood, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., to buy a bottle of 'The Doctor,' and I am certain that not one will regret having done so. I do not think there is any medicine in the whole world equal to Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters."

THE FALL EXHIBITION.

THE EAST RIDING ANNUAL SHOW AT NORWOOD.

A Menagerie of Animals and Articles Not a Financial Success—A Full List of the Prize Winners.

The annual exhibition of the East Riding of Yorkshire Agricultural Society was held in Norwood on Tuesday and Wednesday last. Like its neighbor in the west, and indeed like the majority of these exhibitions held during the present season, the display of animals and articles was below an average, while owing to the fine weather with which they have been favoured the receipts at the gates have been above an average—those at Peterborough being $258.75, while those at Norwood were expected to reach nearly if not quite $300. Whatever the cause it must be evident to every one, that the people are "showed to death," and that if any beneficial advantage is to be derived in the future from the large amount of public money expended in this way, some change must be made. As usual Mr. J. A. Muray was to the front with his sewing machines. The following is the prize list:

ENGLISH FARMING.

Experiments for drying hay and wheat crops.

That the judges appointed by the Royal Agricultural Society to test the merits of the different applications submitted by the competitors for a prize of 100 guineas for the most efficient and economical method of drying hay or corn crops artificially have reported that they do not feel justified in awarding the prize, will be read with mixed feelings of surprise and regret. No one supposed that by any artificial drying of hay and corn in wet seasons the crops could be got in as good condition as crops harvested in fair weather. It was obvious that nothing could supersede sunlight in the drying of either green or white crops. The public, however, had been led to hope that means had been discovered of harvesting with a fair measure of success even in bad seasons. The Nelson system especially seemed to have come out well under the most severe tests, and it was believed to be even better adapted to drying corn than hay. With the view of ascertaining whether there was really any system of particular value for harvesting in wet weather, a prize of 100 guineas was offered by the Royal Agricultural Society for "the most efficient and economical method of drying hay or corn crops artificially." Eight competitors entered for the prize, six of whom employed the Nelson system of exhaust fans in stacks, the other two competitors using respectively hot air before stacking, and hot air after stacking. For several weeks past the trials have been going on at Reading, the experiments including, in three of the Nelson systems of hay and barley in stacks, and in the remaining of hay only. The results have not been satisfactory. None of the competitors were able to make good hay in wet weather, and the trials of the three selected fans upon corn were even less satisfactory than upon hay. None of the systems tried came up to the conditions, and the judges, as already stated, decided that they could not make any award. The awards have been made in this decision, and the prize therefore is held over. It is to be regretted that after so full a discussion of the subject of late years the result should be failure. The question is one of great importance, and it would have been a matter for general congratulation if the system so confidently recommended had proved successful.

NEWS.

A NATIVE OF ASPHODEL.—The Sunday Evening of Elmira, New York, in its issue of October 1st, publishes a portrait of a young man formerly of Norwood, and also the following notice of him:—"We publish to-day an excellent portrait of David Healy, of Rochester, N. Y., one of the best known and widely respected representatives of the Knights of Labor. Mr. Healy was born of Irish parents in the township of Asphodel, Peterborough county, Ont., on March 26, 1850. His parents were among the early pioneers of the Canadian forests, but notwithstanding the primitive influences by which they were surrounded they gave their son a substantial education at the Classical Institute of Norwood, Ont. At the age of eighteen Mr. Healy took up his residence in Western Pennsylvania, where he studied law for two years, at the end of which time he was obliged to relinquish his studies on account of failing health. In 1876 he came into prominence as a public speaker, taking an active part in the Tilden campaign in the fall of that year. In 1877 he married and removed to Danville, N. Y., where he continued the study of the law, the office of L. B. Frothingham, the well known author of the "Bank and Broker." During the year 1877 he became identified with the cause of labor, making the first speech in the interest of the labor party ever made in Livingston county. He began the publication of a newspaper at Danville called the Invincible and afterwards removed to Elmira, subsequently took up his residence in Rochester, becoming connected with the press, and there took an active part in the organization of the Knights of Labor, now numbering 13,000 men in that city. Mr. Healy is one of the executive officers of the order, the editor of their official organ, the Labor Advocate, and at the public controversies and celebrations in the recognized spokesman of the organization. He has been prominent as an organizer and speaker for the Knights of Labor in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and New York and enjoys the confidence of all the prominent leaders of his co-laborers in the United States."

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption that will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commences to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary eczema, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the albumen which causes these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotions sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, A FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent remedy to all Skin Diseases. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its healthy action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Starling, and every year it is used adds more and more favorably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Diseases, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING ENOUGH FOR A MONTH'S USE. SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,
Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 26th, 1880.
Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he gave worse when I discovered that a ringbone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the lurch be found.

Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

ST. ALBANS, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—In reply to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two horses spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is a fine one, well, not at all stiff, and no lurch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any long growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular, which will give positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for best as well as man.

Price per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All drug stores have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Kenosha Falls, Vt.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balmic ELIXIR!

This valuable balmic is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure of all Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Group, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis, and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL

Railway Notes.

Forty navies from the Province of Quebec arrived here on Wednesday, and went out to the scene of operation on the "Missing Link."

A Truant Boy.

The Toronto Globe of Wednesday contains the following paragraph:—

"Robert Forsythe, a farmer from near Peterborough, was in the city yesterday looking for his son Samuel, a boy of thirteen years, who ran away from his home last Sunday. While looking about the Union Station Forsythe observed his boy boarding one of the Grand Trunk trains. In a few minutes father and son were on their road homeward."

The Weather.

The cold weather has moderated somewhat to-day. The sky is cloudy with appearances of a storm. The weather probabilities for the following 24 hours as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Strong winds and gales from the Eastward; fair to cloudy weather, followed by rain; higher temperature.

The Fall Trade.

We would direct the attention of our readers to the extensive advertisement of Mr. H. LeBrun of the City Clothing Store, which appears in another column. Mr. LeBrun is now thoroughly prepared for the fall and winter trade, having received a very large stock for the coming season of tweeds, overcoats, &c., and all kinds of gentlemen's furnishings. The custom department also receives close attention and is still under the efficient management of Mr. Ross. The City Clothing Store, as is well known, has always kept a large and well assorted stock of goods, but this season the purchases are unusually heavy in order to keep up with the increased business being done there, and which is growing more and more every year.

Lacrosse.

The Young Shamrocks, of Montreal, were well pleased with their visit to Peterborough on the first of this month, and they gave expression to their feelings in a resolution passed by their club on the 4th of October, and embodied in the following letter, which was forwarded to us by the captain of the club:—

To the Secretary and Members of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club:

GENTLEMEN,—At a special meeting of the Young Shamrock Lacrosse Club, held in their hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 4th, it was moved and unanimously carried that we tender our sincere thanks to your club and the citizens of Peterborough at large for their kind treatment and reception given to our club on their recent visit and stay in your town, and it will be long remembered. As long as the Young Shamrocks are a club they will never forget the Peterborough boys and their visit of October the 2nd, 1882.

At the same time we hope that the measure of time will not be slow turning round when we will have the pleasure of returning the same compliments and treatment that was given to our club by the Peterborough boys.

We also trust that you will receive these few lines of little token as a mark of respect due to your club and the people of Peterborough.

(Signed) J. B. FLYNN, Captain

A Drunken Man's Act.

Quite an excitement was created on Wednesday night about 10 o'clock on the corner of George and Brock streets, by a man who had imbibed too much of the liquor that intoxicates, and who gives his name as Henry Foster. He had been in Kennelly's hotel, and his actions there not being of a proper character, he was twice ejected from the house. On being put out the second time, he was so enraged that he seized stones and other missiles and hurled them at the hotel, breaking the windows in the front of the house, and not satisfied with that he went to the side of the hotel on Brock street and demolished the windows there. A crowd collected around the scene, but they evidently thought that "self-preservation was the first law of nature," and held aloof from the destroyer, while he showered stones at the windows, shouted lustily for the police and taunted the crowd with cowardice. Finally Mr. J. O. McConnell seized the half-crazed man, and others coming to his aid, they took him to the police cells, carrying him the greater part of the distance, and he was locked up for the night. The damage done to the hotel will probably amount to twelve or fifteen dollars, the glass in the lower windows being smashed and the sashes and shutters broken.

THE RIFLE.

The Annual Matches of the County of Peterborough Rifle Association.

The matches of the Rifle Association were continued on Wednesday at the Association range. The wind, as on the previous day, was very unfavourable to good shooting. The prizes were contributed by subscribers to the Association and the business men of the town, and the number and value of the prizes were a good proof of their liberality. The special prizes included the New York Gold Medal, presented by Canadians in New York and valued at $50, and the Bankers Challenge Cup of 1877, and the Bankers' Cup of 1881. Lieut. Col. H. C. Rogers is President of the Association, and Major R. W. Bell is Secretary. The latter gentleman kindly furnished us with the score.

POLICE COURT.

INJURY TO PROPERTY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 12.—Thos. Menzies, Esq., J. P., presided at the Court this morning. Wm. Kennelly charged Henry Foster, an English navvy, with maliciously injuring his property. This was the case of window breaking referred to elsewhere.

The prisoner admitted that he threw the stones, but stated that he was sleeping quietly on a chair when he was seized and beaten about the head and dragged out. He did not, he said, drink any liquor in that hotel that evening.

Wm. Kennelly testified that he asked the prisoner to go out, and when he tried to put him out the prisoner struck him, and he had to use violence to remove him. He estimated the damage done at $15 or $16.

The prisoner was remanded until to-morrow.

"That Boy."

The Rev. Dr. Vincent lectures in the George Street Methodist Church this evening on "That Boy." Dr. Vincent's ability as an interesting and original lecturer is so well known that there will doubtless be a large audience to greet him this evening. He lectured in Cobourg on Tuesday night and a number of persons went from Port Hope to hear him, and the Guide says that "all who went were delighted with 'The at Boy.'" The reverend lecturer will arrive here on the 6.15 train this evening.

Thousands bear witness to the positive curative powers of the Great German Invigorator, the only remedy that has proved itself a specific for general debility, seminal weakness, impotency, etc., and all diseases that arise from self-abuse or over-taxed brain, finally ending in consumption, insanity and a premature grave. Sold by all druggists, or will be sent free on receipt of $1.00 per box, or six boxes for $5.00. Address S. J. Cheney, Toledo, Ohio, sole agent for the United States. ST. JOHN'S, N. F.
Special to the Review, Oct. 11.

SEVERAL PASSENGERS assert that there was no discipline on board the Herder, and that some of the officers and crew were intoxicated at the time of the wreck. But for the exceptional smoothness of the sea, not a soul would have escaped. Several passengers' trunks have been broken open and rifled by the crew of the Herder. The American and German consuls are investigating the matter. Two passengers are returning from New York to make depositions before the authorities. Although eight were obtained at four o'clock on Sunday evening, the Herder was not ashore nine hours afterward. She was thirty-five miles out of her true course. It is alleged that her head was never thrown and that the most culpable carelessness and recklessness was manifested by those in charge.

"Marmion."
At a meeting of the Senate of Toronto University held on Thursday night the report of the Committee on Arts Studies in the matter of "Marmion" was presented. The committee recommended that an alternative be allowed candidates at matriculation between "Marmion" and "The Lady of the Lake," with special reference to Canto V. and VI. The reception of the report was moved by the Vice-Chancellor, seconded by Dr. Wilson, and carried. Mr. Vianobridge dissenting.

The Vice-Chancellor moved the adoption of the report, which was seconded by Dr. Wilson. Mr. Buchanan moved, and Mr. Houston seconded, that the report be referred back to the committee for consideration.

The amendment was lost by a vote of 7 to 11. The motion to adopt the report was put, and lost by a vote of 8 to 10.

The result is that "Marmion" is retained as before, the Senate declining to interfere with it.—Mail.

Respect for the Bench.
The Globe's Quebec correspondent announces that the fact of Mr. Fruchette, M. P., having been sentenced to twenty-four hours' imprisonment for contempt of court, and of his being tendered an ovation on his liberation, "shows the deep respect for law and the institutions of the country for which the Tories are proverbial." This is decidedly refreshing. It is a subject, however, on which the Globe and its correspondents should remain silent.

The Globe's disgracefully abusive attack on Judge Wilson, because he properly represented the notorious "big push" letter as an appeal for money to be used in debauching elections, is not forgotten, nor have other Grit journalistic attacks on the bench passed into oblivion.—Ontario Citizen.

Disturbing Jurymen Fined.
When the Assize Court opened in Toronto on Tuesday morning, Mr. Justice Armour said he had noticed that there were only fourteen grand jurors in attendance. Six jurors—Thos. D. Mason, Edward Laidley, E. B. Oiler, H. Pellatt, John S. Playfair and E. H. Rutherford—had absented themselves without excuse. They were residents of the city, and were men of good position, who ought to know better than to neglect a summons to take part in the administration of justice. He should fine each jurymen who had absented himself without proper excuse $25.—Mail.

Sentenced to be Hanged.
John Albert, who shot a boy named Andrew Young in High Park, Toronto, on a Sunday in July last, was on trial on Thursday for murder. The World says that the jury retired at 1.45 and returned into court about 5.30 with a verdict of murder. Amid breathless silence the judge proceeded to pass sentence. The only reply that Albert made in reply to the judge's question: "Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon you?" "I did not intend to shoot him." His lordship with a very feeling introduction sentenced the convicted man to be hanged on Friday, Nov. 10.

THE EGYPTIAN PRISONERS.
CAIRO, Oct. 12.—A list of the prisoners awaiting court-martial has been handed to the British consul-general. It contains 113 names, exclusive of the prisoners in the provinces, who number thirty.

THE CHIEF COMMAND.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Gen. Allon has been appointed to the chief command of the army of occupation. Generals Hawley and Willis have sailed for England.

CONSULS ARRESTED.
ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 12.—Thirty-two Europeans have arrived at Alexandria to serve in the gendarmerie. Three colonels, accused of complicity in the late massacres at Alexandria, have been arrested in the interior, and brought here.

GERMAN DUTIES.
BERLIN, Oct. 12.—Petitions favouring a duty on vegetables, and increased duties on corn and cattle, have been forwarded to the German Government from many quarters, but so far have had little attention. The immense influence of the opening of the St. Gothard railway upon the importation of cattle and cereals from Italy and the Levant, however, has given serious importance to the question, and it is considered probable that an increase of duties will be proposed in the Reichstag.

COMMERCIAL TREATIES.
MADRID, Oct. 12.—At a Cabinet Council today the Minister of Foreign Affairs announced that the negotiations for treaties of commerce with various nations were progressing, and the basis of the treaty with Germany had been fixed. Spain entertained friendly sentiments towards England, but was unable to arrange an agreement with her.

ENGLAND'S POLICY.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Lord Northbrook, First Lord of the Admiralty, speaking at Liverpool to-night, says there is no doubt there was a feeling of sympathy among the Mohammedans with the Egyptian insurrection, but the Indian Mohammedans know the queen has made no distinction between her subjects, and that the Government has no desire to annex or govern Egypt. The great powers are satisfied that England has no other object than to prevent anarchy and the closing of the canal, whether in peace or war. Mr. Fawcett, Postmaster-General, said the Liberal party were never more united or ready to sacrifice their individual wishes to the general good.

CREMATION.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—A correspondent describes two cremations, the first which have taken place in England. The bodies were those of Lady Hanham and Mrs. Hanham, who died in Dorsetshire in 1877 and 1876 respectively. Both expressed a desire that their bodies should be cremated, and their remains kept in mortuary until the preparations for the process were complete. On Sunday the remains, enclosed in substantial cases, were placed in a furnace on a platform of iron and brick, and reduced to fine silvery-fining ashes in about an hour without any unpleasant incident.

THE IRISH CONVENTION.
DUBLIN, Oct. 12.—The Archbishop of Tuam has forbidden clergymen in his diocese taking part in the national conference.

THE COTTON TRADE.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—The depression in the cotton trade has led to the posting of notices in many miles in the north-east of Lancashire of the abolition of the requiring a fortnight's notice to be given to the operatives.

A STRANGE STORY.
A Lost Man Found by Means of a Dream—A Speedy Answer to Prayer.

KINGSTON, Oct. 11.—A most marvellous occurrence transpired at Inverary a few days ago, the most interesting fact of which reached here to-day. Lawrence Carey, an old man 70 years of age, got lost in the woods on Thursday morning, and a vigilant search of three days failed to find him. On Sunday morning about 100 men took part in the search, but they all met at Carey's house with the same story—no trace of him. An open-air prayer meeting was held, and the Rev. B. Young engaged in prayer for the safe deliverance of the lost one to his friends. While he was enumerating Carey's many virtues as a friend and a neighbour, there was scarce a dry eye in the whole assemblage: Mrs. Hogan, a relation of Carey's overcome by her emotion, was carried off the ground in a fainting fit. Before the meeting had broken up, as if in answer to Rev. Mr. Young's affecting appeal, joyous shouts were heard, and Mr. Magee, of Inverary, came up in hot haste with the glad tidings that the lost was found.

Magee, it appears, had been engaged in the search all day Saturday, having always taken a very warm interest in Carey. On Saturday night he had a startling dream, in which he saw the Holy Virgin appeared to him, and described to him the exact spot where Carey was to be found. In the morning he related his dream to a number of neighbours, and told them that he thought he knew such a place as the one described in his dream about two miles north of Hart's dwelling. They hoisted at the absurdity of the thing. As night approached, however, and no trace of Carey had been found, his strange dream made such a deep impression on his mind that he started to go in quest of the place resembling the one described to him. He found it without much difficulty, a large opening in the earth between two hills, some six or eight feet in depth, apparently formed by some convulsions of nature. The walls are rocky and precipitous, and there at the bottom, strange to say, lay Carey, the object of all their search, buried in a deep sleep. Mr. Magee lost no time in arousing the unconscious sleeper who, through exposure and want of proper sustenance, was unable to stand on his feet. He could give no satisfactory account of how he had got there, nor how long he had remained in what would assuredly have been his living tomb had it not been for Magee's discovery. It appears that he left home on Thursday evening to look for the cattle, but lost his way, and wandered about in the darkness until he fell into the pit in which he was found, and was, through physical infirmities, unable to get out.—Mail.

A LADY IN TROUBLE.
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The contents of trunks belonging to Miss Huger, of New Orleans, were seized by the Revenue Officers on Wednesday. They were valued at $5,000. It is stated that Miss Huger has been in the habit for several years of accompanying young ladies to Europe. She says the articles seized were necessary for the use of her proteges and herself. It is alleged that somebody in New Orleans, for spite, wrote to the Custom authorities, warning them to look out for Miss Huger's baggage, and that she had no intention of smuggling. Prominent citizens have interested themselves on her behalf.

THE TEA TRADE.
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Tribune reports uneasiness in the tea trade on account of the excessive amount of stock on hand. Prices have declined 10 to 25 per cent. in the general trade. The coming in of new teas has caused much anxiety.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—An investigation discloses that William Keating, who has been an inmate of the insane asylum on Ward's Island for two years, never was insane. Nine Chinamen were seriously hurt.

TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION.

We are glad to learn that the Dominion Government has assumed the Lakefield dam, both by passing an order in Council to that effect and also by taking actual possession of the work. Though, we ourselves need no further evidence of the bona fides of the Government as to continuing the work of making available our inland navigation, yet there are some who have maintained in the teeth of the facts that the pledge to open the Trent Valley Navigation was only a political dodge, and that we would hear nothing more of it after the election. These doubters have now another strong proof that the Government is not only sincere but zealous in this matter. It would be useless to construct a canal without holding the control of the water, and the assumption of this dam, with its attendant cost, shows that Sir C. Tupper and his colleagues are in earnest and not disposed to let the matter sleep.

This change will not be less welcome to the inhabitants at Lakefield, because they will thus be made confident that in the future the public interests will be duly considered, and that vessel owners and the community generally will no longer have to submit to the inconvenience they have experienced this summer, while the Mowat Administration in its dilatory manner was making up its mind what they would do with the dam, without regarding the damage that was being suffered through their procrastination and vacillation.

AIKINS OR CAUCHON.

It appears that the people in the North-west do not agree with some "Reform" journalists in believing that the appointment of Mr. Aikins as Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba is an insult, while that of Mr. Cauchon was a compliment to our prairie province. The Brandon Sun says:

"All surmise in the matter as to the successor of Lieutenant Governor Cauchon is now set at rest by the appointment of Hon. J. C. Aikins, formerly Minister of Inland Revenue. This can scarcely be met with the unanimous approval of both political parties, and we are glad to be able to extend to the Government and the Province our congratulations on the appointment, as we feel that in whatever way our new Lieutenant Governor can assist the Province he will do so, without prejudice. The appointment is, indeed, a happy one, as contrasted with that made to the same position by the Mackenzie Government. Mr. Aikins has had a political experience which peculiarly fits him for the constitutional duties of the position, and his personal character is above reproach."

The independent Montreal Star says:—

"One thing is clearly demonstrated by the dispute over the withdrawal of 'Marmion' from the public schools in Ontario. That is, the propriety of having the position of Minister of Education removed from the influence of political intrigue. It is too much to expect of Mr. Crooks or any other man occupying the position, that he will fulfil his educational duties and at the same time please the many who are watching to make personal benefit or political capital out of the affairs of the department. It will be a serious mistake if the people of Ontario do not demand some reform in this matter, which shall take the management of education out of the domain of politics."

CAMPELLFORD.

SUMMERED.—The Herald says that the trial of David Johnston, the man who pointed a revolver at, and threatened to shoot, Mr. Calahan, because of a disagreement of a small sum of money in an account, in this village, a few weeks ago, was tried before the Judge at Cobourg, on Saturday last, and sentenced to three months in jail with hard labour. While again referring to this subject we might just state that there has been a mixture of this man with a man bearing a similar name who is at present employed with Mr. Calahan—foreman for Messrs Rathbun & Son, Johnston, the prisoner, has been in Mr. Calahan's service at intervals for five years, while the Mr. Johnston now serving under him has not been so long employed, and is a resident of Campbellford.

NEW DYE HOUSE.—Eighteen men are now under engagement for the erection of the dye house which the woolen mill company propose adding to their already extensive works. The dimensions of the building are 28 feet long, 26 feet wide, and 25 feet high, and attached to it will be a smoke-house, 20x12 feet. It is to be one story high, 20 feet in the clear, and to be built entirely of stone. The contract for getting out the material and building the stone work has been given to Mr. Wm. Hall, who is assisted by Mr. W. Stewart, of Raymond east, while to Mr. James Bone has been assigned the carpenter work. All the stone required for the corner of the building is being quarried on the river about four miles, and when dressed they measure 14 inches. The work is to be completed by the 1st of December.

"THAT BOY."

The stuff they Make Men of—His Ways and His Words—Our Future Citizens.

The George Street Methodist Church, notwithstanding its spacious dimensions, was crowded on Thursday night with the audience that was attracted to hear the Rev. Dr. Vincent deliver his lecture on "That Boy." They assembled long before the hour appointed, but while awaiting the lecturer, the organist, Mr. Heathfield, beguiled the time by his masterly performance on the organ.

The Rev. Mr. SHAW opened the proceedings with prayer.

Mr. D. W. DUMBLE introduced the lecturer with a few cordial words of approval of his labours on behalf of Sabbath Schools in which he had done so much to teach the teachers.

The Rev. Dr. VINCENT began by narrating an incident from the life of the subject of this lecture "That Boy," violating all the proprieties by his devouring greed at the child's party, till the little girls declared that they could not think what boys were made for. He humorously depicted the subject of his theme, with his propensity for mischief, his perpetual unrest, his destructiveness, describing a newly invented suit of clothes for him as having a copper coat, sheet-iron knees and water proof pockets for holding eggs. Though that boy was often looked upon as a perfect nuisance, it must not be forgotten that he was the germ from which would spring the men of to-morrow, the heroes, the ministers, merchants, statesmen and presidents. A boy, being asked what they were good for, said they were "The stuff they make men of."

He would discuss average boys, not the abnormally bad boy nor the preternaturally good boy who was sure to die; his interest was with the boys who were going to live. First there was the baby boy, a young tiger but as yet without claws, the pet and darling—the image of its mother. Making a brief digression, he dwelt eloquently on the young mother, in woman's sitting sphere, with her child. He expressed his approval of woman's rights, her right to work and think as she but could, but not of those advocates of woman's rights who neglected their maternal duties, while setting the world to rights. From his earliest stage the genuine boy, whatever he might be, was certainly not a girl, but already showed his incipient manliness, but perhaps the most obnoxious animal in natural history. He described two boys sent from the city to a farm by an anxious parent who dreaded an earthquake, but the farmer wrote soon, "Take away your boys and send along the earthquake." One marked characteristic of the boy was honesty. He told what he knew and what he thought, even what his mother and sisters thought, and did not wish anyone else to know about. Then there was his irrepressible love of acquiring information, and of imparting it, often to the confusion of his elders. He instanced the gallant sailor boasting of the number of engagements in which he had taken part, when the irrepressible boy exclaimed "Why, Capt. Smith, that is nothing—our Sal has been engaged eleven times."

At twelve the love of frolic and adventure ran riot, but now he had few friends and admirers, was not made much of, but was sent out of the way, snubbed and scolded. At this period the boy needed the energetic control and authority of his father, not the gentleness and patience of his mother. Now were sown the seeds of future demoralization—the ungoverned passions in the boy leading to future intemperance and want of control in the man. Now was the time to learn the great lesson of saying "no."

At sixteen you caught the last glimpses of the boy, who would not own that he was a boy, asking "where would you find your men then?" He described him humorously with his manly airs and self sufficient opinions. He instanced the boy who entered into partnership with his father and would have the firm called "John Smith and father," not seeing why anyone should laugh at it. But though we might laugh we should respect him for his attempts to assert his manliness, especially if he still retained his reverence, which was often so sadly lacking if he could still respect the whims of his father, and honour his old-fashioned mother. He would consider various institutions that affected that boy, speaking his opinions freely, though some of his audience might differ with him. He would imagine the boy at church on Sunday morning, at the service with the family, not by his own wish, but through parental authority. He thought this authority should be exercised. He had one boy and had tried his theories on him; he was eighteen, and still lived. Men who are pillars of their churches had been made to go to the Sunday services when boys; men who are infidels were not made to go to church in their youth. There was in the States and in Canada a great want of reverence, and the only school to teach a boy this was the public service of his church. And it should be begun early. Some would remark: "Oh, he can't understand the service." Perhaps he could not understand the sermon. Some sermons no one could understand, but there were other things he could understand. He would be told in answer to his question, that it was God's house, God's day, God's book, God's minister. Would not this have a good effect. Some might say it would prejudice the boy against religion. Not if it were done properly. You might say "get ready and go to church or I will flog you within an inch of your life." Very likely the boy would have a prejudice against flogging. But tell the boy kindly though firmly that he had to go and he would not be prejudiced against it, while he would respect his father's firmness and admire his will. He would say "Wouldn't pap make a grand General or a President?"

A very fair estimate was formed of their fathers by boys. Any want of consistency, any weakness or sacrifice of principle would forfeit the respect of the boy for his father, who would be a hero to the boy if he showed proper firmness. Other people might tell you, "This is the XIX century—this is the era of freedom, independence, and not slavery to the ideas and will of others. They did not believe in a puritanical regime, but were content to let the boys follow nature." "That," said the lecturer, "is precisely," "is sheer nonsense." He very humorously described a scene with an indolent child, and the evil results of want of control of its appetites. Not so with proper discipline for the body and the mind. And so proper control and discipline were necessary for the bodily and mental well being of the boy, so with his morals and religion.

There were only two things he asked for in a boy, that he should be reverend and be real. He should have such reverence as never to utter a profane word and stand firm against a lie. He should be known in the play ground as one who never did a mean thing, and in the schoolroom he should never trick or deceive his teacher.

This brought him to the next institution, the secular school. We hardly realized what influence have the teachers. Yet we heard of communitarian seeking cheap teachers. Betrenchment when required, must begin with the schools. How he wished they could have such a man as glorious Arnold of Rugby in each school. He gave his boys knowledge, but better than that, he gave them character. He taught them that it was necessary to be rather than to know. So when a new boy came to the school to break a rule, "I would not like to offend Dr. Arnold" was the reply. "The Doctor would not know." "But he trusts," and it would be mean to deceive him." The lecturer then spoke of the old style of teacher who flogged him because he smiled, and described him graphically. Then he drew with equal impressiveness a picture of the new style of teacher, who was by simple frankness and gentleness, and invited honesty by repaying trust.

Next he turned to that still more important institution "Home Life," dwelling now wittily now seriously with the influence of the home and the family. He described a boy as going to his teacher for advice as to his choice of a pursuit, instead of going to his father, because, as he said, he was "Not very well acquainted with the old man." How many parents did not properly appreciate the value of confidence given to them by the children. He condemned with fervent the overindulgent parents—too good for the boys. The marks of little feet would not be held to deface the furniture, when they who made them were gone. Too often the boys were turned out, and then the house was quiet and the furniture safe. But we might ask "Where are the boys?" Where indeed. The first born might be gone, but the furniture be all right. The best place on earth for the boys was their home, their family. Home should not be a museum for the decoration of visitors, but a place for the husband and wife and children to live in. The boy driven out from home would find places from which he would not be driven out, and the mischief resulting was incalculable. He proceeded to draw a touching picture of a genuine family home circle, with its innocent amusements and confidences between parents and children and all the beneficent influences at work. But the most important question was—where were the boys at night? In our communities the street life was one of the greatest evils for our boys. The home society should be an attraction and delight as well as a school of honour and morals and manners.

But what of the orphan boys? He described one such brought up by a fond mother with love but without wisdom. He pictured this wild boy of whom his Sunday school teacher almost despaired invited by him as a last resource to his magnificent home, treated sumptuously, and well entertained, then asked about his mother till his heart was softened the right cord was touched, and he was arrested in his downward career to the great joy of his widowed mother. The lecture concluded with an appeal for the boys left orphan and friendless, bidding his audience remember the saying: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Mr. D. W. DUMBLE said the reverend lecturer had expressed his disinclination to have any formal vote of thanks. Those however who felt impelled to show their appreciation of the admirable lecture they had heard might testify it by standing up.

The immediate rising of the audience, as if with one accord, showed the general feeling very plainly.

THE REV. MR. MATTHEWS, of Millbrook, took advantage of the occasion to call attention to the proposed dedication of the Methodist Church there next Wednesday, and promised visitors from Peterborough a hearty welcome.

The Rev. Dr. Vincent then pronounced the benediction, and the large audience dispersed, all thoroughly delighted with the lecture, of which the above is a very inadequate sketch. In fact no report could do justice to the lecturer, who must be heard and even seen to be appreciated, with his sudden transitions, now deep pathos, now genial fun, stirring eloquence alternating with irresistible humour, his arguments being comically but aptly illustrated throughout by anecdotes in which the boy was likened to the life, with all his trials and manners, showing how thoroughly the lecturer had studied his subject from the life.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

At the Oriental.

If you want a good shave without waiting, go to the Oriental Barber Shop, where there are three barbers.

High Price.

Fire wood commands a high figure now. A load of cord wood was sold on the market this morning for four dollars, which was equal to over eight dollars per cord.

At East.

The Street Inspector has at last got his men at work putting down a new sidewalk on Water street, south of the Montreal Bank. The residents in that vicinity will have nothing further to complain of under this head.

The Lecture.

There were eight hundred persons in attendance at the Methodist Church last evening to hear the Rev. Dr. Vincent's lecture. Dr. Vincent departed on the 7 o'clock train this morning for Lindsay, where he lectures on "That Boy" this evening.

A Ball.

The first ball of the season was held on Thursday evening in the True Blue's hall, under the auspices of McWilliam's Lodge of True Blues. The hall was comfortably filled with dancers, and a very pleasant evening was spent by those present, everything passing off quietly and in a most enjoyable manner.

Peterborough in Manitoba.

The Winnipeg Commercial under the head of Emerson says:

"The largest importation of glass ever made to Emerson arrived on Sept. 24th, consigned to Walton & Bird, hardware merchants. There was a full car load, and it was for the Fairbanks, Burnham and Hepburn & Irwin buildings. The three largest sizes were 70x116 inches, 87x110 and 63x110 inches. The glass is British polished plate, three-eighths of an inch thick, and was ordered direct from England. The freight on the whole from Montreal amounted to about $700.00."

"Bonneting."

A gang of men are at work putting "bonnets" on the waterworks mains at the branches and hydrant connections, preparing for testing the waterworks. In this connection it may be said that if the Company had been instructed as to the number of hydrants the town or people wished to have put in, and the positions in which they should be placed, this work of bonneting would have been unnecessary. As it is, the bonnets are being put on and the works will be tested.

The Weather.

The weather to-day is mild and pleasant, and it is suggested that this is Indian summer. It is of course a fact that we have an Indian summer every year, but as no person seems to be able to say definitely when we do have it, we will express no opinion. The weather probabilities for the following 24 hours as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Fresh to strong south-east veering to south-west winds; fair, warmer weather with local rains and possibly thunder.

A Bridge Taken Down.

The overhead bridge of the Cobourg Railway, which crossed the Midland Railway near the north end of George street, was taken down on Thursday. The timbers which were suspended over the Midland track, and which, on account of being too low, endangered the lives of the brakemen, were taken down and laid beside the embankment of the Cobourg road. The Midland Railway some time ago notified the Cobourg Company that the bridge should be removed, and they have heard nothing further from them, but it is probable that the Cobourg authorities did the good act.

"Cheap for Cash" is the announcement of W. Fairweather & Co in our advertising columns this week. The great sale of Blankets and Sundries are causing no small excitement. On Saturday night the balance of the lot will be cleared off. Our friends should not lose this opportunity of the bargains of such seasonable goods. For Old Gentlemen and all who want warm feet during the winter, a special lot of double-soled Felt Gaiter and Long Boots. To be sold for $1.50, former price $3—only slightly damaged. W. FAIRWEATHER & CO.

POLICE COURT.

INJURY TO PROPERTY.

FRIDAY, Oct. 13.—The case against Henry Foster for breaking the windows in Wm. Kennelly's hotel was disposed of to-day by Mr. Menzies. Foster was fined $2 and $3.50 costs, and ordered to pay Mr. Kennelly $10.50 for the damage done to the house.

Progressing.

The work on the building for the pork packing establishment of Mr. George Matthews, is progressing steadily. The brick work has been completed, and the carpenters are engaged on the work in the interior of the building.

No Tenders.

No replies were received to the invitations for tenders for the work to be done in the proposed alterations and improvements to the Charlotte Street Methodist Church. The carpenters and builders are so busy now, that they are not in a great hurry to rush after a new job.

Railway Notes.

The Kingston Whig says that the Ontario & Quebec Railway Company are completing the line between Perth and the Kingston and Pembroke railway without contractors, the remaining portion being left to responsible contractors who are under bonds to complete their sections early next year.

The following table gives a list of the Canadian railways, with the extent of their mileage:—Canada Pacific, 1,630, Ontario & Manitoba, 333, Ontario & Credit Valley, 183, Ontario & Grand Trunk, 2,300, Ontario & Quebec, 1,837, Q. N. E., and N. S., 450, Ontario & Northern, and N. Western, 378, Ontario & New Brunswick and Canada, 303, New Brunswick & New Brunswick, 120, New Brunswick & North Shore, 195, Quebec & Prince Edward Island, 199, P. E. Island & Quebec Central, 144, Quebec & Toronto, Grey and Bruce, 195, Ontario & Windsor and Annapolis, 116, Nova Scotia.

The Globe says that the first steam shovel of its kind ever built in Canada will be sent from Toronto on Saturday for work on the Ontario and Quebec railway.

A FINANCIAL HINDLE.

People who like financial riddles will find one in the statement of the finances of Ontario which has been published on behalf of Mr. Mowat by a contemporary. The statement gives the following figures:—On January 1, 1872, there was a surplus of $3,810,965. To this fund Mr. Mowat has added in ten years $5,744,008.94. But out of it Mr. Mowat has spent during the same time $7,391,603.50; and he has left the exact sum of $4,809,591.18. Let us put the calculation in tabular form:

Surplus in 1872	$3,810,965.00
Added in ten years	5,744,008.94
Total surplus	9,554,973.94
Spent out of surplus	7,391,603.50
There remains in 1882	4,809,591.18

What a successful system of financing Mr. Mowat's is. A fortunate man understanding this system could begin business with a capital of $3,000. He could take in the way of receipts $6,000, spend in riotous living $7,500, and yet have a balance of $1,500. This is the way his account would stand:—

Capital	$3,000
Receipts	6,000
Total	9,000
Spent	7,500
Balance remaining	4,500

We only wish Mr. Mowat would give some commercial college lectures on his book-keeping system. Many a deserving business man whose receipts do not come up to his expenditures would gladly sit at the little Premier's feet.—Mail.

A Reliable Witness.

Mr. Whyte, late proprietor of the Mansion Saloon, King street, Toronto, writes as follows about Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters:—"I have used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters for nearly two years, and I believe it to be the best medicine in the world. I would not be without it for anything. I have induced scores of people to try it, and when taken according to directions, I have never known it to fail. I call the Bitters, 'The Doctor.' It has certainly been my family doctor ever since I first used it, and will continue to be as long as it acts the same as hitherto. I strongly advise all my friends and the public generally, who suffer from any affections of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Impurities of the blood, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., to buy a bottle of 'The Doctor,' and I am certain that not one will regret having done so. I do not think there is any medicine in the whole world equal to Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters."

[Sd.] J. A. WHITE,
Sold in large bottles at 50 cents at J. D. Tully, druggist.

THE Wild Strawberry plant possesses rare virtue as a cleansing, cooling, astringent, antiseptic, and healing medicine, and when combined with other valuable vegetable extracts, as in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, it is an unfailing remedy in all Bowel complaints.

DAVE & CLARK, Druggists, Renfrew, writes on June 3rd:—"We have sold Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for a number of years, and find nothing equal to it, for the purposes for which it is designed." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures all forms of Bowel complaints incident to Summer and Fall.

In the present month of October Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters should be taken to purify the blood and fortify the system against the severe change of our Canadian winter. It improves the circulation and cures Dyspepsia, Billiousness, and Sick Headache. In large bottles at 50 cents. Sold at J. D. Tully, druggist.

Thousands bear witness to the positive curative powers of the Great German Invigorator, the only remedy that has proved itself a specific for general debility, seminal weakness, impotency, etc., and all diseases that arise from self-abuse or over-taxed brain, finally ending in consumption, insanity and a premature grave. Sold by all druggists, or will be sent free on receipt of $1.00 per box, or six boxes for $5.00. Address E. J. Cheney, Toledo, Ohio, sole agent for the United States. Send for circular and testimonials of genuine cures.—For sale by John McKee, druggist.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

ASSASSINATED.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—A police agent named Priene, who formed a friendship with Nihilist, has been assassinated in a churchyard at Smolenski.

A TROPICAL PARADISE.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Sept. 7.—The Islet Sole, a distance from New Zealand, which has been designated as the station for observing the transit of Venus, is inhabited by a small colony of Arabians. One man has been living there for forty years. Among the residents is Henry Wilson, a native of Newburgh, N. Y. He was put ashore from a whaler twelve years ago to die. He is now in good health. The island is a sort of tropical paradise.

A HUNT STOPPED.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—The farmers and peasantry assembled and forcibly stopped the Carriage-hunt yesterday.

THE IRISH CONFERENCE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—Invitations for the National Conference next week have been sent to 1,000 persons, including all the delegates to the National Convention in 1881, and all the suspects imprisoned during Mr. Foster's administration. Subscribers to the Land League fund will be asked to contribute to the expenses of the conference. The industrial revival will be assisted by local organizations for fostering the demand for Irish manufactures. The only points of the programme are the payment of members of Parliament, the extension of the franchise and the establishment of a system of elective county Governments. National self-government is to be the basis of the new league.

ARABI'S COUNSEL.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Mr. Wilford Blunt writes to Mr. Gladstone protesting against the action of the Egyptian authorities in preventing counsel from seeing Arabi to prepare his defence. Mr. Blunt observes that the trial will be over before a conclusion is arrived at satisfactory to anyone but those who designed the prisoners' death.

ARABI MUST DIE.

CAIRO, Oct. 13.—Cherif Pasha opposes the presence of the English counsel at Arabi's trial except as a spectator. The Khedive and his Ministers are determined on Arabi's execution.

CLAIMS LOGGED.

CAIRO, Oct. 13.—Upwards of three thousand persons have lodged claims amounting to six millions of pounds for losses sustained after the bombardment of Alexandria.

A GAIWAY CONVENTION.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—A largely attended convention of presidents of county Gaiway was held at Athenry to-day to consider the question of home-government, land law reform, Irish manufactures, &c. No clergymen were present. The police attended the meeting and took notes of the proceedings. The convention declared Captain Nolan and Mr. Mitchell Henry, members of Parliament, had both forfeited confidence of the electors.

ARRESTED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—Silvester Poff, an ex-spect, and James Barrett have been arrested near Castle Island on suspicion of being the murderers of the farmer Brown.

BROUGHT TO TIME.

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—Two years ago a wealthy person named Pledge, whose wife was a burning hotel Oshkosh, Wis., offered any person $5,000 if he would rescue her, dead or alive. At great peril of his life the assistant engineer of the fire department brought down her dead body. After the funeral was over Mr. Pledge refused to pay the reward, but the Supreme Court has ordered its payment because the fireman's official duty did not compel him to risk his own life in order to rescue others.

CRUELTY DENIED.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Major-General Havelock Allan publishes a letter denying that the English soldiers slaughtered wounded Egyptians.

THE NEW ARMY.

CAIRO, Oct. 13.—The Egyptian Gazette states that an effective new army of 11,000 men will be formed, commanded by England and Egyptian officers, at an annual cost of £2,400,000.

ARABI'S TRIAL.

CAIRO, Oct. 13.—One of the principal Egyptian Ministers declares that neither he nor his colleagues will remain in Egypt unless Arabi and other rebel leaders are executed. He has complete confidence that Arabi can be proved to have given strict orders to burn Cairo. The trial of the leaders is definitely fixed for Monday.

UNFORTUNATE PERU.

LIMA, Oct. 13.—It is reported that the five northern departments of Peru have declared for Parotia, and that other departments will follow the example as from sea. It is positively known that Calderon's negotiations have failed.

DEVASTATION IN CUBA.

HAVANA, Oct. 13.—At Herradura, in the Vuelta Abajo region, 300 huts and houses, including the greater number of tobacco drying establishments, were demolished by the recent cyclone. Two hundred palm trees were blown down and 750 houses destroyed at Consuelo, San Juan. The bodies of fifteen persons drowned by the overflowing of rivers have been recovered. Many more persons are missing.

NOT POISONED.

CONSERVATIVE CALL.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Sir Stafford Northcote has sent a circular to the Conservative members of parliament urging upon them attendance at the opening of the session, in view of important questions relating to parliament procedure and Egyptian affairs.

AMERICAN.

BRADSTREET'S WEEKLY REPORT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's Journal this week indicate that the general movements of merchandise continued at the full. The distribution of dry goods is large and particularly noticeable on the Pacific Coast. The cotton plant is now almost beyond reach of damage from weather. The late storm along the South Atlantic Coast did no serious injury to cotton so far as reported. The general tone of manufactured iron market is weak. Speculative values of petroleum are higher, but refined is off one quarter of a cent. Coal is selling rapidly and the export business is only fair. Damage done to wheat in the stock in Dakota will spoil a good deal of it for bread, and reduce estimates of total yield in that region. The total number of failures reported to Bradstreet's Journal is one hundred and twenty-five in the United States, or four in excess of last week, and eight more than in the corresponding week last year. Canada had sixteen, an increase of five. The principal wheat markets close firm at a fractional advance over the average in the early part of the week. Since October 7th receipts of wheat at Western ports have diminished. Corn closed at the highest price of the week with the diminished receipts at the West.

HUMANE SOCIETY.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The American Humane Society closed its labours here by holding a public session in St. James' hall last night. Bishop Fuller, of Canada, briefly addressed the meeting, expressing his sympathy with the work.

THE GUILTEAU CRANKS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Scoville are besieging the courts here with various bills, cross-bills, &c., directed against each other and offending the public with most scandalous and nearly daily charges. A day passes without one or the other appearing in some new phase in the courts. Their bills are generally of the least possible interest, and their quarrels are actively promoted by outsiders.

A NEGRO EXECUTED.

MANSFIELD, La., Oct. 13.—The negro Paul Fringe was hanged this afternoon for robbing and murdering. A day passed with thousands of spectators, including Fringe's wife and family, were present. He made no confession. Two other condemned prisoners witnessed the hanging from the jail windows. Fringe was a married man and did his own praying on the scaffold. One of Fringe's accomplices was hanged in January, and another has been sentenced to death. All three occupied jail after being condemned to death, but they were released.

FATAL DIPHTHERIA.

CHATHAM, Va., Oct. 13.—The ravages of diphtheria in this section are dreadful, and are becoming more alarming daily. There are hundreds of cases. It is estimated that 200 deaths occurred in two months. Nine of every ten families have lost from one to five children. Twenty-one deaths have occurred in four families. Four graveyards in one neighbourhood have eighteen to twenty new graves each. One school has lost twenty pupils. One Sunday school persons were lying dead in one house. Most of those who die have black vomit, and some are covered with running sores. The doctors are unable to account for the terrible fatality, and some think it scarlet fever and diphtheria combined. The systems of those who recover are badly shattered.

THE STARVING CANADIAN.

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—The young man Blackwell, mentioned in yesterday's despatches as having been found in the old Theatre Comique in a state of exhaustion from sickness and lack of food, is still at the Michigan College of Medicine very weak from his long fast. His father has been unable to get him home. He has permission to sleep in the office of the theatre that he had left during Monday night, as he had crawled under the cot and fallen into a stupor and was not discovered until Wednesday afternoon.

PRAYER FOR PUNISHMENT.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 13.—Major, the evangelist, during a revival at Alexander, prayed for divine punishment on the disturber of the meeting, and immediately a man dropped dead. Last night at Lampson, Penn made a similar petition, and a young lady at once upset a lamp and was burned to death. Immediately afterwards a tornado blew over the Gospel Tent and fatally injured a young lady and hurt many others, causing a fearful panic. The tent was flooded with water to the depth of two feet.

AN EX-SENATOR SHOT.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—The business portion of the city was thrown into a high state of excitement this evening by the report that John A. Cockrell, managing editor of the Post Dispatch, had shot and killed Col. and Ex-Senator A. W. Stephens, a prominent lawyer and well known politician of this city.

AN INDIAN TRAGEDY.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 14.—Probably the last act in the Redman killing drama took place yesterday, the Grand Jury finding an indictment for conspiracy against Gilford and McFadden, who were indicted. The bondsmen represent over $2,000,000. The condition of four of the wounded Indians is not improving and possibly may die.

A GERMAN CRANK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Insurance Investigating Committee is troubled by a German, who has been at every meeting and handed the chairman letters warning him to proceed. He has in turn scolded every one connected with the investigation. Some of the committee question the propriety of allowing the man to remain at large.

THE HERDELL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Prowle telegrams from St. John's, N. F., that none of the officers of the Herder were intoxicated. A few seamen were drunk, who, owing to the hard work, exposure and want of food, took spirits.

INDIA RUBBER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It is stated that speculators have covered the raw India rubber market, and the price has advanced to one dollar and twenty-three cents per pound. Yesterday the buyers were refused prices by the holders on the pretext that there is no stock in the market.

ARCHBISHOP PURCELL.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—Archbishop Purcell yesterday celebrated the forty-ninth anniversary of his consecration as Bishop of Cincinnati. He is one of the oldest Bishops in the world.

WEBB'S LATEST FEAT.

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—At midnight Capt. Webb had been in the water 104 hours, with the exception of intervals of fifteen minutes at the end of each twenty-four hours. He intends to remain in as long as he can endure it. At the beginning of the undertaking the physicians expressed the opinion that seven hours was as long as he could hold out. Webb has had two or three attacks of cold and bowel complaint, and has lost twenty pounds.

A SHOOTING CASE.

St. Louis, Oct. 14.—Regarding the shooting of Slayback, John McGuffin and Victor Cole state that Slayback, while entering the editorial room, threw his coat back and drew a revolver, and advancing said, "Well I am here, sir." Then observing a weapon on Cockrell's desk he asked, "Is that for me?" Cockrell replied "No, it is for use only to defend myself." Slayback then said, "You are prepared to draw?" Cockrell answered, "I don't want to draw. Go away from here. I don't want to have anything to do with you." Slayback and Clayton in the meantime pressed forward and crowded Cockrell against the wall. Then they all got into a sort of tussle, each having hold of the other, Cockrell being the most crowded. The latter asked McGuffin to take Slayback's pistol from him, and while he was attempting to do it the weapon was discharged and Slayback staggered and fell.

THE SHOOTING AFFAIR.

St. Louis, Oct. 14.—Joseph Pulitzer, editor of the Post, says:—"Cockrell is a man who would never seek a quarrel. He is one of the most modest, retiring and unassuming gentlemen I ever knew. Slayback and I were on terms of great friendship. Slayback leaves a wife and five little girls. He was not regarded as a man of means."

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

WILLIAMS, Arizona, Oct. 14.—The stage coach was yesterday stopped by road agents at Hill's Canyon Wells. Fargo & Co's express safe was taken. The amount of money in the safe is supposed to be small. Robinson, deputy district attorney, who was the only passenger, was unharmed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Courtney accepts Lee's challenge to row a three mile race with a turn for $1,000 a side.

NEW YORK MAYORALTY.

BURGLARY.

HILLSTON, Oct. 14.—Burglars visited Congressman Westmill's office last night and blew open the safe. They secured about $100, and left an equal amount, and $5,000 in Round Lake bonds. There is no clue.

CATTLE THIEF CAUGHT.

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, Oct. 14.—An officer brought here Jim Bailey, an alleged cattle thief, whom he captured after a desperate fight near Harrisonburg, Va. Bailey was shot; three times, but not seriously. It is asserted that Bailey's operations were on an extensive scale. It is said that he stole car loads from a single herd.

U. S. FINANCES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The excess of Government receipts, over expenditures for the first quarter of the current year, are estimated at $50,461,000. The estimates of the surplus for the year are ninety to one hundred millions. The pension payments have not been as large during the first quarter as they will be in the remaining quarters. Large expenditures on account of the River and Harbor Bill are yet to be made.

MARRIAGE.

SUICIDE.—A despatch from Winnipeg, dated October 13th, says: "Word has reached here from Minnedosa of Frederick Boddome, late school teacher in Ontario, and son of B. Boddome, of the same place, having committed suicide by drowning. The deceased was reported to be suffering from mental depression." Mr. Boddome was well known here, having lived in this township for a number of years. His father and the whole family, the unfortunate victim of this act included, were highly respected. A few years ago a brother went to Manitoba, and settled near Minnedosa, and the remainder of the family afterwards followed. Mr. Boddome, whose age at death the despatch records, was always considered eccentric, but somewhat clever, and he was a very fair speaker. The news of his tragic end will be received with sorrow.

A Punishment Prisoner.

"Judge!" exclaimed the first speaker introduced to the vast audience, endeavoring to look as grave and dignified as a promoted street car driver, "I want this case of mine conducted with due formality and becoming decorum. Have the goodness to read the Honourable the High Clerk of Court read the bill of indictment from beginning to end in slow and impressive style."

He was accommodated.

"It might have been recited with a little more attention to effect," he observed, casting a sort of a commiserating look in the direction of the desk on the lower flat. "But I guess I shall let it pass this time. Now, may I please your Lordship, I shall elect to be tried by you without the intervention of a jury, and you may record my plea of not guilty at once."

The court gracefully acceded.

"I presume the next step in the proceedings will be to summon witnesses for the Crown," the prisoner went on.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1882.

THE BOUNDARY AWARD.

At length we have from the Globe one admission of the truth about the boundary award, that on the 1st of May, 1872, Sir John Macdonald suggested that the case should be referred to the judicial committee of the Privy Council. If his advice had been taken ten years ago, Ontario might have obtained her full rights by the decision of a competent court. But his advice was then rejected, as it is now rejected, not by the people, but by the Mowat administration, who do not desire to obtain her rights for this Province, but to forfeit a portion of those rights and to postpone the settlement of the question, if thereby they may retain power.

We are told that one of the first acts of Sir John Macdonald, as Minister of the Interior, was to publish a map giving the boundaries of Ontario as they were fixed by the award. This is merely puerile unless it is intended to suggest that Sir John caused the map to be so prepared, and then it would be dishonest, for the map must have taken some time to prepare, and was issued so immediately after the change of ministry that it must necessarily have been executed under the Reform administration, being then issued as a matter of departmental routine.

We have the map now before us, and it gives us matter for reflection. We learn from it that the western and the northern boundaries, the portions that the arbitrators professed to establish according to documentary proof, constitute a very small portion of the boundary shown on the map. By far the largest portion of the limiting line is a connection between these two fragments, established by following the course of the English and Albany Rivers. One can see at a glance the force of Sir F. Hincks' remark that "The effect of selecting the natural boundary was, as anyone can see from the map, to take from Ontario a considerable quantity of land and to give it to the Dominion." What Ontario man, unprejudiced by partisan feelings, would not agree with us in objecting to an award which deprives us of a considerable portion of our land to give it to the Dominion.

Sir F. Hincks has also informed us that this "national boundary" was adopted at the instance of Col. Dennis as a convenient one, and on looking at this map we notice that it bears the signature of the same "J. S. Dennis, Surveyor General," so it is not surprising that Col. Dennis' map should show Col. Dennis' boundary. Now the law certainly does not give Col. Dennis the power of a law court to decide the legal boundary, nor does it give him the power to alter the boundary, for that is reserved by statute for the legislature.

The assertion that the national faith and honor was pledged and forfeited is an impudent misrepresentation. Mr. Mackenzie and his colleagues had no more power to pledge the Dominion faith than the City Council of Ottawa. The statute gives the power in the matter not to the Cabinet but to the Parliament of Canada, and Parliament, instead of sanctioning, repudiated the award when it was submitted to them. Mr. Mackenzie's cabinet could simply pledge their own faith to endorse the award, not that of the country. It is simply dishonest to compare this with cases in which the power of dealing with such disputes is in the Executive, not in Parliament, as in this case our very constitution provides.

As to the baldness about "robbing Ontario," those are aiming at such robbery who would adopt an irregular award which does us injustice, not those who appeal to our highest court for a final decision and our full rights.

THE HON. A. MACKENNIE in his reply to an address from the electors of Lambton, said, according to the Globe's report: "The success of confederation depends upon our defeating him (Sir John Macdonald) and sustaining the Government of Mr. Mowat." We had a better opinion of Mr. Mackenzie than to suppose he would join in these childish threats against confederation because he and his friends cannot get precisely their own way. Confederation is safe enough, which is hardly the case with Mr. Mowat.

THE UNIVERSITY SOLICITORSHIP.

While the Minister of Education is still beset by his Marmon difficulties, certain facts, anything but creditable to him, have come to light respecting the University solicitorship. The Marmon matter exhibits Mr. Crooks to us as the bungling politician. The affair of the solicitorship puts him in a more questionable character. For a correct understanding of his course in this latter business, a word of explanation is necessary. By provincial statute the management of the finances of the University is vested in the Government. This management the Government some time since delegated to the Finance Committee of the University—the committee, however, though composed of members of the Senate, being answerable for its acts to the Government alone. About the commencement of the past summer this committee recommended Mr. Crooks to appoint Mr. W. Macdonald its solicitor, a somewhat different position, it will be seen, from solicitor to the University, which is entirely in the gift of the Senate. Mr. Crooks accepted the committee's recommendation, and in a letter Mr. Macdonald informed him that he was to consider himself the locum tenens until he should permanently appoint him. A more distinct pledge that he would permanently appoint him could not have been desired. Accordingly Mr. Macdonald entered his new duties, took an additional partner into his firm, and made business arrangements of a permanent character, all of which Mr. Crooks was fully cognizant. Imagine Mr. Macdonald's surprise at being informed about a month ago by letter from the Minister of Education that Mr. R. M. Wells had been appointed solicitor to the Finance Committee, the reasons against this gentleman's previous appointment having been cited by virtue of his transference from the Provincial Legislature to the House of Commons. The committee's recommendation had been accepted by the Minister merely to keep the office open until a change in the Legislature status of his political friend, Mr. Wells, should permit of his taking the post. Mr. Crooks' conduct was insulting to the Senate through its committee, and treacherous in the last degree to Mr. Macdonald. The solicitorship to the Senate became vacant by the death of Mr. Angus Morrison, and Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Wells were both applicants for the place. It would seem natural that the gentleman who did the legal business of the committee should attend to that of the Senate also, and such no doubt was the wish of both bodies—a feeling which under other circumstances might have operated in Mr. Wells' favour. Yet the Senate showed its appreciation of the Minister's conduct by rejecting his candidate by a vote which stood twenty for Macdonald and three for Mr. Wells. If the head of the Educational Department had decided to run foul of the Senate, we can inform him that public sympathy will be with a dignified body, marked by neither political bias nor selfishness, rather than with a selfish, partisan Minister, who throughout his official career has taken no steps but the wrong ones.—Toronto Telegram.

NEW ENGLISH SHIP CANALS.

In our last number, under the heading "New English Ports," some contemplated additions to present ports were pointed out. Co-existent with this movement we also find attention now largely directed in England to the canal system of the mother country, with projects for its improved usefulness. These schemes, which at first blush seem rather ambitious, begin to put on a more practicable aspect the more closely they are examined. Local railway extortion, especially in freight rates, appears to have first started the notion that enough had not hitherto been made out of the canal. This delusionary was not meant to imply only that the carrying capabilities of the existing canal had not been taken advantage of so fully as they might have been, but that the canal system as a national whole was conspicuously imperfect. The Manchester Port scheme, which appears to have taken a strong hold on the public mind, is a net people thinking out the whole question. It is no wonder, then, that it is now asked why, in this age of a Suez Canal accomplished and a Panama artificial water route under construction, England and Wales should not make a far better use of their inland water-system than they have ever done, or ever hitherto contemplated! The talk now is of converting the present inland waterways throughout the kingdom into ship canals, and to substitute steam for the present horse-hauling. The great object is to set up a powerful and enduring competition to the present railway monopoly, especially as regards heavy freight and coal, and a center where speed in delivery is a matter of indifference. It is also under contemplation to overhaul the entire system, river and canal, and to substitute the latest extent to which both can be made available.—Montreal Starholder.

COBURN.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The World says that we regret to state that Mrs. McCullagh, wife of Mr. Andrew McCullagh, died very suddenly at her husband's residence in this town, on Saturday last, about noon. She had just seated herself at the table with a portion of the family, and was beginning to partake of dinner, when her daughter observed her gasping for breath, and before anything could be done to relieve her, she was dead. Mr. McCullagh was absent on business down town, and both he and Dr. Walters were sent for at once; but long before they could arrive the sufferer was beyond help. Mrs. McCullagh had been subject to asthma, and it is supposed that she was strangled from that cause as she was attempting to swallow some food. The deceased lady was the daughter of Mr. A. H. Bradley, of Haldimand, and was 38 years of age. She leaves a family of seven children, for whom and for the afflicted husband the most sincere sympathy is felt in their sudden and sore bereavement.

The Essex Homocide.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 12.—The coroner's inquest in the case of young Davlin, who was shot by Mr. Matthews at Maidstone Cross on Monday night, was concluded yesterday afternoon, and resulted in a verdict of manslaughter. Matthews remained in custody of a constable last night, but was not locked up, and this morning was taken to Canington, where an application will be made before Judge Leggat to-day, to have him released on bail. The remains of Davlin were brought to his former home on Fares avenue, Windsor, last night. His mother is almost frantic over the affair. A number of business men in Windsor who have had dealings with Matthews represent him as a straightforward, cool tempered man, and whatever the feeling may be against him at the scene of the murder, the opinion of those who knew him in Windsor is that he would never have shot without ample provocation.

WEEK OF THE ASIA.

The Coroner's Verdict.—The Captain Commanded.—The Boat in Proper Repair. COLLINGWOOD, Oct. 12.—The inquest arising out of the Asia disaster closed to-day with the following verdict: That Isaac Lescault came to his death from exposure and exhaustion, while escaping from the steamer Asia. That the loss of the Asia resulted from a narrow judgement on the part of the captain in leaving Presque Isle with the reading of the barometer so exceedingly low. That the board of steamboat inspectors are indirectly to blame in not notifying the collector of customs at Collingwood to detain the Asia until a new certificate was granted or refused her. That the Asia was in a good state of repair and as far as repairs go seaworthy. That the old Welland canal style of propellers is not suitable for lake navigation. That the practice of granting certificates to steamboats to carry more passengers than they have life saving apparatus for is wrong.

NARRATIVE.

A DOSE OF POISON.—A correspondent of the New-Army says that the following is a caution to those who do themselves indiscriminately: A young man in the northern part of the township, wishing to take a dose of salts, and finding he had none at home, went to a neighbor's to borrow some. Getting what he supposed to be salts, he mixed the dose and swallowed it. Finding it very unlike salts in taste, he told his mother about it, who sent down to the neighbor's to see what it was that was given him. On examining the paper containing the supposed salts, it was marked "sulphate zinc-poisson." A doctor was immediately sent for, but having a long ten miles to send, the mother immediately gave large doses of salt-and-water, milk &c., and succeeded in producing a series of good emetics, which proved the saving of the boy's life, as he had not taken a cold, clammy state, and with difficulty could be aroused and kept awake, but by great perseverance and persistence in the use of her home remedies, she succeeded in having him all right by the time the doctor arrived.

Time is passing on.

MODERN LUMBERING.

The Detroit Marine News says:—In 1908 Moore and Alger commenced lumbering in northern Michigan, and were succeeded by Alger & Co., in 1874 the firm at that time being composed of General R. A. Alger, M. R. Smith and George W. Bissell, who continued until 1879, when R. K. Hawley & Co., of Baltimore, Md., purchased the interests of Mr. Bissell, and soon after the firm incorporated as R. Alger & Co., with a capital of $1,000,000. In 1881 the capital stock of the company was increased to $1,500,000, and the company became known as Alger, Smith & Co., with officers as follows:—R. A. Alger, president; R. K. Hawley, vice-president; M. R. Smith, treasurer; J. C. McCaul, secretary, and J. Miller, superintendent at Black River, Mich., the stock being all taken by the gentlemen named. The office and general business of the company is carried on at Detroit, Mich., and the works are at Black River, Alcona county, Mich., where they own 50,000 acres of land and have 600,000,000 feet of pine timber standing on these lands. In addition to this very large amount of timber the company own 50,000,000 feet of standing pine on the upper Peninsula of Michigan. It may be said without question that Alger, Smith & Co. are the largest producers of pine timber, spars and masts in the world. The pine timber of Mich., is being cut very rapidly, and it will be a matter of only a few years ere the supply is exhausted, especially that class of timber suitable for masts, spars and masts, and it is generally conceded that this company own and produce the best of these timbers. Masts and spars from their works supply to a large extent the New York, Boston and other seaport markets.

In 1876, in order to increase the production, it was found necessary to build a railroad to these lands, and now the company has 25 miles of railroad, three and one-half feet gauge, laid with steel rails, with four locomotives (of which the largest one, the General Sheridan, weighs 65,000 pounds and 100 cars).

The cutting and skidding is of course the same as at any lumbering camp. The trees are soon as fallen are stripped of their bark and skidded to and loaded on the cars at once. The work is done very rapidly, the logs being put into the water and rafted down the same day. These rafts are put in water of one of the cutting chains alone, and over $110,000 in steam barges and tugs used in towing timber. They have just built a large barge, the Manitowish, which is used for the double purpose of towing and carrying freight, an unusual thing in the business.

The annual production is 70,000,000 feet board measure of long timber and 10,000,000 feet short logs.

The company will commence in 1883 the manufacture of lumber at Manitowish, Mich., in addition to their business of long timber, on a large scale.

This company employ 600 men at work at Black River, and the business of getting out rafting timber is managed by their very efficient Superintendent, Mr. John Miller, who is also a stockholder in the company.

Jefferson's Saw Mill.

The following story is told of President Jefferson, and it is a good point in it—Jefferson was a great man, but he was far from practical in some things. When he was in France he was very much struck with the utility of windmills. He thought they were wonderful inventions, and cost little to run. He owned a large quantity of timber on a mountain much higher than Monticello, about a mile off. He purchased in France a windmill and the machinery for a saw mill at the cost of $13,000, and had it taken to the top of the mountain. He had for a neighbour a bluff old fellow named Cole. One day Cole came to see him, and Jefferson took him up to where he was having the mill built. It was as much as they could do to climb the steep ascent. When Cole recovered the breath he had lost getting up the mountain, he said, "Mr. Jefferson you have a splendid saw-mill, and it is a splendid place to catch the wind, but how are you going to get the logs up here to saw from?" The author of the "Declaration of Independence" started like a man suddenly awakened from a delightful dream, and quickly said, "Hey, Cole, how? What?" And then, relapsing into abstraction, led the way down the mountain toward Monticello. The wind mill was never completed, and years after the machinery was sold for old iron.

Case negates.

And now the case sugar industry has been placed in Canada. The Berlin News says Mr. Geo. G. Truesler, of Waterloo county, has been raising cane and making syrup on a small scale for some little time. This year, after getting a number of farmers to join with him in growing the amber sugar cane, he opened a factory for the making of syrup. One farmer got 224 gallons of syrup, worth $1 a gallon, from one acre of cane. It seems that it will pay agriculturists to raise cane.

An Asia Victim Robbed.

The body of Mrs. Woods, one of the victims of the Asia disaster, has been found half buried on Lonsdale Island. The remains were stripped of all valuables, the pocket of its dress had been cut, and an empty pocketbook was found in the bushes close by. The light-house keeper stated that the body had been found on the 1st instant, but threw no light on the robbery.

"BECAME SOUND AND WELL."—R. V. Pierce, M. D.: Dear Sir—My wife, who had been ill for over two years, and had tried many other medicines, became sound and well by using your "Favorite Prescription." My wife was also cured by the use of your "Favorite Prescription" had failed to do her any good. Yours truly, Thomas J. Mathew, Hatcher's Station, Va.

"THE gratifying action of St. Jacobs Oil in my case," says Mr. John S. Krim, agent for the N.Y. & B. Trans. Co., Pier 7, North River, New York, "gives me unlimited confidence in its great general curative power, and I freely recommend it."

FARM AND GARDEN.

TILB DRAINER.—It is a mistake to suppose that a tile drain two and a half or three feet deep will drain a hollow ten to twenty feet distant. Perhaps it may slowly, but in every wet season wheat and clover will kill out at such a distance from a drain. If the ditch is made four feet deep it will drain a wider surface, but a better way is to make a side drain to the places where water is known to stand in a wet time.

ROWING SEED.—In some sowings of seed made during dry weather with a drought following, a great deal of seed occurs in the ground, not firmly pressed or rolled in the seeds, so that the germinating action of the heat and drought may not affect the germ. We are satisfied that thousands of pounds of turnips, leaf cabbage, and other summer-sown seeds are lost annually from this neglect. Never tread or roll seeds from the ground in wet.

GAIN IN CATTLE.—It takes eleven pounds of milk to add one pound of live weight to a calf; and as the weight of one thousand pounds will consume twenty-two pounds of milk, it takes twenty-four hours to keep from losing weight. If he is to fatten, he must have just twice that quantity, when he will gain two pounds a day. This is one pound live weight to eleven pounds of good hay. To obtain fifty cents a hundred for his hay, a farmer must sell fat steers at five dollars and fifty cents a hundred pounds.

FLIES.—Dr. J. J. Ridge communicates his plan of repelling flies from horses. He remarks on the suffering their attacks occasion, and thinks that the irritable state into which some animals are thus brought is a frequent cause of accident. Before harnessing, a mixture of one part of castor oil and one part of turpentine, applied to the interior of the ears and other parts most likely to be attacked. This application may need to be repeated in the evening, but, while any odor of the oil remains the flies decline to settle, and the horse is completely free from all annoyance.

A Reliable Witness.

Mr. Whyte, late proprietor of the Mansion Saloon, King street, Toronto, writes as follows about Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters: "I have used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters for nearly two years, and I believe it to be the best medicine in the world. I would not be without it for anything. I have induced scores of people to try it, and when taken according to directions, I have never known it to fail. I call the Bitters, 'The Doctor.' It has certainly been my family doctor ever since I first used it, and will continue to be as long as it acts the same as hitherto. I strongly advise all my friends and the public generally, who suffer from any affection of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Impurities of the blood, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., to buy a bottle of 'The Doctor,' and I am certain that not one will regret having done so. I do not think there is any medicine in the whole world equal to Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters."

HORROR OF PUNISHMENT.

Makes a Convict at the Central Prison Naim Himself.

Augustus Lator, a young man from Hamilton, who is undergoing a sentence of twelve months in the Central prison, adopted a horrible way on Friday of escaping punishment. Lator was employed in the broom shop, and having failed to perform his task, besides pushing rudely against a guard, he was to be rewarded with seventy-two hours' confinement in a dark cell. On two previous occasions the same punishment had been meted out to him for neglect to perform his task, and apparently not being at all desirous of experiencing the like effect for a third time, he sprang forward to the bench, inserted his fingers in the broom cutting machine under the knife, and jumping upon the treadle the knife, gullotine-like, cut off two of his fingers. He was taken to the prisoner hospital, and was attended to by Dr. Atkins. He has by this action put himself in unnecessary pain, and has gained nothing, as he will be punished as soon as he is better.

PRISON LABOUR AND PUNISHMENT.

The task which the prisoner failed to perform consisted in making a certain number of brooms daily. Originally a smaller number was made, but it appears a short time ago the prisoners were told that if they worked and made more brooms they would be paid a small sum for all over the regulation number. This went on for a time, but finally, after the prisoners had expended themselves to make as many as possible, the system of paying for extra was dropped, and the maximum number made by the prisoners during the time they were trying to earn the money was made the regulation number. By this means a great increase took place in the output of brooms, and in the work of the prisoners, some of whom could not keep up the strain, and consequently failed to perform their allotted task. The punishment as already mentioned for such failure is seventy-two hours, or three days and nights in a dark cell, with two ounces of bread daily, barely enough to keep body and soul together. Prisoners cannot apparently, according to the rules, be put in such a cell for more than seventy-two hours at a stretch, but in bad cases they can be punished with two imprisonments in the cell, one immediately following the other after a brief respite for a meal. Lator had had the two imprisonments, and he was to be put in again when he committed the rash and foolish act of maiming himself.—Mail.

An Escape From Death.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 13.—About eight o'clock this evening a person from the American side of the river reported to the Ontario police force that he heard someone shouting for help beneath the precipice. Officers Wynn and McKicking proceeded at once to search along the bank of the river. When about a quarter of a mile above the railway Suspension bridge they heard someone crying for help. They at once procured ropes, and with the assistance of a few citizens who volunteered to assist the officers they reached the unfortunate man from his perilous position, which took them until eleven o'clock, by the aid of rope, Indian ladders, &c., he having fallen eighty feet. There being a downpour of rain during the time, made everything very slippery, dangerous and difficult. When the man was brought to terra firma he seemed little the worse of his terrible fall, and gave his name as J. A. Tompkins, an excursionist from Georgetown, Ont., a paper maker. It seems he was hurrying along the river bank from the Falls to catch the train, and in the dark got too close to the precipice and fell over. Dr. Oliver examined him and found no bones broken, he having escaped with a few bruises. The fall must have been broken by the shrubbery. The doctor says he will be able to go home in a day or two, unless injured internally.

NATIONAL INDEPENDENCE.
DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—The convention at Athenry yesterday adopted resolutions declaring the right of the country to national independence, accepting the principle of the land for the people, approving the system of a peasant proprietary, and the amendment of Bright to the clauses in the Land Act, and deprecating the prevalence of land-farming of land as tending to paralyze industry and increase pauperism. The convention also resolved to prevent hunting until the extra police drafted in the county are dispensed with.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 14.—A despatch from Tiflis reports that the Kurdish chief Obsidullah is threatening war with 10,000 men. Thirty thousands are marching against him, and Ottoman troops have also been sent to the field with orders to take Obsidullah dead or alive.

TURKS EXASPERATED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 15.—England's reply to the Porte's note regarding the evacuation of Egypt by the British caused great exasperation at the palace. The fanatical party, taking advantage of the Sultan's anger, accused Said, the Turkish Prime Minister, of causing the loss of Egypt to Turkey, and demanded his exile. The struggle continues.

CRAZY OR GUILTY.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Three London detectives have arrived with three of the crew of the Gladstone, on which Westgate, the self-accused assassin of Cavendish and Burke, sailed for the West Indies. The sailors have been subjected to a searching examination. The authorities are determined thoroughly to sift Westgate's story so as to quiet the public mind. Westgate probably will be brought home for the same purpose, but the police firmly adhere to the belief that Westgate is crazy and unworthy of credence.

THE KILMAINHAM TREATY.

DUBLIN, Oct. 14.—Lively scenes are anticipated at the National Conference owing to the belief of the popular leaders that there's more to be made known relative to the Kilmainham treaty.

THE CODE DUELLO.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Lieut. Farrar, a fashionable young officer in the Guards, dining with a friend in a Cairo hotel some time since, took the notion of mixing a salad in an Egyptian Fex. A Hungarian at the next table with an Egyptian friend deemed this a deliberate insult to his companion and called out the young officer. The latter had no objection to fighting, but at the urgent solicitation of his friends he remained. The ultimate consequence of the affair was that the young officer was compelled to resign his commission in the Guards, the Duke of Cambridge in particular evincing the greatest hostility to him. The case is attracting great attention. Her Majesty, who entertains a deep horror of duelling, has taken Lieut. Farrar's side, and the young officer has addressed a pamphlet to the Duke of Cambridge asking to be reinstated.

Gould's partner, in the former's presence, denied that Gould desired to have all the associated press business transferred to the Western Union Company. THAT SHOOTING AFFAIR.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—Cuckrell speaks in bitter tones of Clapton, who accompanied Slayback into his sanctum. He calls him a per-burser, and says that if the truth comes out he believes it will be shown that Clapton was the instigator of the whole affair and furnished the pistol with which Slayback was trying to shoot.

THE STAR ROUTE CASES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Col. Ingersoll says, in reference to Rewster's statement in Philadelphia, that the latter is entirely mistaken as to Ingersoll's motive in giving the affidavits to the jurors and others to the public. Ingersoll asserts that he did not suppose that the Attorney-General was about to make several arrests of persons who tried to bribe the jury. He declares that as the investigation was taken from the proper officer, he was afraid some of the facts might not see the light.

JEWISH REFUGEES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The superintendent and assistant superintendent of the Jewish refugees at Ward's islands have been removed and two refugees appointed to the position. The book keeper who fomented the disturbance on Saturday, and who was anxious to be superintendent, was discharged.

BELLEVIEW.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Intelligencer says that a man named Branscombe, a resident of the High Shore, met with a sudden and horrible death last night between 3 and 4 miles below Ferry Point. He and a man named Gaskin Smith were going home with a load of lumber and shingles which they had procured in the city. Both were under the influence of liquor, and when they grew dark they lost their way and took the wrong road. They were passed on the road by a man, who spoke to them, but neither replied, and so he drove on. They discovered their error and tried to turn round, but doing so upset the wagon into the ditch. The load of shingles and lumber fell on Branscombe, but Smith evidently escaped unscathed, for he was able to unhitch the horses from the wagon and take them away—being either too drunk or too inhuman to offer any assistance to his companion. Branscombe was left to his fate, and it is not known how long he remained in the situation in which he was discovered, or what were his sufferings during this time. Two boys passing along the road about 9 o'clock noticed the overturned wagon, and a little investigation revealed the inanimate body of the unfortunate Branscombe. He was quite dead. The boys kindled a fire on the spot, intending to remain with the body until someone came; but when it began to rain they took up the body and bore it to the nearest house—that of Mr. Wm. Anderson—and it was placed in the barn.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

We are inclined to think that if editors would devote more time to investigating and collating facts with the view of laying them before their readers, and less time to writing long-winded articles based upon fallacious or incomplete data, more good would be accomplished and the best interests of the country much better served. Entertaining this opinion and believing that our readers, if only put in possession of the facts, are quite as capable of drawing a proper conclusion therefrom as we are, we propose to devote some attention to investigating and collating such facts as occur to us as necessary to a proper understanding of the present Provincial political situation and as are calculated to aid each one in arriving at an intelligent decision whether it is his duty to cast his vote for or against the Government of Mr. Mowat. As our chief object is to put our readers in possession of those facts which they have neither the time nor facilities for obtaining for themselves, and as it is desirable that there should be as little dispute as possible as to what are and what are not facts when the campaign opens in earnest, we shall be pleased to afford anyone who thinks that our statement of facts are not in accordance therewith, any reasonable space in our columns that may be necessary to exposing their fallaciousness.

If our facts are facts, such an attempt will only bring them more prominently forward; if not, then we desire that their falsity should be proved through the same channel as that which has given them currency.

Fact No. 1.—The public accounts for 1871 (the last year of Sandfield Macdonald's government) and 1881, show the following rapid increase in the public expenditure of the Province out of consolidated funds, and for purposes which, if proper, should be of a permanent character, viz.:

	1871	1881
For Civil Government.....	$114,618	$174,303
For Colonization Roads.....	55,400	97,230
For Legislation.....	94,177	178,054
For Administration of Justice 187,021		251,110
For Lunatic and other Asylums.....	140,713	308,792
For Penitentiary Reform.....	21,710	33,398
For Immigration.....	29,712	34,820
For Agriculture and Mechanics' Institutes.....	74,927	105,386
For Hospitals and Charities.....	40,280	78,002
For Literary and scientific institutions.....	1,850	1,850
For Education.....	351,306	508,834
For Charges on Revenue.....	60,989	79,289
For Miscellaneous.....	34,550	48,920
For Central Prison maintenance.....		70,150
For Mercer Reformatory maintenance.....		24,072
For Agricultural College maintenance.....		35,354
For School of Technology.....		4,867
For Locks and Dams maintenance.....		5,701
Totals.....	$1,230,251	$2,197,081

Expended in 1881 more than in 1871, $966,730—an increase in ten years of over seventy-two and a half per cent.

No. 2.—The population of Ontario by the census of 1871 was 1,630,851, and the ordinary working expenditure of the Province, as shown in fact No. 1, $1,230,251, or a little over seventy-five cents per head of the population; by the census of 1881 Ontario had a population of 1,923,228, and spent $2,197,081 or a little over one dollar and nine and a half cents per head of the population—an increase of thirty-four and a half cents, or of forty-six per cent. per head.

No. 3.—Civil Government has increased $60,130 during the decade, an increase of fifty-two and a half per cent. and an increase of sixteen per cent. per head of the population.

No. 4.—The cost of legislation—that is, the cost of the Provincial Legislature—has increased in ten years from $94,177 to $178,054, an increase of $84,777, or an increase of ninety per cent. against an increase of eighteen and a half per cent. in the population to be legislated for.

The Essex Shooting Case.

Mr. Matthews, who is under arrest for fatally shooting young Devlin at Maidstone Cross, in the county of Essex, states that on the night of the tragedy he was counting a large sum of money when the deceased and his companions attempted to break into the house, and that he only fired after three warnings to desist. The County Crown Attorney is said to have expressed the opinion that no objection exists to Mr. Matthews being admitted to bail.

MR. GARNET WOLESELEY.

The Family History of Our Victorian General in Egypt.

The following pedigree of Sir Garnet Joseph Wolesey, K. C. B., G. C. M. G., taken from "Our Portrait Gallery," in the Dublin University Magazine will be of special interest to our readers:—

"The family of Wolesey is of great antiquity in Staffordshire. In Erdwick's survey of the county, edited by Harwood, there is a pedigree of Wolesey, which commences with the statement that 'the family have resided at this place and upon the same site for a considerable period prior to the Norman Conquest, and are beyond all doubt the most ancient among the very ancient families of this county,' and a pedigree is given to that date from Eric de Wolesey who held large possessions in the county in King Edward the Confessor's time. So numerous were the tribes of the ancient Britons that it is difficult to predicate with certainty the nationality of any family settled in England prior to the Norman Conquest; but it may be asserted, with a great show of reason, that the Woleseys are amongst the Danish portion of the inhabitants who settled in that part of England probably many centuries before the period allotted to them in the apocryphal Anglo-Saxon Chronicle; for at this day, and certainly in very early times, the family bear the national ensign of the Danes; but in their coat-of-arms and crest they exhibit the Wolf of Benjamin; and in the motto they adopt the very words which his tribe may have used, 'Homo, homine, lupus.' The ancient arms of Wolesey were argent, a wolf-dog passant guardant; crest out of a ducal crown or, a wolf-dog's head crested proper, the wolf-dog in these days having become a talbot. About the time of the conquest, Radricht de Wolesey (though his very name reminds one somewhat of the wolf, he must have been a pious man) gave lands to Blithbury church, and his son Hemerius, with the consent of his lord, Robert de Stafford, and Avian his wife, and others (for several Norman lords appeared by this time to have acquired feudal rights over the old Danish family, gave for perpetual anns the lands of Ganley to the Holy Nuns of Blithbury.

In the reign of Henry III. the name became apocryphal as it is at this day. Rad Wolesey, eighth in lineal descent from Eric, was a Baron of the Exchequer temp. Edward IV., and by Margaret, daughter of Sir Robert Ashton, Kt., of Haywood, he had one son, who by Ann, daughter of George Stanley, of Bromwich, county of Stafford, had, amongst other issue, Anthony, who married Margaret, daughter of William Blythe of Norton in the County of Derby, by whom he had Erasmus, who married Cassandra, daughter of Sir Sir Thomas Gifford, of Crilington, in the county of Stafford, Kt.; his eldest son, Sir Thomas Wolesey, Kt., by Ann, daughter of Humphrey Wolesey, had issue, Rad Wolesey of Thorough, who married Joyce, daughter and heiress of John Salway, of Standford, who had issue John Wolesey of Stafford, and who married Isabella, daughter of John Porter, of Chillington, in the county of Stafford, and had, amongst other issue, Robert, who was clerk of the King's letters patent and who was admitted to the dignity of a baronet by Charles I. He married Mary, daughter of Sir Charles Wroughton, Bart., of Wilton, in the county of Wilts, and amongst other issue had Charles, his successor, Colonel William Wolesey, who accompanied King William III. to Ireland, and commanded the Irishmen men at the memorable battle of the Boyne. The success of that day was, in a great measure, owing to the gallantry and bravery of these men, which King William acknowledged in a speech made to them on the spot, whereupon Col. Wolesey was appointed a brigadier, and obtained the command of a regiment of horse of the Ordnance, and he was made master of the Ordnance, Privy Counsellor and one of the Lord Justices of Ireland.

The eldest son, Sir Charles Wolesey, the second baronet, married Ann, daughter of the Viscount Bay and Sale, the friend of Pym, Hampden, and Cromwell, and through this marriage, doubtless, he allied himself to the party to which these families belonged; his eldest son, Robert, was one of Cromwell's Lords of Parliament, and from his fifth son, Richard, who was a Captain in the service of King William III., Sir Garnet is descended.

This gentleman had three sons; the eldest Sir William, who succeeded to his grandfather's baronetcy, and in whose 'line it still continues, Robert, the father of Admiral William Wolesey, and Richard, who was created a baronet of Ireland, 19th January, 1774. He married Alice, daughter of Sir Thomas Molyneux, by whom he had Sir Richard, in whose line the baronetcy still continues, and a younger son, William, who was a captain in the 8th Hussars, in which regiment he served on the continent. Subsequently this gentleman retired from the service and became rector of the parish of Pully Corbet, County Monaghan. His son, Major Garnet Joseph Wolesey of the 54th regiment, married Frances Ann, daughter of William Smith, of Golden Bridge House, county Dublin, and had issue Garnet Joseph, the subject of this Memoir, who was born in 1823, and is consequently still in the very prime of life, and let us hope with years of usefulness to his country still before him." Thus we see that, although on his father's side Sir Garnet is of English or Danish blood, through his mother he is a Celt; and thus England as well as Ireland has a right to call him her son, and to claim him as a true son of the Celtic race."

A SINGULAR REVENGE.

A Story Bearing on Prince Bismarck's Three Hairs.

Prince Bismarck's traditional three single hairs as the sole ornaments of his massive head have long been a favorite subject of caricature with the Berlin comic journals, but the Chancellor may now recognize this characteristic of his appearance depicted in stone over several windows in Potsdam. The owner of these houses, according to the American Register, is a rich capitalist, who has worked his way up from a simple mason with only one disaster of his life—the loss of his only son in the Franco-Prussian war. He regards Prince Bismarck as the author of the war, and therefore as his son's murderer, and so adopts a somewhat singular method of revenging himself upon the enemy. Over the grave of his son in the Potsdam cemetery he has erected a splendid mausoleum, surmounted by an eagle with the face of Prince Bismarck, three hairs and all. One of his houses the Bismarck head looks over the cornice of each window, with the three hairs represented by small canons. On another building, similarly adorned, three serpents take the place of the hairs; while a third house is now being built, and the capitalist's neighbours are eager to see what fresh Bismarckian ornament will be bestowed on the prince's head.—London Graphic.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

E. M. P. S. A. Assembly.

There was a pleasant gathering in the Young Briton's Hall, George street, on Friday evening, under the auspices of the Young Men's Protestant Benevolent Association. The hall was well filled, and the music and dancing was thoroughly enjoyed. The gathering was a successful one in every respect.

A Late Crop.

We have been shown by Mr. Daniel Hennessy a branch picked by him from a black raspberry bush grown on Mr. Thomas Hall's farm in Smithtown, with ripe and unripe berries, the bushes also being still in bloom. This is strange for this time of year, but is no doubt owing to the peculiar weather that has prevailed.

University College.

The annual convocation of University College, Toronto, took place on Friday, Mr. A. Stevenson, of Peterborough, took a prize for first year in Chemistry. The President, in his address, said they had this year matriculated students from forty-six different colleges and schools, and he named them as far as possible in the order suggested by the achievements of their pupils. In the list the Peterborough Collegiate Institute stands fifth, and from only six schools had a higher number passed.

Theatrical.

The announcement that Mr. E. A. McDowell and his company are coming here for two nights will be read with pleasure, as he and Miss Fanny Reeves have always been favourites. On Friday night they play the dramatic version of Wilkie Collins' story, the "New Magdalen," and on Saturday night "Diplomacy." Speaking of the "New Magdalen" the Hamilton Times says:—

"It is one of the most successful presentations of a drama that has taken place since the opening of the Grand. It is replete with startling incidents and abundant opportunity to exhibit dramatic ability, and the company did not fail to take advantage of the aids thus afforded them. Miss Fanny Reeves, always a favorite in Hamilton, acted with great power and pathos the difficult part of Mary Merrick, winning for herself new laurels. She has lost none of her magnetism, and in some of the scenes she kept the audience in breathless suspense. Julian Grey, was admirably portrayed by Mr. J. H. Gilmore, many of whose passages were delivered with a dramatic fervor that did him great credit. Nor was Miss Randolph less successful in her part of Grace Roseberry. Lady Roy was taken by Mrs. Furrow, and was in every sense a success. The kind heart of the old lady crept into her every action. The place was rendered in such a manner as to call forth the hearty plaudits of the audience, and at the end of the third act Miss Reeves and Randolph, amid a storm of applause, were called before the curtain."

Mysterious Smoke.

On Sunday, about 11 o'clock, noon, smoke was seen to be issuing out of a broken side-glass in the store of Mr. Geo. Pope. An employee of this office feeling that there might be fire in the store, tried the door, and found it open. Mr. Pope and some other gentlemen were trying to discover where the smoke was coming from. There was no fire in the store since last winter, and the pipes were as cold as ice—still the smoke kept filling the store. At last it was observed puffing out of the back part of the stove, and it was thought that the fire at last had been discovered, but it was not. Everything that was in the stove—which was nothing but paper—was pulled out on the floor, but not a sign of fire was there. Mr. Pope at this time was pretty well frightened, and excitement ran high for a time. Some men went up the stairs that leads to the office of Messrs. Sawes and Pentland, but nothing in the shape of fire was discovered there. Others looked themselves to the Market Square, to see if smoke was issuing from any of the chimneys, but there was no smoke to be seen. All the stores in the adjoining buildings were thoroughly searched, and with a like result, no fire. The state of things continued for at least three hours, when the smoke gradually faded away, leaving nothing but the smell of it. This is a mysterious affair, and Mr. Pope is anxious to get to the bottom of it. Perhaps some one who is able to explain this strange occurrence will rise and explain.

IMPROVING OUR NAVIGATION.

The Government removing the Obstruction—Good Work Already Done.

The Government drag for removing the obstruction to navigation at the Peterborough and Ashburnham wharfs is doing good service. It has only been a week at work, but towed by the Golden Eye, the huge rake has removed the accumulation of slabs and sawdust in front of the Peterborough wharf so that a depth of four feet has already been obtained, where formerly there was only a few inches, and the steamers are thus enabled to swing and turn where they would hitherto have had no room to do so, and consequently could only leave the wharf with difficulty by backing out. The debris removed is being dragged into the deep channel where there is over thirty feet of water, but the greater portion of it is being carried down the river by the current, and no doubt most of the remainder will be also swept away by the spring freshet. When the work near the Peterborough wharf has been accomplished, a similar process will be adopted at the Ashburnham wharf, where there is also a large deposit, making the water very shallow at the landing place, though there is a depth of 37 feet at a short distance. The bank that has formed opposite the Cemetery Point will also be removed in a similar manner.

The Government Superintendent, Mr. Sturges, is well satisfied with the progress that has been made. He described the Golden Eye as being very well adapted for the purpose, being the handiest boat he had ever had his rake attached to, so that on Saturday last he was enabled to make eight trips an hour, better work than he had ever done before. The improvement of our local navigation will be a great boon to the vessel owners and the public, and when the Trent Valley Canal is completed it will enable the barges and tugs to come right up to the centre of our town.

Railway Notes.

The Mail says that the number of men employed on the Ontario and Quebec railway now reaches 2,000.

Voters' List Count.

The Court to hear the appeals against the Voters' List opened to-day in the Court room, the County Judge presiding. The number of appeals is large, amounting to nearly 300. A number of minor alterations were made and other cases partially considered, and the Court adjourned until Tuesday, the 24th of October.

The Weather.

Yesterday and last night the weather was fine and to-day there is a continuation of the same beautiful weather, but the probe, give us an intimation that we may look out for a cooler turn. The weather probabilities for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Winds mostly south and south-east. Fair weather; stationary or lower temperature.

CHURCH.

EMILY FALL SHOW.—The Herald says that the annual Fall Show of the Emily Branch Agricultural Society was held in this village on Thursday and was very well attended, although in the forenoon the sky was very cloudy and a sprinkling of rain fell. The display in the indoor department was fair, the greatest attraction being the Fruit Evaporator in operation. The show of horses, cattle, sheep and pigs was really good, there being some excellent stock in the field. We are informed by the secretary that about 400 entries were made.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Early on Friday morning Mr. Wm. Adams who lives about three miles north of Oranienburg, met with a fearful accident. It seems he had gone into the stable to give the horses some salt, and the dish in which he carried it making a noise, frightened them so that they commenced plunging about in the stall, and in some way Mr. Adams was knocked down and trampled upon, having his right arm broken, his back and side bruised and several deep gashes cut on his head. After the accident he managed to crawl to the house where he lay for some time in an unconscious state. A messenger was at once despatched for a physician under whose care we are pleased to learn the patient is doing very well. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Adams.

FENELON FALLS.

TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION.—The Gazette says that undertakings of any considerable magnitude are seldom commenced at the time first appointed, unforeseen circumstances generally causing one or more postponements, and the one about to be begun in this village has been no exception to the rule. The delay, which will be very brief, is in connection with the settlement with reference to the right of way, but the Government valuator is now in Fenelon Falls, and in all probability the first cut will be turned on Monday next. Mr. A. P. McDonald himself is also in the village, and the engineer, who was here last Monday or Tuesday, is expected to be back before the end of the week. Carpenters are already at work building a powder house in the grove, and as soon as it is finished will commence the erection of a blacksmith's shop.

MIDLAND.

ANOTHER MILL.—The Free Press says that we are informed that Mr. H. Stephens, P. L. S., of Barrie, has been engaged to survey a mill site at Bying Inlet for Chew Bros., of this town.

STORM SIGNALS.—Mr. Payne, Inspector of the Signal Service was in town on Thursday and established a storm signal station here. The signals will be hoisted on a mast to be erected at the end of the dock extending up above the light-house. The mast will be placed there at the expense of the Elevator Company. This will be a great benefit to the shipping of this port.

Wells in a Desert.

A large number of wells have been sunk along the northern border of the Desert of Sahara—more than one hundred and fifty in the province of Comenantine alone, and the work is advancing into the interior. One of the curious phenomena which the digging of these wells has brought to notice is the existence of fish and crabs at great depths. The engineer, M. Jus, who for 20 years has directed the work, avers that he once boiled and ate a crab which had been drawn up from a great depth, and that, moreover, it was of an excellent flavour.

Disinterested Patriots.

We all know that one of the great Reform planks is that no member of Parliament shall take an office, especially in his own county, and they never do! Oh, no, not till they get a chance. Look round you and see who have represented the Ridings of Wellington on the Grit side, Dominion and Local, Mr. David Sturtor, appointed to the office of Postmaster, while a member of Parliament; Mr. James Massie, appointed Registrar while a member of Parliament; Mr. Peter Gow, appointed Sheriff while a member of Parliament; Col. Higinbotham, ex-M. P., is enjoying the sweetest of offices as Registrar of South Wellington, and Mr. McKim, M. P., has installed his son as the first Registrar of Dufferin, and has a son-in-law in another office in the county in the gift of the crown. That is a pretty fair allowance of retired Grit members who took the shilling for one county, and it will be found the same in other counties. The good Grit always serves his country for the love of it. Never for office.—Guelph Herald.

An Eccentric Lawyer.

The cable announces the death of Gerald Fitzgibbon, the last survivor of the splendid batch of barristers who conducted the defence of O'Connell in the State trial. He it was to whom the then Attorney-General Smith sent a challenge to duel in court. He was over 80 at his death, and of singular habits. He never tasted medicine in his life. He would eat no bread that was not baked in his own oven, and always carried his leaves with him on circuit. He kept a cow in his cellar in Gloucester street, where he lived for years, and would not drink milk or taste butter from a dairy. He had been a hedge schoolmaster in early life, and was called to the bar when considerably advanced in years, but succeeded by his unflinching labour and perseverance. His son is Lord Justice of Appeal.

IT HAS STOOD THE TEST OF TIME.—For twenty-five years has Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry been before the people, and its popularity to-day is greater than ever, because it has proved reliable in the treatment of all forms of bowel complaint incident to the summer season.

N. C. POLSON & Co., druggists, &c., Kingston, express themselves as surprised at the sale of Bardick Blood Bitters in that locality, where patent medicines are hard to introduce, but say they, "the gross last ordered a few days since, will convince you that the demand is good, and that it is giving satisfaction to our customers."

In the present month of October Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters should be taken to purify the blood and fortify the system against the severe change of our Canadian winter. It improves the circulation and cures Dyspepsia, Bilelessness, and Sick Headache. In large bottles at 50 cents. Sold at J. D. Tully, druggists.

For Football Stockings, Kid, Antelope, Buck and Wool Mitts and Gloves, try "Habiliment Hall."

THE ELECTIONS.

TO-DAY elections take place in the constituencies of South Bruce, Essex, Glengarry, West Hastings, West Simcoe and South Waterloo for representatives in the Provincial Legislature. At the last general election for the Local Legislature these six constituencies were carried three by supporters of the Mowat Government and three by supporters of the Opposition. So far as the position of parties in the Legislature during the remaining session of the present Parliament is concerned, the result of to-day's contests is of little importance. The result however will be looked forward to with considerable interest as indicating the drift of public opinion, and the result of the general election which must take place, at farthest, in a few months. In 1879 the Government carried Waterloo, Simcoe and Bruce by majorities of 437, 318 and 60 respectively, and the Opposition those of Hastings, Essex and Glengarry by majorities of 237, 157 and 41, respectively—majorities which except in the cases of Bruce and Glengarry there can be, an outsider would suppose, little hope of overcoming on either side. However, whatever may be the result it is evident the ministerial camp is somewhat alarmed, seeing that Simcoe has been visited by the Premier and two of his colleagues, while, in addition to Mr. Mowat, Mr. Blake was sent to the rescue in Bruce.

THE CONFERENCE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 17.—Mr. Parnell submitted the programme of the conference and reviewed its proposals. Mr. Davitt addressed the conference. He spoke in somewhat more pronounced terms than Mr. Parnell. He declared that until the land which was stolen from the people was restored to the whole people as national property, there could be no final satisfactory settlement of the land question. At the same time he wished it to be distinctly understood that his declaration did not separate him from Mr. Parnell on the land question. It is asserted that a large number of English detectives have arrived, and are in constant communication with the Home Secretary in reference to the conference. It was decided that the council should consist of 46 members, 32 for the counties and 16 for the parliamentary party. A resolution thanking Mr. Parnell for presiding over the deliberations, and expressing unshaken confidence in him, was passed, and the conference terminated.

THE LOUGH MASK MURDER.

DUBLIN, Oct. 17.—At the investigation into the murder of the two Huddys, near Lough Mask, Keshigan, the informer further deposed that one Higgins, aged 60, with his son, took chief part in the murder, and conspired the conspiracy to assist in carrying the victims, whose groans could be heard in the bags in which they were thrown into the lake. Other witnesses corroborated the statement. The prisoners were remanded.

TUNIS AND TRIPOLI.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—A number of Tunisian chiefs, with their followers, offer to return to Tunis and submit to the French. Tripoli strongly opposes such action. A French man-of-war has been placed at the disposal of the French consul-general at Tripoli.

COLLISION AT SEA.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The German ship Constantia, Capt. Ruchter, collided with the steamer City of Antwerp 14 miles off Eddystone, and both vessels sank. All the Constantia's crew and four belonging to the City of Antwerp have been landed at Cardiff.

TRUE TO ARABI.

CAIRO, Oct. 17.—The natives in the interior of Egypt refuse to pay their debts due to Europeans unless Arabia withdraws his orders to the contrary issued during the insurrection.

OVERTURES FROM THE PORTE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 17.—The Porte has notified Lord Dufferin of its readiness to enter into friendly negotiations with England for the settlement of the Egyptian question, and expressed a hope that the status quo may be maintained.

IN A FERMENT.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 17.—A letter from an official of the Department of Public Domain published at Alexandria declares that the country is in a ferment, which can only be brought to the execution of the leaders of the rebellion.

THE COMET.

PANAMA, Oct. 17.—Yesterday at 4 a.m. a large part of the tail of the great comet was observed over the summit of the Andes. Its great size and silvery brilliancy presented an imposing sight. The tail is formed with the horizon was more than four degrees, its azimuth 25 degrees, breadth, movable with 23 degrees, right ascension 15 degrees, and declination northward 13 degrees. Its longitude could not be measured, as the sky became hazy just as the nucleus was being observed. It is entering the constellation Cancer, and will very soon be in that of Gemini. When it entered the constellation Taurus it will appear at midnight. It resembles the comet of

YOUNG'S POINT AND LAKEFIELD DAM.

Our Young's Point correspondent has on several occasions called attention to the dangerous if not suicidal procrastination of the Ontario Public Works Department with regard to the dam across the Otterabee River at that place.

The Department certainly cannot plead ignorance of either the present state of this dam or of the interests dependent upon it, or of the damage which is almost certain to ensue should it be carried away during a spring freshet, because so far back as in his annual report of 1881 the engineer of the Department stated that, although a sum of $1,500 had been voted for its repair during the session of 1881, it was "deemed advisable to make only such repairs as were really necessary for the time being to ensure the safety of the works," as the dam was then "about worn out," and that as the area of Clear and Honey Lakes is about 9,200 acres, it was "very important that it should be replaced by a new structure at an early date, as were it to give way, there is no telling the amount of damage and in all probability loss of life which would follow." That was the opinion of Mr. Fraser's Chief Engineer on the 31st of December last, and that seemed to be the opinion of Mr. Fraser and his colleagues during last session, because they asked for and obtained an appropriation of $50,000 to build a new dam at Young's Point; and that seemed to be the opinion of the same gentlemen last spring, because they advertised for tenders for the timber &c. requisite for its construction, and every-body thought it was going to be built right off. But every-body was destined to be mistaken. Some how or another Mr. Commissioner Fraser and his colleagues got new light upon the subject. What that new light was we are not informed. That it followed so closely upon the heels of the elections last June is of course a curious coincidence, between which and the postponement of the work, only a wicked Tory could discover any connection. The Mowat Government is quite too pure and too high minded to be guilty of the petty trickery of attempting to influence the free and independent electors of any constituency by dangling before their eyes, almost within grasp, either contracts for material, or the employment required in the construction of a public work. Oh no, they never do such things. Their conduct on the present occasion is only a curious coincidence, and due entirely to something of even greater consequence than either the "damage" or "loss of life" which Mr. McCallum reported as likely to ensue if this dam were not rebuilt at an "early date."

By another curious coincidence the same dilly-dallying on the part of the Mowat Government took place with regard to the Lakesfield dam. The Commissioner's attention was called, during the session of 1881, by a deputation from the county and Lakesfield councils, to the importance of taking immediate action to prevent the decay of the court of chancery being carried out with regard to this dam. Had immediate action been then taken it is well understood that the dam would have been transferred to the Government at a nominal price, by its owners. But for some reason best known to themselves it did not suit the Mowat Government to take any action in the matter during the session of 1881. Matters were allowed to take their course, and the owners of the dam and mill property, in view of the order of the court of chancery lowering the dam, did the only thing they could do, namely: Proceeded to move their mill down-stream and lower the dam in accordance with the order of the court. When the first was done and the second was about to be done, and when the elections of last June were on the carpet, Mr. Fraser by a curious coincidence suddenly discovered it was about time for him to do something—and something was done accordingly. But by another curious coincidence the said elections were no sooner over than the Ontario Public Works Department became exceedingly hard to move. They were, like Caldwell, quite willing to have a supply of water but very unwilling to compensate those who owned the dam that supplied it. Like Caldwell too, they attempted to take forcible possession, but like him met another McLaren, who knowing that possession is nine points of the law, and knowing that there is a power at Ottawa which will not allow the laws of the land to be altered to suit the exigencies of every Caldwell who wishes to try his hand at appropriating private property, succeeded in bringing these "respectors of private rights" to reason, and to their agreeing to pay him a reasonable sum for his dam and compensation for the damage which he will now sustain by the maintenance of the dam at its former height—compensation which need not have been paid if Mr.

Fraser had only acted with reasonable promptitude and assumed this dam at least a year ago.

That the Dominion Government have now assumed the Lakesfield dam as a part of the Trent Valley Navigation in no way relieves the Mowat Government from responsibility for the effect of the vacillating and dilly-dallying policy which they have pursued with regard to the navigation of these waters. Neither will the possible future assumption of the dam at Young's Point by the Dominion Government relieve them from responsibility for any loss of either life or property which may result from their negligence in not executing a work for which the money had been voted by the Legislature and which had been declared of such pressing importance by their own engineer, and the only result of which would be to throw the work which must be done at both Lakesfield and Young's Point over to a time when (by another curious coincidence) another general election will be on the carpet.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Globe of the 16th October informs its readers that "the stocks of wheat, corn, pork and lard are cornered in Chicago, and famine prices have been reached there." Yet no doubt in the course of a few days it will quote these same "famine prices" in a year of plenty as an evidence that the N. P. has injured the Canadian farmer because "famine prices" did not at the same time prevail in Toronto. The fact of the matter is that Chicago has become such a gambling market that its quotations are utterly valueless for the purpose for which the Globe is continually using them.

Mr. Mowat, in a recent electioneering speech at Peacetangishene, gave an excellent reason why the boundary ward should not be adopted. He said, to quote the Globe's report:—

"He said it stated in some papers that the reason Sir John Macdonald did not ratify the award was because it did not give the Province enough. If this were the case, the speaker thought he ought to give as the part awarded now, and we would accept the rest when our title was established."

Well, that may be what Mr. Mowat desires, but it is not what the Province wants. Ontario wants her title established now to her whole territory, and to receive all of it, not to receive only an instalment of it at present because that suits Mr. Mowat's purpose, and then to have him clamoring hereafter for a further instalment whenever it pleases him to endeavour to embarrass Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, or to make political capital for himself. A legal and final settlement by a competent court is what is wanted.

Now we have another reason given for the suppression of "Marmion," the Globe, the chief organ of Messrs. Mowat and Crooks, having discovered that Sir Walter Scott was a thoroughgoing Tory, so of course such a dangerous teacher could not be tolerated in schools under the thumb of a "Reform" Minister of Education. Anything to divert attention from the point at issue, which the Globe, ably seconded by the Mail, has observed by an interminable discussion of collateral questions. The real question of interest to the public is whether Mr. Crooks is fit for his position. If "Marmion" is unfit for critical study in our schools, Mr. Crooks should not have allowed it to remain on the list of subjects for examination till it was largely purchased and studied; if it is fit for the purpose he should not have withdrawn it at so much inconvenience and cost. Let him take either alternative, and he still appears as too negligent or too ignorant to fulfil his duties as Minister of Education.

INLAND NAVIGATION.

THE Detroit Marine News, in an article on "The Red River and Lake Superior Canal," says:—

"It cannot be said that great water ways are to become obsolete. Canals have been, and still are, essential to commerce. Rome built them two thousand years ago. France, Prussia and Holland are still at work building new and larger water ways. There are more similar projects on foot now, on this continent, than ever before. De Witt Clinton developed the Empire State and created the commerce of New York city by the Erie Canal. Our Canadian neighbors are even now at immense expense, pursuing the development of their grand system of canals, leading to the ocean."

That wheat will go by water transport where it exists is shown by the fact that in ten years, ending 1882, 90 per cent. of the wheat was shipped from Chicago to Buffalo by lake, and 10 per cent. by rail. The same ratio was true of corn. This illustrates the modern tendency of our own people to use water ways for bulky articles. Their use will be increased in ratio to the increase of production. But the expediency of this water line must be considered in reference to the colonial products which are soon to flow from the coast were noted. Those masses of freight cannot be transported by railways alone. Railway competition will not effect the object desired. The water way must be summoned, both as an aid and a regulator. We are searching earnestly for practical methods of reducing the cost of transportation on agricultural products. We are contemplating the means of carrying to the markets of the world the production of a region so vast that the men of the East are not capable of comprehending the extent and capacity of the empire. The sober judgments of men are made incredulous by the immensity of the figures."

In New York recently Dr. M. Souville, of the Montreal International Throat and Lung Institute, and ex-Aide Major of the French Army, was visited by over 3,000 Physicians and sufferers using his wonderful invention, the Spirometer, for the treatment of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung diseases. Parties unable to visit his office can be successfully treated by letter addressed Dr. M. Souville, ex-Aide Major of the French Army, 13 Phillips Square, Montreal, or 173 Church street, Toronto, offices for Canada, where French and English specialists are always in charge. The best evidence of the superior merit and virtues of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for the cure of summer complaints, is that its popularity and demand is greatest when it has been longest known.

The indications of the approaching season seem to threaten an unusual amount of the various forms of bowel complaints. Our readers would do well to supply themselves with some reliable remedy. Use Doctor Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as a safeguard against sudden attacks of cholera morbus, colic, dysentery, &c., that unless promptly treated are often suddenly fatal.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED.

Further Particulars of Some Recent Strange Cases in Toronto.

Within the last few days the local columns of the Toronto newspapers have contained records of several strange cases of mysterious disappearance. Two of the missing men have been found, but in a majority of cases no clue to them has yet been found.

THE BOY ABOUT.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mr. H. Cooper, of a firm of Cooper & Mack, dealers in goods, furnishings, is still as impenetrable as ever. The hope at one time entertained that one of the same name who had recently arrived up in New York might prove to be the missing man was soon broken down by telegrams from disinterested parties in New York, who sent despatches saying that the Cooper in question was not the missing Toronto merchant. This falling through, Mr. Cooper's friends are at a loss where to turn for information about the young man, and their grief and anxiety can well be imagined.

THE BOY ABOUT.

Two of the recent cases of mysterious disappearance turn out on close enquiry to be of much the same nature, and though the suspicions in each case seem unwarranted, they lead to a very different result. The boy Arnold, whose parents reside at 6 Conroy street, has been missing for two weeks to-day. He was taken down with his father and was noticed to take much interest in the farmers whom he saw at a hotel or boarding house where his father and he took dinner. After they left he went back on the pretence of getting his dog, and has not been seen since. Several lads living in the neighbourhood and playmates of young Arnold, have been working for farmers, and the belief is that some farmer has picked the lad up and taken him off to the country to put him at work as a chore boy. The lad bears a good character. He is of fair complexion, with blue eyes, and when last seen wore a brown overall, a tweed jacket, and a new felt hat with red tassels.

JOHN WILSON.

The other missing lad is John Wilson, whose parents reside at 423 Adelaide street West. He has been going to school, but on the last day of school he was absent, and his mother, who has been looking for him, has been unable to find him. Leaving his home he told his mother that he would go up to Queen street to look for a job. "That night he disappeared with a chain, and then probably tried to go home but was driven away. His parents were aware of his whereabouts, but before he could be brought home he disappeared. In his case also the parents believe that some farmer took him away. If there is any truth in these suspicions, and farmers do take this way of getting cheap labour—hiring mere lads without their parents' consent—the sooner it is stopped the better.

ROBERT MACK.

Upon enquiry there does not appear to be any great mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mr. Mack, late cutter at Messrs. Walker & Son's. He certainly did suddenly determine to go away, and announced his objective point to be the antipodes, but he told his employers of his intention, asked for a reference, and rode down to the station with his mother and two of his friends. Apparently, however, none of them were quite certain of his carrying out his suddenly expressed intention until they saw him buy a ticket for Buffalo and step aboard the train. He has not yet been heard from.

RICHARD GRAY.

The carpenter, Richard Gray, whose mysterious disappearance on Wednesday last has been noted, still remains absent. On that day he was observed by Mr. Powell, of 175 Richmond street, for whom he had been working, helplessly drunk. He was left by Mr. Powell for a few minutes seated in a chair, who upon returning found that Gray had gone. This was the last seen of him. Mr. Powell thinks the man could not have the ability to walk far under the circumstances. Mr. Gray formerly worked at York Mills, and in January last came to Toronto with his family. Their address is No. 34 Anne street, and not 34 Anne, as taken by the police. He could not have had more than five dollars on his person at the time. Mrs. Gray sometimes fears that he has wandered to the docks and fallen into the Bay.—Globe.

THE CLIMATE OF HOUSE-TOPS.

Scientific Authorities Recommend it as Sanitary Grounds.

All classes of society are pretty equally indebted to Mr. Russell for the essay he read at the Sanitary congress on the subject of houses and their occupants. The theory now announced is that at a slight elevation above the ground as, for instance, in the upper rooms of houses, the climate is in all cases much preferable to that which prevails lower down. It is, we are now told, a mistake to suppose that the air is always colder as the earth is left behind; for on damp and foggy nights, when the cold is most injurious to living creatures, or at any rate to man, there is a much cooler stratum of air along the surface of the ground. Hence it happens that although by day the variation in temperature is greater in proportion to the height above sea-level, yet taking the whole twenty-four hours it is less, while there is also a great advantage in the superior dryness of the air up above. It will be consequently to those who are condemned for financial reasons to live in garrets and the upper stories of town houses to learn that they are thereby securing to themselves a great sanitary advantage over the inhabitants of the more expensive lodgings below. Nor will it be less agreeable to those who cannot afford a trip to the seaside to hear from Mr. Russell that by pitching their camp under the roof of their town house they can secure for themselves the advantages of a seaside climate without its attendant damp. But for the more opulent persons who can choose for themselves which part of a house they will inhabit, the remarks of Mr. Russell have a still greater interest. He warns them that by keeping to the lower stories they voluntarily expose themselves to a worse climate than they would have if they kept higher up. It is important if this is so, that invalids, and especially those subject to bronchial affections, should not, as is now too often the case, be allowed to sleep on the ground floor so as to save themselves the trouble of walking or being carried upstairs.—London Globe.

PORT HOPE.

THE LATE FIRE.—The Globe says that on Friday a tramp called at the residence of Mrs. Martin, whose premises were destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, and upon her answering the door, he impudently asked if she was alone. On receiving an unsatisfactory reply, he began to grow insolent and abusive, whereupon she ordered him away, telling him she would call the men unless he left. After indulging in vile threats that he would be even with her yet, he departed. In all probability this was the scamp that fired her premises on Sunday morning, thereby fulfilling his threat.

FROM ALL OVER.

THE anniversary of the battle of Queenston Heights was duly celebrated at that place on Friday last.

The individual claims for damages incurred at Alexandria during the reign of terror amount to thirty millions up to date.

GENERAL WOLLEY is expected back in England in two weeks, when he will be banquipped by the corporation of the city of London.

MARWOOD, the English hangman, has received anonymous letters threatening his life if he should ever dare to visit Ireland to officiate at an execution.

THE court of enquiry into the loss of the steamer Masel, near the Lizard Station, acquitted the captain, but severely censured the chief officer, and cancelled his certificate.

EXCITEMENT in the Scott Act election is increasing at Fredericton, where the voting takes place on the 26th inst. Both sides are working hard and confident of the result.

ANOTHER of Hunter's defalcations has come to light. The ladies of the Church of England Home in Montreal gave him $2,500 to discharge a mortgage, but which he appropriated to his own use.

ASINGLE BOX of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy will kill a thousand worms, and is as pleasant to take as the most delicious candy. It does not create nausea, and can be given without a particle of apprehension of doing injury.

A FARMER's son near Brandon, Manitoba, last week met a shocking death through a pile of impediments such as had a similar end in the case of a lad in New England not long ago—the fastening to his body of a rope by which he was driving a cow, so that when he became startled and ran away, the poor fellow was dragged over the ground and battered so that he only lived a few minutes.

IT HAS BROOD THE TEST OF TIME.—For twenty-five years has Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry been before the people, and its popularity to-day is greater than ever, because it has proved reliable in the treatment of all forms of bowel complaint incident to the summer season.

"BECAME SOUND AND WELL."—R. V. Pierce, M.D.: Dear Sir—My wife, who had been ill for over two years, and had tried many other medicines, became sound and well by using your "Favorite Prescription." My niece was also cured by its use, after several physicians had failed to do her any good. Yours truly, Thomas J. McElvin, Hatcher's Station, Ga.

N. C. POLSON & Co., druggists, &c., Kingston, express themselves as surprised at the sale of Burdock Blood Bitters in that locality, where patent medicines are hard to improve, but say they "the great last ordered a few days since, will convince you that the demand is good, and that it is giving satisfaction to our customers."

Two miners announced in a Dakota bar-room that they were going to dissolve partnership. "Which of you is to withdraw?" was asked. "Can't tell until the light is over," was the reply. This was meant in earnest too, for the men fought next day with pistols and one received a mortal wound.

A MAN was convicted of three grave crimes in one term of the Essex county (Ill.) court. For one of these he was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, for another fourteen years, and for the third the incarceration was to be "during the remainder of his natural life"—which would appear to destroy his interest in the former two punishments.

HARD LUMPS IN BREAST.—Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I wrote to you some time ago that I thought I had a cancer. There was a large lump in my breast as large as a walnut, and had been there four months. I commenced taking your "Golden Medical Discovery," "Favorite Prescription" and "Pelllet" in June, and the lump is gone. Yours gratefully Mrs. R. R. Clark, Irvington, Mich.

NEWARK, New Jersey, is agitated over alleged revelations of gigantic frauds practised by civil officials upon the tax-payers. A third of a million is said to be already found wanting, and then the head of the violators' operations are not reached. The fact is that public servants, particularly those having the handling of money, are given too much room these times in most places, and there seems to be no science in any check system extant.

At the Arlington, No. 137 Kearney Street, San Francisco, Cal., resides Mr. H. H. Haver, the renowned counterfeiter and teacher who says: "For more than twelve years I suffered with sciatic rheumatism of the worst type, and at times the pains were almost unbearable. I spent a fortune and exhausted medical skill in that time. I heard about St. Jacob's Oil, but was faithful as I thought my ailment was incurable. I made one very thorough application and so pronounced was the relief that I continued its use. Before I had used up the first bottle I was well."

THE BYE ELECTIONS.
The result of the polling on Wednesday to fill the vacancies in the Ontario Legislative Assembly is as follows:—

Conservative.	Reform.
W. Hastings	Rose
S. Bruce	O'Connor
S. Essex	Balfour
Glengarry	Glenside
S. Waterloo	Masters
E. Simcoe	Deary

In Muskoka the polling does not take place till Oct. 30th, and in North Renfrew Mr. McAllister was returned by acclamation.

It thus appears that the Conservatives have retained one seat by an increased majority, that the Reformers have abandoned one of their former seats to a Conservative pledged to an independent course for the one remaining seat, that they have gained two seats, in one case by changing a very small Conservative majority into a still smaller Reform majority, and that they have retained three seats, two of them by greatly decreased majorities, while the eighth constituency, formerly Reform, is still undecided.

It must be admitted that the balance of gain is in favour of the Mowat Administration, but this is not surprising, considering the natural apathy when only one session was in question, and the enormous efforts made by the Ministers and their allies, who feel the desperate nature of the contest before them.

PORT HOPE.
RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—The Guide says, that at about half-past seven o'clock on Tuesday night, a boy driving Geo. Glass' delivery wagon was turning the corner of Pine and Walton streets, driving very fast, when the clip that holds up one side of the shafts broke. The horse then started at full gallop down the street, and when opposite the Glass' office, the wagon slowed around and turned completely over, leaving the horse and boy sprawling in the mud. The boy was unhurt, but the horse was cut in several places, but not much worse for the run. The wagon had to be sent to the repairer. The wonder is that the boy was not killed.

Body Snatching.
KINGSTON, Oct. 16.—The sensation of the day has been a case of body snatching. Some time ago a young man named Noble Scott, of Petrolia, came to the city a consumptive, and died in the General Hospital after an illness of three months. On Friday it was buried by his friends, and the remains were followed to the grave by the Oddfellows, to which Order he belonged. The same night students of the Medical College seemed to have snatched the body and removed it to the city. On Sunday his friends saw that the grave was disordered, and on a close examination found that the coffin had been broken and the corpse removed. Information was at a late hour last night laid before the Police Magistrate, a search warrant issued, and at day-break this morning the college building was entered. The body was found in the dissecting room, shrouded, and with an incision and tube in the breast. It had just been laid out for the operation which would have begun a few hours later. A horse-blanket was thrown lightly over it. It was re-coffined and removed, and will be taken by deceased's brother to Petrolia for interment. The friends of Scott talk of prosecuting, but find a difficulty in proceeding against all the students, and the snatchers are not known. There is a scarified subject, and students claim they must be had for instructional purposes. The young men are not disposed to be sacrilegious, to destroy the sanctity of any graveyard, but they make a virtue of necessity. The burial took place at Sandhill, township of Pittsburg, because there deceased wished to be laid beside his parents.

TORONTO reports six business men who in as many days sought "fresh fields and pastures new" across the frontier without having taken formal leave of acquaintances and creditors. To reduce the frequency of such escapades, cash payments should be made a more general condition of trade. If dishonest persons had to deal directly, there would be less theft and it would not be safe for the thieves even beyond the edge of the country.

GOLD IN THE SOUTH.

PANAMA, Oct. 7.—Santiago, the capital of Chili is much excited over a mine recently discovered in Cochabamba. Fortunes have been made, and stock which sold at par has rushed up to ten times its value. Recently discovered gold mines in Huacheteargo, Guatemala, are creating much excitement and speculation. Since the discovery of the original mine seven other mines have been found, which, it is asserted, will be richer than any ever known in California.

THE CONTROL IN EGYPT.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Times says the departure of M. Bredif for Egypt does not indicate that he is to resume his old position as Comptroller-General. It is an indication of progress towards an amicable solution of the minor questions still outstanding between England and France. The latter is aware that the reconstruction of the joint Control in Egypt is impossible.

TO CONSULT THE POWERS.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—It is stated that the Government is desirous to submit to the conference of great powers its scheme for the military and civil organization in Egypt before its adoption.

UNKNOWN FATE.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—Mr. Wilfrid Blunt has offered to go to Egypt to ascertain the fate of Prof. Palmer and the officers sent to purchase camels from the Bedouins at the beginning of the war. It is feared they have been murdered.

THE CANAL DISASTER.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—Fourteen of the crew of the steamer City of Antwerp, sunk by collision with the ship Constantia, were drowned.

AN ALLEGED SPLIT.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—A Dublin correspondent says it is evident that if there is no actual schism in the Irish National party, there is so wide a difference in the lines of action advocated by Mr. Davitt and Mr. Parnell that it is hardly possible they can pull in the same harness. The Parnellites have secured a third of the representation upon the new council. This gives them practically a preponderance, as a sufficient number of their friends will probably be elected by the counties.

AFRICAN AFFAIRS.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—A correspondent who had an interview with Henry M. Stanley, understands that when the road along the Congo river is quite completed, the King of the Belgians intends to offer it to any English company who will undertake the work. M. de Brazza is doubtless aware of that fact, and hence his haste to get the French Government to ratify his treaty with the Congo chiefs.

RIOTS IN FRANCE.
PARIS, Oct. 18.—Threatening placards are nightly posted on the walls at Monceau-la-Mine, and threatening communications sent to the manager of the mines. There have been several arrests, including Bordat, the principal ringleader, and a notorious anarchist. The fall of 23 of the rioters will take place at Chalons on Wednesday next. The indictment charges the prisoners with conspiracy to wage civil war, a crime punishable with death. The President of the court trying the Monceau-la-Mine rioters have received a letter threatening that the Palace of Justice will be blown up by dynamite.

CHOLERA AT MANILLA.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—The cholera at Manilla continues to decrease. Since last report the average of deaths has been four daily. The disease still rages in the island of Visaya.

CHILI AND PERU.
PANAMA, Oct. 7.—Matters on the south coast have a more pacific tendency than for a long time. The pressure brought to bear on the governments and people of Peru and Bolivia is having a moderating effect. United States Minister Layan was received by President Santa Maria, of Chili, on the 8th ult. It is rumored that Chili has consented to pay four million dollars to Peru and two million to Bolivia to settle all claims of neutralization out of the war, and to be satisfied with the territory now held up to the rivers Lama and Lumbia.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.
PARIS, Oct. 18.—The imports of France for the past nine months compared with the same period last year have increased 99 million francs. The exports have increased 246 million francs.

ASSASSINATION.
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 18.—It is reported that Gen. Iliazdov, Governor of Transbaikalia, has been mortally wounded by a political assassin.

AMERICAN.
SANITARY SCIENCE.
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 18.—At the meeting of the American Public Health Association to-day, in discussing a paper, two delegates expressed the opinion that the Texas cattle fever was developed when the animals were removed from the native State to other climates. Dr. Holman, of Chicago, read a paper giving startling instances of cruelty practiced upon cattle and hogs during the long journey from the West to the eastern market. Mr. T. P. Wilson, of Ann Arbor, read a paper. He estimated that constantly a million and a half of people were travelling on the railroads beside the employees. He thought more attention should be given to the hygienic needs of railway travellers.

KILLED BY A CAT.
LOUISVILLE, Oct. 17.—Yesterday a cat knocked a servitor from a shelf, when the weapon was discharged, killing Thomas Goff, a five-year-old boy.

A SCENE AT A CHRISTENING.
GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Oct. 18.—A christening took place yesterday at the residence of Manuel Rosario and a large number were present. The godfather, Peter Morso, entered the room intoxicated and began yelling and cursing and demolishing the furniture. A panacea was threatened to shoot the first person attempting to leave. Several ladies fainted and the children present set up a fearful cry. The priest rushed upon Morso, but was felled with the butt end of a revolver and rendered unconscious. The mother holding the infant shrieked and fell to the floor in a swoon. The child was injured, probably fatally. Morso then fired, killing one child and fatally wounding another. The murderer escaped.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1882.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

No. 5. Administration of Justice cost the Province $123,021 in 1871 and $251,119 in 1881. In 1871 this expenditure was equal to 114 cents per head of the population and in 1881 to 13 cents per head. Out of the expenditure of 1871 $104,049 was paid to the counties and out of that of 1881, $106,149, or only an increase of $2,100 during the decade. The per capita payment to the counties in 1881, as compared with 1871, shows an average decrease of thirteen per cent. Coming to the county of Peterborough we find that it received from the Province for all purposes connected with the administration of justice, the sum of $947 in 1881, as against $1,436 in 1871—a decrease of $489, or over thirty per cent. Again, while the total expenditure of the county increased from $1,563 in 1871 to $1,836 in 1881, the amount received from the Provincial Treasury on account of the same decreased from $471, in 1871 to $164 in 1881—leaving the amount to be contributed by the ratepayers of the county $1,092 in 1871, as against $1,672 in 1881—an increase of taxation for this purpose during the decade of over fifty per cent.

No. 6. By a statute passed in 1880 (43 Vic. Cap. 30) the Government took the conveyance of prisoners from the county gaols to the Reformatory and asylums out of the hands of the Sheriffs and placed it in the hands of Provincial officers appointed by themselves, and also threw the whole expense of this conveyance upon the counties, whereas previous to the passage of this act, the whole expense of those sentenced to the Reformatory had been borne by the Provincial Treasury. For instance: In November 1879 the Sheriff of Peterborough conveyed a boy to the Penitentiary Reformatory and received therefor the sum of $28.85 from the county, which sum was repaid to the county by the Province. In September 1880, the Provincial Government authorities conveyed a boy from Peterborough to the same Reformatory and charged and collected from the county the sum of $29.23 or 38 cents more than the sheriff charged in 1879 for precisely the same service, and which latter sum had to be paid by the ratepayers of the county.

No. 7. In 1878 and 1879 when the sheriffs took the lunatics to the asylums it cost the county of Peterborough an average of $18.75 in the first named year, and $38.18 in the last named; in 1880 when the Government did the work it cost $24.44. For the same years the average cost in Victoria was $38.96; $45.67, and $18.73 respectively; in Northumberland and Durham it was $17.23; $23.50 and $14.23 respectively; and in Hastings $27.54; $40.72 and $18.11 respectively. In 1878 it cost Peterborough less per head than in any of the other counties named to send lunatics to the asylums; in 1879 she was only 36 cents per head higher than the lowest, but in 1880, under the new arrangement, the amount Peterborough was made to pay exceeded that of the next highest by $5.71 and that of the lowest by $10.21.

No. 8. In December 1880, the Randell Macdonald Government devised and passed their Law Reform Act. For the three years ending the 31st December, 1880, it had cost the ratepayers of the county of Peterborough an average of $2,481, per annum for juries. During the following three years, owing to the operation of this Law Reform Act, it cost the county for the same purpose an average of $1,329 per annum—or an annual reduction of $1,152, for this county alone. This shows how Mr. J. S. Macdonald's law reforms decreased taxation while Mr. Mowat's increases it.

No. 9. Although the Public Accounts show that there has been expended for special services in connection with the "administration of justice in counties" during the five years ending with 1881, on the average $11,538 per annum, yet when this county was put to considerable and special expense for the purpose of protecting the settlers in the free grant districts of the county, and after following the criminals to the neighboring States and securing their conviction, the Ontario Government refused to contribute a single dollar towards the expense thus incurred beyond what they would have contributed towards the expense of bringing some petty thief to justice.

BIBERY AT ELECTIONS.

THE "Reform" journals are jubilant at the step taken by Mr. Mercer in bringing actions for the penalties for bribery, and the Globe has the effrontery to recommend the Reform Associations to follow his example, though it must be well aware that the records of the Courts show that enormous sums have been spent in bribery, not by Conservatives but by Reformers.

The attack, however, is not to be all on one side, for the Independent Montreal Star says:—

"Hon. Mr. Mercer the other day promised to make an example of all persons who were guilty of illegal practices at the elections in Verchères. In support of his determination Mr. Mercer instituted several actions, and declared his intention of suing many others. Mr. Larivière, however, through his Counsel, Messrs. Laforce, Gibeault, Bisson & Brodeur, has taken the initiative, and no less than eighteen actions were to-day instituted against parties charged with corruption at the late elections, seven of which are against Conservatives, and the remainder against the supporters of Mr. Mercer's own party, among others being two actions against the Hon. Felix Gauthier, three actions against Mr. F. H. Choquet, advocate, of Montreal, and another action against Mr. Abraham Bernard, the sitting member in the Local House. Mr. Bernard is charged with personal corruption."

MANSLAUGHTER.

The Brighton Shooting Case—Miss Wright Sentenced to Six Months.

COBURG, Ont., Oct. 15.—At the assizes held here before His Lordship Judge Ouder, the first case on the docket called this morning was Miss Hattie Wright, indicted for manslaughter. The prisoner, who is a fine-looking lady, about 30 years of age, was arraigned for the shooting of a man by the name of Ryan, of the town of Brighton. It appears that the deceased, who was intoxicated, came to the prisoner's house on the evening of Aug. 27th last about 11 p.m., and walking around the house, tried to get into the kitchen, when he was heard by the prisoner and another young lady who was sleeping with her, named Carter. The prisoner got up and opened the shutter, and saw a man in the yard, and becoming frightened, went and got a revolver for the purpose of frightening him away. The young ladies were alone in the house at the time, and were naturally very frightened. Miss Wright fired out in the yard, the ball striking Ryan, who died twelve hours afterward. The trial lasted nearly all day, and a great many witnesses were called, who testified to the prisoner's good character. The Hon. Sydney Smith, Q.C., ably defended the prisoner, and by a powerful speech to the jury for about one hour tried hard to have the prisoner acquitted. Mr. Gauthier, Q.C., of Guelph, conducted the case for the Crown. The jury, after an absence of about three hours, returned with a verdict of guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy. Mr. Gauthier then moved that the sentence of the Court be passed, and His Lordship asked the prisoner if she had anything to say why the sentence of the Court should not be passed upon her. Prisoner replied that she did not intend to shoot him. Then she broke down and wept. His Lordship then sentenced her to be confined in Coburg gaol for six months, which was the lightest sentence he could give under the circumstances.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE CHURCHYARD.—The fences and gates of the churchyard here are in a very bad condition, and should be seen to at once by those that are interested in this beautiful burying ground. It is really too bad to see pigs, cows, &c., running at large over the place and destroying everything.

SHANTIES.—Mr. Geo. J. Chalmers is starting another shanty in the township of Chalmers, with Arthur Dugan as foreman.

STUMP MACAINE.—Mr. Chalmers is sparing no expense in having his farms in this vicinity improved. Mr. John Moore, from Peterborough, is taking out stumps from two large fields; he is a splendid hand at the business.

THE DOWRY ROAD TO LAKEFIELD.—There has been a good deal of talk for the last four years as to what the Douro Council and others were going to do with this road, or as some rightly call it, a cow path. Nothing, however, has been done on it yet, except what statute labor is performed by Mr. Ingram, and what little he has to do is done well. The Councilors of Douro are worse than those of the township of Smith, as the former do nothing on any roads they do not travel over or have an interest in. Now this should not be the case, as the road from here to Lakefield is the main travelled road from the back townships at all seasons of the year, and really this road is a disgrace to any township. Large surface stones, stumps and mud holes, large enough to bury a horse and buggy, are the leading features of the road from this place to Andy Wilson's farm, a distance of over two miles. This ought to be remedied at once.

HASTINGS.

REBUILDING.—The Star says that the Fowlds block is gradually developing the plan of the architect, the workmen are now engaged in putting on the mansard roof which forms the third storey.

THEFT.—Mr. Richardson, jr., on the Norwood road was the victim of another theft on Wednesday night of last week, the window broken and a quantity of wearing apparel carried off. It is only a short time ago since the house was entered by tramps, during the absence of the family, who helped themselves to clothing, cash, &c.

A Clever Swindle.

A few days ago a man giving his name as Harry Franzer took rooms for himself and sister at a fashionable boarding house on Pearl street Buffalo. He said that he had a contract to supply embroidery, and desired to secure the services of a number of girls. He put an advertisement in the papers and for the next few days the house was besieged by women, young and old. He told them that he would pay them from $6 to $8 per week as soon as they were competent, and in the meantime he would supply them with materials in which to practice, for which he required a deposit of $5. The bait took, and having realized a large sum in deposits, Franzer and his sister folded their tents like the Arabs and silently stole away. There are a large number of indignant girls in the city at present who would like to give the missing pair a warm reception.

Master and Apprentice.

In the Recorder's Court this morning a boy named Rodney, and apprentice of Mr. Fortier, cigar manufacturer, charged his employer with assault under the following circumstances: Mr. Fortier ordered the boy to do something to which the latter made an impudent reply. Mr. Fortier then boxed the boy's ears and told him to be civil in future. His Honor dismissed the action on the ground that an employer had a perfect right to correct his apprentices in moderation and in this respect occupied a position analogous to that of a school master.—Montreal Witness Oct. 17.

Congratulating the Queen.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The address of congratulation to Her Majesty upon her escape from death at the hands of the assassin McLean, passed by the Grand Lodge of Masons of Canada at their last session, has been forwarded to Her Majesty the Patrons of the Order, at Balmoral, through the department of the Secretary of State for the Colonies. It was first transmitted to H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, the M.W. Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of England. The address conveys the devotion of the Free Masons of Canada to the person of Her Majesty and their loyalty to the Throne. Profound gratitude is expressed for the providential escape of the Sovereign from death by the bullet of a cowardly assassin, and the address concludes with a prayer that the life of Her Majesty may be long spared to her people.—Globe.

A Cow With a Wooden Leg.

Mrs. Mary Gravelly of Bailly's cross roads, Bucks county, Pa., has a cow which, about four months ago, had its right front leg cut off below the knee by a railway train. A veterinary surgeon dressed the wound and tied up the arteries so skillfully that the cow recovered. She was kept in the stable until a few days ago, when a neighbor, a cabinet maker, made for her a wooden leg, which was strapped on the stump. The cow hopped along holding the injured leg up for a day or two, but now she has concluded to use the wooden attachment, and limps around quite comfortably upon it, and seems to be in good health.—Wilkes-Barre Union Leader.

LEAD POISONING.

By Dr. E. A. Wood, of the Harvard Medical College.

The subject of chronic lead poisoning is becoming more and more important every year on account of the gradually increasing use of lead in the arts, which augments the number of sources of poisoning and renders the detection of the source in some cases exceedingly difficult.

The use of lead pipe for conducting drinking water is very extended, and yet comparatively few cases of poisoning result from it. This is due chiefly to the fact that certain hard waters, cause a deposit of an insoluble coating consisting of lead sulphate and carbonate upon the inner surface of the pipe which prevents any further action of water upon it, and that the people generally have learned the necessity of thoroughly emptying the pipe of the water which has stood in it for several hours. All waters do not act upon lead pipe with equal readiness. As a rule, the purer the water, the more readily does it attack metallic lead. Therefore, soft waters take up the most lead and hard waters the least. Hard waters, however, vary in this respect.

Lead cisterns should never be used for containing drinking water, nor, as a rule, should lead pipe be allowed to project beneath the surface of the water in a well, although in the case of most hard waters no serious consequences would result. It is better to use pure black pipe beneath the surface of the water, soldering it on to the lead pipe above the highest level of the well. Then only the small amount of water which is contained within the pipe, has an opportunity to attack the lead, and if the pipe is thoroughly emptied of the water which has stood in it for several hours, no serious consequences will result. Tin-lined lead pipe and tinned lead pipe are, in my opinion, more dangerous than pure lead pipe, since the galvanic action set up by contact of the two metals increases very much the action of the water on the lead.

Although the above-mentioned are the two principal sources of chronic lead poisoning they are by no means the only ones; these sources are so numerous that in certain cases the physician finds it very difficult, or even impossible to trace the poison to its source. An employment in which metallic lead or any compound of lead is used is liable to cause chronic lead poisoning. Among the more common employments may be mentioned working in lead mines, or any mines in which plumbiferous ore is handled; working with metallic lead, as in the case of plumbers and type-setters; the handling of lead compounds, as in the case of glaziers of porcelain and pottery ware, manufacturers of enamel etc. The use of lead chromate (chrome yellow) and red lead (minium) as pigments; the use of lead or any of its compounds in any cooking utensil, or article used for preserving food, especially acid fruits and vegetables, which are often put up in soldered cans. The acid contained in some of these—as tomatoes—may easily remove a dangerous amount of lead from the solder, if eaten frequently during a considerable period. The use of lead containing enamel for lining iron-ware to be used for cooking, is very dangerous. I have personally known several cases of chronic and sub-acute lead poisoning resulting from cooking tomatoes in such enameled ironware, and one fatal case in an infant, due to drinking milk which had been warmed in one of these vessels. This particular vessel is in my possession, and yields to water, to which a few drops of acetic acid had been added, enough to stand a few hours at the ordinary temperature, an amount of lead which might produce symptoms of poisoning in an adult. The addition of lead compounds to articles of food or drink—thus many yellow candies are coloured with lead chromate, and many olive-green ones with a mixture of lead chromate and Prussian blue. Snuff has been known to be coloured with lead chromate and with red lead. A not uncommon source of chronic lead poisoning is the cleaning of glass bottles with shot; the greatest danger arises in the case of champagne bottles, one or more shot sticking in the angle between the side and bottom of the bottle, owing to the carelessness of the bottle-washer. The carbonic or other acid of the wine, malt liquor or cider really removes a dangerous amount of lead from the shot. I have in mind a recent case of lead colic due to drinking bottled ale, the lead being derived from shot left in the bottle. Wine is sometimes sweetened by breathing it with oxide of lead (litharge) or sugar of lead. The use of lead pigments for colouring children's playthings is very dangerous, the child being liable to put the things in its mouth and suck off some of the poison. The use of spurious (lead containing) tin foil is another source of chronic lead poisoning; some of this foil consists chiefly of lead (one specimen examined contained about 98 per cent. of lead) and is used for wrapping tobacco, pressed meat and other substances. There is one case of poisoning recorded of a clergyman who was in the habit of using calceous for a sore throat, between one and two boxes being consumed daily; finally, after diligent search for the cause of the poisoning, it was found that several milligrammes of lead were contained in the foil surrounding the calceous in a single box. The habitual use of some hair dyes is also a frequent source of lead poisoning, many of them containing sulphur, sugar of lead, and some fluid, as glycerine water, &c. Some cosmetics also contain a lead compound.

The above enumeration shows how varied are the sources of chronic lead disease, and how difficult it often is to detect them. A case illustrating this is that of a newspaper editor, who was in the habit of sticking his clippings upon paper with red wafers which were coloured with red lead, the wafers being moistened with the tongue. A limited epidemic of lead poisoning in Paris was finally traced to a baker's oven which was heated by burning painted wood; the lead oxide volatilized by the high temperature was deposited upon the bottom of the oven where it came in contact with the bread.

It has been said that serious symptoms caused by lead have been produced by sleeping in freshly painted rooms, but careful investigation has shown that this is not the case, but that, were sickness has resulted under those circumstances, it has been due to the vapor of turpentine or benzine, the lead compound being non-volatile at the ordinary temperature, and when mixed with oil, &c., as in the form of paint, not being disseminated through the air in the form of dust.

An interesting feature of this disease is the varying susceptibility of different individuals. Of two members of the same family, exposed to as nearly as possible precisely at the same influence, one may be affected with symptoms of lead poisoning in a short time and the other not for many months. We cannot say, therefore, that because only one member of a family has symptoms of lead disease at any given time the others also have not been exposed to the action of lead or some of its compounds.—Sanitary Engineer.

The Author of "Home Sweet Home." Near Carthage, in a lonely spot rarely visited, sleeps a wandering minstrel of our own times, whose one immortal song has been heard everywhere the English language is spoken. Like the roving singers of lovely Provence, many times he had nothing but his harp. John Howard Payne was a gay Bohemian, extravagant in taste, lavish in expenditures; living much, too much, "in pleasures and palaces" yet with a vein of sadness down deep in his heart. He died while holding the office of consul, and a plain marble slab, sent out by the government of the United States, marks the grave of the homeless man, sixty years a wanderer on this earth, the author of "Home Sweet Home."

One winter he was without money or credit, and in London he had not where to lay his head. He tried to quiet the pain of hunger and homelessness by looking in at windows and from the arched nothings good cheer. It was Christmas Eve, the snow fell fast, the wind was sharp and keen. At one luxurious house the hungry man stooped and watched the lighting of the Christmas tree. Its candles streamed brightly on the pavement, and among the evergreens he could see the red berries of holly, the toys and garlands, and the pretty heads of children. They danced and clapped their hands while the presents were distributed, and the air rang with shouts, laughter and screams of delight. When the merriment had spent itself a little, one young girl went to the piano and struck up "Sweet Home," while the family, joined in a rousing chorus. Was ever contrast so bitter? I have told this from Mrs. Cornelia Gestetner. Payne told it to her long after those evil days were passed.—Independent.

It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL

MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is
scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine"
in a few days, and commences to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, eczema, roughness, rashes as if by magic; white old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, and have deeply rooted they may be, "Sul-pholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural complexion of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 8s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, in the most potent enemy to all skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Martin, and every year it is used more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation.
Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effects will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CON-TAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY
CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ
PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 26th, 1880.

Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and
I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I prepared a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the touch be found.

Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 14th, 1880.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have received two boxes of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and I used one very large one, don't know how long the spavin has been there, I have owned the horse eight months.
It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used six bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no touch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild
in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callosities, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints of limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mildly and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unequalled success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Wrong Ticket.
The Hastings Star tells the following story:— "A Peterborough visitor to the Agricultural show in Norwich, handed his railway ticket to the gate keeper for admission to the grounds. He found the visitor did not have the ticket and the conductor refused to honor the show ticket on the return trip."

The Eastland Property.
This handsome park lot has been subdivided into lots of one-third of an acre each, having a frontage on Bainsville street of 66 feet by a depth of 221 feet. The lots are to be offered for sale on the ground at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, 25th October.

The Weather.
The weather to-day is cloudy and cooler. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:— Fresh to strong northerly to westerly winds; fair to cloudy cooler weather, with a few local showers.

Peterborough Again Awarded.
Among the scholarships awarded at the Trinity College matriculations are the following:—The Bishop Strachan scholarship of $300, C. B. Beck, Upper Canada College, son of the Rev. J. W. R. Beck, Rector of Peterborough; and the second Dickson scholarship of $100, W. J. Rogers, Trinity College School, son of our Postmaster, Col. H. C. Rogers.

Midland Railway Traffic Returns.
The traffic of the above Railway for the week ending Oct. 14th, 1882, was as follows: Passengers and Mails, $6,544.73; Freight, $19,963.30; Total, $26,508.03; as compared with $26,207.34 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $300.69; and the aggregate traffic to date is $262,104.82, being an increase of $168,304.51 over 1881.

Entertainment.
A musical and literary entertainment, the first of the season, will take place this evening, under the auspices and for the benefit of Peterborough Lodge No. 340 I. O. G. T., in their hall on the corner of George and Simcoe streets, commencing at 8 o'clock. A good programme has been arranged, consisting of vocal and instrumental music by the best amateurs in the town, and dialogues, recitations and readings. A large number of tickets have been sold, and we have reason to believe that the entertainment will be a success, both in regard to the quality of the entertainment and the attendance.

Railway Notes.
The Hastings Star says that a change has taken place in the time of the arrival of the express mail at that station, parcels being now carried on the morning train in charge of a special messenger.

A despatch from Bridgewater dated October 18th says that what may prove a fatal accident occurred there yesterday at one of the bridges building for the Toronto and Ottawa railway. A young man named Varney was helping to take a stone by means of a pulley and triangle, when one of the poles of the latter slipped, tilted up, struck him in the stomach, and pinned him to the wall. He was released and medical aid summoned, but the extent of his injuries is not known, as they are all internal. He is delirious, and lies in a very critical condition.

Not so Bad.
The Detroit Commercial Advertiser says:— "While the minister in a church in Peterborough was delivering, Sunday evening, on 'breaking up the fallow ground,' and enlarging on the theme of spiritual darkness, the light went out, and the congregation felt their way outside. Some of the angeli wondered if the minister had arranged for a practical and theatrical demonstration of his subject, until they found out the gas works were out of order."

Our American friend is mistaken. Nothing so bad has happened to our gas works lately. The worst complaint that can be made is that the lamp lighter sometimes misses lamps in making his rounds. One on Brock street, a few rods west of the Bank of Commerce, has been allowed to remain in total darkness several nights, we cannot tell why. But the incident the Advertiser polishes up so nicely occurred in Port Hope.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

THURSDAY, Oct. 19.—T. Menzies, Esq., J.P., dealt out justice to six prisoners this morning, all young men, the oldest being only 23 years of age.

Victor Doran, Louis Defoe and Alexander Doran were charged with being drunk on Wednesday. Defoe and Doran had been translated to them by Doran, all three pleaded guilty and were fined $1 without costs, or seven days in goal.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

John Brunsen, Fabrian Veto and Attie Danta were charged with having been drunk and disorderly on Wednesday. The charge was rendered to them in French, and the plea of guilty was entered. They were each ordered to contribute $1 to the funds, or languish in prison for seven days.

Medical.

Dr. G. S. Ryerson, of Toronto, oculist and aurist, will be at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, October 21st, for consultation in eye, ear and throat cases.

Street Pay List.

The Street Inspector's pay list for the two weeks ending on the evening of the 19th amounts to $344.98. This is all for labour, with the exception of $35 for nails.

Theatrical.

Mr. E. A. McDowell's Star Dramatic Company, which is highly commended by the Canadian press without exception, will present the "New Magdalen" in Bradburn's Opera House on Friday evening. On Saturday afternoon they will give a fashionable matinee, at which the "Lady of Lyons" will be produced, and on Saturday evening they will play "Diplomacy." We have watched closely the comments made on this company, and believe we are justified in commending them to the patronage of the public.

Good Templary.

On Monday evening, October 16th, Friendship Lodge, I. O. G. T., held a regular meeting and initiated two candidates. After the initiatory ceremonies were over, the committee on improving the lodge room made a satisfactory report that they were instructed to proceed with the work at once. The hall is to be divided by means of a movable partition, the floor is to be covered with tapestry carpet and matting, and the walls and ceiling are to be whitened and painted. The members are taking renewed interest in the work of the lodge and new members are coming in. This lodge seems to be awaking from its lethargy.

Box Arrests.

Business in police circles were livelier last evening than they have been for some time. Early in the evening it was noticeable that there were on the streets more men more or less intoxicated than usual, and they gathered on Hunter street, west of George, and then began a row among themselves, much to the annoyance of the people in that vicinity. But our small (in numbers) police force put an end to their fun by marching them off to the cells, taking some down and going back for others until six were in safe keeping for the night. They appeared in the court this morning, and were each mulcted in the sum of one dollar. These occurrences, when men are arrested for being drunk, often cause a smile, but they usually are of a character that should rather cause a tear, unless we rejoice in the misfortune of others, and this case is especially a sad one, as all the prisoners were young men, the majority of them being only nineteen.

Warm Milk a Health Restorer.

Considerable has been lately said in medical journals concerning the value of warm milk as a remedial agent in certain diseases. The Christian at Work, referring to an interesting article on this subject which lately appeared in the London Medical Journal, states, on the authority of Dr. Benjamin Clarke, that in the East India warm milk is used to a great extent as a specific for diarrhoea. A pint every four hours will check the most violent diarrhoea, stomachache, infantile cholera, and dysentery. The milk should never be boiled, but only heated sufficiently to be agreeably warm, not too hot to drink. Milk which has been boiled is unfit for use. This writer gives several instances in arresting the disease, among which is the following:

The writer says: "It has never failed in curing in six or twelve hours, and I have tried it, I should think, fifty times. I have also given it to a dying man who had been subject to dysentery eight months, latterly accompanied by one continued diarrhoea, and it is acted on him like a charm. In two days his diarrhoea was gone; and now nothing that may hereafter occur will shake his faith in hot milk. A writer has also communicated to the Medical Times and Gazette a statement of the value of milk in twenty-six cases of typhoid fever, in every one of which its great value was apparent. It checks diarrhoea, and nourishes and cools the body. People suffering from diseases need food quite as much as those in health, and much more so in certain diseases where there is a rapid waste of the system. Frequently all ordinary food, in certain diseases, is rejected by the stomach, and even loathed by the patient; but nature, ever beneficent, has furnished food that in all diseases is beneficial—some directly curative. Such food is milk." The writer in the journal last quoted, Dr. Alexander Yale, after giving particular observations upon the point above mentioned, its action in checking diarrhoea, its nourishing properties, and its action in soothing the body, says: "We believe that milk nourishes in fever, promotes sleep, wards off delirium, cools the intestines, and, in fine, is the sine qua non in typhoid fever."

We have lately tested the value of milk in scarlet fever, and learn that it now recommended by the medical faculty in all cases of this often very distressing children's disease. Give all the milk the patient will take, even during the period of greatest fever. It keeps up the strength of the patient, acts well upon the stomach, and is in this way a blessed thing in this sickness.

Morrell's Acid Phosphate.
Is useful in dyspepsia. It gives the stomach tone and imparts vigor to the whole system.

Shot by a Lawyer.

HALIFAX, Oct. 18.—About eleven o'clock this morning Joseph B. McDonald, a barrister of Archambault, who was boarding at Crowdie's hotel, in Bedford, C. B., broke the window of his bedroom, threw a pitcher out, and extending his arm from the window, discharged a pistol he held in his hand several times. James Crowdie, proprietor of the house, who was on the road in front of the hotel with some other men, was struck in the chin by one of the balls, which lodged in his neck and remains there. McDonald was at once arrested. He was intoxicated at the time and was making much noise. It is not known that he intended to shoot Crowdie. He arrived in Bedford on Saturday to attend the sitting of the Supreme Court there.

A Remarkable Witness.

Mr. Whyte, late proprietor of the Manson Saloon, King street, Toronto, writes as follows about Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters: "I have used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters for nearly two years, and I believe it to be the best medicine in the world. I would not be without it for anything. I have induced scores of people to try it, and when taken according to directions, I have never known it to fail. I call the Bitters, 'The Doctor.' It has certainly been my family doctor ever since I first used it, and will continue to be as long as it acts the same as hitherto. I strongly advise all my friends and the public generally, who suffer from any affections of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache, Distension, Constipation, Impairment of the blood, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., to buy a bottle of 'The Doctor,' and I am certain that not one will regret having done so. I do not think there is any medicine in the whole world equal to Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters."

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 5 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1882.

WEST PETERBOROUGH

By an advertisement in our columns it will be observed that it has been decided to call a meeting of Liberal Conservative delegates from the several polling divisions within the Riding as constituted for representation in the Legislative Assembly, for Wednesday, the 1st November, at 2 o'clock p.m., in Hill's old music hall, Peterborough, for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the constituency in the interim of the Opposition at the approaching general election. It is scarcely necessary to add that a full attendance is particularly requested and very desirable.

THE LICENSING POWER

We cannot but think that it would have been well had the editor of the Canada Presbyterian taken the advice tendered it by the Rev. J.
M. King, and the Marmon question, and been careful to write with "fairness and scrupulous justice" before he penned the article which appeared recently in its columns under the heading of the Licensing Power. In a religious journal, if anywhere, one would expect to find a fair statement of both sides of any issue with which it undertook to deal. In this, however, the Presbyterian, in the present instance, grievously fails, when it protests "against the crusade that has been proclaimed against the present licensing system, and that avowedly, in order to secure a return to the old plan of leaving it off in the hands of the different municipalities," and especially when it further informs its readers "that it is of great consequence to have had any hint put to the multiplication of these houses other and better than the capricious or interest of self-seeking ward politicians"— thereby leading its readers to believe that it is proposed to do away with the present statutory limitation of the number of tavern licenses which may be granted, when, unless the writer is wilfully ignorant, he knows perfectly well that no such thing is proposed. He knows, or should have taken the trouble to learn before he undertook to instruct others, that instead of proposing to do away with the present statutory limitation and place all in the hands of the municipalities, the resolution upon which the crusade, which he undertakes to denounce, is based, expressly declares that "without interfering with the laws regulating the liquor traffic and limiting the number of licenses that may be issued, the power of issuing licenses and the fees derived therefrom should be restored to the municipalities." Hence the present crusade is not directed against the limitation of the number of tavern licenses which may be issued, but against those which are being issued from year to year being used by the party in power not only for political purposes but for the advancement of the personal objects of the very ward politicians of which the Presbyterian professes to stand in such horror. Of course, if the Presbyterian thinks that the selection of the persons and houses to be licensed is better in the hands of Boards whose sole responsibility is to the reigning political party of the day, and who are in a large minority of instances appointed on the nomination of gentlemen in whom a majority of the electors of the license district have voted want of confidence, then in the hands of a body who are at least the choice of a majority of the electors, and who have to render an annual account of their stewardship, it is a perfectly right thing to do; but it has no right, nay, more, it is dishonest, for it to try and obtain a verdict in its favour by misrepresenting the position of its opponents. Religious journal though it be, it evidently has yet to learn that it should not do evil that good may come.

As for the horror which a good many are just now professing to feel at the idea of placing the issuing of these licenses under the control of the ward politicians, we should like to know if there are no ward politicians in the Provincial political arena? Or how is it that the evil influences which are said to be so powerful in a municipal election are powerless in the Provincial? The electors are practically the same in both cases. In conclusion, if by ward politicians it be meant that class of men who desire to use public positions to advance personal ends, then we need not go out of the county of Peterborough, or farther than the village of Lakefield, to find a Commissioner who used, or attempted to use, his position as such to advance his own municipal aspirations, and to compel those engaged in the liquor traffic to record their votes in a way not in accordance with their inclinations. Who, in fact, was quite ready to make the granting of tavern licenses subservient to the objects of the ward politician.

OUR RAILWAY AND LAND POLICY.

The Peterborough Review may possibly be "a presumptuous little sheet" as it is dubbed by the Belleville Ontario, which though a little larger contains less news, but if economical of paper, the Review is not so of the truth, like the Ontario, which calls a paper an "independent journal" and then quotes it as describing the Government at Ottawa as our "Tory rulers," Manitoba's "arch enemy," &c. That Manitoba has truly been benefitted, as we stated, by our railway and land policy is substantiated by the Winning Times, which ably and tongue comes up the question as follows:—

"Everybody feels that, as far as Manitoba is concerned, the twenty years' monopoly clause is the hardest part of the bargain with the Syndicate, but without that clause there would have been no bargain; without the bargain no railway; and the clause was infinitely preferable to no road. Hence the people have submitted to the monopoly and the disallowance policy involved in it. But they have never lost an opportunity of calling the attention of the Dominion Government to the fact that the abandonment of disallowance, if it could be brought about without injustice to the Syndicate and without injury to the interests of Eastern Canada, would be a welcome boon.
Such is the position taken by this journal and by all reasonable people.

"Of itself, Manitoba, even had she been an independent state, could never have secured the construction of the road. It was the enterprise and credit of Old Canada that projected it, that projected it for eight years as a public work at a grievous cost, and that finally, when its construction by the Government had become a hopeless task, attracted private capital to the undertaking. What Manitoba is to-day, that in one sense, she has been made by the Eastern Provinces; and they can fairly claim to have at least quite as much interest as ourselves in the Syndicate bargain, for they were one of the high contracting parties, while we were, to speak plainly, merely the beneficiaries of the contract.
The Free Press must be well aware that the East would not have undertaken the construction of the road if it had been understood that whenever Manitoba so ordered it, the traffic should be diverted into American channels at a point a thousand miles west of the Eastern terminus. In other words, the C. P. R. would not have been projected for the exclusive benefit of Manitoba, the Northern route to the American railroad system. Can our good neighbor, then, deny the right of Old Canada to prevent the tapping of the road."

Intimidating Electors.

The Grit candidate, Mr. Lee, Mr. Chas.
Coleman, Clerk of the Peace and Crown Attorney, and Mr. Clark, J. J. REAS COMMISSIONER, have been travelling together through the city, canvassing the liquor dealers.

The plan adopted is to enter a saloon, call the proprietor one side, and introduce the subject of licenses, leaving the dealer to infer what will be the penalty should he not support the Grit candidate.

This is what can be called "Grit" tactics, and shows the way the provisions of the Crooks Act are carried out in Belleville. With the past experience of the tavern keepers where they had to pay from $60 to $100 to one of the Commissioners' brothers for a license, what the result of such canvassing may be, we leave our readers to judge. — Belleville Intelligencer.

A Man With Fifty Children.

Mr. Bealgame, a prominent merchant from Social Circle, Georgia, reports a remarkable case of vitality, which he says is well known to the people of his country. Near Social Circle resides a colored man named Harry Jacoby, who has probably more descendants than any living man. He has been in the country so long that his own testimony on this question is corroborated by his neighbors. Harry is 80 years old, hale and hearty, and one of the most industrious and highly respected negroes in the county. The other day he took unto himself a third wife, Susan Phillips, aged 61. He already has fifty children, whom he acknowledges, and who call him by various terms of filial affection.
Several of his children have died. In the presence of some gentlemen the other day, he named over more than 300 of his grandchildren and said there were others whom he could not then remember. One of his sons has thirty living children. Several of his sons count up more than a dozen children each.

The old man is proud of his record, and talks freely about it whenever questioned. He has always been an organized Democrat, and is the only negro in his militia district who votes in the Democratic primary elections. He says

IT HAS STOOD THE TEST OF TIME.—For twenty-five years has Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry been before the people, and its popularity to-day is greater than ever, because it has proved reliable in the treatment of all forms of bowel complaint incident to the summer season.

N. C. FOLGER & Co., druggists, &c., Kingston, express themselves as surprised at the sale of Berdoek Blood Bitters in that locality, where patent medicines are hard to introduce, but, say they, "the gross last ordered a few days since, will convince you that the demand is good, and that it is giving satisfaction to our customers."

How to Stop Fires in the Road.

A correspondent writing of the Standard fire, which spread over thousands of acres, gives the following suggestions:—"Remembering that a pail of water and a broom or green bough are good implements with which to check a running fire on the ground. Wet the broom and sweep out the fire. Where water is scarce in a case of this kind, a little may be used to good advantage in this way. Stand in something used to check a running fire. At one time a wet blanket was found to do great service. At another time a garden sprinkler was used successfully. At one time, where a collection of people were watching a bush fire, fearing to go near it, a reckless young man dashed in and the fire was subdued. Have presence of mind in such cases and act promptly. It is said that more wood and timber are destroyed by fire in this country than falls before the axe. It seems as though intelligence and prompt action might prevent a part of this wholesale loss of property, valuable in more than one respect. — Boston Journal.

CARRIED OFF BY FORCE.

Toronto Merchant Overpowered and Kidnapped—Unconscious for a Week.

When Mr. Meeking came down to business yesterday morning he found the following telegram awaiting him from his missing partner: "Just escaped from the villains. Send me money to Post office, Suspension Bridge."

Mr. Meeking did not wait to ponder over what villain was alluded to in the despatch, but hastened with it to Isaac Cooper, who started for Suspension Bridge at 9.55 after his brother. In the afternoon Mr. Meeking was wired to the following effect: "Have seen my brother; will be back by next train. All well."

A World reporter was at the Union station yesterday evening when the 6.45 train came in, but did not see the Coopers alight. He, however, met Mr. Frenkel, the jeweler, who says he travelled in the same car from the Bridge with them. Mr. Frenkel, who has been in New York for ten days, had not heard of H. F. Cooper's disappearance, and when he saw him at the Bridge yesterday he noticed that he looked pale and haggard and tired, in fact, to use Mr. Frenkel's own words, "as if he had been jiffing in a rowboat for a week without anything to eat." Mr. Frenkel naturally asked what was the matter, and in reply Isaac Cooper told him a very strange story of his brother's adventures since his disappearance twelve days ago. To put the story together as briefly as possible, Henry says that after leaving the house of his betrothed on the night of Friday, Oct. 8, he was attacked in the vicinity of College and Beverley streets by two men who beat him terribly and then gave him chloroform, which rendered him unconscious. He remembers nothing more until two or three days ago, when he found himself in a strange woods surrounded by men whose features were hidden by masks. He describes his condition as terrible. He was extremely hungry, exhausted, and in pain and asked for death rather than be kept in suspense as to his fate. He managed to escape from his captors Monday and wandered until he knew not where until late at night he came to a place which proved to be, St. George's Falls, N. Y. Henry and hungry and with no money he went to a hotel and told his story. The people of the hotel cared for him and when the despatch came Mr. Meeking returned yesterday morning.

GOLD IN KOOTENAY.

Important Discoveries Reported From three Different Districts.

From Lillicoit, Carleton and Kootenay reports of the discovery of new gold diggings have arrived and were chronicled in yesterday's Standard. In the two former districts the deposits are said to be alluvial or placer diggings. The party that went from Barkerville struck good paying ground on a stream that appeared to run the size of the head of Kootenay creek and ran the work. The party report that the ground will pay from five to ten dollars a day to the hand. As the party only started on the 15th of August and the report of the results of the trip reached this city yesterday there can be no doubt that the locality of the newly found diggings is not remote from established lines of traffic. Experienced miners, among whom was the late Capt. Evans, have long been of the opinion that mining in the Carleton district was but in its infancy and the discovery of these new diggings tends to give support to the opinion of these experienced men. The many creeks or streams that take their rise in the same range as William Creek are all auriferous and nothing but diligent prospecting is required to develop their riches. In these diggings the Indians are said to have taken out considerable quantities of gold. They cunningly kept the secret of the discovery, and it was only the obligation to seal their gold that necessitated a revelation of the facts. The discovery reported from Kootenay of extensive and well developed veins of argentiferous galena is perhaps of greater importance than the two above noticed. The projected line of the Canada Pacific railway will pass within a short distance of Kootenay, and will enable this hitherto remote district to be thoroughly prospected and its riches developed. It is by no means improbable that when increased means of communication come to be established that Kootenay will prove one of the most productive districts in the province. We believe we are quite warranted in saying that our mining prospects are decidedly good and that we may look forward to a brilliant future for that description of industry for many years to come.—Victoria Standard.

A "FOREIGNER" FORGOTTEN.

In his Kinsedine address, Mr. Blake took occasion to sneer at the law officers of the British Crown in an unusual manner. He has always entertained a decided falling of hostility to the highest Court of Appeal in the British realm, and in advocating the establishment of the Supreme Court of Canada he took the ground that its decisions should be final, and suffice for the whole needs of Canadians, that no one should have the privilege of further appeal. Sir John A. Macdonald, and contended that the people of this country being British subjects, should have still reserved to them the privilege of going to the foot of the throne itself the same as every British subject had the right to do, and that view of the case prevailed. At Kinsedine the other day, Mr. Blake again put forward his anti-British sentiment, when he argued against a reference of the disputed Boundary question to the Privy Council. He maintained that the arbitrators' award was to be chosen and confirmed in preference to an award of the highest Court in the Empire, and that Canada had no need to submit evidence in the case to "a foreigner," or is his antipathy especially directed against the particular member of it above named? There is reason to believe that Mr. Blake has little sympathy with these British institutions which all loyal men respect as the safeguard of liberty and justice wherever the old flag shall float. "Spectator," who is writing a series of articles in the Toronto World, advocating the independence of Canada, says of Mr. Blake's attitude towards the wonderful "wonderment." Before he was leader of the Reform party he was strongly in favor of independence, and many times over so expressed his opinion. "I fear," said he to a prominent gentleman, who once pointed out to him that he ought to lead the movement, "that the time is not yet ripe. Were I to take this lead upon my shoulders the most I could hope for would be to develop and popularize the sentiment, but it will take half a century to educate the people up to the point of action. Such a responsibility, now that I lead one of our two great parties, would mean my political ruin. I shall not thrust such a movement, but will, on the contrary, give it all the assistance I practically can." Is this true, Mr. Blake?—don't you know.

In the bottom of a chest of Japan tea recently opened in Montreal was found a leather pocket-book, about eight inches long and four wide with three compartments, curiously marked with Japanese characters and containing two Japanese letters, a quantity of opium and an opium pipe. The chest of tea has been in the warehouse in Montreal for two years.

"It was my wife's misfortune to be laid up with rheumatism," writes Peter Balliet, Alexander, Kan., "that she would not sleep because of the pain, and could not move her arm. Three days' use of St. Jacob's Oil cured her, as I can prove to any one's satisfaction."

A Hackman in Toronto was fined ten dollars and costs for failing to fulfill an engagement. The person who took the trouble to secure this conviction deserves public recognition. Great inconvenience and damage are liable to result from this offense, and hackmen elsewhere than in Toronto sometimes refuse to be taught to honor their engagements.—Montreal Witness.

In his description of the review at Cairo recently, the London Times correspondent says of the Duke of Connaught: "He looked very different from when I last saw him two days ago, when literally putting his shoulder to the wheel of railway trucks. He worked like a navvy, not only leading but physically helping his men to remove the carriages from the scene of the explosion."

THE indications of the approaching season seem to threaten an unusual amount of the various forms of bowel complaints. Our readers would do well to supply themselves with some reliable remedy like Doctor Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as a safeguard against sudden attacks of cholera morbus, colic, dysentery, &c., that unless promptly treated are often suddenly fatal.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Knight Templars.

At the recent meeting in Montreal of the Great Priory of Canada, the Rev. V. Clement was elected Grand Priest.

Episcopal Visitation.

The Bishop of Peterborough will hold a visitation at Ennismore to-day, returning on Monday or Tuesday.

The Eastland Property.

This handsome park lot has been subdivided into lots of one-third of an acre each, having a frontage on Rosedale street of 66 feet by a depth of 231 feet. The lots are to be offered for sale on the ground at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, 25th October.

Musical and Literary.

The musical and literary entertainment held on Thursday evening under the auspices of Peterborough Lodge, I. O. G. T., was fairly attended, and was a good commencement for the series of entertainments which the Lodge intends to give. The programme consisted of songs, musical solos, recitations, readings and three dialogues. One of the latter was a character dialogue of considerable length, and was well acted for amateurs who have had little practice. The meeting was presided over by Mr. R. Weir. On the whole, the entertainment was a success.

Concert at Lakeside.

An entertainment in aid of the fund for the erection of a new belfry for St. John's church, Lakeside, will be held in the P. C. A. Hall on Thursday, October 26th. A moonlight night has been chosen by the committee in hopes their Peterborough friends will patronize the performance. The programme is very good; commencing with a concert, at which many old favourites have kindly consented to assist, concluding with the laughable farce "Ici on Parle Français," in which the following persons will take part:—Mrs. Wright, Misses. Crickmore, Fitzgibbon and F. Strickland; Messrs. Wright, Hilliard and LaFevre. Doors open at 7.30, performance to commence at 8.

Theatrical.

This evening Mr. E. A. McDowell's Star Dramatic Company appear in Bradburn's Opera House in the "New Magdalen," a play founded on incidents of the Franco-Prussian war. Tomorrow afternoon the "Lady of Lyons" will be presented at a matinee, and on Saturday evening "Diplomacy." Among the favourable notices in the press of the Company, we find the following in the Port Hope Guide of Wednesday:—

"E. A. McDowell's Star Dramatic Company played the 'New Magdalen' to a crowded house last night. The acting of Miss Fanny Reeves, as Mary Merrick, was excellent; the same can be truthfully said of Miss Jessie Lee Randolph's personation of Grace Roseberry. Mrs. M. A. Farren made an excellent Lady Jane; the talented young actor, Mr. J. H. O'Connor, as Julian Gray, richly deserved the applause that was generously given him. This troupe, when they return to Port Hope next week, will be greeted with a bumper house."

Personal.

Mr. J. L. Lewis, who has filled the position of local editor of the Belleville Intelligencer for some time, has resigned that position and accepted a similar one on the Hamilton Times. Mr. Lewis is a young journalist of considerable ability, and is destined, we believe, to be one of the foremost journalists of the country. As a literary and dramatic critic he excels, and in general reportorial work he has displayed considerable skill. He has also done some work as an author, and a short Christmas story which he published in the Intelligencer last Christmas acquired well for the future. Mr. J. L. Lewis, who, we understand, succeeds Mr. Lewis on the Intelligencer, is well known in Belleville, having been formerly connected with the journals of that city. His forte is in collecting news, which he dresses up in an attractive style, and the local columns of our contemporary, under his charge, will lose none of the reputation they have maintained for years.

Mr. A. Hugel, of Port Hope, is registered at the Original Hotel.

The McDowell Star Dramatic Company is registered at the Casino House.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Oct. 20.—H. H. Smith, Esq., Mayor, and Councillor Menzies, J. P., presided at the Court this morning.

DRUNK.

Robert Miller's familiar face appeared in the Court again this morning. He is continually getting into trouble, "all for a drop of whiskey," as he pathetically put it. He forgot to tell the court, as he usually does, that he was born inside the walls of Derry, and perhaps he now regrets the omission, as he was fined $5 and costs or twenty days in gaol.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.

Three men appeared in answer to this charge, and each pleaded guilty. Thos. Tighe was fined $5 and costs, and Jas. McLennan and Robert Hillier, who put in the plea of the first appearance and made promises of amendment, were fined $2 each or twenty days in gaol.

PROFANE LANGUAGE.

George Gauthier could not remember whether he used bad language or not, as he had a drop too much, but supposed he was guilty, and was fined $2.

ASSAULT.

Thos. Collins charged D. Shanahan with committing an assault upon him. The defendant asked for an adjournment in order to bring witnesses, and the case was enlarged until Saturday, the 28th of October.

SELLING LIQUOR WITHOUT LICENSE.

Joe. Young was charged by the License Inspector with selling liquor without license, and he pleaded not guilty.

CHRIS. LEARY, License Inspector, was sworn and testified that on Saturday last, at about 8 o'clock, he was going home when he saw a light in the Temperance House formerly occupied by Mr. McComb. He went in and saw a bar furnished with glasses and decanters such as are used in the hotels. Mr. Young and another man were sitting in the bar-room. He went behind the bar and tested the contents of the bottles, and found whiskey, port wine and ginger wine. He then got the constables and searched the house and took the liquor away. There were two bottles of whiskey, one half full and the other containing a lesser quantity.

Joe. Young, the defendant, asked to give evidence and was sworn. He said the liquor he had bought on Friday night, and was for his own use, and had been placed on the shelf. He intended to get out a license. He sold no liquor on that Saturday (the 14th) day or evening, and none was sold by his agents or servants, and he had not permitted any to be sold.

To MR. LEARY—Sold some port wine on that Saturday, as he supposed it to be a temperance drink, but sold no whiskey.

The MAYOR said that under the evidence they could do nothing but find the defendant guilty, as port wine was not a temperance drink, and the defendant unfortunately seemed to have thought. They would make the fine as low as they could, namely, $20 and costs or twenty days in gaol.

PLATE TUNING.

Mr. Geo. J. Gumprecht, tuner for Messrs. Mac & Risch, Toronto, is here again, and will attend all orders left at Mr. Menzies' bookstore.

Rebelling the Sheriff.

P. C. Adams has been sent to Ennismore in consequence of resistance being offered to the Sheriff, who was making an ejection.

Low Temperature.

The thermometer fell last night to 20° above zero, or 12° above the freezing point, according to a self-registering thermometer. The lowest point hitherto reached this season having been 31°.

In Chancery.

The case of Hilliard vs. Thurston came up before Chancellor Boyd in Toronto on Thursday. The defendant appealed from the decision of the Master in Chancery on the ground that his award was too large, and the plaintiff appealed as he thought it was not large enough. The case was argued, and the appeal and cross-appeal were dismissed without costs, thus sustaining the decision of the Master.

The Weather.

There was a heavy white frost last night and this morning was quite cold, but as the sun arose bright and warm the weather moderated and has been very fine to-day. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 1 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—South to south-west winds, fair weather and higher temperature.

A Proverb Illustrated.

"It never rains but it pours." For a couple of weeks the police calls were empty night after night, and the record in the Police Court was a short one or a blank. But yesterday and to-day there has been a change. Five more arrests were made last night, the first early in the evening and the last about midnight; and another arrest was made on the Market Square a short time before the court opened this morning, but the prisoner was not in a fit condition to appear for trial. The fines that were imposed on those who came up for trial this morning will most probably have a beneficial effect in checking drunkenness on the streets, and it is to be hoped that they will.

Suspicious Death.

WALKERTON, Oct. 19.—A cattle dealer named John Coughlin, whose friends live at Mount Forest and Guelph, was found on the roadside near Walkerton early this morning in a dying state. He was insensible at the time, and died an hour afterwards without recovering his senses. It appears he has been drinking of late and had an attack of delirium. He left the hotel at Paisley yesterday evening, and was seen by a farmer near where he was found running along the road with his hat in his hand.

The nearer we follow nature in the treatment of disease, the more successful we are. "TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $6.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1882.

MR. MOWAT AND THE N. P.

We are gravely told that the Administration of Ontario has no business with the National Policy, and that it should not, therefore, be introduced into Provincial politics.

We quite agree that the Ontario Administration has no lawful business with the N. P., but there is the very substantial fact staring us in the face that it has made opposition to the N. P. its business, though most improperly. They have made an organized attack upon the declared will of the people of Canada—they have challenged the contest and they must be met.

When the Ontario Legislature assembled this year Mr. Mowat, in view of the approaching general election, placed in the mouth of the Hon. Governor in his speech from the throne, an attack upon the National Policy. Mr. Hay, who was chosen by the Government to second the address, enlarged upon the theme, besides attacking the Macdonald administration in other respects. The supporters of the Mowat administration, in the debate on the address, mean after man, continued the attack upon the N. P., and there is no knowing when this attack would have terminated if Mr. Neelon, one of Mr. Mowat's usual supporters, had not manfully come forward, and in an able speech warmly advocated the cause of our financial policy with its attendant benefits to the whole country.

Then again Mr. Hardy showed his antipathy to the chosen policy of the people of Canada by prostituting his official position to do it an ill turn. From an official document he cut out the portions that would show the beneficial effect of our present tariff, not by argument, but by the narration of facts. The publication of these facts would have had a favourable tendency to encourage immigration to Ontario, but Mr. Hardy preferred to forego an advantage for the province, whose interests he is sworn to maintain, rather than to allow publicity to official statements of facts that might supply arguments in favour of the hated N. P. We may remark, in passing, to show that the mutilated document was not that of a Conservative partisan, that it was the report of an official appointed by the Reformers.

Mr. Mowat and nearly all of his colleagues took the "stamp" against the Dominion Government, and especially did they attack the National Policy. Not only did they do this as individual electors, but they also used their official position to the fullest possible extent to counteract the national will. Their whole army of officials, also, almost as one man, joined them in their electioneering against the N. P., not even stopping short of misusing their official position and their control of public funds. So general and so barefaced was the interference of the Provincial officials in the contest which was to decide our fiscal policy, that no doubt could exist in the mind of any reasonable man that if they had not received instruction from Mr. Mowat and his colleagues to adopt this course, they had reason to believe that their improper interference would be gratifying to their patrons.

Then again, immediately after the general election, we find the Globe inviting capitalists to await the result of the Ontario general election before coming to the conclusion that the country was firm in its adherence to the National Policy.

It is idle, then, for the friends and supporters of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues to argue that as the Ontario Government have no business with the fiscal policy of the Dominion, the question should not be introduced into Provincial politics. As they, their supporters and their army of officials have chosen to make it their business, they must be met on their own ground. They have abused their official positions in the endeavour to thwart the declared will of the people as to our tariff policy, so they must be deprived of a power which they thus misuse to retard the progress of the country and to oppose the will of the people.

EAST SIMCOE.

ACCORDING to the Globe of Friday, the vote recorded in East Simcoe on the 18th inst. was 2,300 for Drury, and 1,059 for Slavin, making a total of 2,319. At the last preceding election (for the Local (1879) the vote was, Cook, 1,324, Steele, 1,006, total, 2,330. In the recent election, therefore, Mr. Drury received 64 votes less than Mr. Cook, and Dr. Slavin 58 votes more than Mr. Steele. With these figures before us, we think it is only reasonable to assume that 53 of Mr. Cook's votes have been fully converted from the error of their ways since 1879, and that 11 more have had their faith in Mowat so far shaken as to induce them to refrain from voting on the present occasion. As Mr. Drury had been in the field ever since June last, it is evident that Dr. Slavin made not only a gallant fight, but that our friends in East Simcoe have only to keep at it to redeem this constituency at no distant day.

PETERBOROUGH FALLS.

WORK COMMENCED.—The Gazette says that bright and early on Monday morning a couple of "scientific gents" were at work with their instruments along that portion of the route of the T. V. canal that is to run through this village, and performed their required duties with neatness and despatch. On Tuesday morning—also bright and early—the unscientific gents who wield picks, shovels, crowbars, &c., turned out with the intention of commencing operations, but were driven home again by a heavy fall of rain. Before noon, however, the weather cleared up, and at 1 o'clock p. m., some fifteen or twenty men and four pairs of horses proceeded to the grove between Francis street and the river, and a few minutes later work was begun and will be continued without avoidable intermissions until the contract shall be completed. To-day (Thursday) thirty-five men and five teams were busy when we went up to see how things were getting along, and already quite a change has been made in the aspect of the grove, the beauties of which will soon be gone forever. A great many of the oak trees along the line of the canal have been cut down and the trunks converted into pins, a large area has been ploughed up, and the sod and a foot or so of earth removed, and soon the men expect to be wrestling with the rock, which lies a short distance beneath the surface. While we stood looking on, Mr. Macdonald was constantly engaged in giving instructions or leading a hand where it was most needed, and evidently knows just what requires to be done and the best way to do it. The force at present at work is a small one, but it is growing daily, as all likely looking men are engaged at good wages, and when from seventy-five to a hundred have been obtained they will make the dirt fly right merrily. Of course an immense quantity of earth, stones and rock will be taken out of the cut, but we are glad to learn that there will be no difficulty about getting rid of it. Near the weigh calves a number of long sticks of timber have recently been deposited, and two or three men are getting them ready to be used in the construction of two derricks, which will be needed for lifting masses of rock that cannot be raised by other means. In a word, the canal is already giving employment to a great many men who might otherwise be idle part of their time, and it is consequently so profitable an institution that we fancy no ratepayer will begrudge the cost of the little jollification which is to take place.

PUBLIC SUPPER.—Arrangements are being made to entertain Mr. Hector Cameron, M. P., at a public supper, recognition by his constituents of his services as their member for the House of Commons, and particularly as regards his action in the furtherance of the improvements of the Trent Valley waters.

DEATH.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—At twelve o'clock on Wednesday night, the 18th of October, John Nolan, son of Mr. Martin Nolan, of the 8th concession of Douro, died from the effects of injuries received through a very sad accident. He was driving a team of horses in the barn yard on Tuesday about noon, when the horses became frightened and ran away, and he was injured in such a terrible manner that he did not utter a word and remained unconscious from the time of the accident until he expired. He was a young man 22 years of age, and much respected, and was a brother of Mrs. Wm. Kennealy, of Peterborough.

SHIPWRECK AND ADVENTURE.

A strange story of shipwreck and adventure has recently appeared in the London newspapers. It appears that the barque Rose-neath foundered last May in the Straits of Magellan. The captain, his wife, and seven of the crew were picked up by a passing vessel. Another boat containing five of the men was supposed to be lost. The first officer, named Samson, now turns up with a story of exciting adventure. He recounts in his deposition that the day after leaving the ship they sighted the shore near Cape Horn. Here they were overtaken by savages, who boarded their boat. Samson tried to conciliate his captors with biscuits and tobacco. They seemed friendly at first, but afterwards massacred all the sailors except himself with hatchets. They then landed on one of the Terra del Fuego islands, "which abounds with rats about the size of English cats." Whether the cats on the island were of proportionate size is not stated. They lived on shell-fish and an occasional seal. At night they all slept in a wigwam, "men, women, children, and dogs." The Indians were addicted to smoking, which produced results similar to those well known to small boys who begin the habit with strong cigars. Samson suggests that he was saved, as two other men he met among the savages were, in order to get a reward from passing steamers. Ultimately he escaped with some other Indians who camped on the same shore, and was rescued by the Pacific liner Aconcagua, which conveyed him to Valparaiso, whence he reached England. The tribe of Indians by whom he was rescued belonged to the Patagonian shore. Steamers of the North Pacific line are in the habit of stopping to conciliate the tribe with food and tobacco, so to induce them to save the lives of any poor fellows who may be wrecked. He thus accounts for being brought off to the vessel, and adds that the occasional treachery of the Indians results from the ill-treatment they have had to put up with at the hands of the whites.

Putting up the Price of Beer.

A meeting of the brewers of the province of Ontario held at the Walker house was very largely attended. It was unanimously resolved on account of the unprecedented price of hops to raise the wholesale price of ale from twenty-five cents to twenty-seven cents per wine gallon, without any discount or allowance whatever. The brewers state that even that advance will not compensate them, but that they are willing to meet the consumers half way.—Toronto World.

NOISE AND THEIR EFFECT ON HEALTH.

There is a class of nuisance prevailing in the land which is somewhat difficult of classification. It includes the department of excessive and insensate noise. This has come to be a wonderfully noisy world. The noise of machinery is loud and persistent. The bells ring louder than ever before. The steam-whistle of the locomotive makes night hideous with its screams. The factory steam-whistle sounds at air loud enough to frighten Rip Van Winkle and the Seven Sleepers. At morning, noon, and night, and all the day and all the night, there is jargon enough to confound the music of the spheres. Sound has obtained a pitch of shrillness and a confusion of harsh discords such as makes the dissonance of noises almost as wonderful as the harmonies of music. Up to a certain point, noise is unavoidable and the greater noises of the present century a necessity. We are reconciled to the din of the printing-press, of machinery, of steam-drivers, anvils, and to all that is an inevitable part of steam, with its wonderful adaptations. In the midst of it, too, we are thankful that telegraph, the telephone and the electric light are so noiseless; but the time has come when we need to enquire into the evil effects on health of excessive noise. Already the subject has largely attracted the attention of invalids. In this world of so much sickness these have their rights. While the world cannot be conformed to their needs, it must give them respectful consideration in all avoidable discomforts. The matter has so far attracted the attention of the Massachusetts Legislature as to lead to the passage and enforcement of a law that has had a most salutary effect upon railroads, machine-shops, and manufacturing in that state. A few years ago St. Mark's church, in Philadelphia, imported a chime of nine bells, and carried the ringing to such a degree as to excite the opposition of citizens. The case in 1876 or 1877 came before the courts. The question was "whether upon the evidence submitted, the ringing of the chimes was proved to be a cause of pain, discomfort, and ill-health to the denizens of the locality. The evidence was established by physicians, who proved the deleterious effect of the noise upon invalids, and by the testimony of the locality, who proved loss of sleep, etc., the chimes being rung at 5 a. m. One of the chief points on which the injunction was granted was the serious effect upon the nervous system." We have known a boarding hotel in a romantic spot greatly injured by the restlessness being disturbed by the "necessary" noise of factories in the valley below. This evil is greatly enhanced by the thoughtlessness or recklessness of railroad officials. It has been decided, we believe, that the steam whistle is not necessary for safety. At least, it does not need to substitute the bell in the ordinary notices of trains. We remember a point where the cars of one road had occasion to signal another, or to report to their own station, in sight and less than a half-mile distant. This was done many times a day and as often at night by a shrill whistle, blown two or three times in succession, so loudly as to annoy most passengers, to frighten horses, and greatly to distress sick persons. Yet, on the plea of a signal, it was defended. Massachusetts says it is "necessary, and not only does not add to the noise of accidents, but gives great comfort and probably preserves many lives by the change. It does not help to make it true that it can kill more by frightening horses than by railway travel. Having noticed the blowing as especially excessive at night, and not less on clear and moonlight nights, we are told that this was an additional security for keeping engineers and telegraph operators awake. We could furnish instances after instances where this excessive noise and that of a shrill and disturbing character has proved of great injury. With the confusion and din of noises, if this is to be allowed in all factories and shops, we shall have less distinctness as to greater annoyance. We agree with Dr. Hopper and many others, who contend that our railway authorities and our steam-whistles and other noises proprietors should be addressed on this subject and, if possible, made to see the evil. We know of one case where a railway official had occasion to move in close proximity to one of these places of car-exchange and transfer. He was not slow in convincing himself that safety could be secured without such extravagant outlay of sound, and so regulated it as to abate the nuisance. We think we know of scores of places where we would like boards of directors or the owners of manufacturing places to live a week. We do not plead for silence or for anything that would embarrass any industry; but we do plead that the real evils of excessive noise should be dealt with.—N. Y. Independent.

November Notes on Farm Work.

Horses, with their winter coats, sweat easily. When brought in warm, they should be rubbed dry and blanketed for an hour. Work horses should not be blanketed in the stable, but carriage horses, or those used only upon the road, may be kept warmly blanketed, for though by this they become more sensitive to cold, and must have more care, yet their coats do not grow so close and long, and they are much less likely to sweat when driven. Ground or crushed oats go farther, are better digested, and mix better with other feed than whole ones. They are the best winter feed for horses, but may be mixed with corn or barley meal or wheat-bran or middlings for work horses to advantage. Whole grain is not feed without waste.

Beef.—In feeding for beef, the notions of each animal should be consulted—his preferences, likes and dislikes. The object of feeding usually is to get the animal to eat all that he will digest well. Hence a variety should always be at hand, and the ration should be varied by feeding cooked, soaked or dry meal, as the case may be, with hay and roots. Take great care not to overfeed, and in case of overfeeding, let starvation be the cure. Thus the animal will soon take to feeding again, but will be less likely to fall off much in flesh, than if "physicked." Nature is the best physician.

Sheep should have airy, well-lit sheds, with plenty of sunshine, and protected from snow. One great advantage of keeping sheep is to convert straw into manure. Hence much litter is usually strewn in sheep sheds, to the distress of sheep, unless they have hard places to lie upon, because their feet and legs get so hot. A few platforms, like old doors, which can be shifted about every few days by turning over, will be greatly enjoyed, and will promote both health and comfort.

Swine.—Push fattening hogs forward as rapidly as possible. Keep them warm and cleanly. Charcoal broken fine and mixed with the cooked feed, is an excellent regulator and tonic, aiding digestion, and promoting fattening to such an extent that it is hard to believe it does not serve as food.—American Agriculturalist for November.

An old man named Lewis, reported to have arrived from Manitoba en route to Liverpool, has been found dead in bed with his throat cut at a hotel in South Quebec. The circumstances of the case are mysterious.

The best evidence of the superior merit and virtues of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for the cure of summer complaints, is that its popularity and demand is greatest where it has been longest known.

A heavy frost visited East Aurora New York, on Thursday morning, completely destroying all vegetation. It was the only serious one that has occurred here this season. Water was frozen nearly quarter of an inch thick.

The eight-year old daughter of George R. Whyatt, Whitehall, has been fatally burned. Her mother sent her for a shovelful of hot coals to her father who was working in the field, when the wind blew the fire and ignited her clothes.

One farmer, says the Berlin News, obtained 234 gallons of syrup from one acre of cane. This syrup is worth $1 a gallon, and form that farmers may judge of the profitability of the industry.

A few days ago seventeen of the U. S. garrison of Fort Pembina, changed their clothes and passed over to Emerson, and no amount of coaxing could induce the deserters to return to quarters.

"WITH special and most gratifying success I used St. Jacobs Oil for a severely sprained knee. It was cured in ten days, and I cannot say too much in praise of the valuable substance," says Mr. S. B. Rhody, of the M. C. R. R., cor. Page and Railroad sts., Jackson, Mich.

Tax crack of a pistol and the clatter of a swift moving buggy attracted the attention of the police in Central Park, New York. The horse was stopped and a man found in the wagon with a bullet in his temple. He expired before reaching the hospital. It is not known whether it was a murder or suicide.

In the present month of October Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters should be taken to purify the blood and fortify the system against the severe change of our Canadian winter. It improves the circulation and cures Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and Sick Headache. In large bottles at 50 cents. Sold at J. D. Tully, druggists.

It has stood the TEST OF TIME.—For twenty-five years has Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry been before the people, and its popularity today is greater than ever, because it has proved reliable in the treatment of all forms of bowel complaint incident to the summer season.

N. C. POLSON & Co., druggists, &c., Kingston, express themselves as surprised at the sale of Burdock Blood Bitters in that locality, where patent medicines are hard to introduce, but say they "the gross last ordered a few days since, will convince you that the demand is good, and that it is giving satisfaction to our customers."

Musical.

The frequent appearance of the Knabe Piano in our concert rooms is not at all surprising to those acquainted with the history of the firm, of the character of the instrument itself. Not long since, the writer, when in a neighboring city, had occasion to play upon one of these pianos. It had withstood the test of twenty-five years' service. The greatest pleasure was still to be derived from its tone. It was so resonant and musical that it seemed as if—like old wine—it must have improved with age. In no other way than this could we justly illustrate its perfect state of preservation. The Knabe Piano of to-day is in the foremost rank of instruments. As one listens to its ringing vibrations, it appears as though the poetry of tone itself were being revealed in a language far more complementary and just than any verbal praise could possibly be.—Boston Journal.

A Reliable Witness.

Mr. Whyte, late proprietor of the Mansion Saloon, King street, Toronto, writes as follows about Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters: "I have used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters for nearly two years, and I believe it to be the best medicine in the world. I would not be without it for anything. I have induced scores of people to try it, and when taken according to directions, I have never known it to fail. I call the Bitters, 'The Doctor.' It has certainly been my family doctor ever since I first used it, and will continue to be as long as it acts the same as hitherto. I strongly advise all my friends and the public generally, who suffer from any affections of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Impurities of the blood, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., to buy a bottle of 'The Doctor,' and I am certain that not one will regret having done so. I do not think there is any medicine in the whole world equal to Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters." (Sig.) JAR. WHITE.

Sold in large bottles at 50 cents at J. D. Tully, druggist.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS OF CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it is a long time. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as by magic; while old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcules which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 6d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—A FLUID SPECIFIC IN ITSELF, is the most potent remedy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Starling, and every year it is used more and more favourably to its widely increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruptions.

Kendall & Co., Gentlmen:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bone be found. Respectfully yours, P. M. GRANGER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE, The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW. From Rev. P. N. GRANGER, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880. Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentlmen:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Respectfully yours, P. M. GRANGER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, and lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment a man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for least as well as man. Price per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. CORRESPONDENCE SEIZED.

CAIRO, Oct. 24.—Arab's correspondence of the last two years was seized this morning and deposited with the British Consul General. It includes voluminous correspondence with Constantinople and the minutes of the secret meetings of the Borandi Cabinet. It is said that the correspondence is highly compromising to the Sultan.

PARLIAMENT OPENED.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Parliament reassembled to-day. Previous to the assembling of the Commons, the advanced Irish members held a meeting. They were chiefly occupied in arranging petitions referring to the imprisonment of Gray. Lord Mayor Dawson, of Dublin, has a hundred petitions to present in the House of Commons. Lord Randolph Churchill, Conservative, contended that the present sitting was irregular after the appropriation bill had received the Royal assent. He moved the adjournment of the House in order to protest against the autumn session.

GALE IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A heavy gale is raging in England. Despatches from the continent are delayed by the storm. Considerable damage has been done in many parts of the country. Rivers are overflowing their banks.

THE LUMBER YARD FIRE.

THE CONVENTION ATTACKED.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—Mr. Smith, member of Parliament for Tipperary, a moderate Irish Nationalist, has written a letter declaring that the recent National Conference was not a representative one. He warns his countrymen against the new movement, which he describes as a sham, a deceit, and a fraud. Its only object is to get money, which will never be accounted for, to support Ireland's worst enemy.

COST OF THE ARMY.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—It is reported that the Government has concluded a convention with the Khedive for the discharge of the cost of the British army of occupation, by the Egyptian government.

GRAVEYARD INSURANCE.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 24.—An investigation shows that the Capital Life Insurance Company has been transacting the worst kind of graveyard insurance, and has swindled thousands of people. The Attorney-General instituted quo warranto proceedings to wind it up, and the officers will be arrested. Gen. Reese, of Springfield, is president.

ESCAPED FROM GAOL.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 24.—The prisoners in the gaol yesterday knocked the gaoler down and ran away. The gaoler pursued and shot one, probably fatally.

ALLEGED FRAUDS.

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 24.—The post office inspector has recommended that the marriage and birthday associations be prohibited from using the mails, on the ground that the organizations are frauds.

PLOT FRUSTRATED.

TROT, Oct. 24.—A plot by several prisoners to break the gaol was frustrated here yesterday.

ILLEGAL BUSINESS.

New York, Oct. 24.—The complaint in a suit pending here alleges that $5,000 was paid monthly by policy dealers to prominent officials for the protection of their illegal business.

BLOODY BATTLES AND CRUELITIES.

New York, Oct. 24.—Khartoum advices state that the false prophet at the head of the whole bodied population of Soudan and reinforced by the Canibal tribes of Central Africa, utterly defeated Abdul Kader and Giegler, Egyptian Governors, in seven sanguinary pitched battles. The Egyptian loss in killed and wounded is 4,000, with a stand of arms, including 5,000 Remington rifles. The remnant of the Egyptian army took refuge in Khartoum and is now besieged there. All the provinces south of that city are lost to Egypt. Khartoum is in danger of being captured. The prophet permits the pouring of boiling tallow into the eyes and ears of the captives and otherwise fiendishly tortures them. His man enters in some cases actually devour prisoners for refusing to recognise him as the true prophet and Caliph. Dr. Schweinfurth states that there is a movement for the real revival of Islam, comprising Afghanistan and Morocco, and the doctor is confident that the movement will embrace Khartoum. The prophet's adherents increase like wild fire and the prophet himself is said to be marching towards Cairo. Abdul Kader is known to fame as the commander of the "forty thousand," under Sir Samuel Baker. Giegler is a German engineer.

A HORRIBLE DEED.
PLYMOUTH, Wis., Oct. 24.—Turner and Chas. Stewart, cousins, who had been drinking, renewed an old quarrel at Stewart's residence. Stewart beat Turner senseless with a poker, poured kerosene on him and set his clothing on fire. He then dragged him out of doors. Turner was discovered yet alive but fearfully burned. He died in a few minutes in agony. Stewart was arrested.

BANK FRAUDS.
BOSTON, Oct. 24.—The offences for which Benyon, president of the defunct Pacific National Bank, is indicted, in issuing time drafts illegally and fraudulently. Benyon broke the bank by sending money without security, the institution losing two millions in this way. It has taken a year to work up the evidence against Benyon.

IMMIGRATION.
New York, Oct. 24.—4,500 immigrants landed at Castle Garden yesterday. This is said to be the largest number that ever actually landed here in a single day.

THE WALKING MATCH.
New York, Oct. 24.—At 9 a. m. the score stood—Hayes 179, Russell 171, Hazael 171, Hart 164, Fitzgerald 160, Norcross 155, Herby 153, Panchot 147, and Vint 126.

ILLEGAL NATURALIZATION.
BOSTON, Oct. 24.—It is claimed that a large number of naturalization papers issued in Boston for several years have not been in accordance with the law, and are void. Many persons flocked here from Fall River, Lowell and other cities instead of taking out papers in their own districts. The result is that hundreds of voters are ineligible to vote in the coming election. It is proposed to bring a bill to fine and imprison for illegal voting.

THE PEDESTRIANS.
New York, Oct. 24.—Walkingmatch score:—Fitzgerald 175, Russell 165, Hazael 165, Norcross 160, Herby 167, Hart 162, Vint 140, and Panchot 185.

THE STAR ROUTE CASES.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—It is stated that at a consultation of the Attorney-General with the Government counsel on the Star Route cases last night, it was decided to make some arrests to-day. It is said that Dickson will not be arrested. It is understood that Bowen will tell the Grand Jury to-day a story about Bowen making an improper proposal to him while foreman of the Star Route jury. It is intimated that Cameron will be summoned before the Grand Jury.

PLAYFUL SHOOTING.
GREENVILLE, Ind., Oct. 24.—Artie Bradley and Bruce Hewitt, boys of 14, belonging to Greenville, while returning from hunting, began to play "U. S. A. and R. E. A." as they were called. Bradley was ordered to halt, but refused, and fired his gun, which was supposed to be discharged, at Bradley, shooting him in the neck, and killing him instantly.

TERRIBLE CYCLONE.
MANILLA, Philippine Islands, Oct. 24.—Business is suspended owing to a terrible cyclone on October 20th, which caused great destruction to buildings, and beached thirteen vessels. The greater part of the place was destroyed. The typhoon which devastated this city occurred on Friday last. Business has since been entirely suspended. There was great destruction. Among the vessels ashore are the American ships Nearchus and Mary I. Stone.

How a Whale Breathes.
The windpipe does not communicate with the mouth; a hole in, as it were, bored right through the back of the head. Engineers would do well to copy the action of the valve of the whale's blow-hole; a more perfect piece of structure it is impossible to imagine. Day and night, asleep or awake, the whale works his breathing apparatus in such a manner that not a drop of water ever gets down into his lungs. Again, the whale must of necessity stay a much longer period of time under water than seals; this alone might possibly drown him, inasmuch as the lungs cannot have access to fresh air. We find that this difficulty has been anticipated and obviated by a peculiar reservoir in the venous system, which reservoir is situated at the back of the lungs.—Frank Buckland.

See Prof. Hotchkine's Springless Truss and Supporters. Advertisement in another column of this paper. Go and see him. He defies the hernia he cannot hold.

Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy is Nature's great system renovator and cleanser; and its effects are as certain as they are salutary, searching out and removing all impurities; and not only acting as a prime curative, but as a thorough preventive.

"TWENTY-FOUR YEARS' EXPERIENCE," says an eminent Physician, convinces me that the only cure for "Nervous Exhaustion" and weakness of the generative organs is to repair the waste by giving Brain and Nerve Foods, and of all the remedies I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine is the best. This remedy is now sold by all our Druggists at 50 cts. per box, or 6 for $2.50, and on receipt of an order for 12 boxes, accompanied with $5.00, addressed to Mack's Magnetic Medicine Co., Windsor, Ont., they will forward the goods free by mail, and send their "written guarantee" to refund the money, if the treatment does not effect a cure. A See ad't in another column.

ARABI'S TRIAL.

The power practically approve of the treaty, by which France undertakes to redeem the Tunisian debt. The immediate consequence of the transfer of the debt will be the abolition of the commission charged with the supervision of the Tunisian revenues. The treaty also stipulates that France shall have the right to send before a French tribunal to be established in Tunis all cases of litigation. The treaty provides the Bey with a civil list of £25,000 yearly and with £22,000 yearly as the future allowance of the princes.

REVOLUTIONARY CONGRESS.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The annual congress of the Commonwealth, a revolutionary organization, opened to-day. There was a large attendance of European delegates, also some from Africa. Resolutions were passed condemning the prosecution of Der Freickel, thanking Victor Hugo for his action in the good cause, and supporting the revolutionary movement in Ireland.

KING MILAN FIRED AT.

BERGAMO, Oct. 23.—A woman fired twice at King Milan in the cathedral to-day. The king was unhurt. A Bucharest despatch says the object of the recent prolonged sojourn of the King of Servia in Roumania was to defeat a conspiracy against his life. The king received information at Sibova of a plan to blow up with torpedoes the royal boat on the Danube between Rutchuk and Belgrade. The king's assistant is the widow of Col. Jevrev Markitch, who was executed with several rioters in 1878 by order of Milan. It is suspected that the attempt is not merely attributable to revenge, but is partly due to political motives.

FESTIVAL OF BAIRAM.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 23.—On opening the festival of Bairam the Sultan received the Turkish civil, military, and religious authorities. Mr. Wallace, United States Minister, was the only member of the diplomatic corps present. He informed the Sultan that he intended to take leave of absence for two months, for the purpose of journeying in Austria, but the Sultan begged him to defer his departure.

TO VISIT AMERICA.

DUBLIN, Oct. 23.—Mr. F. Callan, M. P., addressed his constituents at Louth yesterday. A vote was passed giving Mr. Callan leave to proceed to America.

ENGLAND AND THE VATICAN.

ROME, Oct. 23.—Mr. Errington, M. P., who has had several interviews with Cardinal Jacobini during his stay here, has started for London. From private sources it is learned that he has already signified to His Eminence, the friendly sentiments of the English government, and its desire to continue the negotiations begun last winter. The questions to be considered are several, and include the Catholic Church in India, missions in Egypt, the Hierarchy in England, and Irish matters.

AMERICAN.

AN EARTHQUAKE.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 23.—There was an earthquake shock last evening. The motion continued two seconds, and caused great alarm but no damage of consequence was done.

CHILLI AND PERU.

PANAMA, Oct. 23.—Dr. Drury, official, publishes an account of an engagement between the Chileans and Monteneros on the 9th inst., near Porto, when the Monteneros were completely dispersed. The same paper says it is now believed that the Chileans have made terms of peace with Calderon, but on what basis is unknown. The ex-President of Magdalena will soon leave for Peru, accompanied by Minister Logan, to call Congress to ratify the treaty.

A YOUTHFUL DESPERADO.

DETROIT, Oct. 23.—Geo. Kettle, of Leamington, Ont., aged 16 years, was arrested for stealing $48 from Mrs. W. Campbell, wife of a Mersea farmer. On being searched the money was found in his pocket, with five revolvers, all loaded, four boxes of cartridges, and a large knife. He was locked up two days, but as no one appeared against him the weapons and the money were taken, and he was discharged.

A BRAVE ACT.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 23.—Through the disarrangement of some new contrivance, the furnace door of an engine on the Pennsylvania Railway drawing car containing 600 passengers, yesterday was blown open and the cab set on fire. Engineer Siegs and the fireman rushed to the smoking car door, which was open, the car filled with smoke and the passengers were greatly alarmed. The engine ran some distance uncontrolled, endangering the lives on the train, when the engineer, realizing the situation, bravely rushed back to his post and remained in the flames until he was stopped by the train. He was terribly, perhaps fatally, burned. The flames were soon extinguished, and the train proceeded with the fireman in charge of the engine.

INSANITY CASE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The trial of the Mrs. Scoville insanity case was resumed to-day. Dr. Kirman, of Chicago, testified as to Mrs. Scoville that in the latter part of 1890 he believed her insane, and an improper person to care for her child. He believed Charles and John Gutten were insane.

A BRUTAL DUEL.

GREENSBORO, Oct. 23.—Yesterday Edward Johnston and Charles Williams disputed about a woman, and agreed to settle the matter with bowswords. In the presence of 50 people they bared to the waist and fought for three hours, until they were unable any longer to use the whips. Johnston's skin hung in shreds from his body and face, Williams was terribly punished, and both are in a critical condition.

THE COMMON MUSHROOM AND ITS POISON.

At this season, when the fields abound with wild mushrooms, and when multitudes might find in them a cheap and enjoyable addition to the daily bill of fare if they were not afraid to eat them, it is a matter of considerable importance to have the real standing of fungi as food stuffs made clear.

Professor Ponick finds the repeated washing with cold water removes most of the poison of mushrooms, and cooking, especially boiling, dissolves out the rest. The water in which mushrooms are boiled, however, is always poisonous, more so even than raw mushrooms. Experiments made upon dogs showed that if a dog ate one per cent of its own weight of raw mushrooms, it fell sick, but recovered; one and a half per cent produced violent illness; and if the dog ate two per cent of its weight, the result was always death. Of boiled mushrooms dogs ate ten per cent of their weight without harm. When the mushrooms were well washed with cold water, a larger quantity could be eaten raw without bad effects than was possible with those that were not washed; but simple washing never removed the poison entirely. Dried mushrooms were found to be dangerous for twenty days, and also the water in which such mushrooms had been boiled. They were not really safe until after four months' drying.

The moral is: treat all mushrooms as poisonous; carefully throw out the water in which they have been washed or boiled; cook them well, and never eat them in large quantities. If men are no more susceptible than dogs are to the poison, a man can as easily gorge himself with well boiled mushrooms as with beef or any other highly nitrogenous food. When otherwise cooked, when the capsules in them are dried, mushrooms are found to be dangerous for twenty days, and also the water in which such mushrooms had been boiled. They were not really safe until after four months' drying.

The fact that all mushrooms and allied growths are more or less poisonous should be no bar to their use as food, proper care being taken in the cooking and eating. The common potato is not free from poison; and the juice of the root from which capsules in man is a violent poison. The latter poison is expelled by heat, and the former is in quantity too small to be harmful, as is the case with many other useful vegetables.

In preparing mushrooms for the table, safety is assured, not by looking for specific characteristics supposed to indicate harmlessness, but in considering all as poisonous and requiring judicious treatment to destroy or remove their noxious qualities. This properly attended to, mushrooms and many other fungi are not only edible, but really delicious and valuable food stuffs.

HAILSTORMS AND FORESTS.

The Geneva correspondent of the London Times writes, under date September 1:—"Hailstorms, as is well known, often play havoc in Switzerland as well as in other parts of Europe. They generally last only a few minutes, but in that time the crops of the whole district are destroyed, trees stripped of their fruit and leaves, and even the potatoes in the ground heaved to pieces. Birds are sometimes killed by the hundred, and a grape-vine touched by a hailstone is ruined for ever. Seven years ago there was a hailstorm in this canton, which in less than five minutes did damage estimated at a million of francs. In some districts there are mutual hail insurance societies, as in other countries there are mutual fire insurance societies. In these circumstances everything relating to the phenomena and causes of these visitations is studied with great interest, and papers on the subject read at the late meeting of the association of Swiss Geographical Societies, held this week at Geneva, by Herr Beaumont and Riniker, of Aargau, are attracting considerable attention in scientific circles. The utility of forests as a safeguard against avalanches and a hindrance to torrents and snowdrifts has often been pointed out, but it has never before been suggested that forests are a preservation against hailstorms. Such, however, is the opinion of Herr Riniker, who is chief forester of Canton Aargau. He says that where there are forests there are no hailstorms, and in support of this theory he adduces a remarkable fact, for the accuracy of which he and many others can personally vouch. In the south of Aargau there is a little chain of mountains known as the Lindenberg. The Lindenberg are about twenty kilometers long, of an average height, above the sea level, of some eight hundred feet, and completely covered with wood. About twenty years ago, the forest was divided in two places by wide gaps, with the consequence that the valleys at the foot of the mountains were soon afterward visited with frequent hailstorms. The hail-charged clouds were seen to traverse the gaps. In 1868 the wider of the open spaces were closed by a plantation of fir, and since 1871 no hailstorm has crossed the forest. In explanation of this phenomenon Herr Riniker suggests that, as hailclouds are saturated with positive electricity, and trees conduct from the earth negative electricity, the meeting of the two currents develop sufficient heat to prevent the complete congelation of the clouds and even to thaw the hailstones contained in them—for the clouds of this description pass very near the earth—and so convert the frozen particles into rain. If further observation should confirm the accuracy of Herr Riniker's conclusions in this regard, the importance of forests in countries where hailstorms are frequent will be greatly increased."

Thought Him a Brother Tramp.

The boys are telling a good story of one of the conductors on the southern road. On that run the knights of the punch are not wont to dress in broadcloth or interview a razor every day. On one of his trips Foster—there, the name is out—caught a tramp stealing a ride on the front platform of the baggage car. Yanking him into the car, the tramp was subjected to a perfect broadside of invectives. Looking up at his abuser the tramp, after a careful glance, taking him in from head to foot, remarked: "Cheese it, eell; the conductor will hear you and put us both off." The tramp was led back into a passenger coach and carried to his destination, and now that conductor blacks his shoes and dusts off his clothes at least once a day.—Cincinnati Gazette.

A Defender of the Faith.

An Anson Sunday school teacher was examining his class as to their Biblical knowledge. "Who was it that betrayed his master?" First boy: "Abraham betrayed his master." "That's not right. Next?" Second boy: "It was Judas Iscariot who betrayed his master." "That was right." A good little boy looked reproachfully at the teacher and said: "I am going to tell my ma you said it was right for Judas to betray his master."

John Bright's Responsibility.

Mr. Bright is exactly as responsible for the Egyptian war as Lord Aberdeen, Lord Palmerston, or Lord John Russell was for the Crimean war. He was a member of a government which sanctioned the Joint Note of January, and the Ultimatum of May, and he is as responsible as Lord Northbrook himself for the despatch of the fleet to Alexandria and for the instructions, in obedience to which, the British admiral bombarded the forts.—Fall Mail Gazette.

A Reliable Witness.

Mr. Whyte, late proprietor of the Mansion Saloon, King street, Toronto, writes as follows about Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters: "I have used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters for nearly two years, and I believe it to be the best medicine in the world. I would not be without it for anything. I have induced scores of people to try it, and when taken according to directions, I have never known it to fail. I call the Bitters, 'The Doctor.' It has certainly been my family doctor ever since I first used it, and will continue to be as long as it acts the same as hitherto. I strongly advise all my friends and the public generally, who suffer from any affection of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Blood, such as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Impurities of the blood, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc., to buy a bottle of 'The Doctor,' and I am certain that not one will regret having used it. I do not think there is any medicine in the whole world equal to Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters."
